No. 190 OF 1887.

FROM,

COLONEL CHARLES WODEHOUSE,
Acting Political Agent in Káthiáwár.

To,

SIR WILLIAM WEDDERBURN, BART.,
Acting Chief Secretary to Government, Bombay.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

KÁTHIÁWÁR POLITICAL AGENT'S OFFICE,
Camp Kuda, 16*th April* 1887.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to forward for the information of Government three printed copies of the proceedings held in this Province on the 16th and 17th February last in commemoration of the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty. I should have submitted this earlier, but there has been a little delay in getting it printed.

2. Generally it may be said that the Chiefs of the larger States held Darbárs of their own at their capitals and personally superintended and joined in the rejoicings, which, as the reports of my Assistants show, were everywhere of the most enthusiastic character. The general features were pretty similar throughout: a Darbár in the morning with the firing of a royal salute, speeches and songs in honour of the Queen-Empress and afterwards feasting, feeding and presenting clothes to the poor, games and sports, winding up with illuminations and fireworks in the evening. The younger generation will have cause to remember the day with gratitude, as at all places something was done for them in the way of school treats or prizes. Indeed the Jubilee is a fact that the people here have thoroughly grasped: though they may not understand what its strict meaning is yet they all know, rich and poor, young and old, that all these grand doings were in honour of the Empress who reigns in the far-off land of the Sáhibs.

At most places prisoners were released but only such as bore good characters in Jail and whose crimes had not been very serious.

3. An account has already been published in the Káthiáwár Gazette (Extraordinary) of the 18th February last of the doings at Rájkot, the Head Quarter Station of the Province. At the Darbár I held, the more important Chiefs who lived in the neighbourhood and those who were hardly of sufficient status to hold Darbárs of their own were present. During the Darbár the representatives of States handed me in a handsome gold casket the general address from the Chiefs of the Province for presentation to the Queen-Empress. They propose that a deputation from their number should repair to England at the Jubilee to be held there in June for the purpose of presenting it. In this address is announced the intention of the Chiefs collectively to erect at Rájkot as a tangible memorial of the happy occasion a public hall to contain a museum at a total cost of Rs. 1,60,000

4. Not content with this nearly all in some way or other have arranged to have some permanent work or institution started at their capitals. The following list will shew what has been or is to be done in this direction Several taxes have also been remitted.

Name.	Name of the Ruler.	What done to commemorate Jubilee.
Junágad	H. H. Bahádurkhánji, Nawáb Sáhib of Junágad.	(1.) The remission of outstandings on account of advances made to cultivators in the years of scarcity A.D. 1877 and 1878.
		(2.) The founding of a scholarship of the value of Rs. 3,000 per annum to be styled "the Victoria Jubilee Junágad scholarship" in order to enable youths from Junágad to proceed to England and prosecute their studies there.
		(3.) The founding of an Orphan Asylum to be called the "Victoria Jubilee Orphan Asylum."
Navánagar ...	H. H. Sir Vibháji, K.C.S.I., Jám Sáhib of Navánagar.	(1.) The reduction of fees charged for opening a new window or a doorway in a building, to one half of their present rate.

Porbandar ...	The State is under British management and Mr. F. S. P. Lely of the Bombay Civil Service is the Administrator there.	(1.) The founding of the "Victoria Jubilee Madresa" for the education of the Muhammadan youths of Porbandar. This Madresa will be built by voluntary subscriptions from the Muhammadan community of Porbandar and is estimated to cost Rs 10,000.
Saela	Thákor Vakhatsingji of Sáela.	(1.) The construction of a new road in the town of Sáela from the Sudámda gate to the new Bagicha (garden), a distance of about one mile, to be known as the " Victoria Jubilee Road."
Chuda	Thákor Becharsingji of Chuda.	(1.) The founding of a suitable building for the Girls' School at Chuda to be called the " Victoria Jubilee Girls' School."
Vala	Thákor Vakhatsingji of Vala.	(1.) The establishment of the "Victoria Jubilee Valabhi Museum" and an endowment of Rs. 100 per annum to the same, for the collection of any relics that may be found from the ruins of the old Valabhipura or from any other place within the limits of the Vala State.
Jasdan.....	Kháchar Ála Chela ...	(1.) The building of the Victoria Jubilee School at Vichiya at an estimated cost of about Rs. 10,000.
Mánávadar ...	Bábi Gajáfarkhánji of Bántva.	(1.) The founding of a new Dharmshála in the town of Mánávadar for the use of travellers and others resorting to the place at an estimated cost of about Rs. 12,000.
Muli.....	Thákor Sartánji of Muli.	(1.) The erection of a new Market in the town of Muli at an estimated cost of Rs. 3,000 to be styled the " Victoria Jubilee Market."
Bajána	Malek Nasibkhánji of Bajána.	(1.) Providing a new Girls' School in the town of Bajána—the school being called the " Jubilee Kanyáshála."
		(2.) The donation of a sum of Rs. 1,000 towards the maintenance of the helpless in-door patients of the Wadhwán Civil Station Hospital.

"In the address which has been read a short comparison is made between the state of things existing when the British connection with this Province commenced and the present; nor is it overdrawn. In no part of India perhaps has a more radical change for the better taken place. Chiefs and their people have increased an hundred fold in wealth and prosperity and the tide of improvement steadily advances with but few checks. The healthy progress of the native Chiefs of India is a cause which it is well known the Queen-Empress has greatly at heart, and that they are ruling their States well and thus ensuring the happiness of their subjects is to her a cause of real pleasure and solicitude. I am sure she will be gratified to hear that the Chiefs of this Province not contented with mere ephemeral rejoicings have clubbled together to erect in the shape of a Hall and Museum a permanent and handsome edifice in commemoration of this ever-to-be remembered Jubilee year; and that this happy idea may be carried to a satisfactory conclusion and be of real benefit to the people is the hope of every well-wisher of the Province.

"It will give me as the representative of the British Government in Káthiáwár the very sincerest pleasure to forward the address, together with the beautiful casket in which it is enclosed, through the proper channel to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress. The feelings of loyalty and devotion contained therein cannot fail to be gratifying and the knowledge that the advantages of her rule are so vividly recognized in the Province of Saurâshtra, one so conspicuous for its ancient history and interesting associations, will be recognized as no unimportant link in the chain which binds the people of India to the British Crown."

A Gujaráti translation of the above was read by Khán Bahádur Dhanjisháh Hormasji, Deputy Assistant Political Agent, Hálár Pránt.

7. At the close of the above proceedings Attar and Pán were distributed.

8. The Political Agent accompanied by the Officer Commanding at Rájkot then left the Darbár with the same ceremonies that were observed on his arrival and under a salute of 11 guns. The Band of Her Majesty's 8th Regiment N. I., played "The National Anthem," all present remaining standing.

9. The 2nd Class Chiefs of Dhrol and Rájkot next left in succession under a salute of 9 guns each, and were followed by the rest of the Chiefs, Officers, Ladies and Gentlemen.

10. After an interval of 5 minutes a royal salute of 101 guns was fired.

According to the orders of Government the 16th and the 17th instant were observed as Holidays throughout the town and station, and the public offices were kept closed.

13 males and 1 female undergoing imprisonment in the District Jail were released. Partial remissions were granted to 35 others.

11. A short account of the way in which the Jubilee was celebrated at Rájkot is given below:—

In the morning of the 16th at 7-45 A. M. there was a parade of the troops at which a feu de joie was fired.

A Committee composed as follows had for some time past been busy in organizing necessary arrangements and they were carried out generally under their guidance and directions—

1. Colonel Fellows, Officer Commanding at Rájkot,
2. Chester Macnaghten, Esquire, Principal Rájkumár College, and
3. Khán Bahádur Dhanjisháh Hormasji, Deputy Assistant Political Agent, Hálár Pránt and Station Magistrate, Rájkot.

On the 16th at 11 A. M. a fête was given to the children of the Rájkot Civil Station and the Garrison. At noon prayers were read in the Station Church.

At 1 P. M. cooked food and clothes were distributed to the blind, lame and poor of the Station. From 3 to 6 P.M. a fair was held on the Maidán between the Barton Female Training College and the Rájkumár College which was attended by the Political Agent and residents of the Station. From 7 P. M. to midnight the Residency and the principal public buildings including the Rájkumár College, the High School and the Bazár, &c., were brilliantly illuminated. At 8 P. M. the Political Agent entertained the European residents at dinner. The party then drove round to witness the illuminations and a display of fireworks on the race course.

On Thursday the 17th instant at 7-45 A. M. sports for Sepoys of the Regiment and Agency Police took place on the race course. The Political Agent distributed the prizes to the successful competitors. In the afternoon there was a continuation of the fair held on the previous day.

At 5 P. M. the Political Agent, on the invitation of the Thákor Sáhib of Rájkot, and accompanied by the Officer Commanding at Rájkot and other Officers proceeded into the town of Rájkot to lay the foundation stone of the Victoria Jubilee School to be erected by the Thákor Sáhib outside the Kotháría gate in commemoration of the Jubilee. At the close of the ceremony the party drove to the "Peoples' Párk" in the Station where an entertainment was provided for native gentlemen. At night the Thákor Sáhib of Rájkot entertained the Political Agent and the officers and gentlemen of the Station at a Banquet at his summer palace. There was afterwards a display of fireworks.

12. Throughout the two days, 16th and 17th February, both in Station and City the most enthusiastic loyalty was evinced and the rejoicings were most sustained and general.

The proceedings were opened by the representatives of States bringing in from an adjoining room and presenting to the Political Agent with due ceremony the golden casket containing the address, prepared by the Chiefs of Káthiáwár for submission to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress. The representative of the Junágad State (Ázam Bhánji Parbhudas) addressed the Political Agent on behalf of the States in a few suitable words, requesting him to kindly forward the address, (which, he said, the Thákor Sáhib of Rájkot would read out in the Darbár on behalf of his brother Chiefs) through the proper channel to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress.

5. The Thakor Sáhib of Rájkot then read out the following address in English :—

" To

Her Most Gracious and Imperial Majesty

VICTORIA

QUEEN OF THE UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND, AND EMPRESS OF INDIA.

" WE, the Chiefs, and Tálukdárs, ruling in our respective States in this ancient Province of Souráshtra, now called KÁTHIÁWÁR, in Western India, and allied to the throne of Great Britain by the ties of respect and friendship, beg to tender to your Imperial Majesty our warm and heartfelt congratulations on the happy completion of the FIFTIETH YEAR of your sovereignty over the British Empire.

"DURING the long period of half a century over which your Majesty's benevolent rule has spread, the vast dominions which acknowledge your sway have experienced almost uninterruptedly the blessings of a wise, just, and enlightened administration. The progress of Science and Art, the development of national industries, and the prosperity of the myriads of mankind who are fortunate in being your subjects, have steadily advanced: and while wars and differences with foreign nations have been as far as practicable avoided, and cordial relations established abroad on a firmer and broader basis than had ever been known before, the unceasing solicitude and maternal interest evinced for the welfare of your own peoples by your Gracious Majesty have mainly contributed to the peace, the contentment, and the devotion to your person and throne which distinguish them in all parts of the globe on which the banner of Britain floats. For half a century past your happiness has claimed their delight and your sorrow their sympathy, nor has there been during all that period one event of public rejoicing, whether national or local, when the glad greeting of their Queen has not responded to the joy of their hearts, nor befallen one sorrow which the tender spirit of a perfect woman's heart has not been freely poured out to alleviate.

"ALTHOUGH placed at a distance of thousands of miles over land and sea from your Majesty's capital, the various nationalities of this continent which, owning your sway, have been fortunate enough to partake of this communion with their Sovereign, have for years past sunk all distinctions of custom and creed, even all natural differences of thought and feeling, to unite with your other subjects in the one common pursuit of dedicating to your Majesty their sincere tribute of loyalty, reverence and affection. Your Majesty has rewarded these sentiments on various occasions, some of which are now matter of history, by manifesting especial solicitude for the peace and prosperity of Hindostan, and when ten years ago this fact was proclaimed to the world by your assumption of the title of Kaiser-i-Hind, the whole empire resounded with the joyful tumult of popular applause.

"WE, among the other Native Chiefs of India, have always exercised our privilege of sharing at such times the sentiment prevailing in the land; and now on this auspicious occasion, we wish to commingle our voice with that of an Empire which extends from Sunrise unto Sunrise to hail with delight the completion by God's blessing, of half a century of a reign unsurpassed for the brilliancy of its achievments and the humanity of its actions by any other recorded in history.

"THIS ancient Province, since remote times the home of our forefathers, which had previous to the settlement of Colonel Walker now eighty years ago and the establishment of the British Agency fourteen years after, been the theatre of the varying fortunes of a succession of adventurers and invaders has since that time secured under the protection of your Majesty's Government the blessing of tranquillity and made steady progress in the path of peace and good order. The expenditure of money and other resources which would have been entailed had not the undisturbed possession of our territories been thus guaranteed to us, is now diverted to the more beneficial purpose of developing the prosperity of our subject peoples. As a natural consequence Education, Science, and Arts have made rapid strides here, and our land has become the seat of many useful institutions, thus presenting a reflex of that wise and elevating force which has been at work in the adjoining Provinces under the direct rule of your Majesty for the past half century.

"IN order to give a tangible shape to our sincere feelings of joy and gratitude, we have resolved to commemorate the happy remembrance of your Jubilee by erecting at the British head-quarters of this Province a Public Hall, to contain a Museum, at a cost of one lac and sixty thousand rupees. This Institution will further serve the very useful purpose of furnishing a means whereby the present as well as furture generations of our subjects will derive valuable knowledge of the arts, industries and products of other territories besides their own, and as such we trust will commend itself to the gracious approval of your Majesty, whose untiring exertions for the promotion of knowledge among your own subjects have been so widely admired and imitated.

"WE pray that it may please the Almighty to preserve your Majesty for many long years to come in unimpaired health of body and mind, so that the noble charity of a blameless life and the rare benevolence of a magnanimous reign may continue to bless the subjects of the British Empire, and to exalt them among the nations of the earth.

"AND with respectful assurances of our deep homage and unswerving attachment,

We remain,
Your Gracious and Imperial Majesty's
Ever devoted and Faithful Friends,

(Signatures of Chiefs of Káthiáwár from the 1st to the 7th Class.)

A Gujaráti translation of the same was read by the representative of the Bhávnagar Darbár, Ázam Santokrám Mádhavji.

6. This completed the Political Agent addressed the Chiefs and Tálukdárs assembled in Darbár as follows:—

"THÁKOR SÁHIBS, TÁLUKDÁRS, LADIES, AND GENTLEMEN,

"The Chiefs of Káthiáwár have very properly taken the occasion of the Jubilee Darbár held at Rájkot, the Head-Quarters of the Province, to read and present through their representatives the loyal address which they as a body have prepared for presentation to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress on the happy occasion of her attaining the fiftieth year of a long and prosperous reign. Most of these Chiefs are at the present moment holding Darbárs at their own capitals in honour of this auspicious event which is a cause of rejoicing both for those directly under Her Most Gracious Majesty's benign sway and also for the Native Chiefs and their subjects whose interests are so intimately mixed up with and dependent on those of the Paramount Power.

"The loyalty of the Chiefs of Káthiáwár is one of warm affection: the way in which they always welcome the representative of the Queen in this Presidency and still more the enthusiastic reception which was so recently accorded to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, the third son of the Queen-Empress, whom she has appointed to command the forces in this Presidency amply testify to this: everything indeed connected with Her Most Gracious Majesty touches a chord in their hearts which gives a ready and hearty response. This is the right spirit which should and does exist and long may it continue to do so growing in strength and vigour with the lapse of years.

Name.	Name of the Ruler.	What done to commemorate Jubilee.
Jetpur	Vála Lakhman Merám, Shareholder of Jetpur.	(1.) The erection of a building for a new Vernacular Boys' School in his village of Thána-Devli, the cost of which is estimated to amount to about Rupees 3,000.
Dasáda	The Tálukdárs of Dasáda.	(1.) A new Girls' School for the town of Dasáda.
Lodhika	The Tálukdárs of Lodhika.	(1.) The establishment of a public Library at Lodhika.
Mulila	The Tálukdárs of Mulila.	(1.) The erection of a Dharmshála for the use of travellers and others resorting to Mulila.
Wadhwán Civil Station.	A British Civil Station	(1.) The permanent endowment of a ward in the Station Hospital to be known as the "Victoria Jubilee Ward" for the accommodation of in-door patients. The funds were raised by private subscriptions.

5. The following gentlemen attended Darbárs at the capitals of States as below and my best thanks are due to them for the large share they took in making all go off pleasantly and with success:—

1. Junágad .....Captain W. P. Kennedy, Assistant Political Agent in charge Sorath Pránt.

2. Navánagar .....P. S. V. FitzGerald, Esquire, Assitant Political Agent in charge Hálár Pránt.

3. Bhávnagar .....Captain W. B. Ferris, Assistant Political Agent in charge Gohilvád Pránt.

4. Dhrángadhra .....A. D. Younghusband, Esquire, C. S., Assistant Political Agent in charge Jhálávád Pránt.

5. Pálitána .....Ráo Bahádur Dayáshanĭkar Jivanlál, Deputy Assistant Political Agent in Gohilvád.

6. Limbdi .....G. C. Whithworth, Esquire, C. S., Judicial Assistant, Káthiáwár.

7. Wadhwán .....Ráo Bahádur Keshavráo Bháskarji, Deputy Assistant Political Agent in Jhálávád.

8. Mánávadar .....Ráo Bahádur Nathu Nánábhái, Deputy Assistant Political Agent in Sorath.

6. In the printed accompaniments which contain the reports of my Assistants full details are given, but the above brief account cannot fail, I think, to be gratifying as showing the truly loyal spirit dispayed by Her Majesty's feudatories in Káthiáwár; an ancient province with Chiefs of ancient lineage, all bound together on the present occasion by the one common wish to do every honour in their power to the joyous occasion. It is certain that following close on the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught it has brought them and their subjects to think and talk much more of Her Majesty than they had ever done before, and to realize more clearly the interest she takes in their welfare. The whole thing has, I am certain, strengthened the chain which unites them to the Paramount Power, and this in the very best way by increased respect and affection. It has been a very happy event thoroughly and enthusiastically appreciated and enjoyed by all.

7. Many of the Chiefs have expressed a hope that their sentiments of loyalty and the way in which the Jubilee has been celebrated may be made known to the Queen-Empress, and I am sure all would be much gratified if this could be arranged for by His Excellency the Governor in Council.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

C. WODEHOUSE, Colonel,
Acting Political Agent.

MR. YOUNGHUSBAND'S REPORT ON THE CELEBRATION OF THE JUBILEE IN THE STATES OF THE

JHÁLÁVÁD PRÁNT.

DHRÁNGADHRA.

In accordance with the instructions conveyed in your Circular No. 375 of 28th January last, I myself attended the Darbár of His Highness the Ráj Sáhib of Dhrángadhra. The arrangements made by His Highness for celebrating the day are set forth in the printed programme hereto attached, which was strictly adhered to.

The occasion in Dhrángadhra was one of double rejoicing owing to the marriage of Kunvar Shri Ajitsingji, the heir-apparent, which was celebrated on the 15th February. A number of European ladies and gentlemen were invited by His Highness, and were entertained by him with his wonted hospitality.

On the morning of the 16th the Darbár was held, the arrangements being as shown in the programme. Addresses were read by Kunvar Shri Ajitsingji on behalf of His Highness, and by myself. Printed copies of these are appended. Eleven prisoners, who had nearly served their time, and whose conduct had been good, were brought before the Darbár and formally set at liberty. At the special request of European ladies present, His Highness was further pleased to send for and release in open Darbár the only two female convicts in his jail.

These women had been convicted of serious crimes, and had long periods of imprisonment to serve, but after consulting with his officials and taking my advice, His Highness decided that they might be set at liberty without serious fear of danger to the community. There can be no doubt that this act of clemency, and especially the circumstances attending it, had an immense effect in impressing the minds of the people with the greatness of the occasion.

In the evening I laid the foundation stone of the new Victoria Jubilee Girls' School, which promises to be an ornament to the town as well as an appropriate memorial of the occasion. Kunvar Shri Ajitsingji again read on behalf of His Highness the Ráj Sáhib an address of which a printed copy is appended. In replying to this I took the opportunity of publicly presenting the Kharita from His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, which unfortunately did not reach me until after my return from the Darbár in the morning.

After attending His Highness' State Banquet, at which the toasts of "the Queen" and "the Ráj Sáhib" were duly honoured, I returned to the Wadhwán Civil Station, to preside over the arrangements there made for celebrating the second day of the Jubilee rejoicings. The appended copy of our programme will help to give an idea of the way in which the Jubilee was kept in the Civil Station. I take this opportunity of expressing my thanks to Ráo Bahádur Keshavráo Bháskarji for the assistance he rendered me in organizing the arrangements.

The endowment by the representatives of the cotton trade of the Station girls' school is creditable to their loyalty and public spirit and happily solves a very difficult question which was before us as to the future maintenanee of the school. A subscription was also set on foot, and liberally responded to, for the permanent endowment of a ward in the Station Hospital to be known as the Victorial Jubilee Ward, for the accommodation of pauper in-patients. This too will, I trust, for ever dispose of a difficulty which has at times been felt owing to scarcity of funds.

The brilliancy with which every part of the Station was illuminated was no less surprising than gratifying. The sum of 200 Rs. placed at my disposal by you for the illumination of Agency buildings was helped out by local subscriptions; but all that I could do was a mere nothing compared with the results of loyal enterprise of private individuals. The Railway Stations and the several State Utárás, notably that of the Morvi Darbár, bore off the palm for brilliancy; but every street was one unbroken row of lights, to which every householder, almost without exception, contributed his share.

The Chiefs of Limbdi, Wadhwán, Lakhtar, Sáela and Chuda, having held their Darbárs on the previous day, all came in on the 17th in an informal way, to join in the rejoicings of the Civil Station. Their presence undoubtedly added eclat to the festivities, while the opportunity thus afforded for friendly intercourse with each other and with the European residents and visitors was, I feel sure, thoroughly enjoyed by all of them. Two of the Chiefs and the sons of two others took part in the cricket match against the Tálukdári-Grásia School, and all of them attended the evening party at my residence.

The way in which the Jubilee was celebrated in the smaller States and Tálukás of this Pránt is set forth in detail in the several local reports appended. I would specially bring to notice the donation of 1,000 Rs. by the Bajana Tálukdár to the Station Hospital, and the establishment by the Tálukdárs of Dasáda of a new girls' school. But by all alike, and not only by the Chiefs but by people of every degree, the day was honoured as nobody, it may safely be said was ever honoured before. And in the practical expression given on this occasion to its feelings of enthusiastic loyalty, the Jhálávád Pránt will, I am convinced, compare favourably with any part of Her Majesty's dominions.

A. D. YOUNGHUSBAND,

Acting 1st Assistant Political Agent, Jhálávád Pránt.

PROGRAMME OF THE CEREMONIES TO BE OBSERVED ON THE OCCASION OF HER MOST GRACIOUS IMPERIAL MAJESTY'S JUBILEE FESTIVITIES AT DHRANGADHRA ON THE 16TH FEBRUARY 1887.

The Jubilee Darbár will be held at 9. A. M. in the grand Kacheri Tent to be fixed in front of the palace.

2. All the Bháyáts, Darbár Officials and other gentlemen, invited to take part in the ceremonies, are requested to occupy their respective seats before 8-30 A. M.

3. At 8-40 A.M. a deputation consisting of the Diwán and the Chief Secretary to His Highness will proceed to the residence of Her Imperial Majesty's Representative, A. D. Younghusband, Esq., C. S., Assistant Political Agent, Pránt Jhálávád, and escort him and the European ladies and gentlemen, invited to grace the occasion with their presence, to the Darbár Tent.

4. At 8-50 A.M. His Highness the Ráj Sáhib, will enter the Darbár Tent, when the assembled gentlemen will rise from their seats and salute His Highness.

5. At 8-55 A. M. His Highness will receive Her Imperial Majesty's Representative at the door of the Tent in person, who will be conducted to the Throne and will take his seat to the right of His Highness, the European ladies and gentlemen occupying seats to his right; the whole assembly standing during the time Her Imperial Majesty's Representative is being conducted to the Throne and until he takes his seat.

6. When all are seated, the Heir-apparent and the other Princes of His Highness' family and the other principal gentlemen will be introduced to Her Imperial Majesty's Representative.

7. The Heir-apparent will then rise and read, on behalf of His Highness an address written in English; a Gujaráti translation of which will also be read by the Huzur Sarishtadár.

8. After a suitable reply to the address from Her Imperial Majesty's Representative, the younger princes of His Highness' family will recite Gujaráti verses in the form of the National Anthem. During the recitation all the assembly will stand. At this stage of the proceedings a Royal salute of 101 guns will be fired from the saluting ground.

9. After this Pán and Attar will be distributed by His Highness to Her Imperial Majesty's Representative and to the European guests, the other gentlemen being served by the principal officers of the State

10. Her Imperial Majesty's Representative will then be conducted by His Highness to the door of the tent, and escorted to his residence with the same ceremonies as were observed on his arrival.

11. On the arrival and departure of Her Imperial Majesty's Representative the guard of honour will present arms and the band will play "God save the Queen."

12. To commemorate the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty, His Highness the Ráj Sahib having resolved to erect a new school building for girls to be named "The Victoria Jubilee Girls' School" at an estimated cost of Rs. 10,000, he will ask Her Imperial Majesty's Representative to lay its foundation stone with the usual ceremonies, which will take place at 5 P. M.

13. In the evening a Banquet will be given by His Highness to Her Imperial Majesty's Representative and the European guests, where the usual loyal toast will be drunk and the band will play "God save the Queen."

14. All the public and private buildings will be illuminated and there will be a display of fireworks, to witness which Her Imperial Majesty's Representative, the European guests and other gentlemen will be invited.

15 The 16th and 17th February will be observed as public holidays throughout the State, and Darbár will be held in the Mahâls on the 16th by the Chief revenue officers there in due commemoration of the day.

16. Some prisoners of good conduct undergoing imprisonment for petty offences will be set free.

17. Alms and clothes will be distributed among the poor, and the children of the town will be fêted.

Mr. Younghusband, Ladies and Gentlemen,

We are assembled here to do honour to our Most Gracious Sovereign, Victoria, Queen-Empress, on the auspicious occasion of her Jubilee, which is being celebrated to-day, in this Eastern Dependency of her Dominions.

Ever since the dawn of civilization, whether in the East or the West, History does not tell us of a Sovereign, who has ever ruled over such a vast territory, or over so many millions of subjects, as our Most Gracious Imperial Majesty does.

Nor does History tell us of an Empire, so justly and humanely governed, as Her Imperial Majesty's.

The virtues of our beloved Queen-Empress, Victoria, both in Her public capacity, as in Her private, are too numerous to enumerate here.

And there never was a Sovereign, more entitled to our respect, affection and gratitude than our beloved Queen-Empress, who lives in the hearts of Her people, and under whose benignant sway, the Empire has attained to an unexampled degree of influence among the Kingdoms of the Earth.

We, who dwell in this remote Dependency of Her Imperial Majesty's Empire, have derived much benefit from Her benign rule. Ever since Her Imperial Majesty assumed direct sway over India, 30 years ago, there has been visible material and moral progress everywhere around us.

And the evidences of loyalty manifested by all classes of Her Imperial Majesty's subjects, during the visits to this country of the Royal Princes during the past few years, are well known to need mention here. Her Imperial Majesty's subjects, I need hardly say, are becoming more and more convinced of the advantages of British Rule, and they realize more fully that our Gracious Sovereign has the interest and well-being of India very sincerely at heart.

I will not detain you longer, Ladies and Gentlemen, but will conclude my remarks by saying may God, in His great Wisdom, grant, that our Illustrious Sovereign be spared long to rule over Her subjects; and I am sure, you will all join me in my request to Her Imperial Majesty's Representative, here present, to convey our united congratulations to Her Imperial Majesty, on this auspicious occasion of Her Jubilee, and the expression of the loyalty of myself, of my House and my people to the Throne, adding, that we are deeply interested in the longevity of Her reign and that we entertain the most profound respect for Her august person, and admiration of Her benevolent character, so amply demonstrated during half century of Her just Rule.

May God save Our Queen-Empress and the Royal family, is our most sincere and fervent prayer.

Your Highness, Ladies and Gentlemen,

None of those present on this auspicious occasiou can fail to have been struck by the loyal enthusiam which finds its expression no less in all your Highness' arrangements for celebrating this day of general rejocings than in the eloquent address which has just been so ably delivered in English by my young friend Kumár Shri Ajitsingji, Your Highness' Heir-apparent.

Your Highness' loyal devotion and fidelity to the throne and person of Our Most Gracious Queen-Empress are too well-known and proved to need further testimony from me. They have been ere now recognised by marks of the Sovereign's special favour, among which I may mention Your Highness' admission to the rank of Knight Commander of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India. It will be, I may confidently say, a source of special gratification to Her Majesty to receive such loyal congratulations from a Chief so tried and trusted as Your Highness.

The thoughts, which doubtless lie uppermost in the minds of all of us here assembled, as of all India this day, are, first, of the Sovereign Herself whose personal qualities have so endeared Her to Her subjects and dependents throughout the world, and secondly, of the marvellous history of the past fifty years on which we look back to-day. On neither of these subjects, do I imagine that, you stand in need of instruction from me. To neither could I hope in the limit of this reply, to do anything approaching justice. I will only echo Your Highness' words, and say that never was there a monarch so deservedly and universally beloved; never was there a rule so just, so beneficent, so guided by highest principles. Most natural then, though none the less remarkable, is the common and spontaneous outburst this day throughout India, from princes and people of every class, from highest to lowest, of thanksgiving for the blessings of the past 50 years, of prayers for their long continuance in the person of our beloved Queen.

My personal acquaintance with Your Highness is not of long standing; but it has already I may be allowed to say, risen to the level of a true friendship, based on mutual respect and esteem, and cemented by frequent opportunities of pleasant social intercourse with Your Highness which I have enjoyed during the past few months. It is therefore with very real pleasure that I undertake to comply with Your Highness' request, and to forward for communication to Her Most Gracious Majesty, through the regular channels, the loyal and congratulatory address to which we have just listened.

Mr. Younghusband,

His Highness the Ráj Sáhib, my grand-father, being desirous of commemorating this day of Her Imperial Majesty's Jubilee by a permanent Memorial, has decided upon erecting a pretty School-house to provide education on an appropriate scale, for the girls of this town, thinking that this mode of perpetuating Her Imperial Majesty's name in this distant land would be in consonance with the well known sentiments of Her Imperial Majesty, who has always evinced such deep interest in educating, and in promoting, in every suitable manner, the welfare of the women of this country.

The new building, which is designed in the Gothic style of architecture, is estimated to cost Rs. 10,000, and will provide accommodation for about 100 girls; and is capable of being added to when requisite. Further, my grand-father is on the look out for engaging a lady-teacher which is a great need here: and when that is supplied, it is hoped that the Institution will, under Divine blessings, flourish.

I am now desired by His Highness to request that you will be so good as to lay the foundation stone of this new building, which is to be designated the "Victoria Jubilee Girls' School."

THE PROGRAMME TO BE FOLLOWED AT VANKANER FOR CELEBRATING THE JUBILEE DAY OF HER MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY THE QUEEN EMPRESS ON THE 16TH AND 17TH OF FEBRUARY 1887.

1. A public fair will be held on the Dholesvar Hill near the Guest-House from morning to evening on both the days. Dealers of various descriptions will be invited to set up booths at convenient places, and caterers of amusements will be encouraged to entertain the public by means of merry-go-round, jugglery and so forth.

2. At 9 A. M. a public meeting will be held in a Shamiána pitched near the Guest House on the Dholesvar Hill, and a brief address will be delivered suitable for the occasion. At the conclusion of the address, the public should proceed to the Dholesvar Mahádev Temple for offering prayers with the State priest.

3. At 10 A. M. sweetmeats will be distributed to the boys of the Anglo-Vernacular, Urdu, and Vernacular Schools at the Guest House and to the girls in the Nániba Girl School.

4. At 7 P. M. the principal edifices in the town such as the Darbár, the Library, the Patália Bridge, the Nániba Girl School and the Motiba Dispensary, &c., will be illuminated.

5. At 8 P. M. Fireworks will be displayed on the river side near the Dharmshála.

6. At 4 P. M. on the 17th the Athletic sports will take place near the Guest House on the Dholesvar Hill, and the prizes will be distributed to the successful competitors.

7. The 16th and the 17th February will be observed as public holidays in honour of the Jubilee.

LIMBDI.

Her Majesty's Jubilee was celebrated with much spirit in the State of Limbdi. The town and the way to the Station were decorated with arches and flags and at 9 A. M. a Darbár was held by His Highness the Thákor in the large drawing room of his new palace. This magnificent room was filled from end to end by double lines of the Bháyáts, officers of the State and visitors. The Political Agent was represented by Mr. Whitworth, the Judicial Assistant. The Darbár was opened by the recitation of Sanscrit and Gujaráti poems composed in honour of Her Majesty. After His Highness the Thákor delivered in Gujaráti an address to the following effect:—

Mr. Whitworth, Bhayats, State Officers and Gentlemen,

We have all asembled here to show our utmost joy and pleasure and to loyally express our hearty congratulations for the prosperous sovereignty of Her Gracious Majesty Victoria Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Empress of India, who by the grace of God has ruled over us for half a century so mercily and kindly.

2. It is wonderful to contemplate that our most kind and glorious Queen rules over a Kingdom where the sun never sets and the inhabitants of which have enjoyed unparallelled happiness for half a century.

3. This India of once earned a name in ancient times for its literature and arts. But when these decayed and mutual disagreements arose and at last the despotic reign of the Musalman ensued to increase the adversity of India, but by the grace of God we have the good luck of enjoying the just and kind Government of the Gracious Queen under whose benign rule we the inhabitants of India have obtained knowledge and property. We have acquired every domestic joy and pleasure the products of the western arts and civilization. Under Her hand we safely enjoy heavenly happiness. For all this we cannot but with one voice express our gratitude and loyal words fail to express how meritorious is the reign of the Queen-Empress Victoria.

4. The Native States and their subjects enjoy the same kind of happiness as that of the subjects of British India with the progress of which the Native States have advanced in prosperity and civilization. The honours and the status of the Native States are well recognized. All these are fruits of the British just and benign rule, the parallel of which cannot be found in history. For all these we pray God, to keep us loyal in the time to come. I am sure such is the wish and feeling of all that have assembled here. I heartily wish long life and prosperity to each and all the members of the Queen-Empress' family. I hope we may enjoy still more and complete happiness under Her continued benign rule.

5. To celebrate the Jubilee of the fiftieth year of Her benign rule, I have ordered that this day and to-morrow should be recognized as public holidays, I have arrranged to hold a fair for these two days with various sports and pastimes. I have arranged to erect arches and decorate the town with flags, &c. There will be illuminations and fireworks at night. I have ordered the release of the ten prisoners and have reduced the sentences of the rest. I have arranged to fire 101 guns. I have ordered to feed the poor and to give alms to the needy persons and to distribute prizes among the school boys and girls.

To perpetuate the event I am going to establish an industrial institution in this town.

I conclude this short speech with a request to Mr. Whitworth that he will kindly communicate, through the Political Agent, my heartfelt gratitude and loyalty to the Queen-Empress.

Mr. Whitworth replied to the following effect :—

Your Highness, Bhayats, Officers, and Gentlemen,

Allow me in the first instance to express the pleasure I have in being here to-day. When I received Colonel Wodehouse's instructions that Limbdi was the State in which I was to appear for him, I felt from what I knew of the Princes of Káthiáwár that there was no Darbár at which I would rather appear as the British representative to-day than Limbdi.

2. Your Highness has expressed in eloquent and classical language the circumstances of our assemblying here, and I am glad that it is not necessary for me to delate on this subject, because I cannot use classical language but only the simplest Gujaráti.

3. It is interesting at this moment to think in how many different countries and different climates, in some where it is now winter and in others summer in some where it is now noon and in others night in India and in England in the vast continent of Canada and the huge island of Australia all the people generally are now celebrating or preparing to celebrate this joyful occasion..

4. And it is instructive to the people of India to reflect that this is the Jubilee not of a King but of a Queen. This is the fourth time in the history of England that the Sovereign has reigned for fifty years but of none of the previous occasions have the people has such reason to rejoice and be thankful. It is instructive I say to reflect that it is a Queen's reign that has been so successful. Because though India has made great advances in civilization of a western character and though there is much that is excellent in Her old civilization yet the great obstacle to further improvement is the low position and the narrow life assigned to the women of the country. However it is a reassuring sign that several girls from the girls' school are present in this Darbár.

5. You have naturally on this occasion made special mention of the native States in connection with the British administration and you have the best authority for knowing that it is the desire of the British Government to maintain those States in full integrity. The task of governing India is an enormous one and you are aware that besides maintaining the full powers of the native rulers Government are now seeking how they can engage a larger proportion of the people of the country in the administration of the British Districts. As you say the prosperity of native States proceeds with that of India. But some States follow closely and others far behind. Those rulers who desire to have their States on an equality with British India must remember that the existence of a ruler is only for the good of his people. As an example that this is the view of the British Government, I may mention that in British India the humblest subject if he feel aggrieved can file a suit against the Government itself which suit is tried entirely by the judges without any appeal to the head of the State.

6. But this is an occasion for rejoicing and not for long speeches. The town is gay with flags and I trust there is corresponding gaiety in the hearts of the people. You have made excellent arrangements for their amusement to-day and to-morrow. I am glad to see that special provision has been made for the poorest of the population and that the children have not been forgotton and that among the convicts such remissions of punishment have been made as a proper regard for order allows. And beyond the amusements of the day it is satisfactory to see that the occasion is to be more permanently commemorated by the establishment of a school for the instruction of artizans.

7. I shall have great pleasure in describing these good arrangements to the Political Agent and in conveying to him at the same time your cordial expressions of loyalty and devotion to the Queen-Empress.

And I have now the honour to deliver to you a Kharita from His Excellency the Governor of Bombay.

After this, recitations were given by girls and boys of the Limbdi schools concluding with God Save the Queen delivered in English. The whole assembly standing. Prizes of books and clothes were then presented to the children and after the distribution of Pán Sopári the proceedings came to a close, a Royal salute of a 101 guns being fired.

Both the 16th and 17th were made public holidays and a fair was held on the cricket ground with plenty of acrobatic and other amusements for the sight-seers, in the evening the town was well illuminated and a good display of fire-works was made on the banks of the great tank.

Judicial Assistant, Káthiáwár.

RAO BAHADUR KESHAVRAO BHASKARJI'S REPORT ON THE CELEBRATION OF THE JUBILEE IN THE STATE OF

WADHWÁN.

I have the honour to report the proceedings in connection with the Darbár held by the Thákor Sáhib of Wadhwán on the morning of the 16th at his palace in the city in honour of the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India.

2. Soon after 8 A. M. the Kárbhári of Wadhwán accompanied by the Sar Nyáyádhish came to my residence and escorted me to the Darbár in State.

The Darbár was largely attended among whom I noticed Mr. Rhenius of Messrs. Gaddum & Co. and Mr. and Mrs. Strip of the Tálukdári Grásia School.

The ceremonies at the Darbár were observed in the manner stated in your Circular No. 472 of the 5th instant.

The Thákor Sáhib read an address in English and his Kárbhári read its translation. After that I read my address in English and at its conclusion presented to the Thákor Sáhib the "Kharita" which accompanied your letter No. 564 of the 14th. Mr. Wámanráo Bálcrishna read a Gujaráti version of my address and then a learned Pandit read a paper in Sanskrit and a person from Maywád read a paper in Brij language both suitable to the occasion. Nose-gays, Pán and Attar were distributed and the proceedings of the Darbár were concluded. As I prepared to take leave a Royal salute of 101 guns began to be fired. English copies of the addresses are hereto annexed.

The palace and principal streets and houses in the city were decorated with flags, triumphal arches were put up with loyal mottos and preparations were seen going on for the illumination at night. The place for the fair and sports was made and people were seen taking a lively interest in the proceedings of the day and everywhere was rejoicing. The Kárbhári and the State officials who had accompanied him escorted me back to my residence in the same style as I was conducted to the city. I request you will be so good as to convey through Government to Her Most Gracious Majesty the loyal expressions contained in the address of the Thákor Sáhib.

KESHAVRÁO BHÁSKARJI,
First Deputy Assistant Political Agent,
Jhálávád Pránt.

ADDRESS READ BY THE THAKOR SAHIB OF WADHWAN AT THE JUBILEE DARBAR HELD AT WADHWAN CITY ON THE 16TH FEBRUARY 1887.

Rao Bahadur Keshavrao Bhaskarji, Ladies and Gentlemen,

I need not tell you for what we have assembled to-day. The 16th of February will always remain memorable and a red letter day in the history of India nay in that of the world. It is a day of religious solemnity, of public thanksgiving and universal rejoicing in an Empire which extends from sunrise unto sunrise. The highest to the lowest of the land will celebrate this auspicious occasion of the completion of the 50th anniversary of the reign of Her Most Gracious and Imperial Majesty Victoria Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India. It is She who has ever been watching with a motherly care and sympathy the interests of the Chiefs of India and her people. To enumerate all the benefits which we have derived during this half a century is no easy task. Suffice it only to say that they are innumerable and we now enjoy the blessing of a wise, just and enlightened administration. During this half a century of uninterrupted peace and tranquillity the moral and material progress which India has made presents an astonishing spectacle. Trade and commerce have flourished, arts and industries developed, education advanced and means of communication increased. This illustrious half a century has seen no Timoor or Nádur having his ruthless hosts on the plains of India and spreading plunder and devastation in his paths. Pindárees, Thaggees, Satees and Infanticide have become matters of history and the poorest in the land can now travel from one end to the other, and visit all the Dháms (places) of Salvation from Badrikadwár to Rámeshvar, Jagannáth to Dwárka within the wonderfully short space of a fortnight. In short changes of a most momentous character have taken place during these fifty years and the India of to-day is quite different from the India of yore. Gratitude is a virtue of which we Indians are proud, history teems with examples of gratitude and devotion we have invariably evinced to a ruler who has always been mindful of our welfare and interests.

In the reign of Akbar and his descendants the Rajput princes have fought side by side with Muhammadan conquerors and won provinces for them and consolidated their empire. We the Chiefs of Káthiáwár are the descendants of those illustrious ancestors who have performed such achievements and are not unmindful of the benefits we enjoy. The settlement of Colonel Walker guaranteed us in our rights and possessions and on the day of the establishment of the Agency at Rájkot dawned the future prosperity of our country. It is our duty, therefore, a duty imposed on us by our sacred Shástrás to pay divine honours to a Sovereign who has always acted the mother of the millions who have the good luck to be placed under Her protection. I am only sorry that I cannot give adequate expression to my feelings of love, attachment and devotion to our Most Gracious Majesty suited to the dignity and importance of this occasion. I can only say that I am thankful to the Almighty for placing such a benign ruler as our Head and mingle my voice with others in sincerely praying that She may be spared to give us another opportunity of celebrating a second Jubilee in Her Honour. I need not remind you that the Chiefs of Káthiáwár are going to present a joint congratulatory address to Her Gracious Majesty and to erect a museum to be styled Victoria Jubilee Hall and museum to commemorate the occasion. That the significance of the occasion may be felt by all of my subjects, decorations, a fair distribution of sweetmeats to the pupils of the various schools and also to the poor, athletic sports, liberation of some of the prisoners, illuminations and fireworks will form the principal features of the day.

In conclusion, therefore, I request you, Ráo Bahádur Keshavráo Bhâskarji, to be good enough to convey to our esteemed Political Agent for transmission through Govenment to Her Most Gracious and Imperial Majesty my deep sense of devotion and attachment, and my present hope that Her reign may be prolonged and that the loyalty of myself, my family, and my people may be appreciated.

ADDRESS OF RAO BAHADUR KESHAVRAO BHASKARJI AT THE DARBAR HELD AT WADHWAN CITY BY THE THAKOR SAHIB ON THE 16TH FEBRUARY 1887.

Thakor Sahib Balsingji, Ladies and Gentlemen,

In congratulating you on this happy and memorable occasion I cannot allow the opportunity to pass without expressing my sentiments on the proceedings of the day. The large assemblage here signifies the interest which one and all have taken in the ceremonial of this great day. It is gratifying to find that the loyal expressions contained in the interesting address which has just been read have been listened by those present with attention and pleasure. Your appreciation of the advantages of the Paramount British Rule in India and especially the benefits derived in the half a century of the illustrious reign just completed has not been undervalued. They are not only numerous but everlasting and have no parallel in the annals of the country. I need hardly point out to you that under the benevolent Government of Her Imperial Majesty the Princes of India have very little fear of danger either external or internal and they have thus ample opportunities to improve the condition of their people and the territories they govern.

The Chiefs of Káthiáwár indeed have come forward in their characteristic public and liberal spirit in founding a monument at the chief place of the seat of British Government in the Province commemorative of this grand day of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen Empress of India. Thákor Sáhib your Government has not been behind hand in the manifestation of such public and liberal spirit. The Civil Station which is not far from your capital bears ample evidence of it and the way in which you and the people under your sway are going to celebrate the Jubilee festivities throughout the length and breadth of your dominion displays not only your devotion and attachment to the Crown but the wisdom with which you are acting.

With the greatest pleasure I shall convey as requested the loyal expressions I have just heard to the Political Agent for transmission through Government to Her Most Gracious Majesty.

Before resuming my seat I have much pleasure to hand you a "Kharita" from His Excellency the Governor of Bombay which I am requested to present to you at this Darbár.

SÁELA.

It is no matter of ordinary delight to observe the Jubilee the 50th year of Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, the Empress of India, on the throne of Great Britain and Ireland, whose benign rule has restored peace, protected public liberty and property, conferred so many blessings on the people of India and kept up the dignity and honours of Her Majesty's loyal feudatory Chiefs. This occasion has offered a great opportunity to the feudatory Chiefs and people of India to show loyalty and fidelity towards Her Gracious Majesty by celebrating the Jubilee to the best of their power.

It would be beyond the powers of my pen to recount the numerous advantages which this Province has reaped within this short period since the advent of the British power. I beg however to make mention of a few of them. Since the British supremacy, outlawry has almost disappeared and dangerous classes who were much addicted to dacoity, highway robbery, and similar crimes have had a strict check placed on their nefarious practices by their being disarmed and by the system of passes for arms. The general education of the people is progressing at a rapid speed. High schools have been opened in many places and a college recently established to provide education to the young generation of this Province at a very cheap price. One of the most useful institutions which we the Chiefs in particular would be proud of is the Rájkumár College under the charge of the able and universally loved Principal Mr. Chester Macnaghten, where education both mental and physical is imparted to young Kunvers to enable them to rule their States in a becoming manner. Another institution of the kind in which we the Chiefs of Káthiáwár have a direct and immediate interest is the Grásia school at Wadhwán under the able charge of Mr. Strip who has endeared himself to his pupils and their parents by his social virtues. I should thankfully acknowledge the advantages which my State has reaped from these institutions.

In the matter of road the Province has made a remarkable progress.

Railway is spreading fast and wide and telegraph has joined almost all the principal towns in the Province.

I have the honour to inform you that the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty was hailed here with great delight and rejoicing, and celebrated as the rarest, most auspicious and most memorable event in the annals of the Province.

In celebration of the Jubilee on the morning of the 16th instant all the inhabitants of this place went out of the town, held an Ujáni and passed the day in feasting, rejoicing and merrymaking. At night the Darbár, the whole town and all the public places were illuminated with lights.

On the same day Darbár was held and the occasion was made delightful with sweet melodious vocal music and the sounds of drums, pipes, &c.

A Royal salute of guns was fired on the occasion. Sweets were distributed to the students of the boys and girls schools in the town.

Out of 13 prisoners in the Sáela Jail 4 prisoners sentenced to short terms were released as a mark of joy on this festive occasion.

The 16th and 17th were observed as holidays in Courts as well as in Schools. And lastly in commemoration of the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, the Empress of India, whose benign Government shines out in all parts of the world, it has been determined to construct a new road from Sudámda gate to new Bagicha (a distance of about a mile) for the public good and this road will ever after be known as " The Victoria Jubilee Road. "

CHUDA.

I have the honour to respectfully submit herewith a brief account of the Jubilee celebration in this State and an English copy of the Gujaráti address made at the public Darbár held here on the 16th instant in honour of the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen Empress of India, with a hope that they will meet with your kind approbation.

BHAGVÁNLÁL G. DURKÁL.
Kárbhári, Chuda.

Chuda, 19*th February* 1887.

ADDRESS.

It gives me a very great pleasure to open the proceedings of this Darbár, and the more so, as it enables me to thus publicly tender my warm and sincere congratulations to Her Most Gracious Majesty Victoria, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India, on the happy completion of the fiftieth year of Her Majesty's Sovereignty over the British Empire,

2. The principal object of holding this public Darbár to-day is to announce to you all as emphatically and as publicly as could possibly be done, this great day, the Jubilee day of the fiftieth anniversary of Her Majesty's accession to the throne.

It is to hail the day of universal rejoicings, with all honour and respect.

It is to express however feebly and inadequately our warm but respectful sentiments of loyalty and devotion, affection and esteem to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India.

3. "Jubilee" in its generally understood sense, means and signifies a season of great public festivity and joy—a season of pleasing rest—rest from a blind and unceasing start of life and its worries.

Let us then pause a while, to avail ourselves of this season of rest and recreation, and try to correctly understand and appreciate the real value of the numerous advantages and boons of the British rule.

To fully appreciate these advantages, one must necessarily look into the past and contrast it with the present. He must carefully compare his relative positions, as what he was with what he is. To some, personal experience, and to others, history, must have, I dare say, taught what the past condition of the country was. The picture though startling must be conceived. The present is before you all.

4. To enumerate each and all of the boons and blessings conferred upon India during Her Majesty's good and glorious reign and to explain their moral, social and intellectual effects and influences would require the patient labour of a lifetime and would be a more proper subject for a history than for an address of this nature.

We must here therefore be content only by referring to a few of the most prominent deeds which constitute the glory of Her Majesty's rule.

5. The vast dominions which have the privilege of acknowledging Her Majesty's sway, have experienced almost uninterrupted by peace and prosperity, civilization and advancement, and moral social and intellectual progress.

6. The past fifty years of Her Majesty's benign rule have been eminently marked by a steady progress in science, literature and national industries.

7. Schools, Colleges, Universities, Libraries, Dispensaries, Hospitals, Public Roads, and many other equally useful Institutions, stand pre-eminently to boast of the blessings of a wise, just and enlightened rule.

8. Postal facilities, Railways, Telegraph, Telephone, Steamers, Electric light, Manufactories, and such like are the wonders of the age.

Their wonderful character, innumerable advantages and immense usefulness to man and to the beast, inspire us with feelings of veneration and piety for Her Majesty.

9. The extension of the principle of local self-Government to the most part of the Indian Empire, throws an additional lustre on Her Majesty's liberal Government.

10. Her Majesty's principles of justice, liberty and love as also Her moderation in a very high fortune, are worthy of a truly great and good name, and endear Her rule the more to her subjects.

11. The unceasing solicitude and material interest, which Her Majesty evinces for the welfare of her peoples, have materially contributed to the peace and contentment which prevail all throughout the empire.

12. Her Most Gracious Majesty has also manifested a kind and tender regard for the wants and requirements of women of India by inaugurating a laudable movement for the supply of female medical aid to them.

13. The excellent virtues that adorn Her Majesty and many illustrious passages of Her exemplary life, have won most significantly the respect and admiration of all the subjects over whom she rules so well and wisely.

14. To live a long life, a happy and virtuous life, and a life of usefulness, is a blessing which can only be conferred by Heaven,

But to live such a life and while living to rule over an empire, a vast empire, and that too for so many years, with such a marked and unparallelled success and prosperity as Her Majesty has done, is a boon legacy which cannot be secured even from God, by man much less by a lady, without special claims upon the special favour of Heaven.

15. When thus our Queen-Empress has established as you must understand, her claims, sacred claims upon the rare and specific gift from Heaven, and upon the loyalty, love, devotion and gratitude of man, it is no wonder then that there could be but one feeling uppermost in the hearts of all Her subjects and that feeling of veneration and gratitude for Her Majesty.

It is no wonder also that myriads of Her Majesty's subjects in every part of Her vast and extensive empire, setting aside all differences of opinion and feelings, should unite in celebrating the Jubilee year of Her Majesty's illustrious reign with a fervour and genuineness not unknown to the natives of India.

16. I am sure that no race or nation can have greater regard and respect for their Sovereign than the people of India have for theirs. No people, I dare say, can be more loving or grateful than our natives. With them the Sovereign and the Maker are approximate synonymous, in a way to say.

17. It is not difficult then to imagine to what pitch their best feelings should have reached in showing their loyalty and grateful feelings on such a happy event as the Jubilee of a loving and loved Empress, who is universally respected and esteemed, and whose reign has no parallel in history for the loyalty and love which Her Majesty has inspired in the hearts of Her subjects.

18. We have invariably always exercised, as you are aware, our privilege of sharing the sentiment prevailing in the land. Let us equally then on the present auspicious occasion most sincerely commingle our voice with that of the whole empire, to pray that it may please the Almighty to preserve Her Majesty for many long years to come in unimpaired health of body and mind, so that the noble charity of a blameless life and the rare benevolence of a magnanimous reign may continue to bless the subjects of the empire and to exalt them among the nations of the earth.

Then follows a detailed account of the arrangements made in the State for the due celebration of the Jubilee, which is not repeated here to avoid redundancy, though it was fully entered into in addressing the Darbár, especially as it appears in all its details in the other set of papers that accompanying this.

BHAGVANLÁL G. DURKÁL,
Kárbhári.

Chuda, 16th February 1887.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION AT CHUDA.

1. Though Chuda stood third in rank so far as classes went in Káthiáwár, it was second to none in energy, zeal and activity in the expression of loyalty and devotion to the benign rule of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India on Her Great Jubilee day and on its successor.

2. In order to understand the relative value of the efforts made to secure success, it would be as well to give here a few necessary details of the position and status of the State.

3. Chuda forms the southern part of Jhálávád, and consists of 14 villages, but of which six are Khálsa and the rest Bháyáti villages. Its area is 782 square miles. The total population of the Táluka according to the census of 1881, was 13,496 souls. The revenue is between seventy thousand and a lac of Rupees. The Chuda Railway Station is about five miles from the town. The Táluka boasts from an ancient date of some religious renown.

4. A formal programme was issued by the Thákor Sáhib on the 7th instant, the details of which were carried out under my personal direction and supérvision.

5. The Jubilee had been the general topic of the day, all absorbing subject of official functions and a pleasing object for the anticipation of numerous pleasures, all throughout the State since more than a week before the great day. People could be seen here and there all engaged in repairing and white-washing their houses and shops and decorating them with bunting flags, Hándies, &c.

6. A Shamiána was pitched on an open ground in the compound of the palace, and tastefully decorated. A triumphal arch and a profusion of bunting formed the front of the Shamiána. Most of the State buildings, public offices, Schools, Jail, Dispensary, Police Lines, &c., were whitewashed and beautified with flags, &c. The main road was lined out with a regular rows of flags banners and a number of kindred devices.

7. The present marriage season which brought to the town many a Ján (bride-groom and party) from different parts of the Province, and the consequent festivities and decorations of private houses where marriages were to be celebrated, added not a little to the improvement of the general appearance of the town and the suburb. Altogether the town presented an appearance picturesque in sight and happily misleading in character.

8. All the public offices in the State were closed on the 16th and 17th instant. The cultivating, industrial and artizan classes had remained free to be able to participate in the joyous celebration of the Jubilee for both the days. Even the prisoners had a limited privilege of the holidays.

9. The people were asked throughout the State to have festive dinners on both the days. The prisoners and the poor were fed by the State, sweet rice forming the principal diet.

10. In the morning of the 16th the town was all in a bustle and excitement earlier than usual. Tom toms and trumpets announced the great Jubilee day. Between 8 and 9 A. M. large crowds of spectators and guests were found making their way to the Shamiána where a public Darbár was expected to be held at 9 A. M.

11. At 9 A. M. the State Darbár was full with full dressed Bháyáts, Mulgrásiás, Grásiás, Amirs, Saukárs, Patels, State officials and the whole of the elite of the town and the Táluka School Masters, Post Master, the Doctor, Railway officials, Jádeja Kárkun and many others were also invited to the Darbár. The Thákor Sáhib Becharsingji and the Kunvar Sáhib Mádhavsingji arrived at the Shamiána in full dress at about 9 A. M. and were received at the steps by myself and the principal Bháyáts of those that were present, and conducted to their seats on a dais, the police presenting arms all the while. When all were seated, the Thákor Sahib rose up and read a short loyal address opening the proceedings of the Darbár, the whole assembly remaining standing all the time. I then, at the instance of the Thákor Sáhib, addressed the Darbár at right, loyal length, expatiating on the many virtues of Her Most Gracious and Imperial Majesty, numerous advantages of Her Majesty's benign rule and on Her sacred claims upon the love, loyalty, esteem and gratitude of the whole nation. The arrangements made for the due celebration of the Jubilee in the State were also dilated upon.

Molasses, as the auspicious article of distribution, garlands, Áttar and Pán were next distributed.

Thus terminated the ceremonial part of the festivities, amidst loud and ringing cheers.

The whole appearance was one of stately grandeur and imposing oriental style.

12. Two well-conducted convicts out of five, the total number in the jail that day, were released in honour of the auspicious occasion.

13. At 2 P. M. the boys and girls of the schools here and many more formed a procession headed by the school masters. They marched through the Bazár, with all the emblems of rejoicing, tom toms playing all the while, and arrived at the Shamiána where due arrangements were previously made for their fête. The Thákor Sáhib, all the State Officials and the elite of the Táluka were present to witness the bright and cheerful picture. National Anthem was then sung with a force and vigour seldom displayed at school. Sweetmeats were then distributed to all the girls and boys, which with the other Tamásha like scene before them exhilarated their spirits uncommonly well.

14. At 3 P. M. a number of helpless poor were arranged near the public offices under a triumphal arch erected for the occasion. The committee specially appointed for the object distributed to these destitute people clothes, coins, and brass pots with "Jubilee Dán Chuda State" engraved on them, in the shape of alms.

15. Between 5 and 6 P. M. people professing different creeds attended their respective temples and mosques to offer prayers and thanksgiving to the God Almighty for Her Majesty's long life, prosperity and happiness. The Thákor Sáhib and all the State officials attended for the same object both the temples, Bhutnáth's and Chaturbhuj's.

16. Females in large crowds assembled at night in their respective "Mehlás" to sing religious and auspicious "Garbás," and so did the "Mandlis" (parties of professional prayers) that were specially engaged to offer up prayers and sing hymns invoking divine blessings upon Her Most Gracious Majesty Victoria, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britian and Ireland and Empress of India, together with the whole royal family. The Hari-Kirtan lasted till after midnight, in the whole Táluka.

17. At 7 P. M. there was a display of fireworks for the amusement of the mob, on an open ground to the north of the dispensary out of the town.

The presence of royalty and the wonderful character of the amusement attracted to the scene almost the whole town and a large number of outsiders. Nothing could exceed the childish wonder and child-like delight of the spectators.

18. At 8 P. M. the Thákor Sáhib and the officials started in State to see the illuminations. All the principal streets were illuminated by the owners of houses that stood there. The State buildings, the Shamiána, the Palace, the School-houses, &c., were illuminated at the expense of the State. The whole scenery was simply enchanting, large crowds of men and women, boys and girls could be seen pushing on to find way to pass through; the police had in fact as much work as they could manage in controlling the crowds and in due preservation of order.

19. At 9 P. M. the Thákor Sáhib entertained the principal Amirs at a banquet at the royal palace.

20. Thus terminated the ceremonial festivities of the day, the great day, the Jubilee day, the day of universal rejoicings, with complete success and eclat.

21. The following day was marked among other festivities by a public fair and processions both social and religious popular items of amusement with the natives.

The processions with all manner of forms and appendages passed through the principal streets and Bazár and arrived at the temple of Fulnáth in the afternoon where the public fair was held. Several shops of confectionary were set up at the fair. Native sports and entertainments of various denominations afforded the best delight and enjoyment to all sorts and conditions of people who had thronged to enjoy the fair.

Each village throughout the Táluka had a fair of its own.

22. The masses dispersed after sunset to witness the illuminations in and out of the town.

23. Again the women had their Garbás to enjoy with and the Hari-Kirtan Mandlis their sacred office during the night, all throughout the State.

24. The Chuda State Bangalow at the Wadhwán Civil Station was not neglected. It was fully decorated with flags and bunting, and tastefully illuminated on both the nights.

25. The municipal arrangements were admirable. The whole town was kept clean and all the main roads were well watered.

26. As a permanent memorial, the Thákor Sáhib in concert with other Chiefs of Káthiáwár, has resolved to commemorate the happy remembrance of the Jubilee by erecting at the British Head Quarters of this Province a Public Hall to contain a museum, at a cost of one lac and sixty thousand Rupees to be raised among themselves by voluntary subscription. The importance and usefulness of such an Institution of public utility are so obvious that they cannot, it is hoped, but commend themselves to the approbation of Her Majesty.

27. As a local memorial of permanent usefulness the Thákor Sáhib has also announced his resolve to erect a suitable building for the girl school to be called "Victoria Jubilee Girl School".

28. The Thákor Sáhib to further perpetuate the happy memory of the Jubilee, contemplates holding a Jubilee fair every year on the 16th February.

29. All this and much more was done at the expense of the State and without trenching upon the public purse.

30. In short all the ceremonial parts and festivities of the Jubilee celebration in this State were attended with a success and enthusiasm, unique, I am told, in the experience of the people here.

All the proceedings connected with the Jubilee celebration had something of solemn sanctity in them, as if some proper human power were at work to direct and guide the thoughts and actions of man to unique success—success conspicuous by the absence of any unpleasant accident which is not unfrequently the fate of a grand "Tamásha."

31. The only drawback. was that no European or Agency Officer could we secure to partake of the Darbár ceremony and to do fuller justice to the loyal efforts on the part of this State in the Jubilee celebration, by an abler and a more vivid and favourable report.

32. For my own part, I consider it to be my peculiar good fortune and privilege to have thus been in a position to show my deepest devotion, loyalty and reverence to Her Most Gracious and Imperial Majesty.

33. The impressions which the experience of the last week has left behind are impressions, which cannot in their grandeur and sacredness admit of an escape from the memory of those who had the good luck to witness the actual scenes and realities.

BHAGVÁNLÁL G. Durkál,
Kárbhári, Chuda State.

Chuda, 19*th February* 1887.

ADDRESS TO BE READ IN THE DARBAR TO BE HELD AT 9 A. M. OF THE 16TH FEBRUARY 1887, IN CELEBRATION OF THE JUBILEE AT MULI.

Bhayats and Gentlemen,

We have been acquainted with the object for which we all have met in this Hall by the speech just concluded by the Kárbhári Sáhib.

To-day (16th February 1887) is the day fixed for general rejoicings taking place in commemoration of the fiftieth year of the reign of Her Imperial Majesty, the Empress of India, and in connection with this celebration we all have assembled here. On this auspicious occasion with warm and heartfelt joy few words are necessary to be said about the happiness, tranquillity and the blessings that have been conferred upon us in the reign of our kind Empress.

Amongst the many rulers that have ruled over India, the Mogal and the Marátha rules are rather fresh in our memory. We can easily compare the happiness and prosperity we now enjoy in the reign of our respected Empress with those we enjoyed in the time of the Mogal and the Marátha Emperors. In the time of those Emperors, neither the princes nor the subjects felt happy consequent to their barbarous usages, to their barbarous way of administering justice and to the violence perpetrated by them. To-day came the looters, the next day cattle robbers and the third day the kidnappers. Such kinds of injuries were done. When every soul in the world was in such distress, how could trade and agriculture flourish? At the time of such anarchy Gracious God granted us our Honoured Queen as our Empress who was born on the 24th May 1819 and ascended the throne on the 20th June 1837 hence it is now fifty years since the date of accession to the throne.

We all confess with one voice that in the reign of our Gracious Queen, our rights are justly preserved and Her just laws and policy have conferred upon us all the blessings and prosperity and security of life that we wanted, and thus have enabled us to pass our time in ease and happiness.

It is owing to the reign of our kind Empress that we now enjoy the blessings, peace and tranquillity and advancement in trade. These are no less blessings conferred upon us by our kind Empress.

The fact that half a century has passed to the reign of our Gracious Empress brings us no less pleasure, and for this we must offer our thanksgiving to God, and in conclusion pray to the Almighty Father to grant our Empress long life and long reign.

The following will be done in celebration of these rejoicings:—

1. Sweetmeat will be distributed to the school pupils and to the children of the poor.

2. Whole city will be illuminated in the evening and the Bazár will be decorated with flags.

3. At about 8 P. M. display of fireworks will take place near the Darbár gadh.

4. Prisoners of light offence and of small unexpired portion of imprisonment will be released.

5. A market of the value of Rs. 3,000 will be erected and will be named Victoria Jubilee Market.

6. 16th and 17th instant, both days, will be observed as holidays.

સોમચંદ વેલજી,
કારભારી.

Muli, 16*th February* 1887.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION AT BAJANA.

I have the honour to report for your information the festive celebration, in Bajána, of the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, on 16th February, the day fixed by the Government of India.

2. The 16th and 17th instant were previously proclaimed throughout the whole Táluka to be observed as public holidays, and all the public buildings, and most of the private houses, and merchants' shops were decorated with flags.

3. At 9 A.M. on Wednesday, a public Darbár was held, presided over by Malek Shri Nasibkbánji, and attended by many of the Bháyáts, all the State officials, Soukárs and other residents of the town, aggregating in all to about three hundred persons. A short address was delivered by the Kárbhári dwelling upon the innumerable advantages, derived to the whole of India in general, and Káthiáwár in particular since the advent of British Rule in India. He said that there was peace and plenty throughout the length and breadth of the country, that every body was free to use the well earned fruits of his own labour, without molestation, that civilization was fast spreading from one end of India to the other; and that the people were enjoying the blessings of justice education, Railways, Telegraph, &c. The whole was wound up with a fervent prayer that Almighty God may be pleased to continue the benign Rule of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, for many year to come; and that Her reign may be blessed, happy and prosperous.

4. In the afternoon a children's fête was held in the large Dharmshála where nearly five hundred children ranging from three to ten years of age were marched, the procession headed by Native music. All these were treated with sweetmeats.

5. The Darbári residence, Hospital, Schools, Dharmshálás and every private dwelling in the town were illuminated; and the novelty of the occasion added much to the beauty of the scene. The whole day's proceedings ended with a splendid display of fireworks.

6. In order to supply the long felt want of a permanent fund for maintaining the poor and helpless in-door patients of the Wadhwán Civil Station Hospital, the Darbár Sáhib has subscribed a sum of Rupees 1,000 (one thousand), which it is hoped will be largely supplemented, and thus the object of supporting such a charitable and useful Institution will be appreciated on all sides.

7. To perpetuate the commemoration of this auspicious and historical day in Bajána, the Darbár Sáhib has availed himself of this opportunity to lay the foundation of a girl school in the town. The school is to be called "Jubilee Kanyáshála."

8. On the 17th the Fakeers and beggars present in the town were fed and alms were freely distributed; besides the cattle of the town were given large quantities of Kadab and cotton seeds.

SORÁBJI MANCHERJI,
Chief Kárbhári, Bajána State.

CAPTAIN KENNEDY'S REPORT ON THE CELEBRATION OF THE JUBILEE IN THE STATES OF THE

SORATH PRÁNT.

JUNÁGAD.

In accordance with your No. 375 of 20th ultimo, I have the honour to submit a report showing in what manner the Jubilee of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress was observed in the Junágad State.

2. As regards the rest of the District in my charge I will submit a supplementary report as soon as the various reports reach me.

3. On the invitation of His Highness the Nawáb Sáhib I arrived at Junágad on the 15th instant to attend the Jubilee Darbár on the 16th instant. On the 16th instant shortly before 9 A. M. the Diván and Assistant Diván called for me and with them I proceeded to the Nawáb's palace where a large portion of the palace-yard had been enclosed and covered in by tenting and made into a spacious Darbár Háll. This was done to accommodate as many of the populace as possible. The Darbár was essentially an Ám Darbár as opposed to the usual Khás Darbár, and this looking to the nature of the occasion was a happy idea and very fitting as the arrangement permitted a large number of His Highness' subjects, who ordinarily do not take part in Darbárs, to be present and witness what was done and hear what was said.

4. On my arrival the Nawáb Sáhib met and conducted me to my seat on his right as usual. Soon after all had settled down in their seats, I took the opportunity of presenting to His Highness the Kharita from His Excellency the Governor of Bombay which you had forwarded to me under your No. 561 of 14th instant. I merely handed the Kharita to His Highness and while doing so informed His Highness that I had been directed to do so by you and that it was a Kharita from His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, and expressed my pleasure in the performance of the duty. Every one then resumed his seat and the usual Darbár business of Natch dancing and singing proceeded. After some 10 minutes conversation His Highness' Diván Mr. Haridás Viháridás rose and read an appropriate address, in honour of the occasion, on behalf of His Highness first in English, then in Gujaráti. I append herewith a copy of this address. On the conclusion of the address I replied shortly in English and a Gujaráti translation of my remarks was read over in the hearing of all. I beg to attach a copy of my remarks for your information. At the conclusion of the reading of the translation of my reply His Highness' Band played the British National Anthem, all present standing up. The next proceeding was the distribution of sweetmeats to all present. Then the thirty prisoners who were to be released came in and passed through and out before His Highness' freemen, each one being the recepient of 2 Koris which after having been touched by His Highness were personally given to the released ones by His Highness' Vazir Bá-ud-dinbhái Hásambhái; this money was given for their road expenses. After the prisoners had been freed and had left the Darbár a Jubilation address composed in Sanskrit by one of His Highness' subjects was chaunted by two young men also subjects of the Junágad State, and a translation of this in Gujaráti was chaunted by two other young men. This was followed by an impromptu oration from a native orator who eloquently enlarged in most loyal terms on the joyful occasion which was then being celebrated; this oration was delivered in Gujaráti. Following this came a second Jubilation composition in Sanskrit composed by another of His Highness' subjects. The business of distributing Pán Sopári then commenced and as most of those present, and the number was large, received this it took some little time to get through this part of the ceremonial. When all had received Pán Sopári and Attar the British National Anthem was again played, and under an imperial salute of 101 guns the Darbár was brought to an end, His Highness conducting his guests to the entrance of the Darbár enclosure. The State officials who brought me to the Darbár accompanied me back to my residence.

5. The Darbár was undoubtedly a brilliant success, it lasted an hour and three-quarters and some 1,500 people witnessed it and were present. The sense exhibited by all present was distinctly loyal and joyful and therefore most fitting.

6. His Highness entertained his English guests at a banquet on the 16th instant at which the toasts first of Her Majesty and then of his Highness were drunk. At the conclusion of the banquet the Díván of the State called for His Highness' guests and we were taken round the town in Darbár carriages, after calling at the palace to pick up His Highness and his party, to witness the illumination in honour of the Jubilee. The town was brilliantly illuminated as also the palace. The days proceedings were wound up by a grand display of fireworks at which the whole party was present.

7. After the Darbár of the morning and during the day sweetmeats were distributed throughout the capital to every man, woman and child, and the day was fully observed as a holiday by all.

8. With regard to the out-lying districts of the State the day was observed a holiday and day of rejoicing. At Mahál Head-Quarters Kacheris were held and in all villages there were Chora gatherings and the meaning of these proceedings and the joyful occasion was explained to one and all and sweetmeats were distributed to every one. I append a copy of the extraordinary number of the State Gazette alluded to in my reply.

9. The 17th instant was also observed as a holiday throughout the State, and in the evening there was a grand distribution of prizes at the High School here; prior to the distribution of prizes there were several recitations in English, Gujaráti and Sanskrit, all of a most loyal nature and in keeping with the occasion. I append a programme of what was done on this occasion. After the prize distribution all the school boys and girls of Junágad had sweetmeats distributed to them.

10. In closing this report I have great pleasure in bringing to your notice the very loyal and liberal way in which His Highness has behaved. The founding of a scholarship for an English education is most liberal, but I would draw special attention to the Orphan Asylum and to the remission of outstanding advances made to the cultivating class in years of distress. Both these measures are, I think, most admirable and reflect the very highest credit on the administration. The idea of the Orphan Asylum emanated entirely with Vazir Bá-ud-dinbhái Hásambhái and it is greatly through his instrumentality that the remission of outstandings to cultivators than which nothing could be more fitting was obtained. I have no hesitation in saying that the proceedings in this State on this Jubilee occasion were characterized by unmixed spontaneous loyalty to Her Majesty the Queen-Empress.

W. P. KENNEDY, Captain,
Assistant Political Agent, Sorath Pránt.

ADDRESS FROM HIS HIGHNESS THE NAWAB SAHIB BAHADUR KHANJI OF JUNAGAD IN THE DARBAR HELD TO CELEBRATE THE JUBILEE OF HER MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY THE QUEEN-EMPRESS VICTORIA.

Captain Kennedy,

With great pleasure I have to request you to convey through the proper channel to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress my most sincere congratulations on the auspicious occasion of the Jubilee of Her blessed reign, to celebrate which, you are aware, I have convened this Darbár and have invited you and my other friends whom I offer my cordial thanks for their complying with my request to join with me in the rejoicings, which I am glad to tell you, are also being held to-day by the people of my territory as already announced in the Extraordinary number of our State Gazette.

It is a proud and grateful subject to observe that the great and noble principle, viz:—the sole end of all governments is to render the governed virtuous and happy, fixing their eye to the public good—is brought into practice in the illustrious reign of Her Most Gracious and Imperial Majesty, whose sublime life has been devoted to the exalted object of exercising the unlimited power to do good to others and of ruling the vast Empire with eminent prudence and benevolence. Her constant study appears to be to elevate the intellectual and moral character of the numerous nations of many races, languages and religions, committed to Her care by Providence. With her glorious Motto " Heaven's Light our Guide " she is like a great light which has blessed the world and may long bless it. In short in Her Majesty's distinguished reign, many blessings have been showered on the length and breadth of the dominions, unparallelled in history for grandness and greatness and which extends from sunrise unto sunrise. We owe to her prosperous and beneficent reign the great stride the civilization has made; the spread of education, the development of industrial inventions, the means of easy communication for commerce of all kinds—steamers, railways, electric telegraphs, &c.

But our country or rather Continent India is particularly indebted to Her Most Gracious Majesty, for the Magna Charta, in its truest and noblest sense, which breathing feelings of generosity, benevolence and religious toleration and pointing out the privileges, under Her benign rule, pledges with noble consideration and true magnanimity to Native Princes of India that—

"We shall respect the rights, dignity and honour of Native Princes as our own"

And to the whole India it proclaims in high-minded and gracious language that—

"In their prosperity will be our strength: in their contentment our security; and in their gratitude our best reward. And may the God of all power grant to us and to those in authority under us, strength to carry out our these wishes for the good of our people."

It is impossible that the justice and wisdom which mark these eloquent words should not be gratefully appreciated. The justest, noblest and happiest principles enunciated herein embody important truths of universal application and are most worthy of being followed as the safest guides by all rulers, small or great.

Her Majesty's righteous solicitude for the good and happiness of Her subjects, could not but reciprocate heart-felt loyalty from and win the love of all. Her lofty Virtues with which She shines forth have deservedly endeared Her to all. The triumphs of peace reigning everywhere in Her vast Empires have made Her Government most illustrious.

In no reign greater liberty of person, of property, of conscience, and of speech, is known and experienced.

Her Imperial Majesty's righteous life, not only enlightens and warms the masses under Her rule but teaches the world in what true Royalty and honours consist. She excels all in this respect, and as virtues of sovereign are said to entail happiness upon mankind, all the blessings we enjoy, are due to Her who never seems to forget that the end of Government is the happiness of the governed.

To commemorate the Jubilee year of Her Most Gracious and Imperial Majesty's reign the blessings of which cannot but fill our mind with deep sense of gratitude and appreciation, we all the Princes and Chiefs of Káthiáwár have determined to erect at the Head-Quarters of this Province, viz: Rájkot a Jubilee Hall to contain a Museum. In addition to this I have also thought it desirable as a mark of special and local commemoration of this auspicious and rare event by founding a scholarship of Rs. 3,000 (three thousand) a year for receiving liberal education in England (the details will be hereafter settled) and by establishing an Orphan Asylum here to be styled " the Victoria Jubilee Junágad Scholarship" and "the Victoria Jubilee Orphan Asylum." I am happy to announce that I have also in honour of this memorable occasion resolved to write off the outstandings on account of the advances made to cultivators in the year of distress and to release 30 prisoners.

Let us now with profound sentiments of devotion and regard, thank our beloved and venerated Empress, and conclude with Jubilation by an invocation to Providence for Its continual blessings on Her Most Gracious and Imperial Majesty Alexandrina Victoria.

Your Highness Nawab Sahib, Amirs of the Junagad State,

The occasion which we are all met here to-day to celebrate is certainly a most joyous one, and I deem it a high honour and great privilege to take part in this Jubilee Darbár. It also gives me very great pleasure to be the medium for the conveyance of the address which we have just heard read by your Diván Mr. Haridás Viháridás, to the Political Agent for communication to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress. The event we are now celebrating is an exceptional one, but all the more is it for that reason, one of great rejoicing. I have read in the extraordinary number of your Highness' State Gazette the announcement as to the general mode of observing this Jubilee year in the outlying districts of your State; and we have just heard the announcement of your determination to establish an Orphan Asylum in Junágad to be styled the Victoria Jubilee Orphan Asylum, and a scholarship of a special character to be called the Victoria Jubilee Junágad scholarship and also your Highness' resolution to release 30 prisoners and further to write off outstanding advances made to cultivators in years of distress. All these measures and especially the Orphan Asylum and the remission of advance as they will reach even the poorest of your Highness' subjects, are most creditable to your Highness' sense of loyalty and liberality, and I have no doubt they will be most thoroughly appreciated by every one. The uneducated masses and even sometimes the educated recall events in their lives by some memorable year; too often it happens that it is a year of misfortune, such as famine or a visitation of locusts causing damage to property; but I hope and believe that all your Highness' subjects will here have a date which they can look back to and remember as a year associated with happiness alone. It would take too much time to enumerate even a tithe of all the benefits which have accrued to India and its people during the long and gracious reign we are now commemorating, I will therefore not attempt it. Your Highness has, in the address we have heard, shown that you can appreciate and have recognized them. It now only remains for me in the name of all my countrymen here to join with your Highness in the hope that Her Most Gracions Majesty may still be spared to reign over us for many happy years to come.

PORBANDAR.

Account.

A Committee of leading officials and towns-people was formed who raised a fund by voluntary subscriptions amounting to about Rupees 2,000, and carried out all the arrangements with much energy and success. The chief thorough-fares were decorated by the morning of the 16th with flags and arches. At about 9 o'clock all the boys and girls of the schools in the town, public and private numbering about 1,050 were feasted with sweetmeats. At noon all those who were disabled by age or infirmity from earning their own living, in number 700, were given a good dinner. At 5 o'clock a Darbár was held by the Administrator in the compound of the premises newly fitted up for the girls' school. The place had been covered in and decorated by the Committee so as to make a spacious and handsome room. His Highness the Rána Sáhib being in Bombay was unavoidably absent. The other English officers present were Lieut.-Colonel Hancock, President of the Rájasthánik Court, Captain Fenton, Superintendent of Surveys and Dr. Tully, Superintendent of Vaccination. Ráo Bahádur Jayáshankar Lálshankar, as President of the Committee, read an address on behalf of the towns people couched in terms appropriate to the occasion. The Administrator replied. A Gujaráti poem in honour of Her Majesty and noticing the benefits which had been derived from her reign was then recited, and the proceedings terminated in the usual way. A royal salute was fired at the conclusion of the Darbár. The chief streets were then illuminated and a display of fireworks took place on the Bandar. At 8 o'clock on the morning of the 17th, the foundation stone of a new Muhammadan school was laid by the Administrator in the presence of a numerous assembly including Lieut.-Colonel Hancock and Captain Fenton. The building is estimated to cost Rupees 10,000, and will be built on a site given by the Darbár by the voluntary subscriptions of the Muhammadan Community who solicit permission to call it the Victoria Jubilee Madresa.

The only direct action taken by the Administrator besides holding the Darbár was to release under the order of Government 4 prisoners being 10 per cent. of those undergoing sentence in the jail. All the other proceedings were due entirely to the spontaneous good feeling of the people.

THE JUBILEE CELEBRATION IN JAFARABAD.

16*th February* 1887.

The shipping and native craft in the harbour were dressed with streams of flags and bunting of variegated hues. The streets in the town were lined with bannerets and festoons and from the battlements of the fort and the tops of the principal State buildings large multi-coloured flags waved to the breeze.

The festivities commenced with a children's fête in the morning A treat was given to all the children from the Gujaráti, Hindustáni and girls' schools.

Throughout the day the whole town was on fête. Caterrers of amusement such as acrobats, Khárva dancers, &c., were made to go through a lengthy and interesting programme of performances to the immense delectation of the spectators.

A procession of the State officials headed by the Diván of Janjira and the Mámlatdár of Jáfarábád with the Sidi Bháibands and the principal Mahájans following, was formed and a well attended Darbár was held at which speeches expressive of loyalty and devotion to the Throne and appreciative of the manifold blessings the Native States enjoy under Her Majesty's gracious reign, were delivered. The proceedings terminated with the National Anthem which was sung in Gujaráti by a few selected students of the Local Vernacular Schools.

In the afternoon until dusk, rowing and swimming matches in the creek attracted throngs of spectators from the town and the adjoining villages.

The whole town was brilliantly illuminated during the night. Some of the State buildings and the approaches to the Kila were tastefully decorated and lit up with oil Butties in glasses arranged in circles and stars. Fireworks were displayed in front of the fort after 8 P. M. Until midnight the spacious roadway from the Bandar to the Kila was thronged with dense masses of men, women and children who seemed to enjoy the festivities heartily.

17*th February* 1887.

A public fair was held in the town and was attended throughout the day by large crowds.

In the afternoon athletic sports on the beach were witnessed by throngs of spectators.

The proceedings for the day terminated with feu-de-joies and cheers for Her Majesty the Queen-Empress.

The town was again illuminated on the night of the 17th.

All the village officers were directed to distribute sweetmeats to school children and to celebrate the Jubilee in a fitting manner.

The 16th and 17th February were observed as public holidays.

In commemoration of Her Majesty's Jubilee the Nawáb Sáhib of Janjira has abolished an impost on passengers by sea called "Mundki Vera" which yielded an annual income of about Rs. 500, and has also set apart a sum of Rs. 40,000 to be expended on what is proposed to call "The Victoria Water Works" at Murad.

RAO BAHADUR NATHU NANABHAI'S REPORT ON THE CELEBRATION OF THE JUBILEE IN THE STATE OF MANÁVADAR.

In compliance with instructions contained in para. 6 of Circular dated 28th ultimo, issued by the Political Agent in Káthiáwár, I have the honour to give a brief account of the Darbár that was held here on the 16th instant, and a brief detail of other arrangements which were made for the joyous celebration of the day.

A Darbár was held at 9 A. M. and I attended it when a deputation consisting of the Chief Kárbhári Ázam Prabháshankar Dalpatrám and the Náib Kárbhári Mr. Nathu Meghji arrived at my residence and escorted me to the Darbár. At the entrance of the Darbár I was received by the Chief and conducted to the Darbár Hall. The deputation came to my residence in a carriage and two escorted by a party of 8 Savárs.

After we all took our seats the Chief desired his Kárbhári Ázam Prabháshankar to read the address in English which was prepared for the occasion. The Chief himself had intended to read it but was prevented from doing so by one of his sored eyes. Ázam Prabháshankar as desired then read the address and the Sarishtadár of the Huzur Court then read its translation in Gujaráti. I forward herewith in original the address which was thus read by the Kárbhári.

I then rose and read an address in English and its translation in Gujaráti and beg to send herewith its copy.

The Darbár was held in the central hall of the building which stands in front of the Darbárgad.

The lower floor of the building is used for holding several Courts and keeping official records of the Táluka.

To give due eclat, police (foot and mounted) and men of the Sibandy were formed in lines near the entrance of the Darbár Hall. The State elephant, Rath or Chariot and Nagára and Banner were also kept there in order of procession. Roads were sufficiently watered and all the native musics that were procurable here and at Bántva were in requisition from morning till evening.

In the first entrance of the Darbár Hall a board with motto "God save the Queen" was suspended and in front of the seats that were arranged for the Chief himself and for me a board with motto "Success to Queen-Empress" was suspended. These two boards were so suspended in the Dabár Hall and on the top of the first entrance leading to the Darbár Hall that they could not remain unnoticed by any one entering it. Seats for the gentry invited to attend the Darbár were arranged in straight lines from south to north by placing chairs in 2 rows on each side.

At the conclusion of the reading of addresses by the Kárbhári and by me, 4 senior boys of the vernacular school here rose and advanced towards us to ask for permission to read a piece of poetry prepared for the occasion, and they then read it in the Darbár. It is sent herewith in original.

To mark the auspicious occasion with more pleasure 5 prisoners who had been serving sentences of 7 years for an offence of dacoity were brought in the Darbár Hall and liberated there.

The hall was profusely decorated with flags and buntings and with leaves of different trees amongst which Asopálav leaves which are regarded by Hindus and Muhammadans as sacred on auspicious occasions were conspicuous. Mandaps or enclosures were made at places by planting plantain trees, &c.

There being no guns to fire a salute, the police were supplied with blank cartridges and the Sibandy were with powder to fire in volleys at the conclusion of the ceremony of holding Darbár and they fired when the Darbár was dispersed by the distribution of Attar and rose-water and Pán Supári, and I left it to return to my residence accompanied by the deputation that had come to receive me.

Some of the Bháyáts and members of the judicial Court at Bántva and the leading men of several communities at Bántva and at Mánávadar were invited to attend the Darbár and the appearance was befitting the occasion for which it was held.

Khán Shri Gazanfar Khánji had personally supervised the decorations of the building where Darbár was held. He said he would have been more glad to read the address himself if his eye was not sored during the night that preceded the date of holding Darbár. His arrangements to induce his people to observe this to be a national holiday was praiseworthy. All the children of the town and those who happened to arrive here yesterday were freely given sweet things such as lumps of sugar-candy, Sákaria-Chana or gram grains coated with sugar. Sákaria-Káju or cashunuts coated with sugar, sugar and pieces of cocoa fruits. The quantities given to every child was, I think enough to please the stomachs of young creatures and the scene where children were running to take their share and returning from the place where it was distributed was pleasing and picturesque. About 500 children were thus made pleased soon after the Darbár was dismissed.

The guests who were invited to participate in this joyfulness were feasted with sweet dinner, and the poor who were present in the town (Hindus and Muhammadans) were not neglected, but were fed either with cooked food or by giving uncooked food.

The doors of the houses, particularly those fronting the streets, were decorated by hanging across them Torans, resembling garlands, made of the leaves of Ásopálav trees. This is the first necessity which should be done when any auspicious occasion such as marriage and other worldly auspicious matters are celebrated by the people of the country.

People of the town with a view to give due respects to the occasion or to subscribe their mite to enhance the joyfulness of the occasion had whitewashed the frontage of their houses and decorated them with flags. Some had even partly painted the frontages with various colours.

The whole town and Darbári buildings were illuminated with glass lamps, lanterns and Butties and the imposing scenery of the building in the central Hall of which Darbár was held at 9 A. M. was well paying the trouble of those who had come here from distant places to see it, their pleasure was well augmented by the display of fireworks of sorts, the discharge of which was begun at about 8 P. M. and the amusement given by it elicited admiration from all males and females who had thronged in the main square of the town. The display of fireworks lasted nearly an hour.

Hindus and Muhammadans of the town or who were in the town were not unmindful of the auspicious occasion for which the day was observed as a national holiday. I saw them going to their sacred places of their respective religions to offer prayer for the eternal prosperity of the British Ráj and from what I saw here I think I can say without fear of meeting with contradiction that the people here did not show the signs of their being unwillingly forced to observe the 16th as the public holiday, but observations of it appeared to me to be spontaneous and willing in return of the numerous blessings they now enjoy from the advent of the British Ráj in the country.

I had the opportunity to hear from some old and young men that he who would murmur to celebrate the auspicious occasion according to his means must be an ungrateful man.

In the evening I used to see people coming to the Kárbhári from the different villages of the Táluka to say that people had assembled near the Chorás of the villages, molasses and sweet eatables were distributed to the children, and women and men were singing in Chorás in several streets of the villages.

As the chief took this opportunity to eulogize Ázam Prabháshankar for his services while he was manager of the State I thought it was not extranious to reply to the occasion for which Darbár was held and hence I have replied on that point too.

I think, I should be wanting in my duty, if I failed to bring to your notice that leaders of Meman Community at Bántva came to me yesterday at noon as a deputation to invite me to Bántva to see and bring to your notice what joyful were they in celebrating the Jubilee of the Empress of India. Khán Shri Sher Khánji sent also an invitation to me telling me that he was to hold a Darbár there at 4 P.M. to celebrate the Jubilee and I should attend it. Being deputed to Mánávadar and considering the joyful occasion to which they had come to invite me I politely replied them that as illuminations on the part of all the shareholders were to take place on the 17th I would take the advantage of seeing it then and would bring it to the notice of the Assistant Political Agent in charge Sorath.

Accordingly I visited Bántwa to-day and I am glad to say that the houses of the principal and of the sub-shareholders were decorated with flags of varied sizes, colors, and with green leaves of trees of sorts and they were illuminated though picturesquely at some places by glass lamps, lanterns and globe lamps or Hándis in a neat way. The merchants of the place were not backward in showing their joyfulness by illuminating their shops and decorating them with flags of various colors The Court-houses and public buildings were also decorated with buntings, flags and ever-greens and were amply illuminated, and I bring these to your notice at their earnest desire.

NATHU NÁNÁBHÁI,
Deputy Assistant Political Agent, Sorath.

Rao Bahadur Nathubhai,

It gives me unbounded pleasure, and I consider it a proud and rare privilege to hold this Darbár on this most joyous occasion. The very news of the Resolution arrived at by the Governments of India and Bombay to celebrate on this day the Jubilee year of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress' reign, had filled my heart with much joy, and I consider myself very fortunate in being enable to celebrate with befitting honors and eclats this most auspicious occasion throughout my State.

The innumerable advantages of the British Rule in India are well known to all. All of us, who have studied the History of India are well aware of the fact that never was this vast dominion so prosperous, and at peace within or without; never were people more contented and happy than what we find them under the benign rule of the British Government. If we refer in the History of India to the reigns of the different Powers which had held supremacy in India preceding the British reign, we find mostly an unbroken tale of terrorism and anarchism. Internal strifes, bloody warfares, and other calamities resulting from such misrule contributed largely to the misfortune to which India was subjected for a very long period. But the Almighty God came to her rescue, and put the benign British Rule, ever since the beginning of that happy Epoch, the only aim with which the British Government have ruled India, has been to make her people happy and contented, and during the long period of the half a century over which the benevolent Rule of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress has spread, India and her people have received and still continue to receive all the blessings of a wise, just, liberal and enlightened Government. The vast dominions over which Her Majesty Rules, have received and still continue to receive the touch of the western civilization. Science, arts and the development of national industries have steadily advanced, prosperity and commerce have also vastly increased, the comforts of the vast multitude of her subjects have always been carefully studied and provided, person and property made secure; railways and other means of communications, post and telegraph and other innumerable conveniences have been extended to the people, and religions observed by the different people scrupulously respected. It would be too long to enumerate all the—thousands of—blessings which India and her people have continuously and unceasingly received and still continue to receive in the benign and benevolent reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress.

The ancient historic Province of Saurâshtra (Káthiáwár) has profited none the less than the other sister Provinces. This our ancient land of Saurâshtra, was formerly torn by dissensions from within and oppressed from without. It was in the year 1807-8 A. D. that peace and order dawned in the Province when Colonel Alexander Walker, then representing the Honourable East India Company, settled tributes to be annually paid by the Chiefs and Tálukdárs of the Province to the Governments of Baroda and the Peshwa which had hitherto been fluctuating and assessed on many occasions, at the point of sword, fourteen years after, the British Government as Paramount Power established its Political Agency at Rájkot and peace and order were consolidated, ever since the first interposition of the British Government in the administration of this Province, it has made rapid strides in prosperity and advancement, civil wars, the bane of national calamities have become extinct. The scourge of the Mulk Giri army, the predetory habits of the powers which claimed supremacy over the Province, and the constant visitations of calamities resulting from a reign of terror and spoliation have all happily been disappeared and forgotten, and during the last fifty years of Her Most Gracious Majesty's reign, this Province has been completely freed from all such troubles, and has continuously received the blessings of a benevolent, wise, just and enlightened Government. The prosperity of the Province has unprecedentedly advanced. The wise and excellent advice, constantly given to the Chiefs of this Province by the Officers, who have successively represented Her Majesty's Government have chiefly been instrumental in establishing on a firm footing all the civilizations and advancements which the Province now boasts of, and I, with the rest of my brother Chiefs and Princes, sincerely and heartily thank Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress, for all these blessings.

I may be allowed to add here that Her Majesty's Government have placed my State under everlasting obligations. Under the wise advice and management of my present Kárbhári whose services have been so kindly lent to my State by the British Government my State has prospered to such an extent as it had never been before, and I am very thankful to the British Government for this also.

I may inform you that the auspicious and joyous occasion to celebrate which I have assembled this Darbár will be celebrated throughout my State with all the honors and joys befitting such an auspicious occasion like the present one. Throughout my State this day and to-morrow will be observed as religious holidays, and prayers with thanksgiving services will be offered in all the mosques of my co-religionists as also in the temples of the Hindus, and due ceremony of a greatest auspicious day will be observed by all the people in my State and native drums and tomtoms will be played this morning in all my villages. Prisoners numbering 5 who each are undergoing seven years rigorous imprisonment for the crime of dacoity and whose sentences are to expire on the 11th May 1888 that is about 15 months after are set at liberty on this most auspicious occasion. All the children of my State numbering about 4,000 will be feasted by distributing sugar and sweetmeats. Illuminations on a grand scale will be made and fireworks will be displayed. In short nothing will be left undone to leave an everlasting impression on the minds of my subjects of this most joyous and auspicious occasion.

And before I resume my seat allow me to ask you to be so good enough as to convey to Colonal Wodehouse, our popular Political Agent, for transmission, through Government, to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress, my sincere, warm, and heart-felt congratulations on the happy completion of the fiftieth year of Her Sovereignty over the British Empire, and to inform also that it has given me unbounded pleasure to join with my brother Chiefs in presenting the address, which will be presented this morning in Rájkot to the Political Agent, you will also be good enough as to convey to the Political Agent for transmission through the same channel my fervent hope that Her Majesty's reign may be prolonged, that I always pray God to grant all His choicest blessings with long life, prosperity and happiness to Her Most Gracious Majesty and Her Royal Family and that the loyal devotion of myself, my family and my people to the British Crown may be appreciated.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN-EMPRESS.

Your sincere Friend,

B. GHAZANFAR KHÁNJI,

Mándvadár, 16*th February* 1887.

Khan Shri Gazanfar Khanji,

Sir,—I congratulate you sincerely Khán Sáhib, Gazanfar Khánji, the Officers of the State and the gentlemen now present in this Darbár which you, Khán Sáhib, have convened to celebrate this most auspicious occasion of the Jubilee year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India.

2. It is certainly a matter of heartily rejoicing and we must regard ourselves luckiest, that it has befallen to our lot to celebrate the fiftieth year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, the year which is called the Jubilee year of Her reign, such occasions as the one we are met here to-day to celebrate and to leave a recollection on our minds are not frequent, but are rare, we are therefore more glad and are very thankful to God that he gave us the opportunity to celebrate it with so much joyfulness.

3. The arrangements which have been made by you for the rejoicing of all living in your Táluka, and enumerated in your address are befitting the occasion and they speak well of your generosity towards your subjects and your attachment to the British Crown.

4. Histories of the reigns that preceded the reign of the British Government demonstrate that there is no exaggeration in what you say in your address of the numerous blessings which we now enjoy under Her Righteous reign were never known before. We should therefore in return of what immense good Her reign has done us never be remiss in offering our prayer to Almighty God to give Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress and the members of Her Royal Family long life and eternal prosperity.

5. You truly say of the advantage which your State has derived from its management by an Officer appointed by the Political Agent and it is certainly a matter of rejoicing that you thus publicly appreciate his services. The Officer whom the Political Agent had appointed to manage your State still holds the responsible post of Kárbhár in your State. This is the first instance as far as I know of a manager having been subsequently selected as his Kárbhári by the Chief, on his assuming the charge of his State and your Kárbhári Ázam Prabháshankar has therefore to be proud of it and to regard it to be a reward of his judicious management.

6. It will give me the greatest pleasure to convey as requested your loyal expressions I have just heard to the Political Agent for transmission through Government to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India.

7. And in conclusion of this address I hope you will all heartily join me in giving 3 hearty cheers for our Queen-Empress and 3 for the members of Her Royal Family.

GIDAD.

PROGRAMME OF THE FESTIVITIES OF THE JUBILEE YEAR OF HER MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY THE QUEEN-EMPRESS.

In accordance with the Programme published hereof on the 12th instant the people of Gidad—Hindus as well as Musalmins—went to their respective temples in the morning of the 16th February 1887 and prayed that it may please the Almighty to preserve Her Majesty for many long years to come in unimpaired health of body and mind so that the benevolence of Her magnanimous reign may bless them.

After the prayer was over sweetmeats were distributed and then the people dispersed in the joyous sounds of native musicals.

Having remained more than expected in the temple, the Darbár was held a little later, i. e., at 10 A. M. All Darbári Officers and principal residents of Gidad attended the Darbár. But the Bháyáts Anvar Khánji and Imám Khánji who were written three days ago to attend the Darbár to take part in the rejoicings did not attend. When all were seated the Kárbhári Ázam Nathu Pitámber by the order of the Darbár descanted on the joyful occasion for which the Darbár had been assembled and dwelt at length on the advantages of the wise, just and enlightened administration of Her Most Gracious Majesty.

Sweetmeats, Attar and Gulab were then distributed.

At 4 P. M. the Darbár Sáhámat Khánji with his officials and principal residents of the town visited the Gujaráti school. The Kárbhári then explained the Darbár's resolution of paying the fees of the boys of the Gidad Táluka School as well as of all the private schools in the Gidad Táluka for one year to commemorate this happy Jubilee year. This resolution was met with sounds of rejoicings of the boys as well as of the gentlemen present. The boys afterwards recited the songs of Kavi Dalpatrám Dáyábhái suited to the occasion. Sweetmeats were then distributed to the boys.

At night streets and Mukarba were illuminated.

The cultivators also ceased their work on the 16th and took part in the rejoicings.

In all the villages of the Táluka the people followed the programme issued on the 12th instant and observed the 16th and 17th February as holidays.

In Bántwa illuminations were made and fireworks used at majmu expense of all the Bhágdárs. A separate report as to other ceremonies of the day will be reported by the Bántwa Nyáyádhish.

16th and 17th February were observed as public Holidays throughout the Táluka.

Jundgad, 19th February 1887.

JETPUR.

1. This is an important Táluka. The shareholders of Jetpur attended the Rájkot Darbár; nevertheless in their Swáng jurisdiction they observed the Jubilee in befitting manner. Ázam Laxman Mehrám, a 4th Class Chief of Jetpur, celebrated the occasion throughout his villages by extensive decorations, illuminations, and fireworks display and by the distribution of sweetmeats. Prayers were every where offered up in thanksgiving for the joyous occasion. In Motá-Devalia a Kacheri was held to which all were invited and at which a fitting speech was made. As a more lasting momento of this happy occasion Ázam Laxman Mehrám is going to build a school at Tháná-Devli to be called the Victoria Jubilee School, and I have heard that you, sir, have already laid the foundation-stone.

Ázam Surag Gánga (4th Class) ranks next to Laxman Vála. In his villages the Jubilee was also observed in most loyal fashion. 2 prisoners were released and there was general rejoicing throughout.

Ázam Kála Devdán (4th Class) observed the happy occasion in his villages by holding Kacheris and distributing sweetmeats to the children. Partial remissions in prisoners' sentences were made and rejoicing was general.

Ázams Godad and Vájsur Punja, the former 5th Class, celebrated the occasion by illuminations in their villages and by distributing sweetmeats.

In Ázam Ála Bhimá's (5th Class) villages the 16th and 17th were observed as holidays. Sweetmeats were distributed and rejoicing was universal.

Ázam Desa Bhima (5th Class) was excused attendance at Rájkot as he is very ill. In his chief village Barvála, however, a Shabha was held and prayers for Her Majesty's long life and happiness were offered up. Sweetmeats were distributed and the village was illuminated and a display of fireworks given. In his other villages too, there were illuminations and general rejoicings as in Barvála.

Rukhad Gorkha, 6th Class.—In Kunkáváv a Shabha was held by the Nyáyádhish and loyal addresses were made. Sweetmeats were distributed to the children and food to the poor for four days. Animals were fed at the Chief's expense. The village was illuminated and there were fireworks. Prayers for the safety of Her Majesty were also offered. In all other villages too, the same thing was done.

Rána Mámaiya, a 6th Class.—The Jubilee days were observed in the villages of this Chief as galadays, sweetmeats being distributed and illumination and fireworks being made.

Dána and Nág Hamir, 6th Class —In the villages of these Chiefs similar rejoicings to those observed in Rána Mámaiyá's villages marked the holiday nature of the happy occasion.

Nathu Chámpráj, 6th Class.—In this Chief's villages the Jubilee was observed by distribution of sweetmeats, by illuminations and by general rejoicings and similar proceedings marked the days in the villages belonging to Loma Moka.

Jetpur itself the head-quarters of the Táluka and the largest of the Majmu towns was not behind hand in evincing loyalty ; the town was richly decorated and at night brilliantly illuminated. A fête to the school children numbering upwards of 1,000 was given. A Kacheri was held on the 16th and loyal and affectionate sentiments were given expression to by all classes of the Jetpur public through their principal men. Praises on the occasion were sung by the school boys. 12 prisoners were released and the Kacheri was brought to a close by a salute of 101 guns. Later on prizes were distributed to school boys and girls. In the afternoon, the Muhammadans gave a singing entertainment for the amusement of all. The proceedings were under the Nyáyádhish and went off with much eclat, fireworks winding up the gala. In the other towns and villages under the Táluka court the 16th and 17th were observed as public holidays in a similar way.

2. Wasávad, 5th Class.—In this Táluka the 16th and 17th were observed as great holidays, sweetmeats were distributed and the town of Wasávad was illuminated.

3. Bántwa Majmu, 5th Class.—The Jubilee days were here observed as holidays and the town was illuminated and fireworks were displayed, sweetmeats were also largely distributed. A deputation of Bántva Memans went to Mánávadar to invite the Deputy Assistant Political Agent to pay a visit to Bántva, and that officer went there on the 17th for a short time.

4 Dedán, 5th Class.—A Darbár was held in the Dharmshála in a Mandap made for the occasion. The town was decorated with flags and triumphal arches. Loyal addresses were made. The town was illuminated and fireworks were displayed by all the shareholders. Sweetmeats were also distributed to all.

5. Vichhávad, 6th Class.—Here a Kacheri was held by the Nyáyádhish, the populace being invited, fitting addresses were made. The police paraded and fired a feu-de-joie and the town was illuminated.

6. Kuba, 6th Class.—Here a Shabha was held by the Nyáyádhish and loyal addresses were made, prayers were offered up for Her Majesty; sweetmeats were distributed to the children and the town was illuminated.

STATE UNDER AGENCY MANAGEMENT.

7 Wadia, 5th Class.—Wadia itself was brilliantly illuminated and fireworks were displayed and sweetmeats were distributed to all, and the days were observed universally in the Táluka as galadays.

Estate of Giga Wála of Bagasra, 6th Class.—Distribution of sweetmeats, illuminations and fireworks marked the happy occasion in this small Táluka and Kacheri was also held. The boys and girls attending the 4 schools were given presents.

Luni, 6th Class.—The Jubilee days were marked here by the distribution of sweetmeats and by illuminations and display of fireworks.

Kotila Jetmál of Dedán.—As in the case of Luni distribution of sweetmeats, illumination and fireworks marked the occasion.

THÁNA CIRCLE.

8 Bagasra.—The Jubilee was here observed by illuminations and fireworks. A free theatrical performance was given by the shareholders for the amusement of those who might wish to attend. Harsur Lakhman, one of the shareholders, observed the Jubilee in his Swáng village of Samadhiála by holding a Darbár to which many were invited and at the close of which sweetmeats were distributed. At night the village was illuminated and songs, wishing for the prosperity and long life of Her Majesty were sung. Sweetmeats were also distributed by this shareholder and by Jaga Lakhman to the school children.

Lákhápádar.—Sweetmeats were distributed by all the Tálukdárs to the children in their respective villages and all illuminated their Darbárs and Pátis The Tálukdár of Charkha also distributed presents to the school children in his village.

9. Mánikváda Civil Station.—The Jubilee rejoicing in this place were carried out under Mr. Karsanji Liládhar in the absence of myself and the Deputy Assistant Political Agent. In addition to the grant of Rs. 100 from Government a further sum of Rs. 101 was contributed by private gentlemen, residents of the Station. The Station was tastefully decorated with bunting and triumphal arches and at night there was a display of fireworks and illumination, sweetmeats were distributed to all the children of the Station and of the village of Mánikváda, and the school children were presented with coloured handkerchiefs also. One prisoner was liberated and sentences of 4 prisoners were partially remitted in accordance with orders received. There was also a theatrical performance given free of expense. Meetings were generally held in honour of the occasion and residents and officials visited the Mahádev Pagoda where prayers were offered up for the long life and prosperity of Her Most Gracious Majesty and the Royal family and for the prosperity of the British Ráj.

10. In conclusion I have only to remark that in this Pránt the 16th and 17th February 1887 were observed universally in a most loyal way and as a Royal Jubilee should be observed. Evidences of this are ample on all sides. All have vied with each other in honourable rivalry to mark the occasion and all have done to the utmost of their ability. The loyalty and liberality exhibited have been both unstinted and spontaneous on all hands.

W. P. KENNEDY,
Assistant Political Agent.

MR. FITZGERALD'S REPORT ON THE CELEBRATION OF THE JUBILEE IN THE STATES OF THE

HÁLÁR PRÁNT,

NAVÁNAGAR.

I have the honour to submit the following report on the celebration of Her Majesty's Jubilee at Jámnagar. I arrived at Jámnagar on the 15th instant.

2. On the morning of the 16th instant at 9 A. M. His Highness the Jám held a grand Darbár in the great Darbár Hall or Áam Khás of the Darbár, at which were present all the high officers of the State and all the principal residents, European and natives, Saiyad Hassamudin Moola of Surat and several Sethiás from Bombay. The usual deputation consisting of the Diván Mr. Maganlál and Sodha Bhávsingji was sent by His Highness the Jám to escort me to the Darbár where I was received by His Highness in person and conducted to a seat on his right hand. As His Highness and I entered the Darbár His Highness' Band played God Save the Queen and as soon as all in Darbár were seated, the Diván on behalf of His Highness read an address in English, a translation of which was next read by the Sar Nyáyádhish. In replying to His Highness I presented to him the Kharita from His Excellency the Governor received with your letter No. 560 of the 14th instant and a translation of my address was read to the Darbár by my Sarishtadár. Copies of His Highness' address and my reply are hereto attached. Attar and Pán was then distributed by His Highness himself to me and to his other European guests and by his officers to the rest of the Darbár, and as I rose to take my leave the Band played the National Anthem and a royal salute of 101 guns was fired from the Lákhota fort.

3. The festivities and ceremonies fore-sketched in His Highness the Jám's address to the Darbár then commenced and were well sustained. Twelve prisoners, nine men and three women, were released from the jail, sweetmeats were distributed to all the school children boys and girls in the town and a fair was assembled on the river bank just outside the town which was attended by between twenty-five and thirty thousand people, and was certainly one of the most successful things of the sort I have ever seen. His Highness who was most desirous to leave nothing undone to make the rejoicings a success visited this fair in state in the course of the afternoon, and at his special request I and all the other Europeans present in Jámnagar accompanied him. We left the Darbár about 4 o'clock in a large State car drawn by elephants and preceded by the State Savári the whole procession making up a spectacle such as one reads of in olden days but such as has probably not been seen for many years in Káthiáwár. The streets and fair were thronged with crowds of people from the surrounding country besides the people of the town, and there was no mistaking the genuine nature of the rejoicings one witnessed on all sides.

His Highness the Jám sent a telegram of congratulation to Her Majesty which was worded as follows:—

"I beg to offer to your most Gracious Majesty my most sincere heartfelt "congratulations on this the Jubilee of your reign. I pray your Majesty may "long be spared to rule over and bless us."

4. In the evening the whole town including the Lákhota and Kotha and the city walls was illuminated. There was a display of fireworks and His Highness the Jám entertained me and the other European residents and visitors at a State Banquet at which he proposed Her Majesty's health.

5. After the Banquet I accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. MacClelland and other visitors paid a visit to the residence of the Moola of Surat, the High Priest of all the Bohorás, and I have much pleasure in bringing to your notice and through you to the notice of Government the loyal manner in which this gentleman and the community of which he is the spiritual head combined to do honour to Her Most Gracious Majesty. The spacious hall of the place of prayer in which the Moola received us and all the approaches thereto were densely packed with an enthusiastic crowd of thousands of Bohorás who gave us a very warm reception. The Moola having conducted me to a seat on his right hand, four Arabian Bohorás came forward and sang in Arabic an ode specially prepared for the occasion in honour of Her Majesty, after which the Moola invited us upstairs to take tea with him and witness a display of fireworks. A Band in the meantime playing in the court-yard a variety of patriotic airs. The Moola in the course of his conversation with me spoke in terms of the deepest gratitude of the protection and support which the members of his community receive from the British Government in Arabia and at Zanzibár in the Straits settlements and China and all parts of the world which they visit in prosecution of their trade, and I left the assembly deeply impressed with the cordial nature of our entertainment which was purely spontaneous on the part of the Bohorás and with the evident sincerity and loyal good will of their High Priest.

6. The following morning I was present at the ceremony of laying the Corner-stone of the new bridge designed to span the Rangmati, Nágmati rivers which has been named the Victoria Bridge and which ceremony was performed by His Highness the Jám in the presence of a large assembly and in the evening at His Highness' request I opened the new building for a girl school which has been named the Victoria Jubilee School and distributed prizes to both the girl schools in the town. Copies of the speeches read on His Highness' behalf at these ceremonies and of my replies thereto are attached. At each school the girl sang songs in honour of Her Majesty and clothes and sweetmeats were distributed to all the girls.

7. In the middle of the day a feast was given to all the poor people of the town and surrounding country which I visited in company with His Highness the Jám and at which over twenty thousand people are said to have been entertained, and in the evening His Highness gave another State Banquet at which I was present, the whole town was again illuminated and there was another display of fireworks.

8. His Highness the Jám entered most cordially and loyally into all these ceremonies and rejoicings and I have never in the ten years that I have known him seen him take a greater interest in anything. He repeatedly expressed his loyalty and devotion to Her Majesty and his sincerity throughout was most unmistakeable. He would have prolonged the rejoicings for a week and as a matter of fact the holidays were continued down to Saturday night when they were brought to a close by His Highness honouring me with his company at dinner.

9. I have not yet received particulars of the manner in which the Jubilee has been celebrated in other parts of the Pránt; but as soon as I do I shall have the honour to submit a further report.

P. S. V. FITZGERALD,
Assistant Political Agent in charge Hálár Pránt.

A

ADDRESS DELIVERED ON BEHALF OF HIS HIGHNESS THE JAM IN A DARBAR HELD AT NAVANAGAR ON THE 16TH FEBRUARY.

Mr. FitzGerald, Ladies and Gentlemen,

We are assembled here to-day to honour and celebrate the Jubilee year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, Empress of India. It gives me the very greatest pleasure to preside in Darbár on such a joyful occasion and I consider myself fortunate in having the opportunity of expressing my feelings of loyalty to the British Crown and grateful devotion to Her Majesty.

Under Her Majesty's just and benevolent rule, India is advancing in prosperity day by day, free trade is flourishing and commercial intercourse is increasing and extending in every direction. Education is spreading and has been placed within the reach of all the classes of the community however poor, while all classes of Her Majesty's Indian subjects are enjoying the fruits of their labours in peace and tasting the sweets of ease, happiness and contentment.

The reign of Her Majesty, the Empress Victoria has been an eventful and a glorious one to all Her subjects throughout the world and the benefits that have accrued to the Chiefs, Tálukdárs and people of Káthiáwár in particular during Her brilliant reign are too many fold to be enumerated. The peaceful era of this province dates from Colonel Walker's settlement in A. D. 1807. Internal dissensions and warfare have ceased from that time and since that date, the Chiefs and Tálukdárs live at peace, rule their respective territories in security, and no Chief need any longer fear the slightest encroachment on his rights or territorial possessions from another, however powerful.

When Her Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress assumed the direct Government of Her Indian territories in 1858, She gave assurances to all the Chiefs and Princes of India, that all the treaties and engagements made with them by or under the authority of the Honourable East India Company were by Her accepted and would be scrupulously maintained. Her Gracious Majesty has not only literally fulfilled that promise but has also kindly conferred a very great and additional boon on them, in that, in order to perpetuate the line and dynasty of the several Princes and Chiefs of India and with a view to preserve the dignity of their Royal Houses Her Majesty in 1862 most graciously conveyed to them an assurance that on failure of natural heirs the adoption by them and future rulers of their States of a successor would be recognized and confirmed.

For this and for many other gracious favours shown to us, we, Princes and Chiefs of India, are placed under very great and deep obligation to our beloved Empress.

In order to commemorate the Jubilee year of Her Most Gracious Majesty's reign, I and my brother Chiefs of Káthiáwár have resolved to raise a fund for the purpose of erecting in Rájkot a Public Hall to contain a museum where all the products of this Province will be collected and preserved. This plan has been approved by our Political Agent, Colonel Wodehouse, Her Most Gracious Majesty's representative in this Province. Here in Jámnagar I have also determined to connect the name of Her Majesty with the bridge I am building across the Rangmati, Nágmati rivers at Jámnagar, the corner-stone of which I will lay to-morrow morning and which will be named the " Victoria Bridge." Further during the course of to-morrow I will ask you, Mr. FitzGerald, to declare open the new building for the girls' school which I am going to style the "Victoria Jubilee School" wherein you will also take the trouble to distribute prizes to the girls of the two female schools in this city.

With a view to make the Jubilee year of Her Majesty an everlasting remembrance in my territory, I have determined to reduce and abolish the undermentioned fees and taxes from this day.

(1) To reduce the fees charged for opening a new window and a doorway in a building to one half of their present rate.

(2) To do away with the monopoly on the sale of Chalams in the town and port of Saláya.

(3) To abolish the tax on Kola and on Garmar in Khambhália.

I have issued orders to release 8 per cent. of the prisoners in the Navánagar Jail, selecting such convicts as have behaved well since their admission and such particular cases as seemed to me deserving of commiseration.

All the children of the different schools in the town will be given a treat of sweetmeats and a feast will be given to the entire poor population of Jámnagar. To-day and to-morrow will be observed as public holidays and will be enjoyed as Diváli days, with feasts and illuminations. A fair will also be held in the afternoon on the banks of the river.

Each of my district and sub-divisional officers will hold a Kacheri to-day at the seat of his Head-Quarters inviting the leading members of each community to take part with him in the celebration of Her Majesty's Jubilee wherein after mentioning to the assembled public, the object of their meeting they will all unite in praying the Almighty to prolong the benevolent reign of Her Majesty and to grant Her long life and prosperity. Towards evening their will also be illuminations. With a desire that no subject of mine should remain without taking part in the celebration of this joyful occasion I have issued instructions that the Patel of each and every village should assemble to-day all the inhabitants of the village at the Chora, and they should all offer prayers for a long life of unimpaired health to Her Most Gracious Majesty and amuse themselves by beat of Dhols and blowing Sarnáis and singing songs.

I have thus given the utmost publicity to this auspicious occasion and have made the abovementioned arrangements for celebrating and commemorating the Jubilee year of Her Majesty's reign throughout my territory, and we may all now assembled here pray that it may please the Almighty to preserve Her Majesty for many long years to come in unimpaired health of body and mind, and that Her glorious reign may be prolonged to bless the subjects of Her great Empire and to strengthen and perpetuate the friendly relations which subsist between Her and the Princes and Chiefs of India.

I, in common with my brother Chiefs of Káthiáwár, have prepared a congratulatory address which will be presented by our representatives to the Political Agent this day in a Darbár to be held at Rájkot with a request that it may be transmitted to Government for submission to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress and let me ask you, Mr. FitzGerald, to be kind enough to convey to the Political Agent for transmission through Government to the Queen-Empress my fervent hope that Her reign may be prolonged and an expression of the unswerving loyalty of myself, my family and people to the British Crown.

In conclusion I have sincerely to thank you, Mr. FitzGerald, for your kindly accepting my invitation to be present to-day and my best thanks are also due to the ladies and gentlemen here assembled for taking part in these proceedings.

ADDRESS IN REPLY DELIVERED BY MR. FITZGERALD, ASSISTANT POLITICAL AGENT.

Your Highness, Ladies and Gentlemen,

I consider myself fortunate in having been deputed by the Political Agent to represent him here to-day and to join with your Highness and with your people in celebrating this auspicious occasion and I have listened with much pleasure to the address which has just been read to this Darbár on behalf of your Highness by your Diván, because I know how real and sincere are the sentiments of loyalty and attachment to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress to which you have therein given expression. Your Highness' long reign has been one continuous record of unswerving loyalty to the British Crown, and knowing as I do the feelings of personal devotion to Her Majesty which have always animated your Highness. I can understand the real pleasure which you feel in celebrating the fiftieth year of Her reign, a reign which has been fraught with such vast consequences and lasting benefits to yourself and to your people.

Fifty years ago your Highness' dominions were an almost unknown part of the world. To-day you are within two days' reach of Bombay, while the telegraph line, which your Highness has recently guaranteed, places you in direct and rapid communication with the great centres of civilization. During these fifty years the territory over which you rule has under the fostering care of Her Majesty's Government made the most marvellous strides in wealth and prosperity and I trust that the day is not far distant when a railway traversing the Northern and Western districts of Káthiáwár, shall connect the furthest limits of your Highness' territories with the main arteries of Indian trade and commerce and confer on your Highness' subjects the benefits which are already enjoyed by the people of Eastern Káthiáwár. It will give me great pleasure to convey, as your Highness has requested, the loyal expressions that we have just heard to the Political Agent for transmission through Government to Her Most Gracious Majesty, that your Highness appreciates in so loyal and grateful a spirit the immunity from external aggression and the many other blessings which you and your people have derived from Her long and peaceful rule, and to which you have referred in your address must be a source of sincere gratification to Her Majesty, and I am sure that she will hear with much pleasure of the spontaneous and loyal manner in which your Highness and all classes of your subjects have combined to commemorate the Jubilee year of Her reign. I am deputed by the Political Agent to hand to your Highness this Kharita from His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor of Bombay, and I trust that before I sit down I may be permitted to express the hope that your Highness has still before you many years of a useful life. Your Highness' deservedly high reputation for justness and your charitable and kindly disposition have won for you the love of your people and the respect of all classes in Káthiáwár, and I hope that by the mercy of the Almighty you may be spared till that time when fifteen years hence your people may celebrate your Jubilee and that it may be my good fortune to be one of your many old friends who shall gather round you in this Hall to congratulate you on that occasion.

Assistant Political Agent,

B.

SPEECH DELIVERED ON BEHALF OF HIS HIGHNESS THE JAM AT THF LAYING OF THE CORNER-STONE OF THE RANGMATI-NAGMATI BRIDGE, JAMNAGAR ON THE MORNING OF THE 17TH FEBRUARY.

Mr. FitzGerald, Ladies and Gentlemen,

The Increasing prosperity of Káthiáwár and the large export and import trade that is now being carried on render it necessary that every facility should be afforded to such traffic. The past difficulties of a journey in Káthiáwár arising from the badness of the roads have been to a great extent removed by the construction of main and trunk roads which are also permanently kept in repair. It is characteristic of most rivers in this Province to become suddenly inundated causing occasionally great loss of property and jeopardising life even in some instances The journey across the beds of river becomes very difficult, communications are interrupted and traffic is almost at a stand still. A bridge across the river just at the gates of my capital has been a desideratum long felt, and I resolved to supply it. I commenced this bridge in the Jubilee year of the reign of Her Imperial Majesty Queen Victoria, Empress of India, and I lay the corner-stone of the bridge to-day in commemoration of the Jubilee year, attaching to it the name of Her Imperial Majesty, and naming it "the Victoria Bridge." It is a great delight to me, Mr. FitzGerald, to perform this ceremony in the presence of such an old and esteemed friend of mine as yourself. It is after a lapse of more than six years that you have revisited my capital, and you will find, I am sure, that some noticeable changes have taken place during your absence. During those six years many public buildings have risen in Jámnagar where formerly there were waste sites or low houses. I have built 2 clock Towers, a Guest-house, a Travellers' Bungalow, the High School, the Sanskrit Páth Shála, Post and Telegraph Office, a Female School, a Boy School, a Custom-house, and last though not least a Library, and many minor buildings besides. An enumeration of these buildings brings me to the pleasing duty of bearing public testimony to, and acknowledging with gratification, the ability, skill and energy of my State Engineer Mr. MacClelland who has been most indefatigable in the prosecution of good and useful works ever since I had the good luck to secure his services and make his friendship. I have perfect confidence that the bridge, to lay the corner-stone of which we have here met to-day, will be both solid and enduring when completed under his able and intelligent supervision. The site we have chosen is a little below the point of confluence of the two rivers bearing legendary names of Rangmati and Nágmati. The plan of the bridge is before you, and it will give you a knowledge of all the details. It is estimated to cost about Rs. 2,00,000 with the approaches.

Ladies and gentlemen, I thank you most heartily for being present at the auspicious ceremony of laying the corner-stone of this bridge, which I hope will be a blessing to all concerned.

SPEECH MADE BY MR. FITZGERALD IN REPLY.

Your Highness, Ladies and Gentlemen,

It is a very great pleasure to me to be present at this ceremony to-day not merely because it is always a pleasure to assist your Highness in such functions, but because I regard this bridge as quite one of the most important works that has been taken in hand by your Highness' Administration during the last few years.

The system of trunk Roads inaugurated by the Honourable Mr. Peile, and all but completed within the period of his Office as Political Agent, while it connected your Highness' port of Jodiya with the Agency head-quarters at Rájkot left a terribly rough track of 24 miles between this your Highness' capital and the junction with the trunk road at Dhrol, the prospect of facing which in days gone by I am afraid deterred not a few from visiting Jámnagar. There was a made road nominally but it was worse than the country tracks, and it was quite unbridged. I had a very vivid recollection of the difficulties of this journey when I last performed it in August 1880, and it was therefore with much pleasure that I found on entering your Highness' territory the morning before last that a good road had been constructed right up to the gates of your capital and bridged and culverted throughout with the exception of the rivers which this bridge is designed to span and the Nulláh at Dhuvár. The Dhrol section of the road still remains to be completed and I trust may be undertaken before long; but meanwhile I may congratulate your Highness on the great improvement that has already been effected and on the commencement of this bridge, which, under the skilled supervision of your Highness' Engineer, Mr. MacClelland, will, I have no doubt, now rapidly advance to completion. Your Highness has referred in kindly terms to my former connection with this State and with justifiable pride to the many public buildings that have been erected in and around Jámnagar during the six years or more that I have been absent. Your Highness has kept me so fully employed since my arrival here that I have not had an opportunity yet of inspecting all these buildings but what I have seen since my arrival and more especially yesterday evening when I had the pleasure to accompany you round the town, has shown me what a great change, for the better, has taken place and how many important public improvements have been effected during the past six years. I have heard with much pleasure the testimony which you bear to the energy and engineering skill and ability of Mr. MacClelland to whom so much of this is due, and I join with your Highness in thinking that it was a happy day for the Jámnagar State when you secured his services and the assistance of his friendly advice. In a native State of this size a good Engineer is a real economy, because his supervision ensures the money spent being laid out to the best advantage and prevents waste, and it must be a great satisfaction to your Highness to know that for economy of construction and for the thorough durable nature of its buildings your public works department is second to none in the Province. Your Highness is also to be congratulated in having for your Diván Mr. Maganlál Bápubhái. The material improvement of a State of course depends on the will of the Chief to whom every thing owes its inception, but much also depends on his Diván and credit is due to Mr. Maganlál for his administration of your Highness' finances which has made the funds required for these numerous works available; with two such officers as Mr. MacClelland and Mr. Maganlál to assist you the further rapid advancement of the Jámnagar State should be assured, and I hope that it may long be your Highness' good fortune to retain their services.

SPEECH DELIVERED ON BEHALF OF HIS HIGHNESS THE JAM AT THE OPENING CEREMONY OF THE VICTORIA JUBILEE SCHOOL AT JAMNAGAR ON THE EVENING OF THE 17TH FEBRUARY.

Mr. FitzGerald, Ladies and Gentlemen,

The principal Girl School in my capital being inconveniently housed, I was very anxious to supply a building that should be sufficiently neat and commodious; and one that might conduce to the comfort and development of the young and growing girls studying in it. With this object I asked Sir James Fergusson, the late popular Governor of Bombay, to lay the foundation-stone of this building on the 17th November 1884. The building is now completed, and as the foundation of the building was laid by a representative of the British Government, I am very anxious that it should be declared open by you, Mr.

FitzGerald, the Assistant Political Agent in charge of our Prânt. I am glad that I have again to express my warm acknowledgments of the services of Mr. MacClelland in connection with this building. As Mr. MacClelland has taken great trouble in providing for the comfort of the little girls studying in this school by building this house with special care, so Mrs. MacClelland with the most benevolent of disposition has devoted and still devotes much of her valuable time and attention to their mental improvement; and it is owing to her kind efforts particularly that we now have in Jámnagar some of the best Girls' Schools in the Northern Divisions in numbers and efficiency. The brightness and intelligence that we observe in the faces of the girls is a sufficient proof of what I say. I hope it will not be out of place if I indicate in short what I have up to this time done in the direction of spreading female education in my State. There are two Girl Schools in my capital aggregating about 505 students. We have also a female Normal Class here which has been of very great use to us. Some of the pupils of that class having passed the highest vernacular standard have been employed as Assistants and some have been able to join the Female Training Colleges, the Barton College at Rájkot and the Ahmadábád College. Outside Jámnagar there are 7 girl schools in my principal Mahâls, viz., Khambhália, Kálávad, Hadiána, Saláya, Jodiya, Kandorna and Jodhpur, teaching altogether 402 students. Thus at present there is a total of 907 girls receiving education in my State, a number which I hope might fairly compare with any district in the regulation Provinces.

I am glad Mr. FitzGerald, that I have been able to ask, and you have been kind enough to accept my request to declare the school open. In order to perpetuate the Jubilee year in the memory of my subjects, I have chosen to call this school " The Victoria Jubilee School, " and before I ask you, Mr. FitzGerald, to distribute prizes to the girls let us pray God that he may prolong the peaceful reign of Her Most Imperial Majesty the Queen-Empress and bless Her with long life and prosperity.

17*th Evening.*

SPEECH IN REPLY MADE BY MR. FITZGERALD, ASSISTANT POLITICAL AGENT.

Your Highness, Ladies and Gentlemen,

This is the second time to-day that we have met to inaugurate a new work of public utility, and while I hope that the bridge the corner-stone of which your Highness laid this morning will play an important part in the development of the trade of this city, I am confident that the building which we have now assembled to open is destined to have a most important influence on the future social life and well-being of its inhabitants.

The advancement that there has been in female education in this State during the last few years has been both marked and creditable to your Highness' administration, and I am glad to think that it is in no small measure due to the kindly interest and benevolent attention which Mrs. MacClelland has bestowed on the subject. I know how much she has at heart the future welfare of the Girls whose bright faces we see around us and it is to me a very great pleasure to be able to congratulate her here on the success which has attended her disinterested and kindly efforts, and to express a hope that that success may continue and that female education in this State may under her auspices continue to progress and expand.

Your Highness has actuated by that spirit of loyalty and devotion to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Empress for which you have always been so distinguished, resolved to call this school "The Victoria Jubilee School" and I am sure that you could have selected no way of perpetuating Her august memory and commemorating the Jubilee year of Her reign which could be more gratifying to Her Majesty, for the interest she takes in all measures affecting the well-being and advancement of women throughout Her vast empire is well known to all Her subjects and has been most particularly evidenced lately by the active interest Her Majesty has taken in the movement for providing medical aid for women throughout Her Indian Empire. Your Highness will do well to bear in mind how much Her Majesty has this last named movement at heart, and I trust that the time is not far distant when your Highness shall evince the interest that you take in it by placing the skilled services of one of their own sex within the reach of the women of your State. I have now to declare the Victoria Jubilee School at Jámnagar open, and in doing so I join with your Highness and all assembled here in praying that the Almighty may prolong the peaceful reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty our Empress, and that under the strong protection of Her Imperial Rule your Highness may long be spared to devote your whole attention and resources to the development of your State and the welfare and advancement of your subjects.

AN ACCOUNT OF THE CELEBRATION OF HER IMPERIAL MAJESTY'S JUBILEE IN MORVI STATE.

MORVI.

1. The Jubilee of Her Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress was celebrated in Morvi State with due ceremonies. In response to the invitations issued, precisely at 9 A. M. large concourse of the Officers, and the Sethiás of the town began to muster in the Darbár Hall.

Among the former Mr. W. H. White, C. E., Executive Engineer of the Morvi State Railway, was present besides numerous native officers representing the different departments of the State. On behalf of His Highness the Thákor Sáhib, the Sar Nyáyádhish then read an address in English (copy annexed). The address was then translated into Gujaráti for the benefit of those who did not understand English. Native musicians then entertained the audience with choice music which amply added to the glee of the occasion. As mentioned in the address read, this State has spontaneously undertaken three public works of great utility to commemorate this auspicious event. They will all bear the name of Her Majesty's Jubilee which will thus be made of lasting and permanent memory among the future generations of the subjects of this State. Altogether the Darbár lasted for more than a hour and a half, when at its close Pán Sopári, Attar and Guláb were being distributed and an Imperial salute of 101 guns was commenced to be fired.

In the spacious compound in front of the Darbár Hall, the troops, police, and other Sibandi of the State attended in their uniform and the band played " God Save the Queen " on both the occasions. Here hundreds of people had assembled to witness the ceremonies and show their joys and delight.

A little before 11 A. M. the Darbár broke up amidst the cheers and applause of the people who evinced a high sense of attachment to the Empress and Her throne.

Sweetmeats were then distributed to all the boys and girls in the different schools which were granted a couple of days holiday in honour of this memorable event.

11 prisoners were then liberated from the Jail where they were undergoing different periods of imprisonment.

At 5 P. M. His Highness proceeded to the midst of the town accompanied with his principal officers to lay the foundation stone of the Jubilee Fountain. This was done with all the eclat and ceremonies becoming the occasion. Then the party proceeded to lay the foundation stone of the Jubilee Grain Market near the Nagar gate, which having been done His Highness returned to the palace through the newly built Bazár viewing the illuminations all the way long.

The scene in the Darbár was interesting. It was lighted with electricity. The people assembled to see this sight as it is altogether a novel thing in this part.

Fireworks were arranged on the other bank of the Machhu river. As they were displayed the party seeing it from this bank had a pleasant sight.

The menial servants and the needy and the poor were fêted in the Darbárgadh.

The 17th was also observed as a holiday and the illuminations, &c., were repeated.

The reports of the celebration of the Jubilee from the different Maháls show that even there the people's joy was equal to the glad occasion. At Adhoi, the Máhalkári held a Darbár, review of the Sibandi and distributed sweetmeats to the school children.

The Bazárs were adorned with flags and illuminated at night. Women sang joyous songs and different dances were held as also a fair. A prayer was offered in the temple to grant the Queen-Empress a long life. The State officers at Tankára and Vawánia held Darbárs in their Kacheris which were attended by the Mahájans and others. The object of their meeting was explained to the audience. Children were given sweetmeats, and prayers were offered in temples. Women sang joyous songs. Dancing call " Dándiárás " and " Hinch " were held, and there was great deal of merry making generally.

Similar programmes were gone through at Jetpor, Ghaulila, Bagathala, Páneli, Biral, Chakampor, &c., including the Bháyáti villages. The reports of the several Vahivatdárs have been received fully detailing the deeds of joy, but thinking it would be too long a simple allusion is made to them, before concluding this report.

ADDRESS READ BY THE SAR NYAYADHISH.

You all know very well the joyous occasion that has brought us together this day. It is to mark and celebrate by a public demonstration this, the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen-Empress Victoria. This is the 50th anniversary of her brilliant and happy reign.

All India has during her benign sway enjoyed great blessings, the result of unprecedented peace and prosperity. During the years of Her reign the march of civilization and progress, has been very great. Her assumption of direct Sovereign Supremacy over the huge Empire of India has been a source of untold benefits to Her Indian subjects of every race and creed. The wisdom and impartiality of Her beneficent reign has bestowed upon us all undreamt of happiness and unparallelled tranquillity.

We take advantage of this auspicious occasion to express our profound gratitude for the security and prosperity that have created our unswerving attachment and firm devotion to Her throne.

The public rejoicings we can plan and carry out but meagrely testify to the joy of our overflowing hearts. Let all of us whether young or old, rich or poor, equally share in the rejoicings created by this rare event before unknown in the annals of history.

We shall mark the day in a lasting manner by the buildings of which the foundation-stones are to be laid this afternoon. The Grain Market will be close to your gates. The Drinking Fountain which forms, I trust, the first step of the water supply of the town which I am most anxious to get carried out, will be in the centre of the town and the Dhutári-Bridge will give connection with that part of the country, north of us.

I propose that the above buildings shall be called in memory of the day, the Jubilee Market and Fountain and trust they will be of benefit to the town and its inhabitants and a memory to them of this auspicious day in the reign of our beloved Empress. Her personal virtues and Her unceasing solicitude for the welfare of Her subjects has endeared Her to us so much that in wishing Her Majesty a long, and yet more splendid career we pray Almighty God to grant us many future years of Her reign that we may again and again have opportunities to congratulate our most respected, beloved and Gracious Sovereign Lady the Queen-Empress Victoria.

DHROL.

2. The Thákor Sáhib attended the Darbár at Rájkot. A Darbár was held in Dhrol on the morning of the 16th, Kunvar Dowlatsingji, the Thákor Sáhib's eldest son, presiding at which a loyal address was read by the Sar Nyáyá-dhish and three prisoners were released from the jail. There was a school treat and a feast to poor people—both days were observed as public holidays throughout the State. The town was illuminated and rejoicings in shape of sports and musical entertainments were held in every village.

RÁJKOT.

3. The Thákor Sáhib attended the Darbár at Rájkot on the morning of the 16th. A treat was given to the school children throughout the State, presents of pocket money being made to the girls and sweetmeats distributed to the boys. On the evening of the 17th the Thákor Sáhib convened a Darbár in the presence of which the Political Agent laid the foundation-stone of the new Táluka school outside the Kothária gate, and afterwards entertained the principal residents of the station at a Banquet at which he proposed Her Majesty's health. The city was illuminated both nights and there was a display of fireworks on the night of the 17th. Both days were observed as public holidays and days of general rejoicing throughout the State.

GONDAL.

4. I have received no regular report but the Chief Kárbhári attended the Darbár at Rájkot on the 16th instant on behalf of the Chief who is absent in England, and on his return to Gondal a public Darbár was held in the Navlakha Hall of the palace, at which the Thákor Sáhib's little son presided on behalf of his father and the Chief Kárbhári delivered a loyal address. An Imperial salute of 101 guns was fired. A fair was held on the banks of the river near Panchnáth, a feast was given to the inmates of the Bái Sáhib Bá Asylum and orphanage, and there was a school treat in the Municipal gardens. In the evening the whole town was illuminated and there was a display of fireworks. On the 17th there were athletic sports on the parade ground for the Police and Sibandi and both days were observed as holidays and days of public rejoicing throughout the State, and I am informed that the rejoicings everywhere were most thorough and the spirit of loyalty evinced most marked while the news of the honour conferred on the Thákor Sáhib by Her Most Gracious Majesty was everywhere received with the most joyful satisfaction. Six prisoners were released from the Gondal jail and 1 from the Dhoráji jail and reductions were made in the sentences of 27 good conduct prisoners.

VIRPUR.

5. The Chief attended the Darbár at Rájkot on the 16th, and a Darbár was held at Virpur by the Kárbhári at which a loyal address was delivered and an ode was sung by the school children in praise of Her Majesty. Presents of clothes, books and sweetmeats were given to the school children, a dinner was given to poor people and a prisoner released from the jail. The town was illuminated and throughout the Táluka both days, the 16th and 17th, were observed as public holidays.

KOTDÁ-SÁNGÁNI.

6. The Kárbhári in charge attended the Darbár at Rájkot. After which accompanied by the young Thákor, who is studying in the Rájkumár College, he drove out to Ardoi where a public meeting was held in the school building, presents were given to the school children and to the poor people of the village. From there he went to Kotda itself where another meeting was held in the school building, the Kárbhári delivered a loyal address, an ode in honour of Her Majesty was sung by the school children. There was a school treat and a public fair which were visited by the young Thákor in procession. The town was decorated with flags and triumphal arches and illuminated in the evening, the day's proceedings closing with a display of fireworks. On the 17th the young Thákor accompanied by the Kárbhári visited Rámod where ceremonies similar to those at Ardoi were observed. In the evening there was another gathering at Kotda and a new road to be called the Jubilee Road was opened by the Reverend Mr. Scott, Missionary. Presents of clothes and grain were given to all poor people and all helpless cripples and five good conduct prisoners were released from the Jail. Both days were observed as days of public rejoicing throughout the Táluka.

MÁLIA.

7. A public Darbár was held by the Thákor on the morning of the 16th at which the Miána Magistrate, the Bháyáts of the State and Mukhis of the Miána tribe were present and a loyal address was read by the State Kárbhári. There was a treat to school children and a dinner to poor people in the evening there were illuminations and fireworks and both days were observed as days of public rejoicing throughout the Táluka.

8. In the Thána Circles and petty Tálukás of the Pránt the 16th and 17th were observed as public holidays and there were general rejoicings. In all the towns and larger villages there were illuminations and treats to the school children and in many places the poor were fed and clothing distributed either at the expense of the Chief or of the leading people and Mahájans. In Lodhika it is proposed to establish a Library in commemoration of the event and at Mulila it is proposed to erect a Dharmshála. Nearly all the petty Tálukdárs attended the Darbár at Rájkot only one or two being unavoidably absent.

9. Of the Pránt in general it may be said that the rejoicings were universal and that the most enthusiastic loyalty was manifested by all classes.

CAPTAIN FERRIS' REPORT ON THE CELEBRATION OF THE JUBILEE IN THE STATES OF THE

GOHILVÁD PRÁNT.

BHÁVNAGAR.

At 9 A. M. on the 16th a deputation consisting of the Diván and Assistant Diván waited on me and conducted me to the city palace where His Highness Rával Shri Sir Takhtsingji, G. C. S. I., awaited me and conducted me to the Darbár Hall where he seated me on a seat to the right of him on a raised dais. I was received by a guard of honour which presented arms the band playing God Save the Queen.

Several hundred persons including nearly all the European residents attended the Darbár which was a full dress one.

The Diván opened the proceedings by reading an address on behalf of His Highness in which (Appendix A.) after expressing his loyalty and devotion to Her Majesty he announced the means by which he proposed to commemorate the auspicious occasion.

These were—

(i) Release of 15 prisoners of both sexes.

(ii) Funding of Rs. 30,000 for the purpose of providing permanent pension to 25 widows of all castes and creeds to be called Victoria Jubilee Pensioners.

(iii) Reduction of the import duty on Timber.

(iv) Subscription of Rupees 25,000 towards the Victoria Jubilee Museum at Rájkot.

(v) The establishment of a free supply of water to the town to be called the Victoria Jubilee Water-works.

The address closed by the expression of a hope that His Highness' sincere congratulations, and the assurance of his profound esteem and unswerving attachment to Her august Throne might be conveyed to Her Majesty through the proper channels.

The address was received with much applause and cheers. I then rose and replied (Appendix B.) to His Highness and after congratulating him, on the practical form his loyalty had taken, promised to convey his sentiments of devotion to the Queen-Empress, to you for submission through Government.

At the conclusion of my speech there was a Nautch; flowers, Attar and sugar-candy were distributed by His Highness to myself and by the Diván and other State Officers to the visitors and Darbáris. After which His Highness conducted me to my carriage and I drove away accompanied by the deputation, the Guard of honour presenting arms and the band playing God Save the Queen.

Simultaneously an Imperial salute of 101 guns was fired and the Royal Standard was hoisted on the mound over the saluting battery.

In the afternoon a children's fête was given in the public garden where over 8,000 children of all classes and castes were amused with every description of game and finally fed with sweetmeats.

Later in the afternoon a garden-party was given by His Highness at his palace of Moti Bágh, to which all the European ladies and gentlemen besides the native gentry were invited.

At the conclusion of the party a procession was formed for the purpose of driving through the town to witness the illuminations.

All the public buildings and a very large number of private houses and shops were brilliantly lighted up.

At 7 P. M. a very excellent display of fireworks took place at the Gangá-Jalia tank which was witnessed by many thousand persons.

Following this display was a Nautch party in the Railway Institute given by the native employes of the Bhávnagar-Gondal Railway; all the European residents were invited, and His Highness and I attended it together.

On the 17th the town continued decorated with flags and bunting and in the evening a ball in honour of the occasion was given at Ghadechi by the Officers of the Bhávnagar-Gondal Railway.

The whole of the festivities went off without a hitch, happiness seemed secured epidemic and every person, native and European, appeared to understand and appreciate the occasion.

I regret to have to report that the Kharita from His Excellency the Governor which was despatched by you on the 14th in time for me to deliver it to His Highness in Darbár, by some as yet unexplained act of commission or omission on the part of the Post Office, was not delivered to me until the 19th instant, on which date I, being at Láthi, despatched it to His Highness by special messenger.

IN THE DISTRICTS.

In 9 Mahál towns Darbárs were held and the occasion for rejoicing was explained, treats were given to school children, buildings, public and private, were illuminated and fireworks displayed. This has also the history of the night of the 16th in many of the larger towns not Mahals.

Mahuva.	Kundla.
Sihor.	Umrála.
Botád.	Gadhda.
Talája.	Lilia.
Rájula.

As a Jubilee memorial every school child throughout the State was presented with a prize book the cost of which amounted to 3,000 Rs.

PÁLITÁNA.

A Darbár was held by the Thákor Sáhib to which my Deputy Assistant Mr. Dayáshankar was invited as representative of the Queen. Mr. Dayáshankar's report (Appendix C.) of the ceremonial will be found attached.

He was escorted by a deputation of State Officials to the Darbár where he was received by the Thákor Sáhib. The procedure was the same as that observed at Bhávnagar with the exception that no salute was fired owing to the absence of gunners.

The Thákor Sáhib in his address expressed his loyalty and devotion to the Sovereign which he begged might be communicated, and announced his intention of perpetuating the memory of the Jubilee year by opening a Public Park to be called the Victoria Jubilee Park, by erecting a boys and a girls school and by the release of prisoners.

In the evening the town and the Shetrunjaya hill were illuminated, there was a display of fireworks and the school children were feasted.

IN THE DISTRICTS.

At the several Maháls Darbárs were held, school children feasted, beggars fed and clothed, and the towns illuminated.

JASDAN.

The Chief having gone to Rájkot to attend the Political Agent's Darbár the festivities were carried out by the Chief Kárbhári who held a Darbár to which all officials, Amirs, Umráos, Merchants and principal Patels were invited. The occasion was explained to them in an address.

Sweetmeats were distributed to school children throughout the Táluka. Two prisoners were released from Jail and all the principal villages illuminated.

The Chief of Jasdan commemorates the year by building at a cost of between nine and ten thousand Rupees a school at his Mahál of Vinchia to be called the Victoria Jubilee School.

VALA.

A Darbár was held on the 16th at 9 A. M. to which all Bháyáts, Mulgrásiás, Jiváidárs, Patels, Officials &c., were invited. The occasion was explained to the Darbáris by the State Kárbhári after which they were addressed by the Thákor whose speech (Appendix D) is annexed.

After the Darbár a salute of 101 guns was fired.

School children were feasted. Athletic sports took place for which prizes were given by the Darbár and by private individuals, the town was illuminated and there was a display of fireworks. The municipality co-operated cordially with the State in making the day a joyous one, and every thing was done to make the people feel the propitiousness of the occasion.

To commemorate the year the Thákor has established a Victoria Jubilee Valabhi Museum and endowed it with an income of Rs. 100 per annum for the purpose of awarding proper prizes to persons who bring any relic of old Valabhipura or from any place within the boundary of the Vala State.

Three prisoners were released in open Darbár having the reason for their good fortune explained to them.

The whole town was decorated with flags.

The Thákor begs that you will kindly convey his humble and heartfelt congratulations to Her Most gracious Majesty on the completion of the Jubilee year of her glorious reign and his devoted loyalty and attachment to the British Crown.

LÁTHI.

The Thákor being a minor and prosecuting his studies at the Rájkumár College, attended the Political Agent's Darbár at Rájkot. His Kámdár was likewise summoned there. A meeting was arranged at Láthi by Mr. Dádábhái, the State overseer, to which members of all communities were asked and the occasion explained. School boys and girls were feasted and in the evening the town was illuminated.

In this the people took a prominent part. All temples, Pirs, Mosques, &c., being lighted up as well as private houses.

That the rejoicing was spontaneous is evinced by the fact that the people of their own accord formed procession and had feasts and singing outside the town, (called locally Ujáni) men, women and children assisting in the festivities.

Three prisoners were released.

THÁNAS.

Small local Darbárs were held by all the Thánahdárs to which the Táluk-dárs, &c., were invited, school children were feasted, and fireworks and illuminations were displayed, the inhabitants of the villages cordially co-operating.

At Songad all the public buildings, the Assistant's and Deputy Assistant's houses, the Bund across the river, the road to the Station, and the Utárás of all the States, were illuminated. A fireworks treat was given to the children and the whole Civil Station was dressed in bunting.

One prisoner was released, and three had their sentences partially remitted.

In conclusion I have the honour to state that throughout the Pránt sincere and honest rejoicing was displayed and every one, European and Native, did their utmost to give effect to the happiness of the day.

Both 16th and 17th were observed everywhere as holidays, and all jail prisoners were feasted and relieved from labour.

W. B. FERRIS, Captain,
Assistant Political Agent
In Charge Gohilvád Pránt.

APPENDIX A.

Captain Ferris, Ladies and Gentlemen,

It gives me intense delight to meet you all this morning, for the purpose of expressing joy at the attainment by Her Most Gracious and Imperial Majesty the Queen of England and Empress of India, of this the Fiftieth year of Her benign Reign.

At this present moment the predominant feeling of my heart is one of pride at belonging to an alliance which recognizes for its head the GREAT AND GOOD QUEEN VICTORIA,—a pride that is increased by the fact that I am descended from a house that can claim to have entered on that alliance fifty years anterior to any of the other States in this ancient Province of Saurashtra. My joy cannot find expression in the way my heart dictates and the felicity of the occasion merits; but all that it has been in my power and in the power of my subjects to do, has been, and will be done. We claim though to be second to none in swelling the hearty shout of triumph that resounds throughout the length and breadth of India this day, and in the reverence and affection in which we hold our beloved Empress—the best Sovereign that has ever wielded sceptre in this world. Long may she reign.

The programme of our festivities is already in your hand, but to further mark the day I have determined to grant to fifteen prisoners of both sexes, whose release will not endanger the public safety, a remission of the remainder of their sentences of imprisonment, in the hope that this day will be to them a fresh start in the ways of goodness so dear to Her whom we are now delighting to honour; next, by funding a sum of Rupees thirty thousand to provide permanently for the relief of twenty-five widows of various castes and creeds, who will henceforth be known as "Victoria Jubilee Pensioners"; and, thirdly, to reduce the duty on Timber—for which my port of Bhávnagar is the chief mart in Káthiáwár—to a uniform rate of three-quarter per cent. ad valorem. You are aware that, in unison with my brother-Chiefs, I have contributed a sum of twenty-five thousand rupees to the "Victoria Jubilee Museum" to be erected at Rájkot; but this happy year will be remembered in this town best by the fact, that in it the blessings of a free supply of one of the greatest of God's blessings—pure water—will be brought to the doors of the people by the service that will be laid to the town; and, which will be called "The Victoria Jubilee Water-works."

CAPTAIN FERRIS, I beg you will convey to our worthy Political Agent for transmission to Her Imperial Majesty, through the Government of Bombay, my sincere congratulations, and the assurance of my profound esteem and unswerving attachment to Her august Throne, and may the King of Kings preserve Her and keep Her here and evermore.

APPENDIX B.

Your Highness, Ladies and Gentlemen,

It affords me as you can well imagine the most sincere pleasure and happiness to find myself in the position I do to-day and to be the means of communication, through the proper channels to our beloved Sovereign of the sentiments of loyalty, devotion and affection to Her person, that I have just heard expressed on your Highness' behalf.

When by some event, our joy and happiness is augmented and raised to the highest pitch, we score the day down as a red letter one in our lives. But on this auspicious occasion we are marking a red letter day, not in our lives only, but in the glorious history of the British Empire, for this is but the fourth time in the records of our Nation that a Sovereign has wielded the sceptre for 50 years. Consider what this means, most of us cannot number as many years of existence.

Let us consider now why it is right and proper that we should celebrate this happy occasion with the greatest rejoicing and festivity, let us cast a glance back over the last 50 years. In 1837 our loved Queen, then scarcely more than a child, was called upon to accept the most responsible and onerous duties that can fall to the lot of man. How has she fulfilled the sacred trust then reposed in her, there is not a voice but will answer nobly, devotedly, successfully. Under her benign rule, civilization has advanced with great strides, education, freedom of trade and commerce, political and religious liberty, have all been furthered and fostered, and last though not least the moral tone of the Nation has been raised to the highest level.

During these years the great dependencies of the Empire have not been neglected. India has made such advances as have no parallel in history, the colonies have risen from mere handfuls of emigrants to be vast communities with almost the independence of natives, while the world at large has witnessed the almost universal abolition of slavery. In all this progress and enlightenment we can trace the personal influence, under God's guidance of our revered Queen.

Your Highness, I congratulate you most sincerely on the practical form your loyalty has taken. I feel sure that it is not the wish of Her Majesty that this Jubilee should be celebrated by a purposeless expenditure of money, however leal may be the sentiments that prompt it, but it appears to me that your Highness has hit upon schemes that are peculiarly calculated to commend themselves to the Queen-Empress.

We are all aware of Her anxiety for and interest in the advancement of the cause of the women of India, and the amelioration of the sufferings of 25 helpless women by the granting to them for life of the Victoria Jubilee pensions cannot fail to touch Her Majesty's heart; while the release of prisoners, more especially those of the weaker sex whose offences have been rather against themselves than against the State is but exercising in our Queen's honour that greatest attribute of monarchs—mercy.

The reduction in the tax on timber will confer a boon on many, and the free supply of water at their very doors will, for generations to come, carry back the minds of the people with feelings of thankfulness and love to this Jubilee year and the august lady in whose honour the blessing has been conferred on them.

Your Highness' loyalty and devotion to the Crown is well known, nevertheless it will give me the greatest pride and gratification to convey to the Political Agent for transmission to Her Majesty the sentiments that through your Diván you have expressed.

The day is yet young, and we have much to do before night to practically testify to the joy that is in us.

I am sure there is but one wish in the hearts of all Prince and peasant, rich and poor, old and young, Asiatic and European and that is that God in his goodness may spare our loved Queen for many a long year yet to exercise over us Her benign sway.

Acting 2nd Assistant Political Agent, Gohilvád Pránt.

RAO BAHADUR DAYASHANKAR JIVANLAL'S REPORT ON THE CELEBRATION OF THE JUBILEE IN THE STATE OF PÁLITÁNA.

I have the honour to report that at an official invitation from Thákor Sáhib Mánsingji of Pálitána, I had been to the Darbár held by him to celebrate the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty, at 9 A. M. on the 16th instant.

2. The Diván of Pálitána being absent on duty a deputation formed of Sar Nyáyádhish Mr. Chhotálál, Nyáyádhish Mr. Narsingdás, Revenue Officer Mr. Shakur, and State Medical Officer Mr. Áppáji had been to my lodging to escort me to the Darbár, as an officer of the British Government.

3. Near the entrance of the State palace a Guard of Honour was drawn up who had presented arms when I went to the Darbár and when I returned from it. And the Band was playing the National Anthem. At the door of the Darbár Hall I was received by the Thákor Sáhib. After taking my seat on his right side I rose up and handed over to him the Kharita from His Excellency the Governor which was received with your letter No. 565 of 1887.

4. Sar Nyáyádhish Mr. Chhotálál was then directed by the Thákor Sáhib to read an address in Gujaráti on his part, a copy of which together with its translation has been attached to this; he having asked me to request you on his part to forward it on to Her Majesty the Empress of India through the Government of Bombay. When the address was read over I had given a reply to it in Gujaráti, copy of which with its translation into English has been attached to this for your information.

5. The Thákor Sáhib gave me Attar and Pán Sopári and Mr. Chhotálál to the other gentlemen who had been invited to the Dárbar. The proceedings of the Dárbar being over I left it after descanting with the Thákor Sáhib about the Jubilee. I was escorted to my lodging by the same deputation. No guns were fired as suggested in your Circular No. 472 of 1887. On enquiry I have learnt that on account of the want of trained up gunners the State of Palitána was unable to carry out the suggestion.

6. In the evening fireworks were let off near the Nazar Bág and the public streets and the palace were illuminated. At an invitation from the Thákor Sáhib I had been to see the fireworks and the light.

7. I am asked by the Thákor Sáhib to inform you that the foundation stones of the schools which he, as promised in his address, is to erect in commemoration of the Jubilee will be put by the Assistant Political Agent Captain W. B. Ferris in a short time when he will happen to be there.

DAYÁSHANKAR J.
Deputy Assistant Political Agent, Gohilvád Pránt.

Rao Bahadur Dayashankar Jivanlal and Gentlemen,

This is the 50th year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Empress of India and it is to celebrate Her Jubilee that we have all assembled here this day.

From the Himmalay to Cape Commorin millions of people of different caste and creed have gathered this day for this very purpose to express their devotion and loyalty to this mighty sovereign who is known throughout the world as the Most Gracious and Most Bountiful and thus to evince their loyalty and devotion.

The European and other civilized nations in the whole world will look upon with wonder and admiration at this great demonstration of loyalty and devotion to Her Imperial Majesty on the part of the British subjects in Native States in India.

During the 50 years of Her reign improvements of every kind and progress are conspicuous, and by a just and impartial Government, India has been greatly benefited. Commerce and enterprize have greatly increased and the great sufferings entailed on the natives of India by foreign aggression and internal commotion has been altogether stopped and peace and prosperity such as was never heard of before have spread over the land.

The religious persicution under which the nation ground under former Governments are unheard of now and each person has been given liberty of conscience; all this is not a small matter for congratulation.

Besides these Her Imperial Majesty by her impartial conduct and her great private virtues in all her actions has placed before us noble examples which might be studied and followed with advantage.

Taking into consideration the above as also the great benefits which we enjoy under Her just and impartial Government we are convinced that besides our great loyalty and devotion to Her Imperial Majesty we owe her a debt of deep gratitude.

It is therefore our bounden duty to celebrate Her Jubilee with great joy and public demonstrations, and thus to prove how grateful we are to Her, and that our devotion and loyalty to her sacred person is unbounded.

It is for this purpose that we have this day assembled and that this great and joyful day may be perpetuated and remembered by posterity, I have determined to open a Public Park to be called the Victoria Jubilee Park. As also to erect two buildings for a boy and girl's school. The foundation stones of which will be shortly laid.

The city of Pálitána and the chief towns of the different Maháls will be illuminated and the streets decorated with flags and buntings.

This day and to-morrow will be strictly observed as public holidays throughout the State and all public offices and schools closed.

The children of both sexes, the poor of the town, and the prisoners in the jail will have sweetmeats distributed to them, and prisoners of good conduct, both male and female undergoing imprisonment for offences not of a serious nature will be released.

The Shetrunjaya hill temples and roundway will also be decorated with flags and festoons and with flowers.

This is the manner in which this State proposes to celebrate the Jubilee of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Empress, and it is all due to our great love, devotion and loyalty to our Gracious Sovereign.

We always pray that the Almighty God will preserve for ever this great merciful and impartial Government and that long life and prosperity and blessings be bestowed on our Gracious Empress to govern this land.

I hope and pray that the Political Agent in Káthiáwár will kindly, through the Bombay Government, convey to Her Imperial Majesty the Empress the expressions of our loyalty, love and devotion to Her Crown, and we pray that the great God Almighty keep and preserve Her Most Gracious Majesty the Empress and the members of the Royal Family in health and happiness.

APPENDIX C.

Thakor Sahib and Gentlemen,

This year is the fiftieth year of Her Majesty's accession to the throne of Great Britain. It is a matter of great joy and satisfaction to all. The Thákor Sáhib has held this Darbár to evince public demonstration of joy and satisfaction on this auspicious occasion and that he has evinced on his own part and Pálitána State and his subjects in general a hearty loyalty towards Her Majesty the Empress of India and the British Crown. To commemorate this auspicious Jubilee festival the Thákor Sáhib has evinced a desire that a Public Park for the recreation will be laid out and buildings for the English school and girls' school will be constructed; such a desire is very laudable.

2. I have attended this Darbár at the invitation of the Thákor Sáhib, which has been made to me as a representative of the British Government; and it would be my pleasing duty to lay before the Political Agent whole the account to be conveyed to Her Most Gracious Majesty through the Government of Bombay with a copy of the address delivered by the Thákor Sáhib, to show with what zeal and sincerity he has celebrated the auspicious Jubilee festival.

3. Thákor Sáhib knows full well how Káthiáwár has been benefited by the British Government and particularly during the last fifty years, that is to say, during the regime of the present Sovereign, the Empress of India, but I think, it would not be considered out of place if I dwell shortly, for the information of the gentlemen here present, upon the inestimable advantages that Káthiáwár has enjoyed and is enjoying by the British sway.

4. If there was anything like Rajput sovereignty over Káthiáwár in ancient times there does not seem to be any historical record of it. We have been able to know but very little account of Valabhipur Rájás and hence we are without any proper means to compare the old policy of the Rajput Government with that of the British. We can gather from the coins, then current, called by the name of Gadhaiya of very insignificant value, that the state of commerce was not in a very prosperous state. Low state of then currency itself evidences the fact. At present the commerce is well developed and on account of the peaceful sway of the British Government we have been able to exchange Káthiáwár commodities to Europe and thereby to enlarge the wealth of Káthiáwár, a facility, to say the truth, was never afforded in bygone times.

5. The inroads of the Muhammadans on India and the terrible depredations committed by Mahammad Ghizni on the temple of Somnáth, when read in history, send, even at this time a thrill of horror into human frame. The British Government have by their able sway taken such measures as to prevent any such recurrence. Subsequent to this the Mogals established an Empire in India, but during their sovereignty the position and rights of the native chiefs were not respected as they are now. To convince I would cite two instances of the policy of the Muhammadan Government.

1. Every Hindu was made liable to Jajia tax.

2. The great Márwád Chiefs were required to be present at Delhi to render personal service as a token of homage.

6. Since the establishment of the British Government in this country no undue exercise of power has been made over us such as cited above, nay, even a common cultivator of this day would not think that such an undue exercise of power would ever be exercised over us during the just and humane Government of the British ; but on the contrary since the establishment of the British Government, the status, dignity and position of the Native Chiefs have been raised and several new rights and benefits conferred upon them; the following are the instances :—

1. Assisted construction of Railway line in Káthiáwár for the proper development of trade and commerce, and for its prosperity in general.

2. Granted Sanads to the First Class Chiefs for adoption.

3. Withdrew British jurisdiction from over Bhávnagar and 116 other subordinate villages with a view to bring the status of Bhávnagar on a firm footing.

4. Created a special Baharvatia Department for the suppression of robbery and dacoity and effected almost extirpation thereof.

5. Suppressed the Wágher rebellion by its own force.

6. Introduced easy and simple system of levying Peshkashi which was formerly collected by the late Government by aid of force which caused immense loss of property to the people and which put then to great hardships.

7. Established Rájkumár College for the education to the Rájkunvars.

8. Carried the scheme of the public instruction to perfection.

7. The disputes between the native Chiefs have been much reduced by the kind intervention of the British Government, and it has not accepted any lands though willingly offered by the Chiefs in consideration of the pains taken by the Government; this fact appears very prominently in a letter addressed to Colonel Walker by the Tálukdárs of Jetpur offering half their territories to the Government. The handing over of Mahuva and Talája Mahál to Bhávnagar after restoration from the pirates who occupied them is another happy instance of the British Government's justice, magnanimity and disinterestedness. In conclusion I must say that all the happiness, prosperity, peace and security that we all enjoy since the establishment of British Government in Káthiáwár, are all due to the equitable British sway over us for which the British Government and Her Majesty Queen Victoria, Empress of India, is deserving of all respects as our sovereign, and we should pray to the Almighty that may the British Government continue as long as the sun and the moon shine and may Queen Victoria the Empress of India and Her Royal Family be gifted with longevity and prosperity.

APPENDIX D.

TRANSLATION OF THE SPEECH DELIVERED BY THE THAKOR SAHIB OF VALA IN THE PUBLIC DARBAR HELD AT 9 A. M. ON THE 16TH FEBRUARY 1887 IN HONOUR OF THE JUBILEE OF HER MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY THE EMPRESS OF INDIA.

VALA.

"The reason of our meeting together in this Darbár, as it is just explained to you by the Kárbhári is this day's auspicious occasion of the celebration of the 50th year (which would be completed in the month of June next) of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty Kaisar-i-Hind, great Queen Victoria.

"As we seldom meet, in the annals of history, with instances of royalty enjoying the throne for so long a time, we should all pray God with sincere hearts for having given us such an auspicious occasion like the present that He may keep us for ever under (the protection of) her reign and that He the most high, the Most Gracious, may give long life, health and happiness to Her Imperial Majesty, that we may enjoy more and more day by day those equitable and just means of asserting justice we now enjoy. Having said this (I think) it is necessary here to give a short account of Her Majesty's reign and of the Royal Family.

3. The name of Her Majesty's Royal father was Duke of Kent or, as he was called, Prince Edward. He was the fourth son of King George III. Her Majesty's mother was Princess Victoria, who was the sister to the Duke of Saxecoburg. From these august parents Her Majesty Kaisar-i-Hind was born on the 24th of May 1819. Her Most Gracious Majesty came to the throne on the 20th of June 1837 that is at the age of 18. On the 10th February 1840 Her Majesty married Prince Albert, the second son of the Duke of Saxecoburg, a scion of Her Royal Maternal home. The heir-apparent (to the throne) known by the name of the Prince of Wales was born on the 9th November 1841. Including His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales Her Majesty has 3 sons, 4 daughters and other grandsons and granddaughters, who by the grace of God are now alive.

"The Government of India was first conducted by a Company under a royal charter. In the year 1858 the Government of this Company, known by the name of the East India Company, came to an end on account of the great mutiny. Since then Her Majesty has herself assumed the Government and after this being done the mutiny was quelled.

"In the year 1877 a great assemblage was held at Delhi (known by the name of the Imperial Assemblage) and there Her Majesty assumed the title of the Empress of India.

"In spite of occasional occurrences of famine and war, (we enjoy) on the whole peace and contentment, happiness and prosperity in Her Glorious reign and therefore we wish that may Her supremacy remain so for ever."

No. 648 OF 1891.

From,

Colonel G. E. HANCOCK,

Acting Political Agent, Káthiáwár.

To,

W. LEE-WARNER, ESQUIRE, C. S.,

Secretary to Government, Bombay.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

KÁTHIÁWÁR POLITICAL AGENCY,

Rájkot, 27th July 1891.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit to Government the Annual Report on the Administration of Káthiáwár for the year ending 31st March 1891 to which are appended the reports of the President, Rájasthánik Court, the Judicial Assistant, and the Administrator, Porbandar State.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Personnel.

1. Mr. Lely remained in charge of the Agency up to 13th May 1890. He was then relieved by Mr. Ollivant who continued in charge till February 1891 when he went on privilege leave. He returned from this leave on 19th April but was again obliged to take furlough from the 25th idem and I have acted as Political Agent ever since.

Season.

2. The rainfall was irregular and partial. In Jhálávád it was very deficient and great want of water was felt both for cultivation and drinking purposes in many parts. In other Pránts also the fall was not opportune though a little better in quantity. On the whole the out-turn of crops fell below the average, and the year was generally unfavourable. Large quantities of cereals were imported by rail, however, so prices did not rise.

Visit of His Excellency the Governor Lord Harris.

3. The most important event during the year was the visit of His Excellency the Governor, Lord Harris, last November. The Chiefs from Class I to IV were all invited, and with the exception of Porbandar, Gondal, Pálitána, Vala, Jasdan and Bajána they all arrived at Rájkot in time to be present at the Railway Station to receive him. Pálitána, Vala and Bajána were excused on account of illness and Jasdan on account of the sickness of his son who had recently returned from England and was being attended in Bombay.

4. A Darbár was held on the 19th November for the reception of the Chiefs when the latter presented the usual Nazars and were presented with Dresses of Honour due to their respective rank and position. This occasion was also taken advantage of for the purpose of investing His Highness the Nawáb of Junágad with the Insignia of a Knight Grand Commander of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire for which a special Darbár was convened on the following day. His Excellency also received and returned the visits of the Chiefs with the usual ceremonies.

Darbár held at Rájkot and the investiture of His Highness the Nawáb of Junágad with the Insignia of the G. C. I. E.

5. On the 21st November His Excellency laid the foundation-stone of a reservoir, the cost of which was provided by His Highness the Nawáb in connection with the Rájkot Victoria Jubilee Water-works. He also distributed prizes at the Rájkumár College, and to the successful competitors at the Horse Show.

Laying the foundation-stone of a reservoir and distribution of prizes at the Rájkumár College and the Horse Show.

6. His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief visited Rájkot in the month following on inspection tour, and on his way to and from Cutch he visited Navánagar where he was hospitably received by His Highness the Jám.

Visit of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

7. His Highness Sir Takhtsingji G.C.S.I, received the title of Mahárája as a personal distinction during the year, and the Sanad with the Kharita conveying it was delivered to him at Bhávnagar in March last in public Darbár by myself.

Grant of the title of Mahárája to His Highness Sir Takhtsingji, G.C.S.I., as a personal distinction.

8. Mr. Pránjivan Vishvnáth, late member of Rájasthánik Court on behalf of Morvi and Superintendent of Miánás at Mália, received the title of Ráo Bahádur as a personal distinction in March last and the Sanad was delivered to him by me in public Darbár at Rájkot.

Grant of the title of Ráo-Bahádur as personal distintion to Mr. Pránjivan Vishvnáth, a late member of the Rájasthánik Court.

9. Sanads granting the right of adoption according to the Hindu Law and to the customs of their families were conferred by His Excellency the Viceroy on the following Chiefs of Class I. and II.

Conferring of Sanads granting the right of adoption to certain Chiefs.

H. H. the Rána of Porbandar.
H. H. the Ráj Sáhib of Dhrángadhra.
H. H. the Thákor Sáhib of Morvi.
The Ráj Sáhib of Vánkáner.
The Thákor Sáhib of Pálitána.
The Thákor Sáhib of Dhrol.
The Thákor Sáhib of Limbdi.
The Thákor Sáhib of Rájkot.
The Thákor Sáhib of Wadhwán.

10. The census was satisfactorily taken on the night of the 26th February last. The result showed an increase from 23,43,899 to 27,50,689 souls above 17 per cent. over the figures of 1881. The work of tabulation and abstraction is not yet quite complete.

Census.

11. The offer made by the Chiefs of Bhávnagar, Junágad and Navánagar of troops of cavalry as per margin towards Imperial Defence was accepted by His Excellency the Viceroy, and Captain Forbes has been appointed to supervise the formation of the corps.

Imperial Defence :—
Bhávnagar 300.
Junágad 100.
Navánagar 75.

12. The suggestion of Government that measures similar to those adopted by the Rajputána Chiefs or by the Leva Kunbis of the Kaira District should be introduced with a view to regulate marriage expenditure of Jádejás and others was placed before the annual meeting of the Representatives of the Chiefs held in Rájkot in August 1890 and Sub-Committees in Pránts with a Central Committee at Rájkot were appointed to draw up regulations for the same. His Highness the Mahárája of Bhávnagar has since proposed certain modifications in the formation of the Committees, &c., and the question has been again referred to the Chiefs who were requested to furnish the requisite information to the Central Committee so as to enable them to draw up their report before the next annual meeting which takes place in August next.

Formation of committees to draw up rules regulating marriage expenses of Jádejás and others.

13. Shocks of earthquake were felt at Bhávnagar, Pálitána, Vala and other places in Gohilvád in the month of February last.

Earthquake.

14. The traffic on the open mileage of the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway during the year was 5,26,34,542 unit miles of passenger traffic and 1,39,360 tons of goods as compared with 4,48,33,452 unit miles of passenger traffic and 1,18,343 tons of goods carried in the preceding year. The total number of passengers carried was 13,24,806 against 11,67,366, an increase of 13·49 per cent. The average distance travelled by each passenger was 39·73 miles against 38·9 in the previous year.

Traffic on the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway.

15. The gross revenue for the year was Rupees 15,71,787 as against Rupsees 13,80,416 and the gross expenditure Rupees 9,71,521 against Rupees 7,80,585 last year. The net revenue amounts to Rupees 6,00,266, giving a percentage of dividend of 3·56 per cent. on the total outlay against 3·69 last year. This diminution is due to the Dhoráji-Porbandar Section not fulfilling the anticipations of its promoters.

Revenue of B.-G.-J.-P. Railway.

16. The gross revenue of the Morvi Railway was Rupees 2,95,227 and the expenditure Rupees 2,07,677, showing a net profit of Rupees 87,550 or a percentage on total outlay of 4·32 against 4·64 last year.

Revenue of the Morvi State Railway.

17. The survey of a line from Jetalsur to Rájkot was undertaken in February last, the funds being supplied by Gondal, Rájkot, Junágad and Ázam Surag Wála of Jetpur through whose land it passed.

Survey of a line from Jetalsar to Rájkot.

18. The Mehsána-Viramgám section was opened for traffic in February last, but a third rail has not yet been laid as promised between Viramgám and Wadhwán and through communication with the Rajputána line is consequently not yet secured.

Opening of Mehsana-Viramgám. Section.

19. A project for the construction of a railway from Ahmedábád to Dholera is before Government, and the necessary surveys have been made, but the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway have protested against its extension to Ránpur.

Ahmedábád-Dholera project.

20. The Horse Tramway from Morvi to Wawánia was opened at the end of the year, no particulars as to its cost, &c., have been furnished.

Opening of a Horse Tramway between Morvi and Wawánia.

The States.

21. The most noteworthy event of the year in Junágad was the investiture of His Highness the Nawáb with the Insignia of G. C. I. E. already alluded to.

First Class: Junágad.

22. There has been little or no friction with Diu, but the claims for compensation have not yet been disposed of owing to the Pránt officer having been engaged at Porbandar in enquiring into the cases of alleged frauds in the Public Works Department. Mr. Hill, C. S., has since been appointed as a special officer for the former work.

Relations with Diu.

23. The disputes with Amreli as to its rights at Pátan and Práchi which were pending for a long time were disposed of in January last by the Bombay Government in favour of Junágad. The Baroda Government have appealed to the Government of India, whose decision is awaited.

Disputes with Amreli.

24. Rághav Khavas, the most influential of the private advisers of His Highness the Jám, has been dismissed and Mr. H. A. Wádia Bárrister-at-Law has been appointed as standing counsel for 6 months with a view to investigate the accounts and place the financial administration on a sounder footing.

Navánagar: Dismissal of Rághav Khavás and appointment of Mr. H. A. Wádia.

25. The Runn boundary dispute with Baroda on the frontiers of the Okhámandal Mahál of His Highness the Gáekwár was settled by Colonel Jackson and Major Snell in March last. It is proposed to build a causeway across this Runn which will prove a great boon to the pilgrims visiting Dwárka and Beyt. Nothing has yet been done to obtain the exchange of the village of Bhimkata, the necessity for which has been pointed out by several successive District officers from time to time.

Runn boundary disputes.

26. Rupees 4,34,267 were paid during the year towards the liquidation of the State debt.

Liquidation of debt.

27. His Highness the Mahárája of Bhávnagar has remained steadily at his post throughout the year and has continued to administer his State with zeal, wisdom and kindness. In further recognition of his excellent administration and public benefactions he received the title of "Mahárája" as a personal distinction.

Bhávnagar.

28. His Highness was much gratified with the public declaration made by His Excellency the Governor at the time of meeting the Káthiáwár Chiefs at the Railway Station congratulating him for so boldly exposing the malicious and unfounded defamations made against him and his principal advisers.

Exposure of the malicious defamations against His Highness the Mahárája.

29. The differences between His Highness the Ráj Sáhib and his grandson and heir, Kumár Ajitsingji, were amicably settled last December under the advice of Mr. Ollivant and Colonel Hunter, and Ajitsingji has since returned to live at Dhrángadhra.

Amicable settlement of the differences between His Highness the Ráj Sáhib and his grandson.

30. Ráo Bahádur Popat Velji, the Diván, resigned his post in March last, and no one else has yet been appointed to succeed him.

Diván.

31. The relations of Morvi and Cutch continue to be far from satisfactory, and there were several complaints of ill-treatment of passengers at Wawánia to and from Cutch. A Commission was appointed for the separation of interests of Cutch and Káthiáwár, but the work has had to be postponed owing to the sudden transfer of Mr. Fullton, the Commissioner, to Burmah just after he had visited the several localities and framed issues.

Relations of Morvi and Cutch.

32. Endeavours were made during the year to effect a settlement of the differences of the Girásiás of Morvi with the Darbár, but nothing final was arrived at, though complaints have been less frequent since.

Differences between the Morvi Girásiás and the Darbár.

33. His Highness the Thákor Sáhib of Gondal has remained in England throughout the year. Matters of importance are said to be referred to him at home but at such a distance it is scarcely possible for His Highness to act up to his responsibilities.

Gondal.

34. The relations between the Thákor Sáhib of Pálitána and his brother Kunvar Sámatsingji have not improved. An attempt was made to settle all disputes amicably under the suggestion of Government but it failed. Kunvari Kesába, who resided at Dhrol, was permitted at her request to go to Bombay and live there with Kunvar Sámatsingji.

Pálitána: Relations between the two brothers.

35. The settlement of disputes regarding the boundaries of the village of Bávli under Limbdi and Siál, Káyla and Vekaria under Ahmedábád was entrusted to arbitrators with Mr. Beaman as umpire. The enquiry was finished but judgment has still to be given.

Limbdi.

36. The claim of the Thákor Sáhib of Wadhwán for compensation for the loss of alleged customs duties since the extension of the Morvi Railway is now under investigation.

Wadhwán.

37. The Thákor of Lakhtar has submitted a representation with a professional report by Mr. Whiting, C. E., on the subject of the impoundment of water as required by Government Resolution No. 7209 of 19th November last, and it is hoped that this may shortly lead to a final settlement of that prolonged dispute.

Lakhtar.

38. The Thákor of Vala has made a donation of Rupees 5,000 towards the endowment of the Rájkumár College for which he has obtained the acknowledgments of Government.

Vala.

39. The differences between the Chief of Bájána and his elder son continue, and the dispute regarding succession still remains under adjudication.

Bajána.

40. There has been no friction between the Darbár and the Agency since the arrival of the new Kárbhári and the appointment of the present Miána Magistrate at Mália. The Superintendent of the Miánás completed the work of settlement in April last. The question of the practicability or otherwise of the scheme for separation and exchange of the Miána lands is still under consideration.

Mália.

41. Ázam Wála Kála Devdán, a 4th Class Tálukdár of Jetpur, died in June 1890 and was succeeded by his son Ázam Wála Nája Kála.

Petty Tálukás and managed Estates.

The Seventh Class jurisdiction exercised by Wála Jiva Báva of Káthrota in Sorath was withdrawn under Government Resolution No. 2,754, dated 2nd May 1890.

Of the jurisdictional States and Tálukás under management the estates of Wála Kála Bhán, a 6th Class Tálukdár of Jetpur, and of Kotila Bhán Bhim of Dedán, were restored to them having attained majority. The latter was invested with 6th Class powers instead of those of the 5th Class exercised by his father for reasons explained in Mr. Ollivant's letter No. 1001, dated 10th December last.

The estate of Chomla Kháchar in Páliád was restored, arrangements having been made and good security furnished for payment of the debt more rapidly than was being done under management.

Rájkot, a Second Class State, and the estate of Wála Nathu Chámpráj a 6th Class Tálukdár of Jetpur, were brought under management in consequence of the deaths of their rulers, leaving behind them minor sons. The claims of Wágheli Bái, step-mother of the late Thákor Sáhib of Rájkot, which have been pending for years were settled during the year.

Porbandar: Irregularities in the Public Works Department.

42. The services of Mr. Sandford, State Engineer, and Mr. O'Shea Tutor to Kunvar Bhávsingji were dispensed with during the year, and Mr. J. J. B. Benson appointed instead to do the double duties. Mr. Pandit discovered certain irregularities in the Public Works Department and charged some of the subordinates with giving false certificates for payments to contractors. On the other hand the contractors complained of short payments. The prosecution of the criminal charges has failed, and the parties have since agreed to a settlement of the civil claims by arbitration.

Other estates under management.

43. There were 65 other estates under management on account of minority or indebtedness. The subject of ensuring more complete supervision and an efficient audit of their accounts is under consideration. Draft rules for the settlement and liquidation of claims against encumbered estates have already been submitted to Government.

44. Proposals for introducing the Civil and Criminal Procedure Codes and the Limitation Law in jurisdictional estates under management and for defining the powers of the Managers have been sanctioned by Government.

Introduction of certain laws in, and the powers of the Managers of jurisdictional states under management.

45. As regards the petty Tálukdárs under the Thánás Colonel Hunter makes the following remarks :—

Remarks by Colonel Hunter regarding petty Tálukdárs under Thánás.

> " The indebtedness of the petty Tálukdárs and their sub-shareholders is becoming serious and calls for inquiry and relief. I think it will be found that the administrative charges on them are much heavier than on similar Tálukdárs in British Districts. They contribute towards the General Fálo from which trunk roads and other public institutions are maintained. They have to pay for their own Magistrate and Police (provincial as well as village). They maintain schools and dispensaries and defray the cost of maintenance of their prisoners in Jail. I am collecting statistics for a special report on this subject."

46. Of the Civil Stations those of Rájkot and Wadhwán are managad by Committees, but Songad and Jetalsar are still under the sole control of the Pránt Officers. Endeavours made to let out lands on lease for building purposes at Jetalsar have failed. There has been a great scarcity of water in the Rájkot Station, and at one time it was proposed to remove the Military force to some places at a distance where the supply of water would have been more plentiful. The Victoria Jubilee Water-Works now approaching completion, will, it is hoped, remove all anxieties in future on this head.

Management of Civil Stations.

47. Separate reports showing the working of the Rájasthánik Court and the Judicial Assistant's Court are appended.

Rájasthánik and Judicial Assistant's Courts.

48. The Rájasthánik Court decided 177 regular cases and passed orders in 8,252 miscellaneous matters, making an aggregate of 8,429 against 7,713 in the previous year, thus showing an increase of 716. 357 regular cases still remain to be disposed of, 163 are still pending in the State Courts, and about 50 other cases are expected from the Thánás, so the work still keeps coming in almost as fast as it is disposed of.

Cases decided by the Rájasthánik Court.

49. The extension of the period of the Court's term for 2 years from 1st January 1891 was sanctioned at the last Kárbháris' Meeting and approved of by Government in their Resolution No. 340, dated 19th January last.

The term of the Court extended by 3 years.

50. Two Courts were abolished, viz., that of the Wadhwán Station Officer and of the Kámdár of Chomla Kháchar's estate at Páliyád. The work of the former was amalgamated with the Wadhwán District Thána and that of the latter with the Páliyád Thána.

Abolition of certain Courts.

51. The number of original civil and political cases decided by the Agency Courts was 3,725 and 18 as against 3,774 and 21 in the last year, while that of appeals was 103 and 25 against 65 and 27 in 1889-90. The total number of civil and political cases thus aggregates to 3,872 of the value of Rupees 44,56,167 against 3,887 of the value of Rupees 12,08,360 last year.

Cases decided by the Agency Courts.

52. The jurisdictional States decided 32,355 civil cases of the value of Rupees 34,51,971 against 34,156 cases of the value of Rupees 49,60,077 last year. The number outstanding has fallen from 6,712 to 6,490.

Cases decided by jurisdictional States.

53. The Agency Courts disposed of 1,171 original criminal cases and 58 appeals against 1,409 and 58 last year. Of the 1,171 cases 32 were Sessions cases against 63 last year. The decrease is mainly due to a large number of dacoity cases ordinarily triable by State Courts being disposed of by the Agency Courts in 1889-90 under special arrangement and partly to the general decrease of crime.

Original and appellate cases disposed of by the Agency Courts.

54. The total number of criminal cases disposed of by the jurisdictional States was 12,203 against 12,934 last year. 76 cases came before the Agency Courts in the exercise of their residuary jurisdiction against 104 last year.

Criminal cases disposed of by jurisdictional States.

55. The results of the working of the Agency Police during the year under report are satisfactory.

Agency Police.

56. Cognizable crime—606 offences were reported to the police, as against 805 last year. 851 persons were arrested as compared with 1,282 last year, and 806 were sent for trial against 1,149. The percentage of convictions to arrests was 53·11 and to persons sent up for trial was 56·07 against 47·19 and 52·65 last year. The results thus show an improvement under both heads.

Arrests, trials and convictions of offenders.

57. Mr. Mackay attributes the marked decrease of cognizable crime to the fact that the country is now pretty well rid, so far as the Thána Circles are concerned, of the notorious criminals who used to plunder the country side and partly to increased efficiency of the police and to the ability of particular chief constables. Bhojka, Dasáda, Mália and Rájkot Station show better results, while in Lodhika Dhrápha and Bábra the working of the police is not equally satisfactory.

Decrease in the number of cognizable crimes.

58. The return of stolen property show a decrease in the percentage of recoveries from 62·41 to 59·38. It compares favourably however with the average of the previous 3 years which was 52·73.

Properties stolen and recovered.

59. With regard to violent crime 2 dacoities and 9 robberies occurred during the year under report against 2 dacoities and 19 robberies last year. None of these were attended with loss of life nor were any hostages carried off.

Violent crimes.

60. There has been a decrease also under the heads of murders, culpable homicide, grievous hurt, house-breaking and theft. 5 murder cases were reported, of which 3 were sent up for trial, 1 ending in conviction, 1 case remains under enquiry and 1 remains undetected.

Murders, &c.

61. In regard to non-cognizable crime the returns show a considerable decrease, the number of cases reported being 351 as compared with 483 last year. The percentage of convictions continues to be very low in Sorath being only 4·54. It is highest in Hálár being 54·32.

Non-cognizable crime.

The police have been more frequently employed this year in non-cognizable cases, the number of cases referred to them being 49 as compared with 12 last year.

62. The subjoined table will show the working of the police of jurisdictional States as compared with the same last year:—

Police of jurisdictional States.

	1889-90.	1890-91.
No. of offences reported.....	10,405	9,518
,, accused arrested	11,603	10,285
,, ,, brought to trial	10,702	9,711
Percentage of convictions to arrests	54·09	54·07
,, trials.....	58·65	57·26
,, recoveries of stolen property	41·76	40·81

63. The total number of dacoities and robberies committed during the year under report was 29 and 63 against 50 and 99 last year.

Dacoities and robberies.

64. In December last 2 Makránis bearing arms were seen passing the Bagasra Thána. They were challenged and pursued by the Chief Constable who overtook them in Rafála limits, but before this could be done, a Pasáita who accompanied him was wounded, and they were taken into custody. About a fortnight after, a Pasáita of Rafála was shot dead by some one at night time. The culprits were not identified but suspicion fell upon Nekbakht, a notorious character, and others in service of Amreli who were relations of the 2 Makránis in custody. The peace of the Táluka was for a time threatened, but by the prompt and judicious measures taken by the Pránt Officer, the Superintendent of the Agency Police, the Assistant Agent Governor General at Amreli, and all concerned, the commission of further atrocities was prevented.

The threatening danger to the peace of Bagasra Táluka averted by prompt and judicious measures of all concerned.

65. The Mhers, Maiyás, Káthis and Jats have given no trouble and the Miánás as a class have behaved fairly well during the year. Juma Gand, a Miána of Cutch, however, who escaped from the custody of the Cutch police and his brother gave a good deal of trouble. Within 25 days 4 loots were committed in the limits of Rájkot, Dhrol and some minor jurisdictional Tálukdárs. The Agency Police were sent to assist the States in taking preventive measures, and no outrage has since occurred. The Morvi police succeeded in arresting Juma and deserve much credit for it. Mr. Mackay also deserves credit for the successful measures subsequently taken for the suppression of these outrages and the arrest of some of the criminals. A party of the Navánagar State police, who were in pursuit of another party of the same band, showed great cowardice however, for which the Inspector in charge has been fined and suspended, and the Darbár has been enjoined to make a further example of the men. Major Snell, Assistant Political Agent, Hálár, notices that the police of some of the States and Tálukás is composed of men who know nothing of drill, and when the time comes for acting together they have no confidence in one another and allow offenders to escape. They are clever enough in tracing offenders by their foot-prints, but are careful to avoid coming into actual contact with them.

General peaceful behaviour of certain warlike classes.

Exception to above.

66. The Morvi Railway police was placed under the control of the Superintendent of the Agency Police from 15th September last, and proposals for the amalgamation of all the Railway police with the Ageney police are now under consideration.

Morvi Railway Police.

67. There is great diversity in the Laws and Acts applicable to the different sections of the Railways in Káthiáwár as also to the territories under the direct jurisdiction of the Agency. Mr. Ollivant has submitted an elaborate report with a view to place them on an uniform basis, and the subject has been referred to the Legal Remembrancer of Government in order that a draft notification may be prepared accordingly.

Diversity in the Laws and Acts.

Their uniformity desired.

A new Law of Limitation for the Káthiáwár Agency was published under Government Notification No. 7791, dated 12th December 1890, and will come into force from 1st proximo.

68. The Baroda Government protested against the alteration in the rules in force regarding the extradition of criminals caused by Government Resolution No. 3151, dated 6th May 1889, and the latter order was therefore held in abeyance in respect to Baroda. Revised rules have since been issued for regulating surrenders from and to Baroda and other Native States and the British territories (Government Circular No. 258, dated 14th January 1891).

Alteration in the rules regarding extradition of criminals.

69. Two Horse Shows were held during the year, at Rájkot and Bhávnagar. His Excellency the Governor distributed prizes at the Rájkot Show. The number of exhibits was exceptionally large but there were no horses available for sale fit for Cavalry remount. At Bhávnagar the Girásiás were induced to agree to use English or Australian Stallions in future on condition that the Darbár purchased the young stock if up to a fair standard at a fair price. I have already expressed my opinion that the best way for Government to work in the same direction is to start a small nursery at Rájkot.

Horse Shows.

70. The expenditure on Public Works other than Railways by the 1st and 2nd Class States during the year aggregates Rupees 15,05,568 against Rupees 14,60,442 in the previous year: among the principal works may be noted:—

Public Works.

BHÁVNAGAR—Rupees 25,800 on the Lord Reay Road; Rupees 9,000 Mahuva-Bhávnagar road.

85,000 repairs of roads; the Takhtsingji Hospital, Sámaldás College and Nilambág, the amounts expended on which are not shown separately.

NAVÁNAGAR—Rupees 1,19,364 on the Victoria Jubilee Bridge and Rupees 14,232 on a road connected therewith.

Rupees 31,311 on a Hospital and Rupees 34,975 on a new feeder road to the Railway from Bálva Station to Bhánvad.

JUNÁGAD—Rupees 27,352 on a new mausoleum and Rupees 24,322 on palace building.

DHRÁNGADHRA—Rupees 15,268 on the Mánságar tank; Rupees 78,941 on the Mánvilás palace and Rupees 11,868 on the State Utára at Wadhwán Civil Station.

MORVI—Rupees 10,904 on a retaining wall near the river and Rupees 16,568 on the Vakhtuba Charitable School.

PORBANDAR—Police Thánás at Navibandar, Kandorna, and Mádhavpur, roads to Porbandar and Ránáwáv Railway Stations. Remodelling the Bhojeshvar Bungalow, and a Dharmshála at Porbandar and the Bandar road are under construction.

VÁNKÁNER—Rupees 10,000 on a School-house and 3,046 on a Dispensary.

71. The cost of the works carried out under the superintendence of the Agency Engineer during the year under report amounted to Rupees 1,30,371 against Rupees 1,25,304 last year. The most important of these is the Victoria Jubilee Water-works in the Rájkot Civil Station which has been alluded to in para. 46 above.

Public Works under Agency Engineer.

72. The number on the rolls of the Rájkumár College shows an increase of 11 over last year. The working of the College has continued satisfactory, and Mr. Ollivant in forwarding Mr. Giles' report on the annual examination to the Director of Public Instruction remarked that the College education produces excellent results, though in some respects improvement is desirable and attainable. The salaries of the Assistant Masters were re-adjusted at a saving of Rupees 50 and further reductions are still under contemplation. The system of private tutors has been condemned and most of them have been withdrawn during the year.

Rájkumár College.

73. A special Committee was assembled to ascertain the minimum expenditure of a boy at the College. Its proceedings were approved of by Government and circulated by them to all the Political Agents with a view to remove exaggerated impressions as to the costliness of education at the College.

Proceedings of the Committee assembled to ascertain the minimum expenditure of a boy at the College approved by Government.

74. Of the Minor Chiefs and the heirs-apparent of others, 6 still are at the College, others are either of tender age or are grown up; special arrangements have been sanctioned for the Navánagar, Bhávnagar and Morvi boys. The heir-apparent of the Chief of Lakhtar is now 10 years of age, and it is hoped that he will soon attend the College.

Minor Chiefs and heirs-apparent attending the College.

75. The Educational Inspector in his report on the examination of the Tálukdári Girásiá School at Wadhwán Civil Station praises it very highly and expresses his opinion that the work done in the school is of a real and sound character. Colonel Hunter has suggested the desirability of the boys' getting a knowledge of the system of land revenue and keeping accounts as followed in Native States, and this is now being arranged for.

Tálukdári Girásia School at Wadhwán.

76. The results of the University examinations show that the Sámaldás College at Bhávnagar has fully maintained its reputation, but the number of scholars has diminished owing to the Darbár's intention to reduce the College course which seems of doubtful expediency.

Sámaldás College at Bhávnagar.

77. The working of the High Schools as judged from the results at the Matriculation and the Final school Examinations appears to be satisfactory.

High Schools.

78. The number of documents registered by the Agency Courts during the year was 507 of the total value of Rupees 5,68,800 against 584 of the aggregate value of Rupees 8,65,625 last year. The total fees realized amounted to Rupees 7,489 against Rupees 7,665.

Registration.

79. The total exports by sea were valued at Rupees 2,77,56,499 and imports at Rupees 1,74,42,418 as against Rupees 2,06,89,075 and Rupees 1,83,69,872 respectively the previous year, the returns show an increase in both in Sorath and Hálár, but a decrease in imports in Gohilvád, the reason of which is not very clearly shown.

Sea-borne trade.

80. The Gir forests of Junágad and those in the Barda hills under Navánagar and Porbandar are the only ones of importance in the province and they require better supervision and conservation than has been bestowed upon them hitherto.

Forests.

81. Junágad and Gondal still continue to take the largest interest in agricultural experiments, but Navánagar and Bhávnagar have also joined this year with encouraging results. In Junágad experiments were made with Bansi wheat and exotic cotton, in Gondal with American cotton seeds, China sugar-cane and arrowroot, in Navánagar with a superior kind of rice and in Bhávnagar with jute. In Gondal an agricultural class has been formed for giving instructions both theoretical and practical for service in the revenue department.

Agricultural expriments.

82. The silk manufactures of Navánagar are well-known and a similar industry has been revived in Gondal by the remission of the trade tax. A brisk trade in wooden toys of a superior kind manufactured at Gondal and Mahuva under Bhávnagar has also sprung up.

Native Manufactures.

83. The tribute demands of the year amounted to Rupees 11,26,981 including Rupees 48,166 on account of arrears of former years. Rupees 10,61,227 were collected, leaving at the end of the year a balance outstanding of Rupees 65,754.

Collection of tribute.

84. The question of amalgmation and reforms in the Indepedent and Pránt Local Funds adverted to in last year's report engaged the careful attention of Mr. Ollivant for some months and he submitted an exhaustive report on the subject in February last. The reclassification of these Funds was carried out from the beginning of the current year under the provisional sanction of Government, and final orders of Government have since been received approving of all Mr. Ollivant's suggestions with some slight modification.

Reforms in the Independent Local Funds.

85. The total number of Post Offices in Káthiáwár is now 214 showing an increase of 5 over last year.

Post Offices.

86. The telegraph line was extended from Dhrol to Jodiya and from Váns-jália to Saláya viâ Bhánvad and Khambhália, and four new offices were opened.

Telegraph.

87. The Hospitals and Dispensaries number 88 against 86 last year. The total number of patients treated being 4,96,196 against 5,26,928, the total cost was Rupees 1,89,924, against 1,85,879.

Medical.

88. Still further additions to the West Hospital buildings are in progress through the liberality of the Chiefs and Government, and it is gradually assuming very handsome proportions. The nurse probationers, who completed their course, left the hospital during the year, and are now employed in State Hospitals. An Assistant Surgeon has since been appointed to assist the Civil Surgeon in the superintendence and control of the Vaccination Department and inspection of the Dispensaries under the Thána Circles which have long needed more effective supervision.

Additions to the West Hospital buildings.

Appointment of an Assistant surgeon.

89. The number of persons primarily vaccinated was 81,018 and of re-vaccinated 1,025, making a total of 82,043 against 86,798 last year and 87,326 the year before.

Vaccination.

90. No explanation is furnished for the continual decrease, but it was most likely due to want of stricter supervision consequent on the duties of the officer in charge being temporarily amalgamated with those of the Eastern Gujarát Circle. Some of the larger States of the Province have since expressed their desire for the Vaccination Establishments employed in their States being placed entirely under their own control and this arrangement is now being carried out.

The Vaccination Establishments of certain larger States to be placed under the States' control at their desire.

CHAPTER I.—Political.

JHÁLÁVÁD PRÁNT.

(Area 4,392·606 miles; population 4,68,199).

Personnel.

1. Major Sealy was in charge of the Pránt from the beginning of the year to 4th September, Mr. Hill from 4th September to 25th October when Major Sealy resumed charge until the 24th November: Colonel Hunter was in charge for the remainder of the year.

DHRÁNGADHRA—1ST CLASS.

(Area 1,156·5 square miles; population 1,03,754; revenue Rs. 3,50,000 tribute Rs. 44,677).

Dhrángadhra: breach between the Chief and heir-apparent amicably settled.

2. The differences between His Highness the Ráj Sáhib and his grandson Kumár Ajitsingji alluded to in last year's report were amicably settled under the advice of Mr. Ollivant and Colonel Hunter, an annual cash allowance having been fixed and a house set apart for the Kumár until such time as he should be able to build another residence towards the cost of which His Highness also agreed to contribute a sum from the State revenues. Ajitsing now resides at Dhrángadhra and all outward signs of the late unseemly quarrel have passed away.

It is desirable to give some suitable occupation to the Heir-apparent in the administration of the State.

3. It is very desirable that he should be given some suitable occupation at the head of the one or more of the Departments of the Administration. His tastes render him peculiarly fitted to supervise the Military Police, and Horse-breeding Departments. This has been urged on His Highness.

His Highness' attendance at the Darbár at Rájkot.

4. His Highness attended the Darbár held by His Excellency the Governor at Rájkot in November last.

Ráo Bahádur Popat Velji, the Diván, resigned and the post is still vacant.

5. Ráo Bahádur Popat Velji, the Diván, resigned his post in March last to which no one else has yet been nominated. It has been urged upon His Highness to nominate a new and competent Diván as soon as practicable.

Public Works.

6. The total expenditure on Public Works is reported to be Rupees 1,40,066, the greater portion of which was spent on a new palace and the State Utára in Wadhwán. Rupees 15,268 only were spent on the Mánságar Tank, a work which may be said to benefit the public.

Education.

7. Three of His Highness the Ráj Sáhib's nephews are being educated at the Rájkumár College. His sons Natwarsing and Sajansing are under the tuition of Mr. O'Shea, who was originally engaged to instruct Ajitsingji. The number of schools is the same as last year. The number of scholars on the register is 2,455 against 2,408 in the previous year.

Medical.

8. 18,293 persons received medical aid at 3 Dispensaries in the State at a cost of Rupees 9,624.

The state of the Judicial Daftar.

9. The Judicial Daftar of the State was examined by Colonel Hunter and revealed a want of proper supervision on the part of the head of the Department, which is now being further enquired into.

Population.

10. The population by the recent census shows an increase of 4·05 per cent. over that of 1881.

Limbdi—2nd Class.

(Area 343·96 square miles; population 48,116; revenue Rs. 2,95,052; tribute Rs. 45,533).

Limbdi.

11. The Thákor Sáhib attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellency the Governor.

The boundary disputes which were being enquired into by an arbitration appointed by the parties, are about to be decided.

12. The settlement of the disputes regarding the boundaries of Báwli under Limbdi with Siál, Káyla and Vekaria under the Ahmedábád Collectorate was entrusted to arbitrators, appointed by the parties with Mr. Beaman, the Judicial Assistant as umpire. The enquiry has been finished but judgment has still to be delivered.

Public Works.

13. Rupees 3,898 were spent on the construction of Bandhs and sinking wells.

Civil Justice.

14. The number of civil cases pending disposal has not diminished and the Chief has been advised to appoint a special Officer to dispose of them.

Population.

15. The recent census shows an increase of 11·73 per cent. in population over that of 1881.

Wadhwán—2nd Class.

(Area 236·16 square miles; population 42,280; revenue Rs. 4,00,000; tribute Rs. 28,691).

Wadhwán.

16. The Thákor Sáhib attended the Darbár held by His Excellency the Governor at Rájkot in November last.

The Darbár's claim for compensation for the loss of the alleged customs duties due to Morvi Railway extension and for a share in the Municipal receipts of the Wadhwán Station is under consideration of Government.

17. The claim of the Darbár for compensation for the loss of the alleged customs duties consequent on the extension of the Morvi Railway and for a share in the Municipal receipts of the Wadhwán Station has been reported on and is now under the consideration of Government.

Public Works.

18. Besides Rupees 6,737 spent on the repair of buildings and roads, 92 new wells were sunk during the year.

Rainfall.

19. The rainfall was only 7 inches 32 cents, and in many villages the rain crops did not come to maturity.

20. The number of educational establishments which include the only High School in the Prant remains the same as last year. The Thákor Sáhib's daughter is said to have been progressing well under Miss Spencer.

Education.

21. Mr. Sámaldás Chhaganlál succeeded Mr. Ratilál Chhotálál as Kárbhári during the year and appears likely to show more activity.

Change of Kárbhári.

22. The population by the recent census shows a decrease of ·52 per cent. over that of 1881, but the density of population is still higher than that in adjoining States.

Population.

Lakhtar—3rd Class.

(Area 247·438 square miles; population 25,093; revenue Rs. 75,000; tribute Rs. 7,351).

23. The Thákor attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellency the Governor.

Lakhtar.

24. His disputes with certain Ahmedábád villages regarding the impoundment of their water supply still continue, and he has, now in accordance with Government Resolution No. 7209, dated 19th November last, submitted a representation on the matter with a professional report by Mr. Whiting, C.E., which, it is hoped, may lead to a final settlement.

Representation made about the disputes with certain Ahmedábád villages for impoundment of their water supply.

25. The population shows an increase of 8·13 per cent. by the recent census over that of 1881.

Population.

Sáela—3rd Class.

(Area 222·1 square miles; population 15,834; revenue Rs. 65,000; tribute Rs. 15,511).

26. The Thákor Sáhib of Sáela attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellency the Governor.

Sáela.

27. The rainfall was only 8·33 inches and the outturn of crops was estimated at only 6 annas in the rupee.

Rainfall.

28. Rupees 2,000 were spent in digging wells during the year.

Public Works.

29. As reported last year the Heir-apparent still works as Sar Nyáyádhish and Judge of the Small Causes Court and four of his brothers continue to prosecute their studies in the Tálukdári-Girásia School. The eldest member is the head of the school and in both character and ability most promising.

The Heir-apparent works as Sar Nyáyádhish and Judge of Small Causes Court and four of his brothers prosecute their studies, at Wadhwán.

30. Mr. Dulabhji Dharmashi, who was appointed Kámdár about the end of last year, having reverted to his former appointment at Morvi, was succeeded by Mr. Lálbhái Morárji under sanction of Government conveyed in their Resolution No. 7538, dated 4th December 1890. It is too soon yet to judge of the result of his administration.

Change of Kárbhári.

Population.

31. The population shows an increase of 6·8 per cent. by the recent census over that of 1881.

CHUDA—3RD CLASS.

(Area 78·2 square miles; population 12,955; revenue Rs. 26,000; tribute Rs. 7,143).

Chuda.

32. The Thákor attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellency the Governor.

Rainfall.

33. The rainfall was much below the average and the out-turn of crops was about 6 annas in the rupee.

Change of Kárbhári.

34. Mr. Odhavji Ghela succeeded Mr. Vanrávandás Valabhdás as Kárbhári and may, it is hoped, effect some good in this rather backward little State.

Population.

35. The population shows an increase of 4 per cent. over that of 1881.

MULI—4TH CLASS.

(Area 133·2 square miles; population 16,726; revenue Rs. 1,00,000; tribute Rs. 9,354).

Muli.

36. The Thákor attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellency the Governor.

Rainfall scanty.

37. The rainfall was very scanty and the Darbár reports that none of the rain crops came to maturity.

The prices of grain however did not rise owing to supplies coming in by Railway.

Population.

38. The population returns by the recent census show an increase of 15·7 per cent. over that of 1881.

BAJÁNA—4TH CLASS.

(Area 183·12 square miles; population 15,958; revenue Rs. 1,00,000; tribute Rs. 8,037).

Bajána.

39. The Chief of Bajána was excused attendance at the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last on account of illness due in some degree to his old age.

The relations between the Chief and his elder son unsatisfactory.

40. The relations between the Chief and his elder son have continued to be unsatisfactory, and the dispute regarding the succession still remains under adjudication.

Population.

41. The population shows an increase of only ·51 per cent. over the census of 1881.

PÁTDI—4TH CLASS.

(Area 39·4 square miles; population 4,438; revenue Rs. 15,000; tribute Rs. 5,235).

Pátdi.

42. The Chief of Pátdi attended the Darbár of His Excellency the Governor held at Rájkot in November last.

43. He has sent his son to be educated at the Rájkumár College. This is an excellent step and will give the boy a wider education than any of his forefathers have ever had the advantage of.

Education of his son.

Population.

44. The population by the recent census shows an increase of 1448 over that of 1881.

VANOD—5TH CLASS.

(Area 57·370 square miles; population 7,431; revenue Rs. 15,000 tribute Rs. 1,953).

Vanod.

45. There is nothing special to record of this petty Táluka.

SORATH PRÁNT.

(Area 5220·05 square miles; population 7,84,240).

46. Major Kennedy held charge of the Pránt from the 1st to 14th April 1890. Mr. Sladen, C. S., took charge on the 21st idem and continued in charge to the end of the official year.

Personnel.

JUNÁGAD—FIRST CLASS.

(Area 3,283·7 square miles; population 4,38,487; revenue Rs. 24,00,000; tribute Rs. 65,604).

47. His Highness the Nawáb attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellency the Governor, who also invested him with the Insignia of the Knight Grand Commander of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire, for which a special Darbár was held on the 20th idem.

Junágad: Investiture of His Highness the Nawáb with the Insignia of G.C.I.E.

In commemoration of this event His Highness abolished several cesses and fees.

48. On 10th February, the ceremony of the Nika marriage of His Highness with the daughter of Khán Shri Hayát Khán Valad Sirdár Mahomed Khán of Dholka was performed.

Marriage of His Highness.

49. For several years past disputes have been pending between Amreli and Junágad with reference to the rights of Amreli at Prabhás-Pátan and Práchi Kund. During the year under report it has been definitely laid down by Government that the jurisdiction and the rights arising therefrom belong to Junágad. His Highness the Gáekwár has appealed against these orders to the Government of India, whose decision is still awaited.

Disputes between Junágad and Amreli regarding rights at Prabhás-Pátan and Práchi.

50. There has been little or no friction between Junágad and Diu during the year. The Junágad claims for compensation on account of the events of 1887 and 1888 have not yet been disposed of owing to the Pránt Officer having been engaged on special work at Porbandar throughout the District season. Mr. Hill, C. S., has now been deputed on special duty for this work, and will shortly proceed to take it up.

Relations with Diu.

Public Works.

51. Rupees 1,36,080 have been spent on public works during the year, of which Rupees 26,754 were spent on roads. A new road has been made with culverts between Prabhás-Pátan and Práchi. The construction of Dharmsháláš at most of the Railway Stations on the Jetalsar-Verával line has also been commenced. The new Verával Dock estate was completed and opened to the public for traffic in November last. The State wished to extend the telegraph line from Bántva to Kutiána, but they were unwilling to conform to the Government of India Rules and the matter rests there.

Schools.

52. There are 137 schools in the State, of which 101 are fund and 36 private schools. The fund schools are under the management of the Education Department of the Province controlled by the Educational Inspector, Northern Division. 7,662 scholars of both sexes received education against 6835 the previous year, showing an increase of 827. The number of scholarships given by the State for education in and outside Junágad remains the same, vizt., 65. The total cost of education in the State was Rupees 53,814.

Two Nágar Bráhmins of Junágad study in England for the Bar.

53. Of the two Nágar Bráhmins who went to England at the expense of the Junágad Darbár in order to prosecute their studies, one Mr. Trambakrái Trikamrái has qualified for the Bar and the other is still studying.

Medical relief.

54. Two new Dispensaries were opened one at Junágad and the other at Navágad during the year, making a total of 13. Bái Náni who was educated at the Barton Female Training College, Rájkot, and was afterwards trained as a nurse by Miss Goldney at the West Hospital, Rajkot, at the expense of the State has been appointed head nurse in the Hospital at Junágad.

Revenue and agriculture.

55. The work in connection with the Chokha Bhág system has been completed in the Khálsa villages with the exception of 8 villages of the Shil Mahál. In order to encourage cultivation of sugar-cane the Vaje Bhág system has been replaced by the Vighoti system. Arrangements are also made for advancing Tacavi loans without interest for sinking new wells.

Experiments in agriculture.

56. The experiment with Bansi wheat at Bhesán has proved successful but it was again found necessary to import fresh seed. The cultivation of tobacco from Gujarát seed did not succeed. Large cotton crops of good quality were obtained in Una from exotic cotton seed brought from the Nadiád Exhibition.

Plantations.

57. 10,081 new trees were planted during the year and the Chorwád plantations are thriving well owing to the interest taken in them by the Diván and the consequent care bestowed upon them.

Horse-breeding.

58. The State paddock at Junágad has been placed under Mr. Mulchand Keshavlál Desái, a Native of Junágad who passed at the Veterinary College at Bombay, and a Veterinary Hospital has been opened in connection with it.

Population by the recent census.

59. The figures of the last census show a marked increase of 24 per cent. on the population of 1881.

JÁFARÁBÁD—2ND CLASS.

(Area 42·3 square miles; population 12,389; revenue Rs. 61,540; tribute nil.)

60. Mr. Raghunáth Vináyek was Mámlatdár up to 5th May 1890 when he was succeeded by Mr. Vithal Ganesh Pradhán.

Jáfarábád.

A party of the marine survey of India under Lieutenant Gunn arrived on 2nd March 1891 and are still engaged in surveying the port.

Two new villages were established during the year.

61. An attempt was made to introduce house tax in place of the Sûdhára tax in the town of Jáfarábád, but it was strongly objected to by the people and an octroi duty has been introduced instead.

Change in taxation.

62. The value of both the import and export trade has increased. The increase in the former amounted to over 80 per cent.

Import and Export trade.

63. The population according to the last census shows an increase from 9,405 to 12,389, or an increase of nearly 32 per cent. over the census of 1881.

Population.

JETPUR.

(Area 733·8 square miles; population 1,11,532; revenue Rs. 7,87,142; tribute Rs. 59,222).

64. This Táluka is owned by 18 shareholders of whom 16 are jurisdiction holders, the rest non-jurisdiction holders. The jurisdiction over the villages belonging to the latter and those that are joint or Majmu between several of the shareholders is exercised by the Táluka Court.

Jetpur: number of shareholders.

65. Wála Nathu Chámpráj, a 6th Class Tálukdár, died on 7th June 1890, leaving two minor sons. His estate has been taken under Agency management. Wála Kála Devdán, a 4th Class Tálukdár, also died on 14th June 1890, leaving one son aged 26 years, who succeeded him.

Death of Wála Nathu Chámpráj and Wála Kála Devdán.

66. Ázam Wála Kála Bhim, a 6th Class Tálukdár of Luni having attained majority, his estate was restored to him on 10th April 1890.

Estate of Luni restored to the owner.

67. The post of Nyáyádhish under the Táluka Court has been vacant since October last when Mr. Laxmanráo vacated the appointment.

The Nyáyádhish of the Táluka Court.

Mr. Kaliánrái Dolatrái, who is clerk of the Court of the Assistant Judge at Ahmedábád, has now been selected for the post and the sanction of Government for the transfer of his services has been received.

68. A total sum of Rupees 24,237 has been spent on public works, of which Rupees 17,500 were spent by Ázam Wála Surag Gánga alone on Dharmshálas at Jetpur and Pithadia. He has also advanced Rupees 2,500 towards the cost of the survey of the proposed extension of railway from Jetalsar to Rájkot.

Public Works.

Schools.

69. There are 32 schools in the Táluka, of which 4 are private schools The number of Dispensaries remains the same.

Rainfall.

70. The rainfall during the year was below the average, but the rates of cereals have fallen as less grain was exported.

Population.

71. The figures at the last census show an increase of over 20 per cent. over that of 1881.

Bántva.

(Area 221·8 square miles; population 42,105; revenue Rs. 3,97,664; tribute Rs. 29,642).

Bántva.

72. The Táluka consists of 4 jurisdictional divisions, viz:—

1. Mánávadar—3rd Class.
2. Gidad—4th Class (personal to the present Chief).
3. Bántva Branch—5th Class.
4. Do. Majmu do.

Mánávádar.

73. Of these Mánávadar is under Agency Management on account of the minority of the present Chief.

Gidad.

74. Kunvar Husen Yávar Khánji of Gidad joined the Rájkumár College a short time before the close of the year.

Family disputes.

75. The family disputes between Anvar Khánji, brother of the Chief of Gidad, and his two wives who fled from his illtreatment and placed themselves under the protection of his brother Sámat Khánji still continue in spite of the settlement attempted between them during the early part of the year.

Public Works.

76. Excluding Mánávadar which will be noticed in Chapter II, a sum of Rupees 7,898 was spent on public works in this Táluka during the year.

The figures of the last census show an increase in population of over 9 per cent, in comparison with those of 1881.

Dedán.

(Area 49·5 square miles; population 7,011; revenue Rs. 40,000; tribute Rs. 2,956).

Dedán.

77. This Táluka is divided between Kotilás Bhán and Surag Bhim and Jetmál Chámpráj and Nája Ráning. Kotila Bhán Bhim having attained majority his estate was restored to him last February and he was invested with the powers of a 6th Class Tálukdár. The interests of his minor brother Surag have been protected by provisions contained in Government Resolution No. 35, dated 6th January 1891.

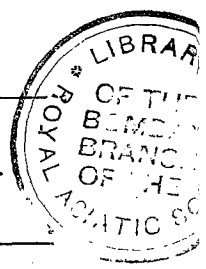
Exercise of jurisdiction.

78. The Dedán Thánadár exercises jurisdiction over the shares of Kotilás Jetmál and Nája.

Population.

79. The figures of the last census show an increase of about 29 per cent. over those of 1881.

VASÁVAD, VICHHÁVAD AND KUBA.



Other petty States.

	Vasávad.	Vichhávad.	Kuba.
Area.....	16·8	3·7	2·5
Population ...	4,427	542	472
Revenue	12,000	4,500	4,550
Tribute	766	.....	.....

80. These Tálukás are owned by Nágar Bráhmins. In Vasávad Mr. Keshavlál Pránjivan was elected Nyáyádhish in 1886, by the shareholders with the approval of the Agency. He exercises the powers of a Fifth Class Tálukdár. Vichhávad and Kuba are 6th Class Talukás.

Withdrawal of jurisdiction of the Tálukdár of Káthrota.

81. The seventh class jurisdiction exercised by Wála Jiva Báva, Tálukdár of Káthrota, was withdrawn under Government Resolution No. 2754, dated 2nd May 1890, on the ground of his incompetency and constant quarrels with his relatives.

HÁLÁR PRÁNT.

(Area 7,062·6 square miles; population 8,22,875).

Personnel.

82. Mr. FitzGerald held charge of the Pránt from 1st April to 30th May when he was relieved by Major Fenton who continued in charge up to 17th December when he was succeeded by Major Snell.

NAVÁNAGAR—1ST CLASS.

(Area 3,791·3 square miles; population 3,79,453; revenue Rs. 24,19,600; tribute Rs. 1,20,093).

Navánagar.

83. His Highness the Jám Sáhib attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellency the Governor.

Visits of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of Bombay and the Agent to the Governor General, Baroda, to Navánagar.

84. His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of Bombay visited Navánagar in December 1890 on his way to and from Cutch. Sir Harry Prendergast K.C.B., V.C., R.E., also visited the place in the following March when returning to Baroda from Okhámandal.

85. His Highness the Jám Sáhib visited many of the Mahals in his State this year, but it is doubtful if any good accrued to the people from his visit; on the other hand the unexpected demand of Nazarána from them must have fallen heavily upon some.

His Highness the Jám Sáhib's visits to several of his Mahals.

86. Mr. Maganlál Bápubhái has continued as Diván throughout the year. Mr. Trikamlál Dinánáth whose services were obtained from Government with a view to the introduction of revenue reforms reverted to the British service at the close of the year. Since then Rághav Khavás, one of His Highness the Jám's private advisers, has been dismissed and Mr. H. A. Wádia, Barrister-at-Law, has been appointed as standing counsel for 6 months with a view to investigate accounts and place the financial administration of the State on a sounder footing. Whether this appointment was advisable or otherwise can only be judged from results.

Attempts at improving financial administration of the State.

87. His Highness the Jám's loyal offer of 75 Savárs towards the Imperial Defence scheme to be supplemented by an addition of an equal number when the finances of the State improve was accepted by His Excellency the Viceroy and they will shortly be enrolled.

Offer towards the Imperial Defence scheme.

88. The Runn boundary dispute with Baroda was settled by Colonel Jackson and Major Snell in March last. Consequent on this settlement the construction of a causeway across the Runn has occupied the attention of the Baroda Government and the Navánagar State. It is proposed to build it as a relief work, and it is likely to prove a great boon to the crowds of pilgrims who annually visit the sacred cities of Beyt and Dwárka.

A settlement of the Runn boundary dispute is arrived at and construction of a causeway across the Runn is under contemplation

89. No progress has yet been made towards the exchange of villages with Bhimkata without which the District officer is not of opinion that any satisfactory settlement of the old standing disputes in connection with that village can be arrived at.

Exchange of village with Bhimkata.

90. The separation of interests between Cutch and Káthiáwár was entrusted to Mr. Fulton, C.S., as a Special Commissioner at the beginning of the season. He visited the principal places in dispute including Jámnagar and framed issues, but before he could take up the further hearing, he was transferred to Burmah and no successor has yet been appointed in his place.

A Special Commissioner appointed to separate the interests between Cutch and Káthiáwár.

91. The experiment of introducing a better class of rice cultivation has proved successful in Jámnagar and it has been determined to continue it for another year.

Experiment to cultivate a better class of rice.

92. 5,140 acres of waste land were brought under cultivation during the year. The total revenues of the State for the year of Samwat 1946 amounted to Rupees 26,01,805 and the expenditure to Rupees 23,39,424. Rupees 4,34,267 were paid towards the liquidation of the debt. It would have been practicable to pay off a larger sum, but for certain extraordinary expenses that had to be met in connection with His Highness' visit to Rájkot and the marriage and funeral ceremonies of several members of His Highness' family. There was also a decrease of Rupees 1,82,000 in the revenues as compared with the previous year due partly to a fall in prices of grain and cotton and partly to want of rain and damage done by locusts.

Revenue.

Public Works.

93. The public works department was in charge of Mr. McClelland, and the expenditure amounted to Rupees 3,24,490 against Rupees 2,01,055 in the previous year. Of this amount Rupees 1,19,364 were spent on the Victoria Jubilee Bridge which was opened in October last by Mr. Ollivant, Rupees 31,311 on a Hospital at Navánagar, Rupees 34,975 on a new road from Bhánvad to Bálva Railway Station. A large proportion was also spent on other roads and minor works of public utility.

Census.

94. The population according to the recent census shows an increase of 20 per cent. over that of 1881.

Morvi—1st Class.

(Area 821·6 square miles; population 1,05,549; revenue Rs. 10,10,000; tribute Rs. 61,559).

Morvi.

95. Mr. Mahádev Devchand, the Diván, died on the 10th April 1890 and Mr. Amarchand Jhaverchand has since officiated as Diván, but His Highness the Thákor Sáhib himself really conducts the administration.

Education of the heir-apparent.

96. His Highness the Thákor Sáhib attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last in honor of His Excellency the Governor. His son and heir-apparent continues his residence in England for the benefit of his education.

Disputes with Kumár Harbhamji.

97. The disputes with Kumár Harbhamji still await decision.

Unsatisfactory relations with Cutch.

98. The relations with Cutch continue to be far from satisfactory and several complaints regarding the action of the Morvi officials have reached this office. Khán Bahádur Pestonji Jehángir, C. I. E., complained of being treated with indignity when passing through Wawánia on the 17th July last, for which His Highness the Thákor Sáhib subsequently expressed regret, and the Morvi Mehta at Wawánia was dismissed. Under the advice of the Political Agent His Highness has since abolished the tolls levied from passengers and one great inconvenience to the public has thus been removed.

Relations with the Bháyáts not much improved.

99. The relations between the Darbár and the Bháyáts have not much improved; a sort of armistice for six months was agreed to during which endeavours were made through Mr. H. A. Wádia and others to bring about a settlement of all their differences. Nothing final was arrived at but it had a good effect and complaints have been less frequent.

Revenue.

100. The total revenue is reported to amount to Rupees 10,95,909 and the total expenditure to Rupees 11,37,620 against Rupees 10,09,857 and Rupees 6,23,430 for the previous year. No explanation is given for such an exceptional increase in expenditure, but it is believed that the increase is partly due to the cost of permanent way and rolling stock required for the Horse tramway from Morvi to Wawánia and the purchase of new remounts for the Police.

Public works.

101. The total expenditure on public works during the year amounted to Rupees 1,21,017, of this Rupees 16,568 were spent on a school building named after His Highness' sister Vakhtuba. A gocd deal was spent upon a city tramway and a retaining wall along the river.

The remainder on works which can scarcely be called works of public utility so much as works contributing to the appearance of the Darbár, and it is to be wished that rather more money had been spent on roads and wells and other public works in the Districts.

Census.

102. The figures of the last census show an increase of over 18 per cent of population over the figures of 1881.

Gondal—First Class.

(Area 1,024·6 square miles; population 1,60,980; revenue Rs. 12,00,000; tribute Rs. 1,10,721).

Gondal.

103. His Highness the Thákor Sáhib has remained in England throughout the year and during his absence the administration of the State has been conducted by the Diván Ázam Bezanji Mervánji with his usual industry under the general supervision of the Pránt officer.

Continued stay of the Thákor Sáhib in England.

104. Matters of importance are referred home to the Thákor Sáhib, but it is scarcely possible for him to act up to his responsibilities at such a distance for prolonged periods and it is to be hoped that he may now soon return.

Benefits derived by the family from visiting England

105. It is satisfactory to learn that the Ráni Sáhib who accompanied His Highness the Thákor Sáhib to England on account of her health has benefitted very much from the change, and that their 3 children have also derived considerable advantages in the way of education.

Scanty rainfall and assistance rendered to the poor by the State.

106. The rainfall was much below the average so much so that by January most of the rivers, tanks, &c., had run dry, and the crops were not up to the usual standard. The State however came to the assistance of the poor; many were provided with food, and others received assistance from the State towards deepening old wells or sinking new ones. This action on the part of the Darbár deserves commendation and might advantageously be followed under similar circumstances in other States. 63 new wells were sunk and 378 acres of land were brought under irrigation.

Introduction of the Vighoti system.

107. Preparations for the introduction of Vighoti for Vaje have been made in 12 new villages and the preliminaries will be finished shortly.

Municipalities.

108. There are 5 Municipalities in the State.

109. The total amount of revenue was Rupees 15,03,621 and the expenditure Rupees 11,78,913 including the earnings and charges on account of the Railway. Excluding these the revenue amounted to Rupees 13,27,796 and the expenditure to Rupees 9,46,653.

Revenue.

110. The expenditure under the head of public works amounted to Rupees 27,079. No important new work was under construction, while a large proportion of the amount, vizt., Rupees 18,607 was spent on repairs to roads and buildings.

Public works.

111. The survey of a Railway line from Jetalsar to Rájkot viâ Gondal was commenced during the year under the supervision of the Manager and Engineer-in-Chief of the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway, Gondal advanced half the cost of this survey, the other half being provided by the other States chiefly interested.

Railway extension.

112. The returns of the last census show an increase of 17 per cent. of population as compared with those of 1881.

Census.

Dhrol—2nd Class.

(Area 282·7 square miles; population 27,002; revenue Rs. 1,50,000; tribute Rs. 10,231).

113. There has been no change in the personnel during the year under report. The Thákor Sáhib and his Kárbhári visited most of the villages in the State during the year.

Dhrol.

The Thákor Sáhib attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellency the Governor.

114. The revenues of the State amounted to Rupees 1,48,752 and the expenditure to Rupees 1,41,455.

Revenue.

115. In 1885 Rupees 1,50,000 were borrowed from Government to clear off a number of long standing State debts, and it was stipulated that Rupees 20,000 should be paid annually in 2 instalments towards the liquidation of the loan. The instalments are being paid regularly and on the 1st May 1891 there remained a debt of only Rupees 52,688 and this, it is to be hoped, will be cleared off within the next 3 years.

Liquidation of debts.

116. A large tract of waste land has been brought under cultivation and will soon add considerably to the revenues of the State.

Cultivation of waste land.

117. On public works Rupees 11,200 were expended during the year. These included a new vegetable market in Dhrol, a road near Dhrol and 7 culverts on the Dhrol-Navánagar road. It is unfortunate that Dhrol and Navánagar are both in debt and the communications between them are consequently still broken and incomplete. Bridges are wanted over the rivers at both Pardhari and Dhrol itself besides numerous culverts and much metalling.

Public Works.

118. Last year the Police were said to have improved but during a series of recent highway robberies they have in no way shown themselves to be better than the ordinary Pasáitás or Village Police.

Police.

119. The figures at the last census show a marked increase in population of over 40 per cent. over that of 1881.

Census.

VIRPUR.—4TH CLASS.

(Area 66·9 square miles ; population 7,306; revenue Rs. 40,150; tribute Rs. 4,114).

Virpur.

120. The Chief attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellecy the Governor.

Education of the Kunvars.

121. His 2 sons continue at the Rájkumár College and are reported on favorably by the Principal. They had the honour of being selected to serve as pages of His Excellency the Governor on the occasion of the special Darbár held for the investiture of His Highness the Náváb of Junágad with the Insignia of G.C.I.E.

Satisfactory management of the State.

122. The State is reported to be well managed by the present Chief and he shows himself exceedingly amenable to advice.

Revenue.

123. The revenues of the State amounted to Rupees 40,147 and the expenditure to Rupees 40,937.

Census.

124. The population according to the recent census shows an increase of 36 per cent. over that of 1881.

MÁLIA—4TH CLASS.

(Area 102·8 square miles; population 13,604 ; revenue Rs. 67,000 ; tribute Rs. 1,367).

Mália.

125. The Thákor attended the Darbár held by His Excellency the Governor in November last at Rájkot.

Relations between the Chief and his Kunvar.

126. Relations between the Chief and his Kunvar have been satisfactory.

Continuance of difficulty in detecting crimes due to dual Administration.

127. Since the arrival of the present Kárbhári and the appointment of the present Miána Magistrate Mr. Bezanji Rustamji, there has been little or no friction between the Darbár and the Agency: owing, however, to the dual administration, difficulty in detecting crime continues. The Miánás and the other Darbár subjects live side by side and this affords the Miánás easy means to dispose of stolen property in Darbár jurisdiction without fear of detection. The question of removing this evil of dual administration will be settled after the practicability or otherwise of the scheme for separation and exchange of Miána lands is decided upon.

Settlement of claims by the Superintendent of the Miánás.

128. Ráo Báhadur Pránjivan Vishvanáth, Superintendent of the Miánás, completed the work of settlement in April last. He disposed of 6,037 claims of the asserted value of Rupees six lacs but the aggregate of his awards amounted to a sum of one lac of Rupees only.

Appeals against the decisions of the Superintendent.

129. There were 759 appeals against his awards to the Pránt officer. All were cofirmed except 7. The Pránt officers had also to go through the rest of the awards as they required his confirmation before being carried out.

130. In consideration of his work in connection with this settlement and previous services in the Rájasthánik Court Mr. Prán-jivan Vishvanáth received the personal distinction of Ráo Bahádur in March last, and has since been appointed Manager of Vadia in Sorath.

Appreciation of Mr. Prán-jivan Vishvanáth's services.

131. The revenues of this State amounted to Rupees 67,000 and the expenditure to Rupees 61,000.

Revenue.

† The expenditure exceeds the revenue, owing to the Tálukdár having gone on pilgrimage to Benares during the year.

‡ Owing to a marriage that took place during the year.

* On account of a marriage that took place during the year.

133. The Gavridad Tálukdár went on a pilgrimage to Benares, the Táluka being managed during his absence by one of his Bháyáts.

Gavridad.

134. The Khirasra Tálukdár is on very bad terms with his son, who is said to have very bad associates and to be extravagant.

Khirasra.

135. The relations between the Tálukdárs of Lodhika are far from satisfactory and constant disputes keep cropping up between them.

Lodhika.

136. The police arrangements in these Tálukás are by no means satisfactory, and offenders are said to get shelter in several of their villages. The matter has engaged the special attention of the Pránt Officer and he promises a separate report on the subject.

Police arrangements.

GOHILVÁD PRÁNT.

(Area 4,208·4 square miles; population 6,75,375).

Personnel.

137. The following Officers were in charge of the Pránt during the year under report:—

Major Ferris—from 1st April to 9th August.

Mr. Sladen—10th August to 14th November and 15th to 27th March 1891.

Mr. Beaman—14th to 24th November.

Mr. Hill—25th November to 14th March 1891.

Mr. Sladen and Mr. Beaman held charge of Gohilvád in addition to their own duties.

BHÁVNAGAR—1ST CLASS.

(Area 2,860 square miles; population 4,63,795; revenue Rs. 33,98,500; tribute Rs. 1,54,499).

Bhávnagar.

138. His Highness Sir Takhtsingji attended the Darbár held at Rájkot in November last by His Excellency the Governor.

Appointment of an extra Councillor.

139. Mr. Dosábhái Frámji, C.S.I., was appointed an Extra Councillor in April 1890; but held the Judicial portfolio whilst Mr. M. M. Bhávnagari was engaged on special duty in connection with the defamation cases. Latterly he was appointed Finance Councillor; but is now again in charge of the Judicial Department during the absence of Mr. Bhávnagari in England. Dr. Barjorji acts for him meanwhile as Financial Councillor.

The Mahárájá's devotion to his duties in administering the State.

140. His Highness the Mahárája has remained steadily at his post and has continued to administer his State with zeal, wisdom and kindness.

The charges preferred against the Mahárája and his Councillors refuted and the offenders punished.

141. As stated in last year's report the gross charges preferred against His Highness and his Councillors were successfully refuted by the State and the Brahmchári and his accomplices were severely punished.

In referring to this matter at the time of meeting the Chiefs of Káthiáwár at the Railway Station in Rájkot in November last His Excellency the Governor spoke as follows, at which His Highness was much gratified:—

> "It is not inappropriate that I should refer to an event of public importance in which the Chief of Bhávnagar was primarily concerned but in which all men of public position must be interested. I take this opportunity of congratulating the Thákor Sáhib of Bhávnagar on his recognition of the public duty that rested on him of exposing the malicious and unfounded character of the attempt to blacken his good name, and decry the justice of his administration. His Highness in exposing to the contempt of all honest men this malignant attempt at defamation, has done a public service which cannot be without effect."

142. Bhávnagar is one of the best managed Native States in India and in further recognition of his excellent administration and public benefactions His Highness the Thákor Sáhib received the personal title of Mahárája during the year. The Sanad with the Kharita conveying it were delivered by me to His Highness, at Bhávnagar in public Darbár in March last.

The personal title of "Mahárája" conferred upon His Highness the Thákor Sáhib.

143. Kumár Shri Bhávsingji, the heir-apparent, is reported to be progressing most satisfactorily under his Tutor Mr. Fraser with whom he lately made a tour in Northern India with his companions at study.

Education of the heir-apparent.

144. Kumár Shri Mangalsingji, second son of His Highness, joined the Rájkumár College in November last. This has tended much to improve his health which had previously been very delicate and seems likely to do him good in many other ways.

Education of the second son.

145. His Highness' daughters still continue under the care of Miss Brooke. The marriages of these ladies are under arrangement but it is to be hoped that this need not entirely put a stop to their continuing to receive a useful education.

Education of His Highness' daughters.

146. On the birthday of Her Imperial Majesty the Queen Empress of India a sum of Rupees 75,805 was spent in charities to the poor. The birthday of His Highness the Mahárája himself was also marked by his usual charities. Arrears of revenue amounting to Rupees 24,611 were remitted; Rupees 7,000 were granted for deepening wells, Rupees 18,000 for building dwelling houses for people of the lowest caste, 5 scholarships were established in connection with schools at Bhávnagar, the Medical school at Ahmedábád, the School of Art and Victoria Jubilee Institute at Bombay, and finally a new Urdu school was opened.

Charities.

147 Unfortunately a disastrous fire broke out in the heart of the town of Bhávnagar in March last. It threatened to consume the Darbár but was checked in time, and the old palace happily escaped destruction. His Highness arrived on the spot as soon as he heard of it, and gave consolation to the sufferers. The total loss is estimated at 3 lacs. A committee was shortly after appointed to inquire into the losses and suggest measures of relief.

Breaking out of a great fire in the heart of the town.

148. The rainfall in some parts of the State was much below the average The revenue amounted to Rupees 31,96,471. A new revenue code and rules for land assessment are now in course of preparation.

Rainfall.

149. The coast plantations are in good condition. 500 grafted mangoes have been added to the plantation at Mahuva, and there are in all 4,44,240 trees.

Tree-plantations.

150. The jute cultivation has improved, and as a result of the abolition of the daily official rate of cotton alluded to in last year's report, the exporters have had larger direct dealings with cutivators and the quality of cotton is also consequently said to have improved.

Improvements in the cultivation of Jute and cotton

151. The value of exports and imports amounted to Rupees 1,95,77,119 and 84,35,551 against 1,50,62,992 and 1,04,53,989 the previous year, showing an increase of 30 per cent in exports and decrease of 24 per cent. in imports.

Exports and Imports.

152. The total expenditure under Public Works amounted to Rupees 7,02,202 against Rupees 6,50,000 in the previous year. The principal items being as follows:—

Public Works.

Communications	2,06,941
Buildings	2,51,832
Harbour works	1,53,561
Public recreation grounds	21,618
Water supply and sanitation...	7,320
Plant and stock	12,762

Construction of a building for the residence of the heir-apparent.

153. A residence costing over a lac of Rupees and called Nilambág intended for the use of the heir-apparent is under construction.

Railway-revenue.

154. The net revenue from the Railway amounted to Rupees 3,77,539 or 5·55 per cent. on the capital outlay.

Light-houses.

155. A new fifth order dioptric light for the entrance to the Bhávnagar creek has arrived and will be erected shortly. Improvements are also under contemplation in the Gopnáth and Mahuva Light-houses.

Horse-breeding.

156. Mr. J. H. B. Hallen, General Superintendent of Horse-breeding in India, visited the State Paddock in November last and made some valuable suggestions. He also selected two Arab stallions for the State of unusual size and beauty.

A graduate of the Bombay Veterinary College has been employed, and a separate farriery establishment sanctioned under the superintendence of a pensioned Farrier-Major of the 1st Lancers.

Out of the 13 exhibits sent to the Horse Show at Rájkot, 9 received prizes and a local Horse Show was held at Bhávnagar for the first time in March last when opportunity was taken by Mr. Sims to enlist the interest of the Girásiás in the matter of horse-breeding in a substantial way. The Darbár agreed to buy all good yearlings bred from selected stock by them at a fair price and also promised them the loan of two good stallions to start with. This appears likely to do more than anything else yet tried to encourage the local dealers and to increase the number of good horses in the country.

Education.

157. Mr. Jamsetji N. Unwála, M.A., and a fellow of the Bombay University, who was appointed Principal of the Sámaldás College in succession to Mr. Gunion, has fully maintained its reputation as will be perceived from the results of the University examinations shown below:—

The returns show an increase of 9 pupils in the High School, a decrease of 107 in Anglo-Vernacular Schools and an increase of 417 in the Vernacular Schools.

The number of pupils in the Anglo-Vernacular Girls School has increased to 19. This is under the superintendence of Miss Brooke, who continues to win the confidence and affection of her pupils.

Two new girls schools will shortly be opened at Dihor and Bhandária.

Medical. 158. The number of Dispensaries remain the same, but there was a decrease in the number of persons treated.

Cholera epidemic. 159. As usual fever was the disease most prevalent. Cholera of a virulent type appeared in Mahuva but was fortunately soon checked owing to the prompt sanitary measures taken.

Legislative enactments. 160. An amended Court Fees Act and a Public Conveyance Act have been passed this year and a draft Insolvent bill has been published for the information of the public.

A new Municipal Act, Cattle Trespass Act, Weights and Measures Act, and a Gambling Act are also under preparation.

Police and Judicial. 161. The Police Department has continued to work well under Mr. Sethna who is favourably reported on, and the Judicial Department is working satisfactorily.

A contribution towards the Imperial defence scheme. 162. An offer made by His Highness to maintain a cavalry corps of 300 men met with the acceptance of Government. Captain Forbes has lately been appointed Inspecting officer and all details will shortly be arranged.

Census. 163. The population according to the last census shows an increase of 15·8 per cent. over that of 1881 and like everything else certifies to the general prosperity of the State.

Pálitána—2nd Class.

(Area 288·8 square miles; population 60,848; revenue Rs. 4,75,000; tribute Rs. 10,364).

Pálitána. 164. In cosequence of a severe attack of rheumatism, the Thákor Sáhib was unable to attend the Darbár held at Rájkot by His Excellency the Governor in November last.

165. Mr. Chunilál Sárábhái continued to officiate as Kárbhári throughout the year and Captain Lyde endorses the favourable opinion formed of him by Major Ferris.

The Kárbhári.

166. The relations between the Thákor Sáhib and his brother Kunvar Shri Sámatsingji have not improved; the results of Mr. Fulton's enquiry into the matter of his claims and his sister's have so far been in favour of the State.

The relations between the two brothers.

167. An application for review of his decision submitted on behalf of Bái Shri Kesába was rejected by Government. Kunvar Shri Sámatsingji has submitted an appeal which is not yet decided. An attempt was made by me and Mr. Ollivant to settle these disputes amicably but failed.

Claims of Bái Shri Kesába and Kunvar Shri Sámatsingji.

168. Kunvari Shri Keshába, who formerly resided with her aunt at Dhrol, has been permitted at her own request to go to Bombay and live there with her brother Kunvar Shri Sámatsingji.

Kunvari Shri Keshába permitted to live with her brother Sámatsingji at Bombay.

169. As regards the finances of the State, during the year under report about ½ lac of Rupees have been paid towards the liquidation of the debt, and it is hoped that the balance will be paid off when the sum of nearly 5 lacs of Rupees will be received by the State out of the sum hitherto held in deposit on account of the claim of Kunvari Shri Keshába.

Finance.

170. One new school was opened, making in all 18 Vernacular schools and 1 Anglo-Vernacular School; of these 8 are private schools.

Education.

171 There is a Dispensary and Vaid Shála in the Pálitána town. Mr. Chhaganlál Gulábdás Káji, L. M. and S., who was formerly practising in Rájkot, has lately been appointed in charge of the former.

Medical.

172. Rupees 9,756 were spent on public works during the year.

Public Works.

173. Part of the Shetrunja Hill and the Hill near Rájthali have been reserved for forest plantation, the principal trees being Mangoes and Jámbudás. The total expenditure incurred in this department amounted to Rupees 4,249.

Plantations.

174. Two shocks of earthquake were felt at Pálitána—one in September 1890 and the other in February last.

Earthquake.

175. The population according to the last census shows an increase of 23·5 per cent. over the figures of 1881.

Census.

Vala—3rd Class.

(Area 109·3 square miles; population 17,842; revenue Rs. 1,30,000; tribute Rs. 9,202).

176. Thákor Vakhtsingji was suffering from guinea-worm and was consequently unable to attend the Darbár held by His Excellency the Governor at Rájkot in November last.

Vala.

Birth and subsequent death of a son.

177. A second son was born to the Thákor in June 1890 but died only 1½ month after birth.

Police.

178. The Thákor's brother Akherájji continues to be at the head of the Police and takes praiseworthy interest in them.

Rainfall.

179. The rainfall, though not much below the average, was not opportune and hence the crops suffered to some extent.

Assistance lent to cultivators

180. Cultivators in straitened circumstances were fully given assistance by the Darbár in both grain and cash. The total value of grains and cash thus advanced amounted to Rupees 3,851; very little business was consequently done by the Agricultural Bank.

Tree-plantation thriving well.

181. 1,346 new trees were replanted during the year, and of the total of 1,870 planted during the last two years 1,626 are in good condition.

Management of a Bháyáti Estate by the Darbár.

182. A new school has been opened at Kánpur, a Bháyáti village, and in consequence of the death of the Bháyát leaving behind him a minor son, his estate has been placed under management by the Darbár and the young Kunvar has been sent to the Tálukdári Girásia School at Wadhwán.

Public Works.

183. The total expenditure under public works amounted to Rupees 21,556, of which Rupees 17,468 were spent on Darbári buildings; Rupees 867 in sinking wells, Rupees 400 in throwing a dam across the river Utávli; the balance on repair of roads, &c.

A donation of Rs. 5,000 towards the Endowment Fund of the Rájkumár College.

In addition to all this the Thákor has since made a princely donation of Rupees 5,000 towards the Endowment Fund of the Rájkumár College for which he has obtained the acknowledgments of Government.

Census.

184. The census returns show an increase of nearly 5 per cent. only in population in comparison with the figures of 1881.

Jasdan—3rd Class.

(Area 283 square miles; population 35,057; revenue Rs. 1,30,000; tribute Rs. 10,993).

Jasdan-family feuds.

185. This is not a happy family and there are feuds of long standing between the father and his elder son.

Kunvar Mánsur Kháchar's illness.

186. Kunvar Mánsur Kháchar who went to England in 1888 for the benefits of education returned in August last. He was suffering from an affection of the lungs, and the Doctors did not consider it advisable that he should stay in Europe through another winter. He arrived in Bombay dangerously ill and the Chief, Kháchar Ala Chela, was consequently detained there and could not attend the Darbár held by His Excellency the Governor at Rájkot in November last.

187. Rupees 13,680 were expended on public works during the year. Of this amount more than half appear to have been spent on Darbári buildings, Rupees 3,240 were spent in additions to a school building, in constructing a dam near Jasdan, and in improving an irrigational canal.

Public Works.

188. The result of the last census shows an increase of nearly 21 per cent. in population over the figures of 1881.

Census.

CHAPTER II.

Wards and Managed Estates.

JHÁLÁVÁD PRÁNT.

VÁNKÁNER—2ND CLASS.

(Area 414·5 square miles; population 39,068; revenue Rs. 2,91,356; tribute Rs. 18,879).

189. This State has been under Government management on account of the minority of the Chief since 13th June 1881. Mr. Ganpatráo N. Laud has been in charge since 1885, and the Pránt Officer reports favourably of his administration.

Vánkáner.

190. Since the revenue survey was begun in 1889, 41 villages have been measured. The cost is partly defrayed by the cultivators who contribute one anna per Bigha and supply chain and flagmen.

Revenue Survey.

191. During the past year 537 Bighás of waste have been reclaimed and 3,340 Bighás brought under cultivation, 8 new wells have been also dug.

Lands reclaimed and wells dug for agricultural purposes.

192. The young Chief continues his studies at the Rájkumár College and is favourably reported on by the Principal.

Education of the young Chief.

193. Three of the Bháyats are being educated at the Tálukdári Girásia School, at Wadhwán. A new school-house is under construction at the capital for the accommodation of the Anglo-Vernacular, the Gujaráti and the Urdu schools.

Education.

194. Rupees 38,750 were expended on public works during the year including Rupees 10,000 on account of the above mentioned school building and Rupees 14,926 on other State buildings. The balance was spent on wells, roads and Dispensaries.

Public Works.

195. Attention continues to be paid to Horse-breeding. 103 mares of which 83 belonged to private individuals were covered by the Norfolk Trotter and the 2 Arab stallions. Mr. Laud calculates that it costs Rupees 256 to rear a colt 3 years old. It ought then to realize a little more and thus render the paddock a profitable concern.

Horse-breeding.

196. The population shows an increase of 27 per cent. by the recent census over that of 1881.

Population.

Rájpur—6th Class.

(Area 22·8 square miles; population 2208; revenue Rs. 46,657; tribute Rs. 2,598).

Rájpur.

197. The minor Tálukdár was married during the year but continues his studies at the Tálukdári Girásia School and is favourably reported on by the Head Master.

Population.

198. The population shows an increase of 31·9 per cent. by the recent census over that of 1881.

Páliád (Chomla Kháchar's Estate)—6th Class.

Attachment removed.

199. The attachment has been removed from the above estate as the proprietors undertook to pay off the debt more rapidly than was being done under the management and furnished good security for the fulfilment of these promises.

Jhinjhuváda.

(Area 164·6 square miles; population 15,662, revenue Rs. 1,08,404; tribute Rs. 11,073-8-0).

Jhinjhuváda: The Estate as a whole free from debt.

200. The loan borrowed from Morvi having been paid off during the year, the estate as a whole is free from debt and a special report was submitted to Government under No. 423 dated 21st May 1891, in which it was proposed to remove the management over the Meláni shareholders' Girás but to continue that of the Rásáni shareholders, a majority of whom are indebted to the other solvent Bhágdárs. This proposal has since been sanctioned and will come into force shortly.

Revenue.

201. During the 17 years of its management, the revenue of the estate has been raised from Rupees 60,000 to Rupees 1,50,000.

Police.

202. The Police in this Táluka has been placed under the superintendence of the Agency Police as an experimental measure, and the contribution to the Dasáda Thána Fund has been discontinued.

Other petty estates under management.

203. The particulars regarding other petty estates under management either through indebtedness or minority are given in Appendix VI (7).

SORATH PRÁNT.

Porbandar—1st Class.

(Area 636·5 square miles; population 85,785; revenue Rs. 4,75,000; tribute Rs. 48,504).

Personnel.

204. Mr. S. P. Pandit was in charge of the State throughout the year. His report on the annual administration is appended.

Revenue survey, Mhers and old accounts.

205. The special works connected with the Revenue survey, the settlement of the Mhers disputes and the settling of the old customs accounts were pushed on during the year.

206. The rainfall during the year was about 14 inches, the average being 20. The season was therefore unfavorable and yet the price of grain and cotton did not rise. The revenue will therefore fall short of the estimate.

Season.

The classification of the land for the purposes of assessment has been left over until the completion of the survey. Advantage has, however, been taken of the survey operations to re-assess the Vero according to the actual areas under cultivation.

207. The construction of a branch line of railway from the Ránáváv Station to the stone quarries for encouraging the trade in stone and the erection of a Jetty in the harbour are under contemplation. Mr. Graham Lynn of the Bombay Port Trust was invited to inspect the harbour and to report on the feasibility of improvements. His report on the subject is under consideration.

Project of a branch Railway to stone quarries and of harbour improvements.

208. The services of Mr. J. R. Sandford, the State Engineer, also those of Mr. O'shea, tutor to Kunvar Bhávsingji, and of Miss Beaumont, lady companion to his wife, were dispensed with during the year. Mr. J. J. B. Benson has been appointed State Engineer in place of Mr. Sandford and he has also undertaken the duties of tutor and companion to Kunvar Bhávsingji.

Changes in officers.

209. The attitude of His Highness the Rána towards the administration has been friendly throughout the year but it is to be regretted that the relations between him and Bhávsingji, his grandson and heir-apparent, are still far from cordial.

Relations with the Rána.

210. Certain irregularities were discovered by Mr. Pandit in the public works department during the year and several subordinates were accused of giving false certificates for payment to contractors. Some of the contractors were also accused of fraudulently obtaining money for work not done. On the other hand the contractors complained of short payments. As the Administrator had taken a leading part in making enquiries connected with these complaints, sanction was given for the claims against the State being filed in the Court of the Judicial Assistant.

Irregularities in Public Works detected.

211. The prosecution of the criminal charges against the subordinates and contractors has completely failed. The magisterial enquiries were conducted by Mr. Sladen, Assistant Political Agent, Sorath Pránt, and he committed Mr. Viveross for trial by the Court of Sessions in three cases. He was, however, acquitted by that Court, and the parties have since agreed to a settlement of their principal civil claims against the State by arbitration.

Criminal and civil cases arising from the irrigularities.

212. The figures of the last census show an increase in population of 19·7 per cent. over those of 1881.

Census.

MÁNÁVADAR—3RD CLASS.

(Area 90 square miles ; population 16,006 ; revenue Rs. 2,51,332 ; tribute Rs. 14,821).

Mánávadar.

213. The two Chiefs of this Táluka are minors. The elder Khán Shri Fatehdin Khánji is 5 years of age and the younger Kamáludin Khánji is 2 years and 4½ months of age. Mr. Prabháshankar Dalpatrám continued in charge of the State throughout the year.

Revenue.

214. The total revenue amounted to Rupees 2,51,332 and the expenditure to Rupees 1,49,490. Out of the surplus Rs. 50,000 will be invested in Government Securities which will increase the invested balance to a lac and a half.

Public Works.

215. The total amount spent on public works was Rupees 25,655.

Rainfall and crops.

216. The rainfall during the year was only 12·29 inches. This was very insufficient and fell unfavourably for the cotton and Juwári crops, the yield being only annas 5 and 3 respectively in the rupee.

Population.

217. The population according to the new census shows an increase of 10 per cent. in comparison with the results of 1881.

VADIA—5TH CLASS.

(Area 45 square miles : population 5,787 : revenue Rs. 77,432 : tribute Rs. 3,898).

Vadia.

Personnel.

218. Ázam Báwa Mia held the post of Manager till the end of December last. Since the close of the year Ráo Bahádur Pránjivan Vishvanáth has been appointed Manager. During the interval the Nyáyádhish was in temporary charge.

The young Chief.

219. The minor Chief Ázam Wála Báva Jivna is 17 years of age and continues to study at the Rájkumár College where he is exceedingly well reported on.

Financial condition.

220. The total receipts and expenditure amounted to Rupees 77,432 and 64,342 respectively. A sum of Rupees 15,000 was invested in Government Securities, making a total of Rupees 79,500 of invested balance.

Public Works.

221. The expenditure under public works amounted to Rupees 13,289.

ESTATE OF WÁLÁS HIPA AND BHÁYA NATHU OF SANÁLA—6TH CLASS.

Sanála under Jetpur : death of the Tálukdár.

222. Wála Nathu Chámpráj died on 7th June 1890, leaving two minor sons Hipa and Bháya, aged 17 and 10 respectively. Both these Kumárs have joined the Rájkumár College during the year.

223. The Managers of Vadia tand Chital were ordered to secure all the property of the deceased Tálukdár. They performed this task with promptitude and a large cash balance of Rupees 1,62,304 was found, of which Rupees 93,336 had been concealed under ground. Rupees 1,50,000 have been invested in Government Securities.

Financial condition.

The management has since been entrusted to Ázam Rámnáráyan Trimbaklál, the Manager of Chital, and several measures are in progress to improve and open out the State.

ESTATE OF WÁLA GIGA VÁLERA OF BAGASRA—6TH CLASS.

(Area 34 square miles; population 6,202; revenue Rs. 42,773; tribute Rs. 1,366).

224. Wála Giga Válera is now 18 years of age and still remains at the Rájkumár College where he is much liked and well spoken of.

Bagasra : Wála Giga Válerá's estate.

His health has improved but he has still had to visit Bombay for some time for medical advice.

225. The total receipts and expenditure during the year amounted to Rupees 42,774 and 36,927 respectively. The expenditure includes Rupees 5,923 on account of public works and Rupees 11,160 on account of the College and other expenses of the Kumár.

Financial condition.

ESTATE OF WÁLÁS UNAD, VÁLERA AND GIGA RÁNA OF JETPUR—6TH CLASS.

(Area 20 square miles; population 841; revenue Rs. 16,695; tribute Rs. 649-13-8¼).

226. The three minor Tálukdárs attend the Vernacular boys school at Chital. They are aged 9, 7, and 5 years respectively.

Chital under Jetpur.

227. The total receipts of the estate amounted to Rupees 16,696 and the expenditure to Rupees 17,439, of which Rupees 2,857 were paid towards the liquidation of the debt incurred by the late Tálukdár.

Revenue and expenditure.

HÁLÁR PRÁNT.

RÁJKOT—2ND CLASS.

(Area 282·14 square miles; population 50,103; revenue Rs. 2,64,309; tribute Rs. 21,321).

228. The late Thákor Sáhib Báwáji died on 16th April 1890 leaving behind him two minor sons and two daughters. The heir-apparent Kunvar Lákháji is 5 years of age and is living at Dharampor with his grandmother. Mr. Motichand Tulsi, the State Kárbhári, has continued in charge of the State and is favourably reported on by the Pránt officer under whose immediate superintendence he carries on the administration.

Rájkot: Death of the Thákor Sáhib and management of his State by a Government Manager.

229. The claim of Bái Shri Wághelibái, step-mother of the late Thákor Sáhib, was settled during the year, and it is hoped that the disputes with her son, Ladhubha, will also be brought to a satisfactory termination before long.

Settlement of claim of Bái Shri Wághelibái.

230. Steps are being taken to extend the Vighoti system in place of the system of payments in kind. Two new plantations have been started.

Vighoti system.

231. The rainfall was very scanty, the crops suffered in consequence and in some parts there was great want of drinking water.

Rainfall.

232. One of the most pressing wants of the Rájkot town which has a population of 22,000 souls, is good drinking water. The river on which a large portion of them depend for water is dry for nearly 6 months in the year and the town being situated just above it, all the drainage runs into it. A scheme for supplying the town with water from the Lálpuri river and for irrigating the surrounding country is now under consideration, but a number of experiments and much professional consideration will be necessary before it is finally embarked upon.

Scarcity of water. A scheme to supply water from the Lálpuri river under consideration.

233. The revenues of the State amounted to Rupees 2,64,309 and the expenditure to Rupees 2,42,514 which includes the unusual charges consequent on the death of the Thákor Sáhib and one of his wives. Arrangements have been made for investing a lac of Rupees in Government Securities out of the cash balance in hand.

Revenue.

234. Rupees 12,032 were spent during the year on public works. This includes Rupees 2,925 on account of a road leading to the Morvi Railway Station. No other works of any importance were completed, but a new building for the Girls school to be called after the late Thákor Sáhib is in course of construction. Certain alterations and additions within the Darbár wall have also been commenced, and plans and estimates for a new Jail building are under consideration.

Public Works.

235. All these works are now placed under the supervision and superintendence of Mr. Booth, the Agency Engineer, who receives a fixed allowance instead of being permitted to charge fees.

Supervision of the Agency Engineer.

236. The State has contributed Rupees 2,500 towards the cost of a survey for the proposed extension of a line from Jetalsar to Rájkot.

Jetalsar-Rájkot Survey.

237. A new Dispensary has been started in Rájkot town. There is also a Municipality in Rájkot, the income of which amounted to Rupees 32,115 and the expenditure to Rupees 25,550 on account of repairs and lighting of roads, maintenance of the town police, schools and Dispensary and keeping up a conservancy establishment.

Miscellaneous.

238. The mounted and foot Police are being trained to the use of arms and it is hoped that they will in time prove a useful body of men. Some of the men who were found incapable on account of old age, &c., were discharged with gratuities and are now being replaced by a better class of men.

Police.

239. By the last census the population shows an increase of 25 per cent. over that of 1881.

Census.

KOTDA-SÁNGÁNI—4TH CLASS.

(Area 74·4 square miles; population 10,240; revenue Rs. 1,08,690; tribute Rs. 11,616).

Kotda-Sángáni: The young Chief's education and marriage.

240. The young Chief who is 18 years of age still continues at the Rájkumár College and will be married in November next to a daughter of the Chuda Bháyát.

Revenue.

241. The revenue of the State amounted to Rupees 1,08,686 and the expenditure to Rs. 1,08,095-15-6.

Liquidation of the debt.

242. The debt to Morvi is being liquidated by an annual payment of Rupees 22,125 and the balance now due is Rs. 84,811.

Public Works.

243. Rupees 7,892 were spent during the last year on public works, but none of the works were of any great importance. It is proposed to build a bridge over the river Váchhakpari on the Rájkot road when funds become available.

The population according to the recent census shows an increase of over 18 per cent. in comparison with the figures of 1881.

MENGNI—5TH CLASS.

(Area 34·5 square miles; population 4,415; revenue Rs. 32,790; tribute Rs 3,412).

Megni.

244. This Táluka has continued under the management of Mr. Kálidás Ravidat.

Family dissensions.

245. The relations between the Tálukdár and his son and other members of his family do not improve. At one time they appeared to have settled their differences and wished for the removal of the management, arrangement being made for regularly paying the instalments towards the liquidation of the debt. But there has again been disagreement and the Kunvar and others are much opposed to a change in the administration.

Revenue.

246. The revenues of the Táluka amounted to Rs. 32,790 and the expenditure including Rs. 12,000 paid towards the liquidation of the debt, to Rs. 32,582.

Education of two younger Kunvars.

247. Two younger Kunvars are at the Wadhwán Tálukdári Girásia School and are reported to be making fair progress. One Kunvar who left the school during the year appeared to be intelligent and has a fairly good knowledge of English the manager has therefore been asked to allow him to attend his office daily and initiate him in the work of the Táluka.

Census.

248. The figures of the recent census shows an increase of 28 per cent. in population over those of 1881.

GOHILVÁD.

LÁTHI—4TH CLASS.

(Area 41·8 square miles; population 8,282; revenue Rs. 1,17,726; tribute Rs. 2,007).

Láthi: Education of the young Chief.

249. The young Chief continues to get on well and contentedly at the Rájkumár College. He is physically stronger than he was a year ago and his eyes are better; one of his wives, the Ruha lady, gave birth to a daughter in August last and to a son in the April following.

His younger brother.

250. The Chief's brother Vajesingji continues at the Rájkumár College.

The Manager.

251. Mr. Ásharám Dalichand remained as Manager throughout the year and the Pránt Officer has formed a good opinion of his abilities.

Finance.

Public Works.

252. The revenues and expenditure of the year amounted to Rupees 1,17,726 and Rupees 1,22,954 respectively; of this Rupees 10,406 were expended on public works. Rupees 1,259 were spent in building new wells and repairing old ones.

Education.

253. A new girls school has been recently started and placed under a Mistress from the Barton Female Training College here.

Tree-plantations.

254. A large number of Bábul trees were planted, but many of them died for want of water. A cocoa plantation has also been made and a good number of these trees seem to be thriving.

Census.

255. The result of the recent census shows an increase of 21·7 per cent. in population over that of 1881.

ESTATE OF WÁLA DEVA RUKHAD OF KOTDÁ-PITHA.

Estate of Wála Deva Rukhad.

256. This estate is under management both on account of minority and indebtedness. Claims to the amount of Rupees 18,528 were preferred against it, and the settlement amounted to Rupees 6,694.

CHAPTER III—Protection.

Working of the States Police.

257. The following table shows the working of the State Police in the four Pránts. As compared with last year there is a decrease both in the number of accused arrested and the value of property stolen. The percentage of accused convicted to arrested and value of property recovered to stolen, is almost the same.

States and Tálukás.	No. of accused arrested.	No. of accused convicted.	Percentage convicted of accused arrested	Amount of property stolen.	Amount of property recovered.	Percentage recovered.
Jhálávád	1,512	797	52·71	34,678 4 9	12,108 7 10	34·92
Sorath	3,004	1,593	53·03	59,933 11 2	31,738 8 7	52·95
Hálár	3,965	2,133	53·80	93,884 8 10	31,367 14 8	33·41
Gohilvád	1,804	1,038	57·54	17,826 1 7½	8,979 1 2	50·37

Proportion of Police to the population.

258. The proportion of Police to the population in each District exclusive of village police is given below. It shows a slight decrease and the proportion of police to population is 1 to 383 as compared with 1 to 288 last year. The recent census shows an incrase in population of about 6 lákhs and a half which accounts for this. The proportion of the Agency Police force to area and population is one policeman to 2 square miles and 293 souls.

States and Tálukás.	Total strength of Police.	Total population.	Proportion of Police to population.
Jhálávád	1,240	4,68,199	1 to 378
Sorath	1,456	7,84,240	1 to 539
Hálár	2,085	8,22,875	1 to 395

Total.....	7,185	27,50,689	1 to 383

Agency Police.

Personnel of Officers.

259. Mr. Mackay has held charge of the office of the Superintendent of the Agency Police throughout the year.

Cognizable cases.

260. There were 606 cognizable offences reported to the Police as compared with 815 in the previous year. 851 persons were arrested, of whom 806 were sent up for trial and 452 were convicted against 1,282 arrested, 1,149 sent up for trial and 605 convicted last year. This gives a percentage of 53·11 of convictions to arrests and

56·07 to accused sent for trial against 47·19 and 52·65 respectively in the previous year. The result of the working of the police thus shows an improvement under both heads. This is due partly to the fact that the country is now pretty well rid, so far as the Thána Circles are concerned, of the notorious criminals who used to plunder the country side, and partly to the development of a better and more regular police system.

Statistics of crime.

261. In the statistics of crime the Jhálávád Pránt continues to preponderate. The number of offences reported has however decreased from 429 in 1888-89 and 346 in 1889-90 to 265 in 1890-91 and this shows a continuous improvement. There is an improvement also in the percentage of convictions. Hálár comes next and then Gohilvád. In both of these there is a decrease in crime and increase in the percentage of convictions. Sorath is the last in this order where only 49 offences were reported during the year, but the result of the trials was not successful, there being a decrease in convictions both as to arrests and those sent up for trial.

Property stolen and recovered

262. The value of property stolen amounted to Rupees 16,486 as compared with Rupees 23,344 in the previous year. The recoveries amounted to Rupees 9,790, giving a percentage of 59·68 as compared with Rupees 14,571 with a percentage of 62·41 the last year. Though this does not show improvement in results over those of the previous year, they compare favourably with the average of the past 3 years as will be perceived from the following table :—

Years.	Amount stolen.	Amount recovered.	Percentage recovered.
1887-88	Rs. 24,118	Rs. 10,699	44·35
1888-89	„ 15,834	„ 7,886	49·93
1889-90	„ 23,344	„ 14,571	62·91
1890-91	„ 16,486	„ 9,790	59·38

Violent crime.

263. With regard to violent crime 2 dacoities and 9 robberies occurred and property valued at Rupees 1,828 was carried away, against 2 dacoits, 19 robberies and property worth Rupees 1,003 stolen in the previous year. The large decrease in the number of robberies is very satisfactory. No persons were killed, only 3 were wounded and no hostages carried away. As far as can be ascertained 36 persons were concerned in the commission of these offences, of whom 18 were captured, 5 convicted and 13 discharged or acquitted, leaving 18 still at large.

Proportion of cognizable and non-cognizable crime to area and population.

264. The following statement gives the number of cognizable and non-cognizable offences reported together with their proportion to area and population of each Pránt in contrast with last year. It shows a decrease in the number of non-cognizable offences also. The population is taken at the figures of the census of 1881. According to the results of the recent census there being an increase in population, the proportion of crime to it will be more favourable as compared with these figures :—

265. 7 cases were committed to the Court of Sessions implicating 17 accused persons. The trial in 2 cases resulted in convictions and 4 in acquittals, one case remained pending at the end of the year. Of the accused tried 5 were convicted and 7 acquitted. One died during trial and 4 remained untried. This case was finally tried in April and resulted in conviction.

Cases committed to the Sessions Court.

266. The following statement shows the number of more serious offences committed during the year in the Thána Circles and the results obtained by police action. It shows a decrease in the number of offences under all heads except kidnapping and an increase in the number of conviction. The percentage of cases ending in convictions to cases decided being 70 against 66·84, and in the number of persons convicted to those arrested being 57·03 against 54·69 the previous year.

267. Of the 5 murders reported 3 were detected, one was under enquiry, and one was undetected. Two of these appear to have been committed through motives of jealousy, one for gain, one through hatred, and one over a gambling quarrel. The only case which calls for special notice is the Mália case in which the wife of Petha Jám, one of the leaders of the Miánás, and another woman were killed by Mahomed Jánu and another at the supposed instigation of Pethá's son by another wife. The murderers were convicted but the supposed instigators escaped for want of sufficient evidence against them.

270. Rules for the better management and supervision of the village police in Thána Circles, which were under consideration, have, at the close of the year, received the sanction of Government and been published in the Agency Gazette.

Rules regarding better arrangement and supervision of the village police.

271. The arrangement for the supervision of bad characters noted in para. 145 of last year's report, continues in force.

Supervision of bad characters.

272. The Miánás as a class have behaved fairly well but Juma Gand (who escaped from the custody of the Cutch Police) and his brothers gave a considerable deal of trouble in the early part of 1891. Four loots were committed in the space of 25 days, not far from Rájkot, in the limits of the Rájkot State, Dhrol, and some minor jurisdictional Tálukdárs and as they appeared unable to cope with the gang, the Agency Police were sent to assist them. Preventive measures were taken and since then no outrage has occurred. The Morvi State Police rendered valuable assistance and succeeded in arresting Juma, the leader of the band, who was made over to the Agency Police with the stolen property that was seized with him.

Robberies and Dacoities.

273. The amount expended on Police buildings during the year was Rupees 19,648. Further provision for a sum of Rupees 20,000 has been made in the budget for the current year.

Expenditure on Police buildings.

B.-G.-J.-P. Railway Police.

274. Mr. Dosábhái Nasarwánji continued in charge of the police throughout the year. The sanctioned strength of the force was 13 officers and 74 men, and the cost Rupees 16,588 against 21 officers and 100 men the previous year. The decrease is owing to the duties of the "Watch and Ward" being separated and placed under the charge of the Railway Administration.

The sanctioned strength of the Police.

275. 130 persons were arrested excluding 14 transferred to other Districts. Of these 94 were convicted, 33 acquitted or discharged and 3 were pending trial at the close of the year. The percentage of convictions rose from 57 last to 72 this year.

Persons arrested, convicted and discharged.

276. The value of property stolen was Rupees 2,162, of which Rupees 860 worth or 39 per cent. was recovered against 19 per cent. last year.

Property stolen and recovered.

277. Five serious accidents occurred during the year in which 5 men were killed and twelve cattle were knocked down or run over by trains. The want of fencing and gates is very urgent.

Serious accidents.

Morvi Railway Police.

278. This police was placed under the control of the Superintendent of the Agency Police from 15th September last. The strength of the force was 34 with a cost of Rupees 4,541. The place of Inspector has been abolished.

Morvi Railway Police placed under the control of Agency Police.

20 persons were arrested and sent up for trial, of whom 14 were convicted, giving a percentage of 70.

Persons arrested and convicted.

Of Rupees 369 worth of property stolen Rupees 117 or 31·7 per cent. was recovered.

Property stolen and recovered.

279. Proposals for the amalgamation of the Railway Police with the Agency Police are under consideration and when effected "Law and Order" will be separated from "Watch and Ward" both of which duties are now performed by the police.

Amalgamation of the Railway Police with the Agency Police under consideration.

Executive work of Agency Courts.

280. Two Courts were abolished during the year under report, viz: those of the Wadhwán Station Officer, and of the Kámdár of Chomla Kháchar of Páliyád on account of the removal of this estate from management. The duties of the former were amalgamated with the Court of the Wadhwán District Thánahdár (Government Resolution No. 1256, dated 24th Febrnary 1891) and of the latter with the Thánadár of Páliyád. The permanent and temporary Courts are thus reduced to 31 as follows:—

Courts.

1 Political Agent's Court including that of the Judicial Assistant.
4 Assistant Political Agent's Courts.
4 Deputy do.
1 Bántva Nyáyádhish.
1 Railway Magistrate.
16 Thánadárs.

Temporary.

1 Jhinjhuváda Kámdár.
1 Dedán Thánahdár.
1 Mengni Manager.
1 Kámdár of Rájpur.

281. The usual detailed statements of judicial work performed by the Agency Courts are attached to this report as appendices Nos. XVII and XVIII, and the following abridged return will show at a glance the work performed both original and appellate.

The total number of cases disposed of aggregates 50,684 against 49,291 last year; there was a decrease of 238 in the number of original criminal cases and an increase of 1,637 in the number of miscellaneous cases. On the whole there was a net increase of 1,393.

The number of civil suits filed during the year amounted to 3,627 of the estimated value of Rupees 6,29,864 against 3,854 with the estimated value of Rupees 8,19,860.

The Judicial Assistant in his annual tour examined the records of 13 of the subordinate Courts. On the whole the work done in those Courts was fairly satisfactory. The Judicial Assistant was not able to examine more Courts as he was occupied for about 6 weeks of the touring season in enquiry into the Nal-Báwli boundary disputes between Limdi and the Zilla of Ahmedábád.

The Judicial Assistant disposed of 101 civil and 21 political appeals against 65 the previous year showing an increase of 57 on the whole.

Limitation law.

282. A new law of limitation has been sanctioned by Government and published in the Bombay Government and the Káthiáwár Agency Gazettes. It will come into force from 1st August next.

Execution of decrees.

283. The number of applications for execution of decrees was 2,848 against 3,169 last year and it is satisfactory to note that the number remaining undisposed of was reduced from 1,447 to 1,118.

Comparative statement of Judicial work.

284. Subjoined is the return required by Government of the number of civil, political, and criminal cases disposed of by the Agency Courts during the past 10 years.

Registration.

286. The following statement shows that 507 documents aggregating in value Rupees 5,68,800 were registered during the year as against 584 aggregating Rupees 8,65,625 last year, showing a decrease both in the number and value. The total fees realized were Rupees 7,489 against Rupees 7,665 in the previous year:—

287. The number of Sessions' cases tried during the year by the Chief Court of Criminal Justice was 32 against 63 the previous year, showing a large decrease of 31. This decrease is mainly due to a large number of dacoity cases which ordinarily would have been tried by the Courts of Junágad, Navánagar and Gondal States being disposed of last year by the Judicial Assistant under special arrangement alluded to in the reports for 1888-89 and 1889-90. There is also a decrease in the number of cases committed from Jhálávád and Hálár Pránts.

Sessions' cases.

Of 32 cases disposed of 12 were murder cases, 3 culpable homicide not amounting to murder, 3 dacoity, 1 robbery, two grievous hurt, 3 rape, 4 mischief by fire, and 4 miscellaneous.

The cases were committed from the following Districts :—

	1889-90.	1890-91.

Courts of Jurisdictional States.

288. A comparative table giving the number and value of civil cases (original and appeal) decided in all the jurisdictional States of Káthiáwár in this and last year is given below :—

Statistical account of work of states civil court.

Courts.	1889-90.				1890-91.
	Cases.	Value.			Cases.	Value.
1st Class.....	25,863	43,37,709	11	10	24,997	28,74,223	10	9
2nd do.	4,871	3,42,642	8	7	4,069	3,08,865	12	9

Total.....	34,156	49,60,077	0	9	32,355	34,51,971	8	2

It shows a decrease both in number and value over last year, but in comparison with the figures of 1888-89 they show an increase under both heads. In original cases disposed of Junágad, Morvi, Pálitána, Vala and Mália show an increase, whereas Limdi, Wadhwán, Porbandar, Navánagar, Gondal and Bhávnagar show a decrease as compared with last year. The total number has decreased from 32,707 to 30,647. The number outstanding has however fallen from 6,157 to 5,889 because of a corresponding decrease in the number of cases filed from 33,374 to 30,379. In appeals Dhrángadhra, Junágad, Porbandar and Bhávnagar show better results as to number disposed of, while Navánagar shows a decrease. On the whole there were 555 cases on file at the end of last year, 1,607 new cases were filed against 1,418 last year, 1,561 cases disposed of against 1,362 and there thus remained 601 outstanding at the end of the year.

Statistical account of criminal work of States' Courts.

289. The following is a return showing the statistics of criminal trials held by the States Courts of Class I to VII including those under management, viz., Porbandar, Vánkáner, &c.:—

Class.	No. of offences.	No. of cases.	No. of persons convicted.	No. of persons discharged.	Total No. of persons tried.
1st Class	11,757	9,425	6,807	8,946	15,753

7th do.	10	10	14	11	25
Total.....	15,244	12,203	9,158	11,795	20,953

It shows a decrease under all heads. But there is a decrease also in the percentage of convictions to those sent up for trial from 49·08 to 43·71 as compared with the last year.

Statistical account of opium smuggling.

290. The following gives the number of opium smuggling cases disposed of by the Agency and jurisdictional State Courts:—

Total	30	40	3	35	1	$72\frac{3}{8}$	26	14

This shows an increase in the number of cases as also in the number of persons concerned and the quantity of opium seized. The percentage of convictions was 65 against 64·7 last year.

RÁJASTHÁNIK COURT.

Rájasthánik Court; personnel.

291. Colonel Hunter was in charge of the office of President, Rájasthánik Court, up to 20th May 1890, when I resumed charge of the office on return from furlough and continued in charge till the end of the year.

Major Fenton held charge of the Survey Office from 1st April to 20th May when he was relieved by Colonel Hunter, who continued in charge up to 18th December 1890, on which date Major Fenton again entered upon those duties.

Working of the Court.

292. 177 regular cases were disposed of and 8,252 miscellaneous orders passed during the year against 221 regular cases and 7,492 miscellaneous orders in the year previous. This shows a general increase of work done although there has been a decrease in the number of regular cases owing to the Courts taking vacation and the Darbars not sending representatives for some time both before and after the visit of His Excellency the Governor to Rájkot.

The work of the Court during the year is thus summarized :—

Suits entertained	173
Cases heard and disposed of.....	177
Balance on file	357

Besides the above 163 cases are now pending before the State Courts, and about 50 more cases are expected from the Thánás.

Appeals to Government.

293. There have been 64 appeals to Government against 67 last year. The decisions in 3 were reversed, 3 remanded for fresh decision, and in one amended.

PRISONS.

Prisons.

294. The total number of prisons in the Province is 157 against 152 last year. Appendix No. XIII to this report shows the details of these, which are as follows :—

1 Agency Jail, Rájkot.
3 Station lock-ups in the Civil Stations of Wadhwán, Jetalsar and Songad.
18 Lock-ups in the Thána Circles.
135 Jails and lock-ups in the different States and Tálukás.

There was an increase of 4 in Navánagar, 1 in Wadhwán, 1 in Dedán, and 1 in minor Tálukas of Hálár, and a decrease of 1 in Sáela and 1 in Káthrota, showing a net increase of 5.

Prisoners.

295. The number of prisoners at the end of last year was 1,845 to which 8,622 were added during the year, making a total of 10,467 against 12,379 in the previous year. The daily average was 1,514 against 1,767, and the number remaining at the end of the year was 1,689 against 1,845. The total cost of Jails and prisoners was Rupees 1,36,689 against Rupees 1,46,537 or Rupees 9,848 less than last year.

New building for the Wadhwán Station lock-up.

296. The construction of the new building for the Wadhwán Station lock-up is in progress and now approaching completion.

297. The Agency Jail at Rájkot is under the superintendence of the Medical Officer in charge of the Agency and the following are the statistics of this Jail :—

Agency Jail at Rájkot.

Prisoners remaining in the jail at the end of 1889-90 ...	62
Do. admitted during year 1890-91	199
Total	261
Do. released, died and transferred during the year	197
Number remaining at the end of 1890-91	64
The daily average attendance was	57
The total cost of Jail and prisoners	5,813

Compared with the preceding year the total cost shows a decrease of Rupees 370 and the cost per head was Rupees 102 against Rupees 103 last year.

The Jail garden realized a profit of Rupees 261. This added to the nominal value of vegetables supplied to prisoners from the Jail garden, viz., Rupees 194, makes the total profit Rupees 455 against Rupees 492 last year.

The construction of a new commodious building for this Jail is now under consideration.

CHAPTER IV—Production and Distribution.

298. The rainfall this year was again unequal throughout the province and in all Prants below the average so that the crops suffered more or less. The greatest scarcity was felt in Jhálávád, where the average fall amounted to 12·23 inches only, whereas in Muli, parts of Wadhwán, Sáela and some of the Thána villages the crops failed entirely. No great distress, however, was apparent owing to there being a sufficiency of labour, and the amount of grain imported by railways kept the prices normal. Scarcity of drinking water was severely felt however in many parts of Jhálávád.

Rainfall.

299. The average yield of the early or Ágtar crops in this Prant came to 6 annas and of the Páchhtar or late crops 8 annas in the rupee. In Gohilvád and Sorath also the latter were also below the average, but in Hálár the out-turn was fair.

Yield of crops.

300. Junágad and Gondal still continue to take the largest interest in agricultural experiments and improvements, but Navánagar and Bhávnagar have also joined this year with encouraging results.

Agricultural Experiments.

In Junágad the experiments with Bansi wheat and exotic cotton have proved successful, but the cultivation of tobacco did not show good results. The use of ashes of sea-moss as manure did not prove favourable.

In Gondal American cotton seeds were sown over 4 acres of land and China sugar-cane was grown in an area of 3 acres; but the results of neither could be considered satisfactory. Their silos were successful and their arrow-root plantations yielded a good out-turn. An agricultural class has been started for giving instructions, both theoretical as well as practical to candidates for service in the Revenue Department, and nine pupils have already been provided with suitable employment from it in the State.

In Navánagar a superior kind of rice called "Kamod" largely grown in the Ahmedábád Districts was introduced with good results. The results of the sowing of Jute in the Bhávnagar experimental farm are also favourable.

Forests.

301. The Gir Forest of Junágad and those in the Barda Hills under Navánagar and Porbandar are the only ones of much importance in the Province and they require much better supervision than they ever get.

Extensive plantations of Cocoa-nut trees are now growing up in Mahuva under Bhávnagar and will soon constitute forests of another kind.

The plantation at Chorvád in Junágad which contain a variety of fruit trees such as Alphonso and Payre Mangoes, Oranges, Apple, &c., are also doing very well, and small reserves have been started in many of the other States.

Mines and quarries.

302. Nothing deserving of notice has occurred under this head during the year excepting that a proposal has been made to lay a short branch Railway to the Áditiána quarries near Porbandar which seems likely to develop them very much to the advantage of all parties.

Manufactures.

303. Navánagar is celebrated for its manufactures of silk, gold and silver embroidery, isinglass and mother of pearl. By the remission of the trade tax a similar industry in gold embroidery has also been revived in Gondal. Wooden toys are manufactured to a large extent at both Gondal and Mahuva under Bhávnagar, and brass and copper utensils of a superior kind are manufactured in Sihor.

Sea-borne trade.

304. The following tables contain the statistics of the sea-borne trade of the Province excluding Baroda ports. These show an increase in exports in all Pránts and also in imports in all excepting Gohilvád. The decrease in Gohilvád is in grain, timber and oil seeds and is not very clearly accounted for.

Horse Shows.

305. Two Horse Shows were held during the year at Rájkot and Bhávnagar. At Rájkot the total number of exhibits was 1,190 and compared very favourably with those of previous years. His Highness the Thákor Sáhib of Morvi takes great interest in the show and sent up no less than 400 exhibits. The States of Bhávnagar, Pálitána and Gondal also won diplomas.

The Show although better in many ways than its predecessors merely illustrates the same results that there were no horses suitable for remounts. Mr. Grainger wanted to buy cavalry remounts on behalf of Government but found none up to the mark. The Chiefs do a great deal but they require almost all the horses they breed for their own purposes and cannot afford to offer them to Government at the prices named.

A step in the right direction has been made at Bhávnagar, where a Show was held for the first time in March last. The neighbouring Girásiás were induced to agree to use English or Australian Stallions on condition that the Darbár purchased the young stock if up to a fair standard at a fair figure. I have reported in my letter No. 413, dated 16th May 1891, that the best way for Government to work in the same direction is to start a small nursery at Rájkot.

RAILWAYS.

B.-G.-J.-P. Railway.

B.-G.-J.-P. Railway.

306. The total length of this line including the Dock estates lines at Bhávnagar, Verával and Porbandar and the quarry line at Junágad is 334 miles. The gross earnings of this railway amounted to Rs. 15,71,787 and the expenditure Rs. 9,71,521, leaving net earnings Rs. 6,00,266. This shows an increase in both receipts and expenditure in comparison with the figures of the previous year, but the amount of net profits is only Rs. 435 more. They give a dividend of Rs. 3·56 per cent. on the total capital of Rs. 1,68,42,051. The shares of the different States in the net revenue and the percentages on their capital outlay are as follows:—

	Rs.	per cent.
Bhávnagar	3,77,540	5·58
Jûnágad	50,975	1·45
Gondal	1,71,752	2 67
Porbandar		2·62

Traffic on Junágad and Dhoráji-Porbandar Sections.

307. On the Junágad Section the traffic continues to develop slowly, but must still largely increase before the line can pay a fair return upon its cost. The Dhoráji-Porbandar Section hardly fulfilled the anticipation of the promoters of the line and on this Section it was recently found advisable and economical to run only one train a day.

Mehsána Viramgám Section.

308. The Mehsána-Viramgám Section was opened in February last, but the third rail between Viramgám and Wadhwán which was promised so long ago has not yet been laid down, and there is therefore no through communication yet between Rajputána and Káthiáwár.

309. A line of Railway from Ahmedábád to Dholera with a connection to this line at Ránpur was projected, a company was formed, the necessary surveys were made, and a concession applied for from the Government of India. As this branch line would have injuriously affected the B.-G.-J..P. Railway, the scheme was naturally opposed, and the Consulting Engineer for Railways says "there is at present no intention to grant a concession for the construction of the branch to Ránpur, but that in the event of such a branch being proposed in the future, the B.-G-J.-P. Railway Administration will be given an opportunity of stating their views and objections."

Ahmedábád-Dholera project.

310. The survey of a line from Jetalsar to Rájkot was sanctioned in January last, the funds to the extent of Rupees 10,000 being advanced by Gondal and other States in the following proportions :—

Jetalsar-Rájkot Survey.

	Rupees.
Gondal	5,000
Rájkot	2,500
Junágad	1,250
Ázam Surag Wála of Jetpur	1,250

Field work was commenced in February and is still in progress. After the plans and estimates are received negotiations will be commenced for providing the necessary funds for its construction.

311. The enrolled strength of the Railway Volunteer company on 31st March 1891 was 53 including an Honorary Major, showing a decrease of 6 as compared with the number at the end of the previous years. 41 men have qualified as extra-efficients, 8 as efficients and 4 remain non-efficients. The average attendance at drills per man was 14·35 and the capitation allowance earned was Rupees 27-9-0 per man. The company was inspected at the Regimental Camp of exercise held at Ahmedabád along with the other companies of the corps by Major Hilliard, and he expressed his satisfaction at the efficiency of the corps.

Volunteer Corps.

312. No important accident occurred to any of the running trains during the year. Of serious accidents to persons there were 6 only against 7 in the previous year.

Accidents.

Major R. Gardiner, Manager and Engineer-in-Chief of the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway went on 13 months' leave on 6th October 1890 and has been succeeded by Mr. W. H. White.

Morvi Railway.

313. The total length of this line is 93¾ miles, of which 33 are laid with 29lbs. rails and the rest with 19lbs. rails.

Morvi Railway.

314. Through booking of all description of traffic with all the Indian Railways has now been arranged.

Through booking with other Railways.

From October last a mixed train has been running in addition to the mail, and the rates for lower class fares by mail and mixed have been revised.

Junction arrangements at Wadhwán.

315. The junction arrangements at Wadhwán are under reference to Government, pending the settlement of certain claims made by the Wadhwán Darbár and will shortly be adjudicated upon.

Earnings and expenditure.

316. The gross earnings of this railway amounted to Rupees 2,95,227 and the expenditure Rupees 2,07,677, leaving net earnings Rupees 87,550, which gives a percentage of 4·32 on the capital Rupees 20,25,863.

Accidents.

317. The line was fairly free from accidents: one in which a goods train followed up and ran into a mixed train occurred between Wadhwán and Kukda, but fortunately nobody was hurt.

Police.

318. Arrangements are in progress for putting the Railway Police under the Superintendent of Agency Police, the duties of "watch and ward" being separated from those of "law and order", the former being arranged for by the Railway officials and the latter by the Agency Police.

Horse Tramway between Morvi and Wawánia.

319. The Horse Tramway from Morvi to Wawánia is reported to have been opened at the close of the year, but no particulars have been furnished regarding the cost, &c., of the enterprize.

Public Works.

Public Works.

320. The total amount spent by the Native States upon Public Works during the last year amounted in round numbers to Rupees 20,75,000 against Rupees 17,05,000 the previous year.

The figures of the 1st and 2nd Class States are given below :—

	Rupees.
Junágad	1,36,080
Navánagar	3,24,490
Bhávnagar	7,02,202
Porbandar	62,258
Dhrángadhra	1,40,066
Morvi	1,21,017
Gondal	27,079
Vánkáner	38,750
Pálitána	9,756
Dhrol	11,200
Limbdi	3,898
Rájkot	5,294
Wadhwán	6,737
Jáfarábád	3,741

It will be observed that Bhávnagar as usual takes the lead, the amount of expenditure in which is more than double that of any other State. In comparison with the figures of the last year, there appears a marked increase in Navánagar and Morvi, while in Porbandar, Gondal and Rájkot there is a decrease.

The total amount spent during the year through the Agency Engineer on Public Works was Rupees 1,30,371 against Rupees 1,25,304 in the previous year.

The most important work under construction during the year, was the Victoria Jubilee Water-works at Rájkot. The estimated cost of this work amounts to Rupees 1,86,000, and His Highness the Nawáb of Junágad has made an additional donation of Rupees 15,000 for the construction of a reservoir in connection with it. The foundation of this reservoir was laid by His Excellency the Governor in November last, and it has since been completed. The Water-works also are nearly approaching completion, though pipes are still being laid. Some of these arrived in a broken condition and others not up to specification which gave cause to a great deal of trouble, but all these difficulties have at length been got over, and water will soon be available in all parts of the Civil Station.

Telegraph.

321. The telegraph line was extended from Dhrol to Jodia and from Wáns-Jália to Saláya viâ Bhánvad and Khambhália during the year. Four new offices were thus opened. The Junágad State also wished to connect Kutiána viâ Bántva, but gave up the idea, as the rules of the Government of India on the subject could not be relaxed sufficiently to please them.

Post Office.

322. Under this head there is a net increase of 5 Post offices, 2 village postmen and 30 letter-boxes. Including 5 Post offices in the territories of His Highness the Gáekwár in Káthiáwár there were in all on 31st March last 214 Post offices, 56 village postmen and 334 letter-boxes including the District Post Establishment.

CHAPTER V.

Revenue and Finance.

Tribute.

323. The following statement shows the demands, collections and outstanding balances of the tribute due to the British and Gáekwár Governments and Junágad State for the year under report:—

	Demands.					Total Collections.	Outstanding balances on the 31st March 1891.
	On account of former years.			On account of the year 1890-91	Total Demands.		For 1889-90	For 1890-91.	Total outstanding balance.

From the above it will be seen that the total demand was Rupees 11,26,981-9-9 being Rupees 10,78,814-14-5 for the year of report, and Rupees 48,166-11-4 on account of former years. The realization amounted to Rupees 10,61,227-1-2, leaving Rupees 65,754-8-7 as outstanding balance at the close of the year. Of this Rupees 32,522-0-8 have since been recovered leaving a balance of Rupees 33,232-7-11 to be collected.

Stamps.

324. Subjoined is a statement showing the receipts and disbursements on account of general and Court fee stamps in Káthiáwár during 1890-91.

Local Funds.

Receipts and expenditure.

326. The account of the Consolidated Local Fund shows a receipt of Rupees 73,236 and expenditure of Rupees 93,168 during the year as compared with Rupees 76,683 and Rupees 58,272 respectively for the previous year. The increase in expenditure is due to the construction of Police buildings, and payments to Government on account of pension, leave, and other charges of Establishments declared to belong to the Third Class of Foreign Service.

Budget Estimate.

327. The budget estimate of the Chiefs' General Contribution Fund for the year ending 30th June 1891 was submitted to Government for the first time this year. Among other grants the Committee made the following:—

	Rs.
Establishments	14,040
Repairs to roads	30,336
Forest	1,860
Vaccination	13,750
Dispensaries, Leper asylum and the West Hospital	17,030
Rájkot Horse Show	2,750
Rájkumár College	21,910
Other Educational Institutions...	32,229
Grants to Prant Funds	10,040
	1,43,945

Report by Mr. Symonds and Mr. Ollivant's proposals to re-organize the system of Local Fund accounts.

328. Government disposed of Mr. Symonds' report on the Káthiáwár Local Funds alluded to in last year's annual report in their Resolution No. 3700, dated 12th June 1890. The time at his disposal being very short, he was not able to devote the same minute attention to the Independent Funds which he did towards the amalgamated Funds, and in connection with this subject Mr. Ollivant submitted to Government an exhaustive report in February last, and suggested the following changes and modifications :—

(a) A new classification of the Independent Funds and revised forms of budgets therefor.

(b) Transfer of certain items from the Pránt to the Consolidated Local Fund.

(c) Reconstitution of Surveyors establishment, placing them under the supervision of the Superintendent of Surveys under the Rájasthánik Court, the revenue and charges connected therewith being brought to account in the Consolidated Local Fund.

(d) Subjecting the subordinate staff of the Rájkumár College to the same rules for pension as the other employés of the Káthiáwár Education Department.

(e) Establishing sub-treasuries at each Thána (except the civil Stations) and thus doing away with the necessity of a separate Thána Order Account.

(f) The abolition of a Committee constituted to control the Consolidated Local Fund, the object in view being attained by the introduction of a regular budget system and efficient audit, not only for this but for all the Funds.

(g) Levy of stamp duties on miscellaneous petitions.

Under the new classification proposed the number of Funds on the Treasury Account will be reduced from 38 to the following 7 Funds excluding the Consolidated Local Fund :—

1. Hálár Pránt Fund.
2. Jhálávád do.
3. Sorath do.
4. Gohilvád do.
5. General Contribution and Endowment Fund.
6. Rájasthánik Court Fund.
7. Miscellaneous Deposits.

Each of the Pránt Fund will further be sub-divided as follows and separate accounts are to be kept and budgets prepared for them :—

1. Civil Station Fund.
2. As many Thána Funds as there may be Thánás in a Pránt.
3. Deposits.
4. Talukdári Girásia School (for Jhálávád only).

Under the provisional sanction of Government this new classification and the proposal (b) for transferring certain items from the Pránt to the Consolidated Fund were carried out from the beginning of the current official year. Government have since passed a Resolution on the whole report, in which they approve of the proposals (a), (b), (c), (d) and (e). They have called for a further report regarding the use and duties of the Committee, and directed that the local machinery for carrying out a regular revenue audit should be immediately strengthened (vide proposal (f). The question of incorporating the Consolidated and the Pránt Funds with the Provincial accounts raised by the Accountant General has been deferred, the accounts being subjected in the meantime to periodic audit by the outside audit branch of his office. The subject of proposal (g) is to be considered separately.

CHAPTER VI.

Vital Statistics and Medical Service.

Vital Statistics and Medical Service.

329. The total number of Hospitals and Dispensaries in this Province comes to 88 against 86 in the previous year, one Dispensary in Gohilvád Pránt having been abolished and 3 new ones opened—2 in Sorath and 1 in Hálár. Of the total number 75 belong to the States and 13 to the Civil Stations and Thánás under the Agency.

The total number of patients treated was 4,96,196 against 5,26,928 last year, the total cost was Rupees 1,89,924 against Rupees 1,85,879 which shows an increase of Rupees 4,045.

Appearance of cholera.

330. During the year under report cholera appeared in some parts of Jhálavád, at Navánagar and Gondal in Hálár and at Mahuva in Gohilvád, but was soon stamped out.

Asylum and Orphanage.

331. The Bái Sáhib Bá Asylum and Orphanage at Gondal was open throughout the year; persons without distinction of caste, creed or nationality are admitted and allowed to remain there as long as they like. Of the inmates there were 22 blind, 6 lame, 8 disabled from other causes and 3 orphans.

West Hospital.

West Hospital.

332. Surgeon Quicke was in charge of the West Hospital till 26th June 1890 when he was relieved by Surgeon-Major Barker on return from furlough.

7,292 out-patients and 842 in-patients were treated during the year against 7,791 and 712 respectively in the previous year. This shows that there was a decrease in out-patients but an increase in in-patients. 100 major, 1,117 minor operations were performed against 92 major and 757 minor operations in the previous year. Miss Goldney continues her work as lady Nurse at the Hospital, and Surgeon-Major Barker speaks very highly of her work. Fresh additions to the Hospital buildings due to the liberality of both the Chiefs and Government have lately been sanctioned. These are in full progress and will add greatly to the beauty and usefulness of the Institution.

Nurse probationers.

333. The 3 nurse probationers who had completed their 3 years training course left the Hospital during the year. 2 of them have been given employment by the States who sent them, viz., Junágad and Bhávnagar, and arrangements are now being made to find employment for the 3rd.

Vaccination Department.

334. The Vaccination Department continued under the supervision of the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, Eastern Gujarát. The post of Superintendent of Vaccination, Western Gujarát Circle, has since been abolished, and the Agency Surgeon will in future superintend and control the Vaccination Department as well as the Thána Dispensaries. An Assistant Surgeon has been appointed to assist him in this work and will shortly join.

The number of Vaccinators and Assistant Superintendents has remained the same. The States of the 1st Class and some of those of the 2nd Class have asked that the vaccination establishments employed in their States should be placed more entirely under their own control, and this arrangement is now being carried out.

Vaccination.

335. The total number of vaccinations was 82,043 against 86,798 in the previous year and 87,326 in 1888-89. This shows a decrease of 528 last year and a further decrease of 4,755 this year, of which no explanation has been given. It is presumed that it must be due to want of stricter supervision and this could not be avoided as the officer in charge had to look after 2 divisions.

The percentage of success in primary vaccination was 94·81 and of re-vaccinations 61·26 as against 93 06 and 61·21 in the previous year.

The total expenditure incurred during the year was Rupees 14,048.

No epidemic outbreak of small-pox was reported from any part of the Agency. Reports of the occurrences of the disease in solitary villages were received and prompt measures taken for the vaccination of unprotected persons in such villages.

CHAPTER VII—Education.

Educational Institutions.

336. The Educational Institutions in this Agency may be divided under the following heads :—

1. Rájkumár College at Rájkot for the sons of Chiefs.
2. Tálukdári Girásia School at Wadhwán for the sons of Tálukdárs.

3. Arts College at Bhávnagar.

4. High Schools.

5. Anglo-Vernacular Schools.

6. Primary schools for boys.

7. Do. do. girls.

8. Training College for Masters.

9. Do. do. Mistresses.

10. European and Eurasian School.

The number on the rolls of the Rájkumár College shows an increase of 11 being 39 against 28 last year. Four left the College during the year and 15 were newly admitted. Of these 10 were from Káthiáwár, 2 from the Mahi Kántha, 2 from the Rewa Kántha and one the Ráo Sáhib of Sávantvádi, the only Marátha now in the College. The four who have left belonged to the Pálanpur Agency and were withdrawn on the score of expense. Of the total number of Kumárs on the roll of the College 29 now belong to Káthiáwár, 5 to Rewa Kántha, 4 to Mahi Kántha, and 1 to Sávantvádi.

Reduction in Salaries under contemplation and changes in the status of the Subordinate Staff.

337. The salaries of the Assistant Masters of the College were re-adjusted last year at a saving of Rupees 50 and further reductions are still under contemplation. Mr. Ollivant was of opinion that the subordinate staff should be selected from and belong to the Káthiáwár Education Department and should be subject to the same rules of pension instead of being treated specially. This will facilitate interchanges whereas under the present conditions there has been rather a tendency to stagnation and to increasing the pay of a mastership merely for the purpose of rewarding the individual.

Examination of the Rájkumár College by Mr. Giles.

338. The College was examined by Mr. Giles, the Educational Inspector, N. D., in September last. In forwarding this report to the Director of Public Instruction for submission to Government, Mr. Ollivant remarked that the College education produces excellent results but in some respects improvement is desirable and attainable. He agreed with Mr. Macnaghten and Mr. Giles in condemning the present system of private tutors and most of them have since been withdrawn. Mr. Macnaghten reports that they had an elementary drawing class on every Sunday during the last term, and that some of the Kumárs also show some taste for music.

His Excellency the Governor's visit to the Rájkumár College.

339. His Excellency the Governor visited the College on 21st November last and kindly presided at the annual prize giving. Sir Harry Prendergast, the Agent to the Governor General at Baroda, also visited the Institution in February and expressed himself much pleased.

340. The construction of a sanitarium for boys affected with infectious or contagious diseases, was sanctioned by the College Committee and is now in course of construction. His Highness the Máhárája of Bhávnagar, always a generous friend to the College, has also provided funds for the construction of a cricket pavilion which will be universally appreciated.

Construction of a sanitarium.

341. By Resolution No. 3364 dated 29th May 1890, Government have called for a report on the subject of any changes that may be considered desirable in the constitution of the College Committee as conducive to the improvement of the prospects of the College, remarking at the same time that the regulations of 1871 cannot be altered without the sanction of Government. The submission of this report is delayed pending the return of Mr. Ollivant from furlough, as he takes special interest in the matter and has already taken certain steps in that direction.

College Committee.

342. The Political Superintendent, Pálanpur, having brought to the notice of Government that the expenses connected with the stay of the Kumárs at the College were excessive, the Political Agent assembled a committee to ascertain the average expenditure of boys at the College and to make suggestions in the direction of economy. It was found that the minimum monthly cost of a boy's education would amount from Rupees 175 to 200 a month, and in the case of two brothers Rs. 300 with cost for outfit at starting at Rs. 250 and 400 respectively for one boy or two brothers. The circumstances of different boys attending the College are so various that it was quite impossible to give a reliable statement of the average expenditure. Government approved this report and circulated it to all Political Agents with a view to remove exaggerated impressions as to the costliness of education at the Rájkumár College.

The minimum monthly cost of a boy's education.

343. The question of Government sanctioning a special grant-in-aid of the College expenses is still under consideration.

Grant-in-aid.

344. Excluding Jáfarábád which belongs to the Nawáb of Janjira, there are 30 Chiefs in Káthiáwár from Class I to IV, of whom five are minors. Three of these, viz: Vánkáner, Láthi, and Kotdá-Sángáni attend the College, while 2, Rájkot and Mánávadar, are not of age fit to be sent to the College. Of the remaining 25, the heirs-apparent of 3 attend the College, of 7 have left the College already, 5 Chiefs have no sons, 4 have sons of tender age as yet, and as Government are aware, special arrangements are sanctioned as regards Navánagar, Bhávnagar and Morvi. There now remain 3, viz: Lakhtar, Jasdan and Bajána. The Lakhtar Kumár is 10 years of age and the Chief has been requested to send him to the College. The eldest son of the Chief of Jasdan is 39 years of age. He has a son of 12 years, and the old Chief has just liberally consented to defray his expenses at the College so that he will join shortly. The son of the Chief of Bajána is 35 years of age.

Statistics relating to Kumárs of educable age.

Tálukdári Girásia School.

Tálukdári Girásia School. Districts of Gujarát.

345. 61 boys were under tuition at this school against 56 last year. 30 come from Jhálávád alone, 10 from Gohilvád and Hálár, 6 from the Rewa Kántha and 15 from the British Districts. Mr. Strip was in charge of the school throughout the year.

Examination : satisfactory result and proposed improvements.

346. Mr. Giles kindly examined the school in April last and sums up the result of his examination in the following words :—

> "Summing up the results of the examination I am of opinion that there is every reason to congratulate the Head Master and his staff on the good work shown. I think that the subjects now taught in the school are eminently practical and useful, and while I would urge that great attention should be paid to the pronunciation of English and to colloquial English in the upper class, I have no hesitation in expressing my opinion that the work done in the school is of a real and sound character."

He suggests that the special teacher on agriculture should be replaced by a Drill Master and a cadet corps should be formed; Colonel Hunter suggested the desirability of imparting to the boys a knowledge of the system of keeping accounts and Land Revenue collection as followed in Native States. The advantages of instructions in this branch cannot be overrated. It is hoped that the Thákor Sáhib of Wadhwán, who has always shown an interest in the school, will depute one of his Revenue Officers to teach the boys some details of revenue management.

The Sámaldás College.

347. As regards the Sámaldás College at Bhávnagar, the Educational Inspector, N. D., reports that the reduction in the number of scholars attending this Institution from 58 to 25 is due to the decision of the Darbár to gradually reduce the College course and that this is rather to be regretted.

Matriculation and School Final examinations.

348. 69 students were sent up by the High Schools of this Province for the Matriculation Examination, of whom 41 or 59 per cent. passed, and 12 were sent up for the School Final Examination, of whom 9 passed. The Rájkot and Navánagar High Schools showed the best results.

General Education.

General Education.

349. Excluding the first two special Institutions the total number of schools in the Province amounted to 919 against 889, of scholars to 58,030 against 54,365, and the expenditure to Rupees 4,46,079 against Rupees 5,15,112. The percentage of scholars to population was 2·1 against 2·32 last year, and the expenditure per head of scholars was Rupees 7·61 against Rupees 9·47.

Training Colleges and Inspection.

350. Mr. Giles reports that the Male and Female Training Colleges have both been well administered, and that the Inspection work was promptly and efficiently carried out.

CHAPTER VIII.—Archæological.

Archæological.

351. There is nothing to report under this head.

CHAPTER IX.—Miscellaneous.

Printing Presses.

352. There has been no change in the number of Printing Presses in the Province: a list of which is given in Appendix XXIV.

Newspapers.

353. There is only one public newspaper the "Káthiáwár Times" published daily in English with a bi-weekly summary in Gujaráti. Excluding the Darbári and the Agency Gazettes the following Periodicals are published, viz:—

1. Vidnyán Vilás.
2. Sauráshtra Darpan.
3. Khedût.

Testimony to the work performed by the various officers under the Agency.

354. All the Assistant Political Agents in charge of Pránts have worked well, and the unexpected transfers of Messrs. Hill and Sladen, who had proved themselves very able and painstaking Officers, will be very generally regretted in the Province.

Mr. Beaman has been especially useful and industrious in dealing with several complicated political cases in addition to his own judicial work, and this will, I trust, attract the favourable notice of Government.

Mr. Mackay, the Superintendent of Agency Police, has been very successful in his endeavours to put down petty dacoities, and his men have lately shown more than usual activity.

The Agency Engineer Mr. Booth has worked indefatigably to complete the Jubilee Water-works and other public works of special importance to the Province, and the Agency Surgeon Dr. Barker has worked equally hard for the good of the Hospital.

Of my subordinate Establishment the Daftardár Ráo Bahádur Chamanrái Harrái and the Head Clerk Ráo Sáhib Ládha Harji have been unremitting in their labours, and the Account Department has been well managed by Khán Sáhib Edalji Dosábhái, the Head Accountant, and the Local Fund Office by Mr. Albert Dias who are both deserving and efficient Officers.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. E. HANCOCK, Colonel,

Acting Political Agent.

APPENDIX I.

No 21 OF 1891-92.

From The PRESIDENT,
Rájasthánik Court, Káthiáwár.

To The POLITICAL AGENT,
Káthiáwár.

Camp Porbandar, 25th April 1891.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the 18th Annual Report on the working of the Rájasthánik Court.

CHANGES IN THE PERSONNEL OF THE COURT.

President Rájasthánik Court and the Superintendent of Surveys

Colonel Hunter remained in charge of the Office of President, Rájasthánik, Court up to 20th May 1890. From 21st May 1890 I resumed charge of the Office till the end of the official year. Colonel Hunter then resumed charge of the Survey Office from Major Fenton who was again appointed Survey Superintendent from 18th December 1890.

Members.

There was no change amongst the members of the Court during the year.

On the 3rd March last the Morvi Member Ázam Pránjivan was invested with the title of Ráo Bahádur in public Darbár in recognition of his good services by Government. This well earned honor has been highly appreciated by all the Darbárs as well as by himself and will encourage others to follow his example.

NEW PRINCIPLES OR PROCEDURE ADOPTED.

Extension of the provisions of Notification No. 44 of 26th December 1887 to all Tálukás not contributing towards Rájasthánik Court.

With the sanction of Government contained in Government Resolution No. 6204 of the 6th October 1890, the provisions of Notification No. 44 dated 26th December 1887 which directed that in cases under the Thánás fees recovered from successful claimants should be refunded to them by the opposing Tálukdárs and not by the Rájasthánik Court were extended to all Tálukás not contributing towards the maintenance of the Court.

Withdrawal of cases previously entrusted to non-jurisdictional Tálukdárs for decisions.

From the 6th September 1890 all cases previously entrusted to non-jurisdictional Tálukdárs for decisions as Courts of first instance were withdrawn as it was found that they failed to dispose of them satisfactorily.

NATURE AND PROGRESS OF WORK.

Work done.

177 regular cases were disposed of during the year and 8,252 miscellaneous orders were passed against 7,286 last year in Wanchán, of which 466 were passed in consultation with Members. This shows a general increase of work done, although 44 fewer regular cases were tried than last year owing to the Court taking a vacation and because it was found impossible to get the Darbárs to send representatives for some time both before and after the visit of His Excellency the Governor to Rájkot.

Amicable settlements.

Amicable settlements of very important and longstanding disputes with the Girásiás of Sánkhdáwadar under Junágad and the Girásiás of Kháráchia under Navánagar were made during the year in a way which reflected great credit on all parties.

Miánás land disputes.

And all the Miánás land disputes with the Darbár of Mália were settled during the year.

Work done during the year.

During the past official year work has been disposed of as follows :—

Suits entertained	173
Cases heard and disposed of.....	177
Balance on file	357

This is a reduction of 4 cases only on the balance of last year and shows that the Court at present only just keeps abreast of its work.

Analysis of cases, in favor of the Girásiás.

Of the 177 cases heard 68 were boundary cases, 20 were status cases and 62 Hak Patraks numbering 457 items. Of these 137 or 29·8 per cent. were decided in favor of the Darbárs and 320 or 70·2 per cent. The remaining cases were suits and miscellaneous complaints.

The cases remaining on the Court files for disposal are as under :—

156	Hak Patraks.
112	Boundaries.
10	Suits.
58	Claims to the status of Mûlgirásiás.
21	Miscellaneous complaints.
357

Besides the above, 163 cases are now pending before the State Courts and about 50 more cases are expected from the Thánás.

Appeals.

There have been 64 appeals to Government against 67 last year.

These have immensely increased since 1888-89 when I had the pleasure to remark that in no case up to then, a period of nearly 16 years, had Government found it necessary to interfere. See Table IX.

Government have since modified several decisions, chiefly on technical grounds, and this has encouraged litigants enormously to fly to Government on the chance of getting our decisions changed. Theoretically, according to the constitution of the Court, there is no appeal against its decisions and it is for Government to consider how far it is expedient or politic thus to alter the final nature of our arbitrations.

Survey operations.

The following statement shows the comparative progress of the Surveys :—

Year.	Number of Villages completed.	Acreage.
1888-89	20	94,080
1889-90	14	55,438

Besides the above the Survey Department has demarcated a large number of decisions and got through a great deal of special work under Porbandar and Máliá.

General Remarks.

The Court went on circuit as usual and visited the undermentioned places during the year :—

Bhánwad.	Morvi.	Sarapdar.
Veráwal.	Máliá.	Jetpur.
Junágad.	Dahisara.	Bhávnagar.
Gondal.	Ámbran.	Pálitána.
Mitána.	Latipur.	Porbandar.
Tankára.	Pardhari.

A sixth volume of decisions is now under print and will be ready for distribution in the course of the current year. Printed lists of States and Tálûkás showing the dates of completion of the Páka Maps and of the registration of Hak Patraks are also being prepared and will be very useful for future reference.

All the Members and the whole Establishment have worked with their usual zeal and fidelity to the interests of all concerned.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. E. HANCOCK, Colonel,
President, Rájasthánik Court.

APPENDIX II.

No. 170 OF 1891-92.

From F. C. O. BEAMAN, Esquire, C.S.,
Judicial Assistant, Káthiáwár.

To Colonel G. E. HANCOCK,
Acting Political Agent, Káthiáwár.

Rájkot, 29th June 1891.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the Annual Report on the Judicial Work of the Province of Káthiáwár for the year 1890-91.

2. During the whole year under report I was in charge of the Office of the Judicial Assistant, Káthiáwár.

CRIMINAL WORK.

3. The only difference in the constitution of the Criminal Courts during the year under report has been the abolition of the Court of the Station Officer, Wadhwán, which was incorporated with that of the Thánadár, Wadhwán District, at the end of December last.

4. The following table shows the result of the trials held by the various Magistrates in the different Prants: the number of prisoners concerned and the percentage of convictions to the number of prisoners:—

Prants.	No. of cases tried.	No. of persons tried.	No. of persons convicted.	Percentage of convictions.
Jhálávád	400	847	347	40·97
Gohilvád	206	415	148	35·66

Railway Mágistrate, B.-G.-J.-P. Railway	96	138	104	75·36
	1,140	2,167	977	45·08

5. There were 33 criminal appeals decided by the Judicial Assistant Political Agent as shown in the following table :—

Courts.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences confirmed.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences modified.	No of appeals in which convictions and sentences reversed.	Total.
Deputy Assistant Political Agent, Jhálávád	5	....	3	8

Railway Magistrate, B.-G.-J.-P. Railway.....	1	1	....	2
Nyáyádhish, Bántva	2	5	1	8
Total.....	14	7	12	33

6. The District Magistrates disposed of 24 appeals as under :—

Pránts.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences confirmed.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences modified.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences reversed.	Total.
Assistant Political Agent, Jhálávád	5	.....	.....	5
Do. Sorath ...	3	.....	2	5
Do. Gohilvád.	1	.....	.....	1
Do. Hálár ..	2	4	8	14
Total.....	11	4	10	25

7. The Judicial Assistant disposed of 32 Sessions cases as compared with 63 in the previous year. The details have been given in a separate return already forwarded.

8. This falling off is due to the fact that almost all the dacoity cases in which this Court was last year exercising a delegated jurisdiction have now been disposed of. In the year under report only two such cases were tried: and in both the accused persons were convicted and sentenced.

9. The result of the criminal revision work during the year under report shows that in 17 cases the proceedings of the lower Court were sent for. In 8 cases the convictions or orders were reversed and in 9 cases were confirmed.

10. The following table will show the Courts whose proceedings were sent for with the above results:—

Courts.	No. of proceedings in which convictions or orders confirmed.	No. of proceedings in which convictions or orders reversed.	Total.
Assistant Political Agent, Jhálávád	....	1	1
Do. Sorath	....	1	1

Civil Work.

11. The Court of the Station Officer, Wadhwán, was abolished and incorporated with that of the Thánadár, Wadhwán District. This is the only difference in the constitution of the Civil Courts during the year under report.

12. The appended Statement A will show that the Judicial Assistant has decided 101 civil appeals during the year under report as compared with 65 in the previous year.

13. The Judicial Assistant has also decided 21 political appeals during the year transferred to him by the Political Agent for disposal.

14. The return B appended will show the number of civil suits and applications for execution of decrees filed and disposed of by the various Civil Courts in the different Districts.

15. The result of the civil revision work shows that out of 4 cases in which the proceedings of the lower Courts were sent for, in 2 cases the orders were reversed and in 2 were confirmed.

16. The following table will show the Courts whose proceedings were sent for with the above results:—

Courts.	Orders confirmed.	Orders reversed.	Total.
Deputy Assistant Political Agent, Jhálávád	1	....	1
Do. Gohilvád	.....	1	1
Do. Hálár	1	1	2
Total.....	2	2	4

17. The records of the following subordinate Civil Courts were examined during the year under report :—

1.	Court of	the Lodhika Thána.
2.	Do	Mengni Manager.
3.	Do.	Mulila Thána.
4.	Do.	Dhrápha do.
5.	Do.	Bhoika do.
6.	Do.	Bábra do.
7.	Do.	Songad do.
8.	Do.	Dátha do.
9.	Do.	Chamárdi do.
10.	Do.	Chok do.
11.	Do.	Dedán do.
12.	Do.	Lákhápádar do.
13.	Do.	Bagasra do.

GENERAL.

18. It is to be observed that the Judicial Assistant was occupied from 22nd December 1890 to 12th January 1891, and 8th to 23rd March 1891, in enquiring into the Nal-Báwli boundary disputes with the villages of the Ahmedábád Zilla.

19. I must in justice to myself also call attention to the fact that the number of civil and criminal cases disposed of during the year represents inaccurately the amount of work I have had to do. A large percentage of my time is necessarily devoted to references from the Political Agent and the Assistants as well as to the drafting of local Acts and rules ; and the general duties of advising in all questions of a legal or quasi-legal character.

20. Some points which were noted during my inspection of Thána records will be more fully considered next year by the light of the Political Agent's suggestions; and also upon accumulated and more extensive data. On the whole the work done in these Courts was fairly satisfactory.

21. I have to repeat the high opinion I expressed last year of Mr. Santokrám's official character and efficiency. Mr. Vashrám Pitámbar has, as I expected, proved himself a most conscientious and indefatigable workman. I am very pleased with him. The vernácular establishment has worked well, but I have few opportunities of becoming personally acquainted with the merits of these Kárkuns.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

F. C. O. BEAMAN.

Judicial Assistant.

Rájkot, 15th August 1893.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit the Annual Report on the Administration of Káthiáwár for the year 1892-93, to which are appended the reports of—

(1) The President, Rájasthánik Court,

(2) The Judicial Assistant,

(3) The Administrator, Porbandar,

(4) The Assistant Political Agent, Mália.

2. The Political Agent Sir Charles Ollivant left for England before the District Officers reports were received, and Colonel Scott, who officiated for him, died on the 30th July after a very short illness. He had written only the first two political Chapters of this Report, and the remaining portion has been compiled by me from materials furnished by the Subordinate Officers.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. E. HANCOCK, Colonel,
Acting Political Agent.

PART I.

SUMMARY.

Personnel.

Sir Charles Ollivant was in charge of the Agency throughout the year. Changes in the Prânts and other Officers will be noticed in the body of the report.

Distinction of K.C.I.E. conferred on Mr. E. C. K. Ollivant.

2. On the last anniversary of the birthday of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress, the title of Knight Commander of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire was conferred upon Mr. E. C. K. Ollivant, who was already a Companion of that Order, and the news of the bestowal of this honour was received by the Chiefs and people of the Province with unmixed gratification.

Season.

3. The rainfall was in excess of that of the preceding year and on the whole favourable. In some places the late and heavy fall in October did some damage to the early crops, but in Jhálávád the cotton was benefited. In some Districts the cotton was damaged by excessive cold in February.

Visit of His Excellency the Governor.

4. The Province had the honour of a visit from His Excellency the Governor Lord Harris at the commencement of the year. His Excellency landed at Wawánia Bandar from Cutch on the 11th April and proceeded the same day to Morvi, where he stayed one day, and performed the ceremony of opening a Hospital and a High School. There was a banquet in the evening. The next morning His Excellency proceeded by special train to Bhávnagar where he arrived in the evening and was received by His Highness the Mahárája with suitable honours. On the morning of the 14th His Excellency formally opened the Takhtsingji Hospital amid a large concourse of European and Native Officers and gentlemen. At night a State Banquet was given in his honour by the Mahárája, at which His Excellency dwelt at some length on the creditable administration of His Highness; on the 16th His Excellency left Pálitána and there saw the sacred beautiful Jain temples on the Shetrunja Hill. His Excellency left Pálitána on the 18th for Bombay via Ahmedábád and Surat. During this tour His Excelleney was attended throughout by the Political Agent Sir Charles Ollivant.

Recognition of His Highness Rasulkhánji as Navâb of Junágad.

5. Another most noticeable event was the recognition of His Highness Rasulkhánji as Nawab of Junágad in succession to his brother Sir Bahádurkhánji, G.C I.E., who had died on the 21st January 1892. The succession was disputed by Bábi Ahmadkhán of Rándhanpur, but the Government of India after careful consideration was pleased to approve of the recognition of Rasulkhánji to the Junágad Gádi, and His Highness was formally installed in a public Darbár held at Junágad by Sir Charles Ollivant on the 20th June 1892.

6. The year, however, was marred by the prevalence of dacoity, and the Agency Officers as well as the State officials had a most anxious time owing to the continued movements of the daring band of outlaws referred to in last year's report. In the beginning of the year they were in Cutch and made themselves in evidence by the robbery of the horses laid for the dák of His Excellency the Governor. After striking a village there in June they re-entered Káthiáwár, but being hard pressed by the Police, on all sides fled to the south towards the Girnár. Here they had a fight with some Junágad men, but managed to escape northwards back again to their usual haunts. Another encounter took place on the sea-shore near Jhinjhuda but without any satisfactory result. It was then realized that it was impossible for the police of Native States to cope with these men without European supervision and direction. Proposals were therefore made by Sir Charles Ollivant to Government to this effect. As a consequence, the Mália State, the head-quarters of the gang, was attached and placed under a European Officer, the Dhrángadhra State obtained the services of Mr. Souter for employment as Superintendent of its police, and the Agency Police was also strengthened by the addition of a European Officer as Assistant to the Superintendent. These measures were adopted in October, and extra precautions were taken everywhere to hunt out and capture the gang. The police of Vánkáner, Rájkot and Jetpur were also placed under European Superintendents. On the 20th November one of the ringleaders, Habibmia, was captured by Mr. Souter. By way of retaliation the other members of the gang looted the Dhrángadhra village of Sápakda on the 1st December and another village of Morvi on the 15th. Lieutenant Gordon was at once sent after them with orders to attack them if found, and the memorable encounter at Karádia took place on the 19th December in which the whole of the gang was destroyed, but at the cost of the lives of Lieutenant Gordon and two of his men.

Prevalence of dacoity : measures taken for its suppression.

7. The Junágad Darbár finding that the long standing disputes between the Hindus and Mahomedans of Somnáth Pátan could not be settled by them with satisfaction or with any degree of finality, they proposed that Government should appoint a mixed Commission for the purpose, consisting of a European Officer as President and two members, one a Hindu and the other Mahomedan. Government nominated Colonel J. M. Hunter as President and Messrs Ranchodlál Kapurchand Desái and Mirza Abás Ali Baig as members of the Commission. The Commission held several hearings of both the parties at Verával and at the end of the year submitted a report. In spite of this, however, serious and unusual riots occurred on the last Mohorram day resulting in the loss of lives of several Hindus, but as these occurrences belong to the current year, it is not necessary to dwell further on them here.

Commission for the settlement of Hindu-Mahomedan disputes at Somnáth Pátan.

8. For various political reasons, it was considered expedient to attach the Táluka of Mália and to place the administration in the hands of a European Officer specially deputed for the purpose. The Thákor has since resided at Bombay or Poona and remonstrated strongly against this measure. The debts on the Táluka are reported to amount to Rupees 3,55,754, i. e., five times the gross revenue of the estate. A committee was nominated to inquire into the various claims in accordance with the Rules for the management of encumbered estates, and has submitted a report which is under consideration.

Attachment of the Táluka of Mália.

Attachment of the Bandars of Wawánia and Jhinjhuda.

9. An attachment was also imposed during the year under the orders of the Government of India on the Wawánia and Jhinjhuda Bandars. The disputes between Cutch and Morvi over trifling matters connected with the former port had become so acute and constant that the tax they imposed on the attention and time both of the Agency and Government was out of all proportion to the interests at stake. The only course open to Government was to take them under management, which would also enable a correct valuation to be made of the respective rights of the contending parties with the view of subsequently effecting a complete separation of their interests.

Completion of the J.R. Railway.

10. The Railway extension from Jetalsar to Rájkot was completed by the close of the year and formally opened by His Excellency the Governor on the 13th April 1893. The length of the line is 46½ miles; the actual cost has been considerably less than the estimate of 16 Lákhs. The proprietors Junágad, Gondal, Rájkot and Ázam Surag Wála of Jetpur have handed over the management of the line to the B.G. J.P. Railway on 45 per cent. of the gross earnings being assigned for working expenses, besides Rupees 200 per mensem for Engineering supervision of the line.

The States.

Junágad: Recognition and installation of the Navâb.

11. The recognition and installation of His Highness Rasulkhánji, as Naváb of Junágad, have already been adverted to, as also the appointment of a Commission for the settlement of religious disputes between the Hindus and Mahomedans of Somnáth Pátan. Another prominent event having connection with the affairs of this premier State of the Province was the deputation of Mr. J. J. Heaton to enquire into the land claims of the Hátti Girásiás of Mália who had for a long time been pressing their grievances. The controversy with Baroda regarding the extradition of accused persons on primâ facie cases has not yet been settled; and a reference has had to be made to Government.

The Mália Háttis Commission. Extradition controversy with Baroda.

Geological Survey.

12. For a Geological Survey of their territory the Junágad Darbár have engaged the services of a skilled gentleman from England Dr. J. W. Evans, and it is hoped that his researches may prove of much practical good to the State.

Navánagar: proposed Railway.

13. The financial condition of Navánagar is gradually improving, the debt has now diminished to 7 Lákhs of Rupees, and His Highness the Jám Sáheb has made up his mind to connect his capital with Rájkot by Railway on the metre guage. His Highness has submitted proposals to borrow 40 Lákhs from European merchants at 5 per cent, with the double object of paying off the remaining debt which is at 9 per cent. and also of constructing the proposed Railway, the loan to be repayable by annual instalments of Rupees 2¾ Lákhs from the earnings of the Railway and revenues of the State. Sir Charles Ollivant has submitted the scheme to Government and orders are awaited.

Education of the heir apparent.

14. His Highness' son and heir-apparent Kumár Jasvatsingji, now about 11 years of age, is under the tuition of Miss Laura Brooke and is progressing satisfactorily. His Highness will probably be induced to send the Kumár to the Rájkumár College next year.

15. The last year was a period of great rejoicings at Bhávnagar. The visit of His Excellency the Governor in the beginning of the year was attended with pleasant gatherings, and the opening of the Takhtsingji Hospital with becoming ceremony by His Excellency the Governor gave great eclat to the occasion. In February 1893 the marriages of His Highness' son and heir-apparent Kumár Bhávsingji with the daughter of the Chief of Devgad Bária and that of his daughter with Kumár Bhávsingji of Porbandar, were celebrated with festivities of an unusual character.

Bhávnagar: Governor's visit: marriages of Kumár and Kunvari.

16. Soon after these events the Mahárája made up his mind to visit England and pay his personal respects to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress on the occasion of the opening of the Imperial Institute in London. All arrangements for His Highness' departure were completed by the close of the year, and the Mahárája left Bhávnagar on the 7th April 1893 and embarked for Europe on the 8th April in company with Lieutenant Merewether, Tutor and Companion to Kumár Bhávsingji, in the absence of Captain Cox whose services have been lent by Government for the purpose of accompanying His Highness in his tour.

Tour of the Mahárája to England.

17. The Bhávnagar Council is reported to have, on the whole, worked harmoniously during the year. The Imperial Service Corps is progressing satisfactorily and is well spoken of by those best able to judge.

The Council.

18. His Highness the Ráj Sáheb of Dhrángadhra sustained severe domestic affliction by the demise of his son-in-law, the Mahárája of Ratlam. The relations between the Ráj Sáheb and the heir-apparent, Kumár Ajitsingji, continue to be outwardly harmonious but are really far from cordial. In spite of repeated advice from the Agency the Kumár is still left without suitable occupation, but it is hoped that by the appointment of a new Diván, Ráo Bahádur Saváilál Govindrám, from the Government service, matters will improve in this respect.

Dhrangadhra: Relations between the Ráj Sáheb and heir-apparent.

19. The police of the Dhrángadhra State having been proved to be incapable of coping with the dacoits who found ready and secure shelter in the territories of this State, the Ráj Sáheb on the advice of the Agency obtained the services of Mr. Souter from Government to superintend and organize its police.

Mr. Souter appointed Superintendent of Police for re-organization.

20. His Highness the Thákor Sáheb of Morvi suffered for sometime from ill-health and passed about 3 months at the Nilgiris, during which time the administration was conducted by his Diván and Personal Assistant. Owing to the constant and bitter disputes between Cutch and Morvi regarding the Bandar of Wawánia, Government had to place it under attachment in order that the disputes might cease, and that a correct valuation of the respective rights might be arrived at for the purpose of effecting a separation of interests.

Morvi: Ill-health of the Thákor Sáheb: attachment of Wawánia Bandar.

21. His Highness the Thákor Sáheb of Gondal with the Ráni returned from his foreign tour in January 1893 and was enthusiastically welcomed by his subjects. His Highness is to be congratulated on the distinctions which he and his Ráni received during their stay in England. Her Highness was invested by Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress with the Order of the Crown of India and the Thákor Sáheb took his Medical Degree and was admitted a Member of the Royal College of Physicians. The Honorary title of D.C.L. was also conferred upon him by the University of Oxford.

Gondal: Return of Thákor Sáheb and Ráni from England.

22. The relations between the Thákor Sáheb of Pálitána and his brother Kumár Sámatsingji and Kunvari Keshába continue to be far from cordial. The appeals of the latter to the Home Government against the decisions of Government have been rejected by the Secretary of State. Endeavours are being made to effect an amicable adjustment of the pecuniary claims of the State against the Bháyáts of Motisri and Sándkhákhra on account of which their estates are under the attachment of the Darbár.

Pálitána: relations between Thákor Sáheb and his brother and sister: Bháyáts of Motisri and Sándkhákhra.

23. The boundary disputes between the Limbdi village of Bávli and the Ahmedábád villages of Siál, Káyla and Vekaria have at last been settled by the Committee of Arbitration appointed under the orders of Government. The Thákor Sáheb has been repeatedly urged to engage a good Kárbhári but has not yet been able to make any selection.

Limbdi: Settlement of boundary disputes with Zilla.

24. The Thákor Sáheb of Wadhwán was in very indifferent health for sometime and had to go to Poona for a change of climate. On the application of the State, a revenue survey of the lands is being carried out under the immediate supervision of Mr. Hatch, Assistant Superintendent of Surveys of the Agency.

Wadhwán: Illness of Thákor Sáheb.

25. The Thákor Sáheb has liberally offered to give four scholarships of Rupees 250 each to Rajput boys of the poorer classes studying in the Tálukdári Girásia School at Wadhwán.

His liberal offer of scholarships for Rajput boys.

26. The long pending question of the Wáswa-Jálampura Bandh is still under consideration. It has been proposed to extend the Narsingpura Aniáli Drainage channel through Lakhtar territory and on to the Nal, and to allow Lakhtar to make use of the water coming by that channel on certain conditions.

Lakhtar: Wáswa-Jálampura Bandh.

27. The Thákor has sent his son to the Rájkumár College.

The son of the Thákor sent to the Rájkumár College.

28. The Bajána succession case has been decided by Sir Charles Ollivant since the close of the year, in which it has been held that the succession to the Bajána Gádi is governed by primogeniture and that a cadet is only entitled to appanage.

Bajána: succession case decided.

29. In the managed States the affairs of Kumár Bhávsingji of Porbandar have engaged the anxious attention of the Administrator and Political Agent during the last year. The Kumár was married to the daughter of His Highness the Mahárája of Bhávnagar with the approval of the Rána and Government, and soon after he went to Shápur and Virpur and married the sister of the Táluk dár of Shápur and the daughter of the Thákor of Virpur to whom he had been previously privately engaged. Being entirely under the influence of bad advisers and associates, he has become incapable of managing his household and strict measures have had to be taken to control his expenses.

Porbandar: Affairs of Kumár Bhávsingji.

Revenue Survey completed: commutation of taxes on the Mhers.

30. The Revenue Survey of the State has been completed and Mr. Pandit has revised the assessments on the basis of the results of the survey. The Mhers land disputes have been settled by the Rájasthánik Court and proposals have been submitted to Government to appoint a special Officer for the purpose of commuting the hearth-tax which presses unequally on the Mhers and to investigate their rights to reclaim the Ráoli lands held in mortgage by the Darbár.

Porbandar harbour improvements.

31. A scheme has been prepared by the State Engineer for the improvement of the harbour of Porbandar and is now under the consideration of Government. Supplementary to this is the project of erecting a Jetty to provide a means of loading and discharging cargo independently of the tides.

Administration of Vánkáner and Rájkot satisfactorily conducted.

32. The two Second Class States of Vánkáner and Rájkot, which are under Agency management, have pursued the even tenor of their ways under the careful administration of their respective Managers. Their resources are being duly developed and the financial condition of both is satisfactory. Rájkot has contributed 2 Lákhs towards the construction of the Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway and has undertaken to carry out what is called the Lálpuri Irrigation Scheme. The police of these two States has been placed under a European Superintendent Mr. G. N. Lambert. Bái Shri Náníba alias Ba Másáheb, great grandmother of the present minor Thákor Sáheb of Rajkot, died on the 20th January 1893, leaving private property of considerable value and a village yielding an annual revenue of Rupees 18,000 to the State. Her influence was always exercised for good and her loss will be much felt in the Zenána.

Smaller managed States : Láthi affairs.

33. Of the smaller States reference has already been made to Mália, which was taken under management during the year. The affairs of Láthi were much confused by intrigues and attracted the attention of the Pránt Officer. Serious charges were alleged against the Manager, who resigned in consequence, but on closer scrutiny they were found to be groundless. The young Thákor has been associated with the new Manager in the administration of the Táluka, and so has also been the Kumár Wájsur Wála of Bagasra. Both these Kumars, after completing their education in the Rájkumár College, have had the advantage of extended tours through India.

New Rules adopted and in contemplation.

34. During the year under report Rules for the management of encumbered estates and for inflicting the punishment of whipping in certain criminal offences were sanctioned by Government and brought into force. Considerable attention was also given to the revision of draft rules relating to the possession of arms and ammunition and codification of laws and procedure obtaining in the Agency. The opening of the Jubilee water-works at Rájkot necessitated the adoption of regulations for the supply of water and charges for it in accordance with recognized principles.

35. The results of the working of the Agency and State Police in regard to ordinary crime are below the average. This is attributable to the heavy strain put upon them by the prevalence of dacoity, which almost absorbed their attention for the greater part of the year.

Working of the Agency Police.

36. Cognizable crime in the area under the supervision of the Agency Police shows a decrease from 610 to 414 offences, 667 persons were arrested as compared with 842 last year, and 595 were sent for trial against 806. The percentage of convictions to arrests was 50·67.

Cognizable and Non-cognizable crime.

The return of stolen property shows a decline in recovery 47·75 against 64·73 in the previous year. On the other hand violent crime appears to have abated; 8 murders and 6 robberies are reported as against 9 murders, 2 dacoities and 9 robberies.

Non-cognizable crime has also decreased from 504 in the previous year to 396 in the last.

37. The subjoined table will show the working of the police of jurisdictional States as compared with the same in the previous year:—

Working of the police of Jurisdictional States.

Number of offences reported	.....	8,086
,, accused arrested	.....	9,310
,, ,, convicted	.....	5,075
Percentage of convictions to arrests	.....	54·51
,, of recovery of stolen property	....	40·77

38. The total number of dacoities and robberies committed during the year under report was 18 and 38 against 24 and 52 in the previous year.

Dacoities and robberies.

39. There is nothing special to notice regarding the Railway Police, which is now under the control of the Superintendent of Agency Police. Final orders have not yet been received regarding their amalgamation with the rest of the Agency Police.

Railway Police.

40. The Agency Courts disposed of 951 original criminal cases and 85 appeals against 1,295 and 66 in the previous year. Of the 85 cases, 33 were Sessions cases against 34 the previous year.

Criminal cases disposed of by Agency Courts.

41. The number of original civil and political cases decided by the Agency Courts was 3,505 and 16 against 3,625 and 23, while that of appeals was 93 and 12 against 136 and 23. The total number of civil and political cases thus aggregates 3,626 of the value of Rupees 8,07,961 against 3,807 of the value of Rupees 35,71,695. The reason of the decrease is to be found in the unusual and anxious dacoit work thrust upon all Political Officers owing to circumstances beyond their control.

Civil and political cases.

42. The jurisdictional States decided 35,492 civil cases of the aggregate value of Rupees 34,45,627 against 32,393 cases of the value of Rupees 34,33,007. The number of outstanding cases has however risen from 5,540 to 9,819.

Civil cases disposed of by jurisdictional States.

The increase in arrears is traced to the States of Junágad, Dhrángadhra, Morvi, Pálitána, Limbdi, Wadhwán and Sáyla. But Porbandar is responsible for a large portion of the increase, 4,397 cases being left undisposed of at the end of the year against 300 the previous year. The Administrator gives the following explanation regarding the matter:—

(a) The number of institutions during the year was not only large (6,101 against 2,116 last year) but the greater portion of it was filed in November and December and on the 3rd of January 1893, because the British Indian Limitation Act which was introduced into the State came into force on the 1st January 1893; so that the newly instituted suits could not be finally dealt with in the year.

(b) The last rainy season was a season of good crops, and it worked as a stimulus to the money-lending classes to convert old bonds into decrees.

(c) The powers of a Small Cause Court, which were confined to the Sarnyáyádhish and to suits below Rupees 75 for the town of Porbandar only, were in the year under report conferred on the Munsiff for all suits in the State for Rupees 50, and the Small Cause Court jurisdiction of the Sarnyáyádhish was raised to Rupees 200 and extended over the whole State, so that there was an unusually large number of institutions in view of getting small causes speedily and summarily decided.

(d) The very large number of institutions materially affected the deciding capacity of the Courts, which were occupied in the latter part of the year chiefly in the preparation of the record and in arranging for the disposal of the new institutions.

43. The number of criminal cases disposed of by the jurisdictional States was 11,736 against 13,623. 120 cases came before the Agency Courts in the exercise of their residuary jurisdiction against 108 last year.

Criminal cases.

44. The Rájasthánik Court decided 206 regular cases and passed orders in 8,066 miscellaneous matters, making an aggregate of 8,272 against 8,126 in the previous year, thus showing an increase of 146. The Mhers cases have all been disposed of. 594 regular cases still remain on the file of the Court to be disposed of; 137 are pending in the Darbár Courts and 15 more are still expected from Thánás. The term of the Court expires in December next, but there is a large balance of Rupees 1,46,875 in the Court Fund; this together with its income of about Rupees 25,000 from fees, &c., will suffice to maintain the Court for a further period of two years. The work in hand and expected to come will last for nearly three.

Cases decided by the Rájasthánik Court.

Registration.

45. The number of documents registered by the Agency Courts during the year was 456 of the total value of Rupees 5,02,568 against 503 aggregating Rupees 6,70,355 in the previous year. The total fees amounted to Rupees 3,054 against Rupees 8,002. The stringency of the Rules for the management of encumbered estates has probably been the cause of discouraging loans to Girásiás and thus diminishing registration of documents.

Horse-show.

46. No Horse-show was held during the year. The States of Junágad, Bhávnagar, Morvi, Gondal, Vánkáner and Jasdan continue to maintain horse-breeding establishments, but not on any large scale or on commercial principles. At Bhávnagar one troop of the Bhávnagar Imperial Lancers has been mounted from the State paddock.

Sea-borne trade.

47. The total exports by sea were valued at Rupees 2,77,64,994 and imports at Rupees 1,80,94,678 against Rupees 2,45,65,437 and 1,59,82,152 respectively in the previous year. The increase is caused by the restoration of credit in the market.

Earnings of the B.G.J.P. Railway.

48. The gross revenue of the B.G.J.P. Railway was Rupees 15,78,179 against Rupees 14,77,263 in the previous year, and the expenditure amounted to Rupees 11,40,302 against 10,01,477. The dividend to the proprietary States came to 4·56 to Bhávnagar, 1·62 to Junágad and ·9 to Gondal-Porbandar or an average of 2·36 on the whole. The mileage earnings were 90·94 gross or 25·23 net per mile per week.

Of the Morvi Railway.

49. The gross earnings of the Morvi Railway amounted to Rupees 3,09,171 against 3,09,418, and the expenditure to Rupees 1,78,801 against Rupees 2,00,801, thus giving a dividend of 6·27 per cent. The mileage result was 63·25 gross or 26·27 net.

Extension of Railways.

50. His Highness the Jám Sáheb has submitted proposals for constructing a Railway from Rájkot to Navánagar and Jodiya, and the Baroda Darbár also comtemplate an extension from a point on the B.G.J.P. Railway to Amreli and on to Dhári.

Public Works.

51. The total expenditure on public works in the Native States is reported to be Rupees 22,77,000, of which the greater portion is spent by the 1st and 2nd Class States.—

Junágad	1,96,765
Navánagar	1,59,693
Bhávnagar (including Railway)	10,75,405
Porbandar	48,110
Dhrángadhra	56,770
Morvi	3,68,779
Gondal	47,244
Pálitána	40,510
Rájkot	56,961

52. The total amount spent during the year by the Agency Engineer on public works was Rupees 2,15,221 against Rupees 2,66,626 in the previous year. The most important of these is the Memorial Institute at Rájkot. This building comprizes three divisions, the Connaught Hall, the Watson Museum and the Lang Library, all 80′×50′ each. The Centre Hall is intended for holding Darbárs on ceremonial occasions. On its walls will be hung the portraits of Her Imperial Majesty the Queen-Empress, His Royal Highness the Duke Connaught, His Royal Highness the late Duke of Clarence, His Excellency Lord Harris, Sir Charles Ollivant and all the ruling Chiefs of the first four Classes of Káthiáwár.

Works carried out by the Agency Engineer.

53. The tribute demands of the year amounted to Rupees 11,41,851-6-8 as follows including arrears of former years :—

Revenue and tribute of Káthiáwár.

British	7,42,360	14	3
Gáekwár	2,99,148	8	10
Zortalbi	1,00,341	15	7

Of these Rupees 10,93,801-14-4 were recovered, leaving at the end of the year a balance of Rupees 48,049-8-4. Besides the tribute, the revenue from Opium Pass Fee came to about Rupees 1,50,000.

54. The reformed system of accounts came into force from the beginning of the year 1891-92, and no practical difficulty was experienced. From 1st April 1892 Court-fee labels, specially manufactured, were introduced with the sanction of Government. The sale of these stamps realized Rupees 26,000 during the year. The receipts of the Consolidated Fund were barely equal to the ordinary expenditure. Hitherto the account year of the Chiefs Contribution Fund was reckoned from 1st July to 30th June, but as this was found to cause some confusion in accounts, it was decided in the last Karbháris' Meeting that the official financial year shoul be observed for these accounts as well, in order to avoid confusion and secure uniformity.

Local Funds.

55. The Hospitals and Dispensaries number 95 against 93 in the previous year. The total number of patients treated (excluding the West Hospital at Rájkot) was 6,03,169 against 5.83,419, and the total cost was Rupees 2,07,001 against 2,00,117. The Dispensaries in the Thána Circles and States under management are placed under the professional supervision of the Agency Surgeon.

Hopitals and Dispensaries.

56. The arrangement under which vaccination operations have been entrusted to the principal States of Junágad, Navánagar and Bhávnagar has worked satisfactorily. This has paved the way for strengthening the Staff under the control of the Agency Surgeon. The number of persons primarily vaccinated was 86,024 and of revaccinated 831, making a total of 86,855 against 83,442 in the previous year.

Vaccination.

57. The number of students in the Rájkumár College decreased from 41 to 39, as 5 boys left the College and 3 joined. Mr. Macnaghten proceeded to England on furlough and his place was taken by Mr. Waddington who had but recently been appointed Vice-Principal on the transfer of Mr. Tarkhad to the Inspection Department. Mr. Waddington urges that the College should be recruited from a larger field than is done at present. The College was examined by the Director of Public Instruction who reported favourably of the condition of the College.

Rájkumár College.

58. The Tálukdári Girásia School at Wadhwán continues to be well reported on, and it is satisfactory to note that the education which it affords is taken advantage of by the landed aristocracy of the adjoining British Districts.

Tálukdári-Girásia School.

59. The year under report was marked by some fundamental changes in the Educational arrangements of the Province. From the first beginning of the spread of education, i. e., from 1865, the States had entrusted the control and management of all Educational Institutions to the care of the Government Educational Inspector, Northern Division, but the circumstances of the present day rendered it expedient to review the situation, and Sir Charles Ollivant, in consultation with the Educational Inspector Mr. Giles and the Kárbháris of States, resolved that it was desirable to transfer, on certain general conditions, the control of their schools to those States, which in the opinion of the Political Agent were, by the character of their administration, fit to undertake the control and willing to exercise it. The States of Junágad, Bhávnagar, Porbandar, Morvi, Vánkáner, Pálitána, Rájkot and Wadhwán have thus undertaken the control of their own schools. The financial arrangements regarding fees, pension contributions from masters were at the same time revised. The Educational Institutions in the Province numbered 998 against 939 in the previous year. The total number of pupils was 60,957 against 59,804. The percentage of scholars to population is 1 to 45.

General Education.

PART II.

CHAPTER I—Political.

JHÁLÁVÁD PRÁNT.

Area 4,392·6 square miles; Population 4,69,199.

Personnel.

1. Mr. P. S. V. FitzGerald was in charge of this District throughout the year. Ráo Bahádur Dayáshankar Jivanlál held the appointment of Deputy Assistant Political Agent till the 2nd of March 1893, when he retired from the service after 31 years meritorious service in the Political Department. He was succeeded by Ráo Bahádur Savàilál Govindrám.

DHRÁNGADHRA—1ST CLASS.

Area 1,156·5 square miles; Population 1,03754; Revenue Rs. 4,50,000; Tribute Rs. 44,677.

2. Mr. FitzGerald reports on this State as follows :—

Dhrángadhra
Want of cordiality in the relations between the Ráj Sáheb and heir-apparent.

"The relations between His Highness the Ráj Sáheb and his grandson and heir Kumár Ajitsinghji continue to be outwardly harmonious but I fear that those more immediately about His Highness will never, if they can help it, permit them to become cordial. In June and July a desperate effort was made to bring about a fresh disagreement between the Kumár and His Highness, and the latter submitted two long representations against his grandson which were drafted by a Lawyer in Bombay. These communications were forwarded to the Political Agent at the time, advice was given to the Diván and the matter subsided, since when the outwardly harmonious relations previously existing have been maintained.

"The Kumár continues to lead a healthy life and his interest in his horses and in all outdoor pursuits continues unabated; recently I am informed he has taken most enthusiastically to cricket, but it is a great pity that the future Ruler of the State should have nothing more serious than these pastimes to occupy his mind and that his youth, which should be utilized in training and fitting him for the responsible position he will one day have to occupy, should be wasted in such comparatively trivial pursuits. He leads a life at Dhrángadhra which, while it is as far as I can ascertain in every way blameless and simple, must be exceedingly monotonous and I am of opinion that His Highness the Ráj Sáheb is not a little to blame in not finding for his grandson some more serious occupation and in not allowing him to take some part in the management of State affairs. It looks almost as if those about His Highness desired by keeping the Kumár without occupation that he should drift into evil courses. While the late Diván lived, I repeatedly urged that the Kumár should be given something to do, if it were only the charge of the State Forces and the supervision of the Horse-breeding establishment for both of which he is particularly fitted by his tastes, but His Highness obstinately refused to see the advisability of such a course and since the Diván died, I have said no more because under the circumstances at present existing, it would be worse than useless to do so."

Change of Diván.

3. On the demise of the Diván Mr. Náráyanráo Bálkrishna, His Highness applied for the transfer of the services of Ráo Bahádur Saváilál Govindrám, 2nd Deputy Assistant Political Agent, for employment as his Diván, and the sanction of the Government of India has been received since the close of the year.

Domestic affliction.

4. During the year under report His Highness' family sustained a severe domestic bereavement by the death of His Highness the Mahárája of Rutlám. The deceased Mahárája had twice contracted matrimonial alliances with the house of Dhrángadhra first in 1878 with a daughter of His Highness by whom he had a son, the present Mahárája, and secondly in 1884 after her death with a sister of Kumár Ajitsingh and grand-daughter of the Ráj Sáheb who survives him.

Employment of Mr. Souter to supervise and re-organize police arrangements.

5. During the late outlawry the police of the Dhrángadhra State proved inefficient and were unable to cope with the dacoits. His Highness was therefore advised to obtain the services of a European Police Superintendent, and eventually His Highness applied for the services of Mr. Souter, Assistant Superintendent of Police for a period of two years to supervise and re-organize his police and that Officer took charge of his duties on the 8th October. Under Mr. Souter's auspices the State Police force is being re-organized.

Limbdi—2nd Class.

Area 343·96 square miles; Population 48,116; Revenue Rs. 2,51,591; Tribute Rs. 45,533.

Limbdi: Desirability of having efficient officials.

6. For the reasons shown in the Administration Report for the last year the Thákor Sáheb was advised to obtain the services of a more competent Kárbhári, but nothing appears to have been as yet done in the matter. Mr. FitzGerald is quite right in observing that "situated as Limbdi is on the confines of British territory and with a large and important Mahál actually under British jurisdiction, it behoves the Thákor Sáheb to surround himself with the best stamp of official that he can procure and to have as his adviser and Kárbhári a man of proved ability and conciliatory temper."

Settlement of boundary disputes.

7. The disputes between this State and Ahmedábád Collectorate regarding the boundaries of the villages of Bávli, Shiál, Káyla and Vekaria have at last been adjudicated on by the Arbitrators appointed for the purpose.

Wadhwán—2nd Class.

Area 236·16 square miles; Population 42,280; Revenue 4,00,000; Tribute 28,691.

Wadhwán: Illness of the Thákor Sáheb.

8. The Thákor Sáheb was unfortunately in very indifferent health for the greater part of the year. He went away to Poona for change before the rains, but it was not until the cold weather had set in that he really began to mend: then he gained strength rapidly and by Christmas or soon after was able to personally attend to the administration again; in March he was well enough to proceed on tour in his Districts and has since visited nearly the whole of his State and been able to look into things personally.

Contemplated visit to England eventually abandoned.

9. The Thákor Sáheb had formed an intention of visiting England for the purpose of being present at the opening ceremony of the Imperial Institute but when the time to start drew near, he changed his mind and resolved not to go.

Revenue Survey.

10. The revenue survey of the State was commenced in February under the supervision of Major Fenton and his Assistant Mr. Hatch, who has been lately appointed by Government to strengthen the survey staff of the Agency.

Water supply.

11. The water supply of the town is reported to be in much need of improvement. The Thákor Sáheb is fully alive to this and in the hot weather he obtained the services of Mr. White, C.E., formerly of the Tansa Water-works to advise him and work out a scheme. His recommendations will be acted upon during the current year.

Lakhtar—3rd Class.

Area 247·43 square miles; Population 25,093; Revenue Rs. 75,000; Tribute Rs. 7,351.

Lakhtar: Kumár's education.

12. The Thákor's eldest son Kumár Gagubha aged 12 was entered at the Rájkumár College during the year. His conduct and progress are reported to be satisfactory.

Revenue Survey.

13. The progress made in the revenue survey has not been reported but it is stated that the cash assessment introduced into the 12 Nalkántha villages has proved beneficial and is popular with the cultivators and that steps are being taken to introduce similar assessment in the other portions of the State.

Question of Wásva-Jálampura Bandh still under consideration.

14. The question of the Wásva-Jálampura Bandh has not yet been finally settled. Government have since the close of the year proposed to settle the matter by a prolongation of the Narsingpura Aniáli drainage scheme. Alternative routes have been proposed and the Thákor has been asked to decide whether he will accept the one passing through his territory.

Sáela—3rd Class.

Area 222·1 square miles; Population 15,834; Revenue Rs. 65,000; Tribute Rs. 15,511.

Sáela: Rainfall.

15. This Táluka suffered much from untimely and deficient rainfall during the year.

Sons of the Chief.

16. The Thákor Sáheb has still 3 sons in the Tálukdári-Girásia School, though one is about to leave. He will join his other three brothers in assisting their father in the management of the estate, thus affording an example that might well be followed by other Darbár families.

CHUDA—3RD CLASS.

Area 78·2 square miles; Population 12,955; Revenue Rs. 67,000; Tribute Rs. 7,143.

Chuda: Encumbered condition.

17. The affairs of this small State have again fallen into almost inextricable confusion. There is a debt of about Rupees 1,80,000. The Táluka establishments, police, &c., are reported to be about 18 months in arrears of their pay and the cultivating classes and lower orders are dissatisfied and complaining. In March Mr. FitzGerald, the Pránt Officer, visited the Táluka and enquired into the state of affairs. A special report on the subject is under the consideration of Government.

MULI—4TH CLASS.

Area 133·2 square miles; Population 16,726; Revenue Rs. 1,00,000; Tribute Rs. 9,354.

Muli: The Kumár's education.

18. There is nothing special to record regarding this State, the Chief has been urged to send his eldest son, now 11 years of age, to the Rájkumár College but has not as yet done so.

BAJÁNA—4TH CLASS.

Area 183·12 square miles; Population 15,958; Revenue Rs. 1,00,000; Tribute Rs. 8,037.

Bajána: Dissentions between the sons: question of succession settled.

19. There has been a change of Kárbhári in this petty Jat Táluka, the ruler of which is 73 years of age. The Chief is wholly uneducated and intensely conservative, and the unfortunate dispute as to the succession has been the cause of bitter dissentions between his sons. This matter has been settled since the year closed, and it has been held that the succession goes by primogeniture.

PÁTDI—4TH CLASS.

Area 39·4 square miles; Population 4,438; Revenue of Káthiáwár villages Rs. 15,000.

Pátdi: The Chief and his son.

20. The Chief, the bulk of whose estate is situated in British Regulation Districts, continues to manage his estate in a sensible practical way, and there are no complaints. His eldest son was throughout the year at the Rájkumár College and is well reported on by the Principal.

SORATH PRÁNT.

Area 5,217·16 square miles; Population 7,85,032.

Personnel.

21. Major F. W. Snell was in charge of the Pránt up to the 9th June 1892, on which date Captain M. T. Lyde relieved him and remained in charge until the close of the year.

JUNÁGAD—1ST CLASS.

Area 3,283·7 square miles; Population 4,84,190; Revenue Rs. 24,50,000; Tribute Rs. 65,604.

Junágad: Installation of the Naváb; tour through India.

22. As mentioned in the report for last year His Highness Rasúlkhánji was recognized by Government as Naváb of Junágad in succession to his brother Sir Báhádurkhánji, G.C.I.E., and installed on the Gádi in a public Darbár held by Sir Charles Ollivant in June 1892. Subsequently His Highness expressed a desire to make tours through India at convenient intervals, and obtained the loan of the services of Captain Cates as Travelling Companion. The first tour commenced on January 15th and ended on February 25th, during which the following places were visited:—Bombay, Jabalpur, Alláhábád, Calcutta, Benáres, Lucknow, Cawnpor, Ágra, Delhi. About this time, His Highness the Mahárája of Bhávnagar having intimated his intention to visit England to be present on the opening of the Imperial Institute in London and to pay his respects personally to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen Empress, His Highness the Naváb also signified his desire to join him, but subsequently abandoned the idea. He, however, resumed his Indian tour after the close of the year and visited the Southern part of India. It is hoped that these travels will extend His Highness' knowledge and thus conduce to his supervising the affairs of his State in a more intelligent manner.

Religious disputes between Hindus and Mahomedans.

23. Reference was made last year to friction between Hindus and Mahomedans at Somnáth Pátan. In order to remove all causes of such friction and to bring about a settlement of these differences the Junágad Darbár applied to Government for an independent commission consisting of a European British Officer as President and two members, one Hindu and another Mahomedan, to investigate and settle all disputes. Government were pleased to comply with the request and deputed the following Officers to form a Committee for the purpose:—

Colonel J. M. Hunter, 1st Assistant Political Agent, Káthiáwár.

Ráo Bahádur Ranchhodlál Kapurchand, Assistant Registrar, High Court, Bombay.

Mirza Abbás Ali Baig, Presidency Magistrate, Bombay.

The Committee commenced their labours on the 20th January 1893 and was still sitting at Verával at the close of the year. A report has since been made and submitted to the Junágad Darbár and Government.

Disputes with the Háthis of Mália.

24. For the settlement of the disputes between the Háthis of Mália and the Junágad Darbár which had been adjudicated on by the Bháyáti Court of Junágad but not to the satisfaction of the Háthis, Government deputed in February last Mr. J. J. Heaton, I.C.S., to enquire into the matters complained of, and after giving all parties a full opportunity of presenting their case, to report his findings for the orders of Government. Mr. Heaton has visited Mália and had a hearing of the parties, but the real business of the case is to be taken up in Rájkot during the monsoon.

25. The demand of the Junágad State for the recovery of certain fees due from officials and subjects of Baroda for bathing in the Práchi Kund still remains unsatisfied, though final orders have been passed by Government in the matter.

Práchi Kund disputes with Baroda.

26. Similarly the question regarding the surrender of the subjects of Gáekwár to Junágad on the submission of primâ facie cases prepared by Junágad has not yet been settled, and a reference has eventually had to be made to Government.

Question of extradition with Baroda.

27. The Imperial Service Troops are reported to be progressing satisfactorily. The corps, which numbers 100 men and horses, was inspected by His Excellency the Governor on his recent visit to Junágad after the close of the year.

Imperial Service Corps.

28. The Darbár has engaged the services of Dr. J. W. Evans, for the purpose of making a Geological Survey of the Junágad territory, and it is hoped that much benefit may accrue from this survey.

Geological Survey.

JÁFARÁBÁD—2ND CLASS.

Area 42·3 square miles ; Population 12,389 ; Revenue Rs. 63,884 ; Tribute Nil.

29. This petty State, which enjoys the jurisdiction of 2nd Class, belongs to the Navab of Janjira. Sir Charles Ollivant accompanied by the Prant Officer and the Educational Inspector and Assistant Educational Inspector, visited Jáfarábád in May 1892. There is nothing else to record regarding this State.

Jáfarábád ; Visit of the Political Agent.

JETPUR.

Area 733·8 square miles ; Population 1,11,549 ; Revenue Rs. 8,02,000 ; Tribute Rs. 59,222.

30. This Táluka consists of 145 villages, of which 122 belong to different jurisdictional Chiefs with powers varying from 4th to the 6th Class. Two of the jurisdictional shareholders, Wála Desa Bhima and Válera Jasa, died during the year. The former left 2 minor sons, and therefore the estate was taken under Agency management. One of the non-jurisdictional shareholders also viz, Wála Rám Sámat, died during the year but leaving no issue, the estate was inherited by the nearest collateral, Wála Bávа Jivna of Vadia, a 5th Class Tálukdár, who is yet a minor. The widows at the outset put forward an assertion that they were both enceinte but subsequently they announced that they were not pregnant. By an amicable arrangement they have been granted handsome maintenance according to the custom of the Káthis.

Jetpur : Deaths of shareholders.

31. The Jetpur Táluka Court which is composed of 3 life members exercises jurisdiction in 23 villages, but its working continues to be reported as unsatisfactory. Captain Lyde suggests that the members should be elected every 3 or 5 years and the rest of the Tálukdárs should be prepared to recognize them as Bháyáts would recog nize their Chief. The reconstitution of the Court requires however deeper and more careful consideration.

The Táluka Court.

The Police placed under European supervision.

32. An European Officer was placed in charge of the Jetpur Police during the year, and it is hoped that the police will benefit by his appointment. Proposals have since been received regarding the re-organization of the Police in this Táluka and are under consideration.

Bántva.

Area 221·8 square miles ; Population 42,105 ; Revenue Rs. 3,04,231 ; Tribute 29,642.

Bántva : Constitution.

33. This Táluka consists of 4 jurisdictional divisions viz :—

1. Mánávadar, 3rd Class, now under Agency management.
2. Gidad, 4th Class (Personal to the present Chief).
3. Bántva branch (5th Class).
4. Bántva Majmu (do.).

The first three have their own Chiefs, while the fourth division is administered for jurisdiction purposes by a Nyáyádhish nominated by the Tálukdárs of Bántva with the approval of the Agency, the revenue management resting with the shareholders. Nothing special has occurred during the year.

Petty States.

Petty States : Vasávad.

34. Of the petty States none need special notice except Vasávad, regarding which Captain Lyde reports—

" This Táluka is owned by Nágar Bráhmins and one of them Ázam Keshowlál Pránjivan was elected Nyáyádhish in 1886 by the shareholders with the approval of the Agency and he exercises 5th Class powers. Mr. Keshowlál has a difficult post to fill and being without much tact there are continual squabbles between the Mussalmáns and Hindus.

" As a matter of fact the Nyáyádhish ought not to be a Tálukdár, for in the majority of civil cases or in many of them the Talukdárs are concerned.

" This tiny State, if it can be so called, has given a great deal of trouble during the past year and I place on record that the same complaint was made by the Pránt Officer, Major Snell, last year.

" The Nyáyádhish appears to be especially bitter against the Mussulmáns which is a bad trait in the character of a man who being a Hindu, has to dispense justice to Mahomedans and Hindus alike."

HÁLÁR PRÁNT.

Area 7,062 square miles; Population 8,22,875.

Personnel.

35. The following Officers were in charge of the Pránt during the year:—

Lieutenant J. G. Westropp—from 1st April 1892 to 12th June 1892, the date of his death.

Mr. P. S. V. FitzGerald—from 13th to 22nd June 1892 in addition to his own Pránt, Jhálávád.

Lieutenant H. T. Pritchard—from 23rd June to 9th December 1892.

Lieutenant Colonel C. W. H. Sealy—from 10th December 1892 to the close of the year.

NAVÁNAGAR—1ST CLASS.

Area 3,791·3 square miles; Population 3,79,611; Revenue Rs. 27,01,737; Tribute Rs. 1,20,093.

Navánagar: Liquidation of debt.

36. There is no event of special importance to be mentioned with regard to this State, except that the debt which stood at 12 Lákhs of Rupees at the close of the previous year, has been reduced to 7 Lákhs chiefly owing to increase of revenue.

The heir-apparent's education.

37. His Highness the Jám Sáheb's son Kumár Jaswatsingji, now in his 11th year, is being educated by Miss Laura Brooke, whose services were obtained from Government during the year. The Kumár has also a native tutor; he was examined by Mr. Giles and reported on most favourably. It is to be hoped, however, that nothing will prevent His Highness from sending the Kumár at an early date to the Rájkumár College for that education and training which can only be got by a residence away from home and in the company of his equals in position.

Imperial Service Corps.

38. The Imperial Service Troop is reported to be making excellent progress and to have found in Jhála Shri Dádbha Muluji a Commandant of exceptional capabilities. The lines are almost complete and swords and Snider carbines have been obtained and a Rifle Range is nearly finished.

Management of the Jhinjhuda Bandar.

39. To avoid disputes between Cutch and Navánagar in regard to the former's rights in the Jhinjhuda Bandar and with the view of effecting a separation by valuation, the Bandar has been taken under Agency management simultaneously with the Wawánia Bandar regarding which disputes between Morvi and Cutch were constant and acute.

Exchange of Bhimkutta with Barwála.

40. No progress has been made in the matter of the proposed exchange of the Baroda village of Bhimkutta with the Navánagar village of Barwála owing to the apathy of the Baroda Darbár towards the scheme, and friction between the two States still continues.

41. The revenue for the Hálár Samvat year 1948 (1891-92) was estimated at Rupees 24,85,548 and the expenditure at Rupees 23,53,681. The actual receipts were Rupees 27,01,737 and expenditure Rupees 23,27,620. These results are very satisfactory and His Highness and the Diván Mr. Manganlál Bápubhái, are to be congratulated on the material progress made in every department of the State during the year. A steady determination to pay off the debt will give His Highness the Jám the means of effecting those further improvements on which he has set his mind.

Financial condition.

42. During the last year the subject of constructing a Railway from Rájkot to Navánagar and Jodia engaged the attention of His Highness and proposals were submitted to the Agency after negotiations with his bankers to borrow a sum of 40 Lákhs from a firm of English Capitalists for the double purpose of constructing the Railway and of paying off the existing debts, the loan to be repayable within a certain number of years by yearly instalments. These proposals were submitted to Government by Sir Charles Ollivant after the close of the year.

The proposed Jámnagar-Rájkot Railway.

Morvi—1st Class.

Area 821·6 square miles: Population 1,05,335 : Revenue Rs. 10,00,000 : Tribute Rs. 61,559.

Morvi: Visit of the Governor: the heir-apparent: health of the Chief: attachment imposed on the Ádhoi Mahál and Wawánia Bandar.

43. The Pránt Officer Colonel Sealy reports as follows:—

"His Highness the Thákor Sáheb, as usual, personally conducted the affairs of the State, Mr. Amarchand Jhaverchand remaining as Acting Diván. His Excellency Lord Harris, Governor of Bombay, visited Morvi and opened the High School and the Asylum. He is the fourth Governor who has honoured Morvi by a visit since the accession of Sir Wághji. Owing to pressure of work a new post of Huzur Personal Assistant was created and Mr. Morárji Mangalji was appointed thereto on 20th September 1892.

"Kumár Shri Jiáji (the heir-apparent) is being educated in England and is favourably reported of. The Girás dispute with Kumár Harbhamji is still pending before the Judicial Assistant.

"The health of His Highness the Thákor Sáheb has been bad, necessitating a change to the Nilgiris for 3 months. Since the close of the official year, His Highness has proceeded to Europe for 5 or 6 months and it is hoped his health will be thoroughly re-established.

"The placing of an attachment on the rights of Cutch and Morvi in Wawánia Bandar and the taking under Government management of the Ádhoi Mahál with a view to separation of the respective rights have to a great extent checked the frequency of complaints."

Gondal—1st Class.

Area 1,024·65 square miles: Population 1,61,036: Revenue Rs. 12,00,000: Tribute Rs. 1,10,721.

Gondal: Return of the Thákor Sáheb and his Ráni from Europe.

44. His Highness the Thákor Sáheb returned from his foreign tour in January 1893, when his subjects at the Capital accorded him a most cordial welcome and offered hearty congratulations on the complete recovery of the health of the Ráni During her stay in England Her Highness was invested by Her Majesty the Queen-Empress with the order of the Crown of India.

Honours obtained.

45. His Highness took his Medical Degree at Edinburgh and was admitted a Member of the Royal College of Physicians. The University of Oxford conferred on him the Honorary title of D.C.L. The two elder children of His Highness the Thákor Sáheb are being educated in Scotland.

Administration of the State during his absence.

46. During His Highness' long absence the administration has been conducted by the Diván Mr. Bezanji Merwánji, in whom, Colonel Sealy reports, His Highness has a faithful and zealous servant.

The Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway passing through Gondal.

47. The Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway, which passes through the Capital town of Gondal and to the expenses of which this State has contributed a 6 anna share was completed during the year and opened by His Excellency the Governor at Gondal on the 11th April 1893.

Vighoti system introduced.

48. The Vighoti system has at length been ordered to be introduced into all Khálsa villages.

Improvements in the State.

49. The Pránt Officer concludes his report with the following observations:— "the excellence and neat order of the public buildings, schools and hospitals, the well-watered roads and well kept Botanical and other gardens, the experimental Farm, the Asylum and the Library at Gondal, all indicate the personal interest taken by His Highness the Thákor Sáheb not only in the material welfare of his subjects but in the education of their taste and the inculcation of higher aspirations."

Dhrol.—2nd Class.

Area 282·7 square miles: Population 27,002: Revenue Rs. 1,50,000: Tribute Rs. 10,231.

Dhrol: The Chief and his son: remarks on the administration.

50. The Pránt Officer reports:— "It is satisfactory to note that the Chief and his sons (both educated at the Rájkumár College) live in harmony, a condition of affairs always desirable, but doubly so when as in Dhrol the number and revenues of the Bháyáts are so great. The Chief, one of the old type, takes great interest in the welfare of his cultivators who are much assisted and encouraged in the sinking of wells. The founding of a new village Manekpur is an instance alike creditable to the Chief and his Kárbhári Mr. Mánekchand Talsi, after whom the village is named.

" The Bháyáts continue their opposition to the establishment of the 6 schools in their villages. The Pránt Educational Committee has now resolved that these should be made permanent. The cost of each school will not exceed Rs. 120 per annum, a sum within the means of the poorest of the several villages. The Bháyáts collectively enjoy a revenue of about 3 Lákhs and it is their bounden duty to provide education. The Darbár continues to encourage education."

VIRPUR—4TH CLASS.

Area 66·9 square miles; Population 7,306; Revenues Rs. 40,150; Tribute Rs. 4,114.

Virpur: The Chief and his Kunvars.

51. The Chief of this State has had his three sons educated at the Rájkumár College and is himself reported to be very fond of outdoor sports, his sons following his example. Owing to certain marriage expenses the Chief has incurred a debt which is large for his State. The withdrawal of his two elder Kumárs from the Rájkumár College, however, will relieve him of considerable expense.

Pursuit of dacoits personally by the Thákor.

52. In August 1892 the Thákor personally joined in the pursuit of the outlaws, when they appeared in his limits and received the commendation of Government for setting such an example to the other Chiefs.

J.-R. Railway passing by Virpur.

53. The Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway has given the State a station about half a mile distant from the town of Virpur.

GOHILVÁD PRÁNT.

Area 4,208·4 square miles; Population 6,75,375.

Personnel.

54. The following Officers were in charge of the Pránt during the year :—

Captain M. T. Lyde—from 1st April 1892 to 27th September 1892.

Captain J. S. Ashby—from 28th September 1892 to 31st March 1893.

BHÁVNAGAR—1ST CLASS.

Area 2,860 square miles; Population 4.67,282; Revenue Rs. 34,00,000; Tribute Rs. 1,54,499.

Visit of His Excellency the Governor.

55. This State had the honour of a visit from His Excellency Lord Harris, Governor of Bombay, in April 1892. His Excellency arrived on the 13th and left on the 16th. A magnificent reception was accorded to His Excellency on arrival and on the following day the Takhtsingji Hospital was opened and a State banquet was given in the evening.

Generosity and personal interest of His Highness.

56. His Highness the Mahárája, Sir Takhtsingji, G.C.S.I., has continued to manifest the greatest personal interest in all affairs connected with his State and no higher encomium can be bestowed on the administration than to state that it has been marked with the same efficiency as in past years and the same care for the welfare and interests of his people has been manifested. The Takhtsingji Hospital which was opened by His Excellency the Governor will be a lasting memorial of His Highness' care for and generosity to his people, for as His Excellency stated in his speech at the opening ceremony " 15 years ago when you had as it were the choice of erecting a palace for yourself or of building a place which would be such a comfort to your subjects as the present Hospital will undoubtedly prove, you preferred the latter to the former, and that fact, I am sure, will, during your lifetime and for centuries after it, bring to the minds of generations to come feelings of the utmost gratitude for your Highness' extreme consideration. "

The heir-apparent Kumár Bhávsingji.

57. The heir-apparent Kumár Bhavsingji was married in February last to the daughter of the Chief of Devgad Bária. During the greater portion of the year, the Kumár continued his studies under the care of Mr. Fraser, I.C.S. In February Lieutenant. Merewether was appointed tutor and guardian. Kumár Bhávsingji is reported to be a manly and active youth, a good rider and excellent shot, in fact more proficient in athletic exercises than at his studies.

Marriages of Kunvar and Kunvari.

58. The eldest daughter of His Highness, Kunvari Rámba, was also married at the same time as her brother to Kumár Shri Bhávsingji of Porbandar.

The Council.

59. His Highness has been assisted during the past year by the Council established by him in 1887. The personnel of the Council at the end of the year was as follows:—

Mr. Vithaldás Sámaldás—Diván and Senior Councillor.

Mr. Proctor Sims—Public Works Councillor.

Mr. M. M. Bhávnagari—Judicial Councillor.

Mr. Dosábhái Frámji—Acting do.

Working of the Council.

60. The Council is reported to have, on the whole, worked harmoniously though at one time there was slight friction which has apparently and happily ceased.

Increase in revenue.

61. There has been an increase of 4 Lákhs in the revenue, principally owing to the new 'Kháta Bandhi' settlement made by the State by which the assessment has increased.

Bhávnagar Imperial Service Corps.

62. The Bhávnagar Imperial Service Corps was inspected by the late Commander-in-Chief Sir George Greaves and by General Beville, Commanding, Northern Division, both of whom expressed themselves as highly satisfied with the progress made, and the efficiency and smartness of the Corps. His Highness continues to take a great personal interest in the Regiment and spares no expense in providing all the necessaries.

63. Towards the end of the year, His Highness signified his intention of visiting England and to be present at the opening of the Imperial Institute in London. For a long time past His Highness had been meditating a trip to England in order to pay his respects to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress and to see with his own eyes the centre of the British Empire. But various circumstances prevented the fulfilment of this desire. The expected opening of the Imperial Institute afforded a suitable opportunity of carrying out his intention. His Highness was anxious that Sir Charles Ollivant who was about to proceed to England should give him the pleasure of his company during the journey and asked the permission of Government, but it was not possible to comply with this request. Since the close of the year His Highness left for England, accompanied by Captain Merewether and Mr. M. M. Bhávnagari, Judicial Councillor.

Visit of His Highness to England.

Pálitána—2nd Class.

Area 288·88 square miles; Population 60,848; Revenue Rs. 4,75,000; Tribute Rs. 10,364.

64. Captain Asbhy, the Pránt Officer, reports "the Thákor Sáheb himself personally superintends each department of the State. The government of the State is carried on with marked efficiency and ability. I was much impressed with the thorough information possessed by the Thákor Sáheb as regards the minutest details of the affairs of each department of the State. While taking a keen personal interest in each department, he perhaps pays the greatest attention to the Public Works and Horse-breeding Departments."

Pálitána: The Chief's interest in the administration.

65. The estrangement between the Thákor Sáheb and his brother Kumár Sámatsingji and sister Keshába still continues. Captain Ashby made endeavours in March last to bring about a meeting and re-establish amicable relations, but without success. The appeals made to the Home Government regarding the Girás allotment to Kumár Sámatsingji and pecuniary provision for Kunvari Shri Keshába have both been rejected by Her Majesty's Secretary of State. Petty disputes regarding passes &c. are being dealt with locally.

Disputes with Kumár Sámatsingji.

66. During the past year the Darbár has through the Pránt Officer approached the Bháyáts of Motisri and Sándhkhákhra with a view to an adjustment by arbitration of the claims against them. But the overtures were rejected owing to the obstinacy of some of them. In the meantime the estate of the Bháyáts is under attachment, and the revenue is applied to the liquidation of the heavy debt to the Darbár. Further endeavours will however be made in the direction of removing the attachment and settling the Darbár claims.

Bháyáts of Motisri and Sándhkhákhra.

67. The Chief Kárbhári Mr. Chunilál Sárábhái having been appointed Acting Diván of Junágad, has been succeeded by Mr. J. M. Dias, a Pleader of the Agency.

Change of Chief Kárbhári.

68. The State had the honour of a visit from His Excellency the Governor in April 1892, on which occasion suitable preparations were made for the reception of His Excellency.

Visit of the Governor.

VALA—3RD CLASS.

Area 109·3 square miles; Population 17,842; Revenue Rs. 1,50,000; Tribute Rs. 9,202.

Vala : administration.

69. There is nothing special to record regarding this State. Owing to excessive rainfall the Kharif crops were damaged but the Rabi yielded a good produce. No loans were taken by the cultivators from the Agricultural Bank. Complaints were made to the Agency by certain cultivators of excessive taxation, but the Darbár on the advice of the Agency enquired into their complaints and in certain cases withdrew the extra charges complained of.

JASDAN—3RD CLASS.

Area 283 square miles; Population 35,057; Revenue Rs. 1,30,000; Tribute Rs 10,993.

Jasdan : Marriages of sons.

70. The year under report was marked by the marriages of the sons and grandsons of the Chief, which were celebrated with great eclat, and were witnessed by Sir Charles Ollivant, who was present on the occasion.

Disagreement between the Chief and his eldest son.

71. The eldest son of the Chief, Kháchar Odha, is still on bad terms with his father, and it is to be regretted that he will not follow the advice given him by the Agency. While he maintains his present attitude, it is impossible to expect or hope that there will be a reconciliation.

CHAPTER II.

Wards and Managed Estates.

JHÁLÁVÁD PRÁNT.

VÁNKÁNER—2ND CLASS.

Area 414·5 square miles; Population 39,329; Revenue Rs. 2,52,591; Tribute Rs. 18,879.

Vánkáner : Young Ráj Sáheb : his betrothal.

72. Ráo Bahádur Ganpatráo Náráyan Laud was in charge of the State as Government Manager throughout the year. The young Ráj Sáheb now 14 years of age continues to pursue his studies at the Rájkumár College, and the Principal reports that his work and conduct are alike satisfactory. The negotiations for the marriage of the young Ráj Sáheb with a daughter of the Chief of Sháhpura in Rajputána were much protracted owing to difficulties raised by the Bái Sáheb, but eventually these difficulties were smoothed away and a written contract acceptable to both parties was drawn up and ratified. The marriage is not to take place till 1894 or 1895.

Revenue and expenditure.

73. The revenue for the Samvat year 1948 showed a decline, owing to deficient rainfall in Samvat 1947. It amounted to Rupees 2,52,591 as against Rupees 2,66,864 in the previous year. The total expenditure under all heads was Rupees 2,34,431. Rupees 59,100 were invested in Government Paper, which raised the invested reserve of the State to Rupees 2,61,300. Mr. FitzGerald has devoted considerable attention to the subject of outstandings, which are being recovered gradually. The matter has been placed on a satisfactory footing, and the outstanding amount should now steadily decrease and be brought within reasonable limits in 2 or 3 years.

Revenue Survey.

74. The revenue survey was finally brought to a conclusion in December 1892. 95 villages with a total area of 1,86,800 acres have been measured and maps completed at a total cost of Rupees 25,263, of which Rupees 12,499 either has been or is to be refunded by the villagers by a levy of one anna per Bigha. The work was begun in September 1889 and has been carried out under the supervision of a pensioned Native Survey Officer from the British Service. No classification of the soil has been attempted, but during the year under report it was determined to entrust the classification to Major Fenton, Superintendent of Surveys, and as a preliminary to it, the work done is being examined by Mr. Hatch, Assistant Survey Superintendent.

Purchase of alienated land.

75. 317 Bighás of alienated land was purchased by the State during the year at a cost of Rupees 4,375, raising the quantity so purchased to 1,284¼ Bighás at a total cost of Rs. 14,606.

Police placed under European supervision : Re-organization.

76. Considerable alterations have been made in the constitution of the Police Force and a European Superintendent, Mr. G. N. R. Lambert, has been appointed in conjunction with the Rájkot State Police. Old and useless men are being weeded out and a very considerable improvement had been effected up to the close of the year.

Other smaller States.

Other petty States under management.

77. The petty States under management in the Jhálávád Pránt are Rájpar, Dasáda and Jhinjhuváda.

Rájpar.

78. The revenue of Rájpar during the year did not come up to the average, the rainfall having been deficient and untimely and therefore it was not possible to invest any surplus. The invested reserve amounts to Rs. 43,000.

Dasáda.

79. Dasáda.—The mother of the minor Tálukdár Jenkhán objected to the management and gave much trouble during the year by obstructing and quarrelling with the Manager. Her objections to the management were overruled and the Manager transferred to another appointment. The Bái however still shows a disposition to be troublesome.

80. JHINJHUVÁDA—As regards this estate, the last year was the first year of reduced management. What is now under attachment is the Rásáni share and the Majmu Girás of the Rásáni Meláni Tálukdárs. Mr. FitzGerald has as yet been unable to bring about any understanding between the shareholders as to the disputes between the two branches regarding deposits. The number of shareholders is so large and their views so divergent that it is no easy task.

Jhinjhuváda.

SORATH PRÁNT.

PORBANDAR—1ST CLASS.

Area 636·5 square miles; Population 85,785; Revenue Rs. 4,84,900; Tribute Rs. 48,504.

81. The State was administered by Ráo Bahádur Shankar Pándurang Pandit throughout the year. The revenue survey, the settlement of the Mhers cases and old customs accounts, enquiry into the titles of alienated lands and stricter control of the affairs of Kumár Bhávsingji formed the principal features of the year's administration.

Porbandar: principal features of the year's administration.

82. The revenue survey has been practically completed, the work having lasted for 5 years and 8 months, the total approximate cost being Rupees 89,000 against an estimate of Rupees 30,000. The cost per acre is nearly 5 annas. As a result of the revenue survey, the cash part of the assessment has been revised and the revision, Mr. Pandit reports, has added appreciably to the revenue. It has also enabled the State to know the exact amount of alienations and the revenue derived therefrom. Enquiry into titles has followed as a matter of course, and much benefit has accrued to the State from this also.

Revenue survey completed.

83. 21 villages are held by the Mhers who are the hereditary Militia of the Porbandar State, in consideration of service to be performed. All land disputes connected with them have been adjudicated on by the Rájasthánik Court. 2 remained at the close of the year, but they have been since disposed of. Out of 1,30,339 acres claimed by the Mhers, 32,532 have been confirmed by the Court and the rest disallowed. In addition to service, the Mhers are liable to a hearth-tax, which amounts to about Rupees 12,186. Mr. Pandit is of opinion that owing to the principle on which this tax is imposable, i. e., its incidence on each family instead of on the land, the leaders of the clans escape very lightly and the poorer members have to pay more in proportion, because the former enjoy more lands than the latter and that this can only be rectified by making the Vero assessable on the land instead of on the Chulo, a change, however, to which the leading men are naturally much opposed. The orders of Government are to commute this and any other taxes on the Mhers into a moderate assessment upon their lands and measures will shortly be taken with the sanction of Government to regulate this levy on approved principles.

Mhers cases also finished: commutation of hearth-tax on them.

84. The settlement of the old customs accounts has progressed during the year. The number of accounts settled was 138, and Rupees 10,517 were recovered. There now remain about 16 large and 125 minor accounts to settle, and it is expected that this work will be finished in the course of the next year.

Settlement of old accounts.

85. The Bandar wharf has been extended and all possible endeavours are made to improve the creek in the interest of trade. A scheme has been prepared and submitted to Government for the improvement of the harbour, involving the construction of a pier and two breakwaters. Supplementary to this is the project of erecting a jetty, the object being to provide a means of loading and discharging cargo independently of the tides during which alone the creek allows those operations and also to lessen the charges on account of lighterage which bears heavily on the trade of the port at present.

Schemes for the improvement of the harbour.

86. His Highness the Rána continues his friendly attitude towards the administration. He is now 74 years old, but is enjoying his usual good health.

His Highness the Rána.

87. Kumár Bhávsingji married a second wife Bái Shri Rámba, daughter of His Highness the Mahárája of Bhávnagar, with the permission of Government and the consent of His Highness the Rána. Immediately after this marriage, however, he went and married the sister of the Tálukdár of Sháput and then the daughter of the Tálukdár of Virpur to whom he had been previously engaged before privately. As Kumár Bhávsingji was found unable to regulate his household affairs properly, the control of his expenditure has been entrusted to his companion and tutor, Mr. Benson, towards the close of the year.

The heir-apparent Kumár Bhávsingji: marriages: control of household expenditure.

88. The second grandson of the Rána, Kumár Vajesingji, continues to attend the Rájkumár College and is satisfactorily reported on by the Principal. He is now 18 years of age.

The second Kumár Vajesingji.

89. While concluding this succinct sketch of the last year's administration of the Porbandar State, it is necessary here to record that of all the States under Government management in this Province, Porbandar affairs entail the most constant drain on the time and attention of the Political Agent. In 1890 and 1891 Mr. Pandit's public works cases, followed by elaborate enquiries and trials, gave a great deal of trouble with unsatisfactory results, while last year various appeals against the Administrator's orders came up for disposal. Kumár Bhávsingji's affairs have also engaged the anxious consideration of the Agency, and strict measures have had to be adopted in the matter.

Porbandar affairs very troublesome.

90. The detailed report of the Administrator is annexed as an accompaniment.

MÁNÁVADAR—3RD CLASS.

Area 90 square miles; Population 16,006; Revenue Rs. 2,34,137; Tribute Rs. 14,821.

91. There are two shareholders in this Táluka, Khán Shri Fatedinkhánji and Kamáludinkhánji, both being minors. The elder is about 8 years old and will shortly be sent to the Rájkumár College for education.

Mánávadar: the young Chiefs.

Revenue and expenditure.

92. The following figures show the financial condition of the State:—

Opening balance :—

Invested	1,00,000
Cash	66,581
Total	1,66,581
Revenue	2,32,038
Expenditure	1,46,240

Closing balance :—

Invested	2,50,000
Cash	22,806

Vadia—5th Class.

Area 72 square miles; Population 10,353; Revenue Rs. 1,30,000; Tribute Rs. 7,834-8-0.

Vadia: The young Chief: augmentation of estate by the death of his kinsman Rámwála.

93. The Pránt Officer reports as follows regarding this State :—

"If carefully looked after, the young Chief Báva Wála, who is now 19 years of age, will turn out well. At present he has a great opinion of himself and a love for jewellery.

"Since last year's report Rám Wála of Jetpur having died, his estate has been incorporated with that of Vadia, Báva Wála being the next of kin. Much trouble has been given by the widows of the late Rám Wála who both stated they were with child. This contention has been given up and they have been given suitable Jiváis."

Change of Manager.

94. The Manager, Mr. Edalji Dosábhái, was appointed 4th Deputy Assistant, and his place taken by Ráo Bahádur Pránjivan Vishwanáth, who has also been entrusted with the supervision of the estates of Wála Desa Bhima of Bilkha, Wála Wájsur Wálera and Wála Mulu Bháya of Bagasra.

Other Small Estates.

Other small estates.

95. The following estates in the Sorath Pránt were also under management during the year:—

1. Estates of Wálás Hipa and Bháya Nathu of Sanála, 6th Class.
2. Do. of Wála Wájsur Wálera of Bagasra, 6th Class.
3. Do. of Wálás Unad, Wálera and Giga Rána of Jetpur, 6th Class.
4. Do. of Wála Rám and Vira Mulu of Bagasra.

Death of Wála Desa Bhima and his estate placed under attachment.

96. To these was added the estate of Wála Desa Bhima of Bilkha, who died on 24th July 1892, leaving two minor sons.

Wálás Hipa Nathu and Wájsur Wálera associated in the management of their estates.

97. Wálás Hipa Nathu and Wájsur Wálera left the Rájkumár College and are now being associated with the Manager in the conduct of business preliminary to their being invested with the full powers attaching to their class.

HÁLÁR PRÁNT.

RÁJKOT—2ND CLASS.

Area 282·14 square miles; Population 49,938; Revenue Rs. 2,86,000; Tribute Rs. 21,321.

Rájkot; Smooth and satisfactory administration of the Manager; increase in his pay.

98. This is the third year of Agency management. Mr. Motichand Tulsi, the State Kárbhári, continues to carry on the administration smoothly and satisfactorily. Under his care many works of improvements are being carried out. On the recommendation of the Pránt Officer Colonel Sealy and Sir Charles Ollivant Government were pleased to increase his salary from Rupees 400 to Rupees 500.

Death of the old lady Bái Shri Nániba.

99. Bái Shri Nániba, alias Báma Sáheb, great grandmother of the present minor Chief, died on the 20th January 1893, leaving private property of considerable value. She had been in the enjoyment of a village, yielding an annual revenue of Rupees 18,000, which now reverts to the State. The Pránt Officer reports that her death is a distinct loss to the State as her knowledge of and interest in State affairs were great, and her influence was always exercised for good.

Minor Chief Lákháji under the care of his maternal uncle at Dharampur.

100. The minor Chief, Lákháji, now about 8 years old, continues to live at Dharampur under the care of his maternal uncle at Dharampur. His sister Bái Shri Devkunvarba and step-sister Bái Sáhebba are receiving instruction at Rájkot from Miss Gertrude Spencer, Lady Superintendent of the Barton Female Training College. Kumár Shri Ladhubha, brother of the late Thákor, is still living at Dhrángadhra and has not accepted the Girás assigned to him.

Public works under the supervision of Mr. Booth.

101. The public works of the State are carried out by Mr. Booth, the Agency Engineer, and to his suggestions and supervision are due the many and patent improvements which have been effected of late.

Police placed under European supervision.

102. The services of Mr. G. N. Lambert having been lent to the Vánkáner and Rájkot States as Superintendent of Police, that Officer assumed charge of his duties in the Rájkot State on the 18th April 1893.

103. By the opening of the J.R. Railway, to which this State has contributed two Lákhs, the town of Rájkot has become the junction of two Railways, and it is hoped that a third from the western direction, viz., Navánagar, will join in the near future.

Opening of the J.R. Railway.

Kotda-Sángáni—4th Class.

Area 74·4 square miles ; Population 10,221 ; Revenue 1,12,712 ; Tribute 11,616.

104. The minor Chief, Thákor Mulváji, continues his studies at the Rájkumár College. It is proposed to send him on a short tour in India before his installation on the Gádi. Mr. Umiáshankar Jivanrám continues to conduct the administration with ability.

Kotda-Sángáni : the young Chief's proposed tour through India.

105. The children of the Vala Thakor by the deceased sister of Thákor Mulváji still continue under the care of their grandmother at Kotda.

Children of Vala Thákor at Kotda.

106. The opening of the Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway has brought this State within easy reach of railway communication.

State now within easy reach of Railway.

107. The debt which stood at Rupees 67,967 at the close of last year now stands at Rupees 50,418.

The debt.

Mengni—5th Class.

Area 34·5 square miles ; Population 4,415 ; Revenue Rs. 33,000 ; Tribute Rs. 3,412.

108. This Táluka is under management since 1884. The Manager, Ázam Kálidás Ravidat, against whom frequent and bitter complaints were constantly made by the Táluk-dár, was transferred to Dasáda last year, and his place taken by the Dasáda Manager, Mr. Jagjivan Fulchand. It is to be hoped that better relations may subsist with him. During the year debt to the amount of Rupees 8,000 was liquidated, leaving a balance of Rupees 39,498.

Mengni : transfer of the Manager ; liquidation of the debt.

Mália—5th Class.

Area 102·8 square miles ; Population 13,589 ; Revenue Rs. 67,000 ; Tribute Rs. 1,367.

109. The affairs of this Táluka were year by year going from bad to worse, and as mentioned in last year's report a special report had to be submitted to Government in July 1892, the result of which was that the State was attached on the 10th September 1892 and the Thákor Modji removed from the Gádi, pending the final orders of Government. The Thákor was instructed to go to Poona to personally make explanations before His Excellency the Governor and has received orders not to enter Káthiáwár or Cutch without permission. He has since then resided at Poona and Bombay.

Mália : removal of the Thákor from the Gádi.

110. Captain O'Donnell was appointed Manager with the status of an Assistant Political Agent and assumed charge on 7th October 1892. He found everything in chaotic condition. The revenue accounts had not been written up for about 2 months, and it took some little time to work things into shape. Captain O'Donnell was able to submit a Budget in January, and a Committee has since been appointed to inquire into the pecuniary claims against the State, said to amount to Rupees 3,55,236, and report the result.

Agency management.

111. The chief event in the history of the Táluka, subsequent to its attachment was the total destruction on the 19th December 1892 of the gang of outlaws, who, under the leadership of Wála Námori, had been giving so much trouble in the Province. The gang was encountered at Karádia by Lieutenant Gordon who had hastened to the spot on information furnished by a spy, with 20 sowárs of the Agency Police, and 13 of the State Morvi State Police under the headship of Thánadár Kálubhái. Captain O'Donnell also with his men came up just at the time when the fight was coming to a close. A detailed notice of this occurrence will appear in Chapter III. Further particulars regarding Mália is given in Captain O'Donnell's report which forms an appendix to this report.

Other chief events: destruction of outlaws in a fight at Karádia; death of Lieutenant Gordon and his comrades.

GOHILVÁD PRÁNT.

LÁTHI—4TH CLASS.

Area 41·8 square miles; Population 8,282; Revenue 91,000; Tribute Rs. 2,007.

112. The minor Chief is now 19 years of age and has left the Rájkumár College. Since his return from the Indian tour mentioned in last year's report, the Thákor attends the Manager's and Nyáyádhish's Courts and is reported to be paying careful attention to the affairs of the State.

Láthi: the Thákor's return from tour: his attention to the affairs of State.

113. Owing to certain complaints, the Manager, Mr. Áshárám Dalichand resigned his post and has been succeeded by Mr. Edalji Dosábhái, formerly Manager of Wadia and lately 4th Deputy Assistant.

Change of the Manager.

114. The affairs of this small State occupied much of the attention of the Pránt Officer in last year in consequence of serious allegations against the Manager, but most of them on enquiry have proved to be groundless.

Charges against the late Manager found groundless.

CHAPTER III—Protection.

Course of Legislation.

New Regulations sanctioned and brought into force.

115. The following regulations were sanctioned by Government and brought into force during the year :—

1. Rules for the management of encumbered estates.
2. Whipping Rules.

Revision of the rules relating to the possession of arms and ammunition.

116. Much attention was also paid to the revision of the draft rules relating to the possession of arms and ammunition, codification of laws and procedure obtaining in this Agency and other minor regulations.

Introduction of the regulations as to the amount of water-supply and charges thereon.

117. The Jubilee water-works at Rájkot having been completed, the need for some regulations as to the amount of the water-supply and charges thereon was generally felt. A set of simple rules were consequently framed by Sir Charles Ollivant on the model of the Bombay Rules and these are worked under the control of a Committee.

Police.

Strength and distribution of Police.

118. The strength and distribution of the Police of the various States and the Agency (including the reserve at head-quarters but exclusive of the Railway and Village Police) is given below :—

Divisions.	Total strength of Police.	Area in square miles.	Population.	Proportion of force to
				Area	Population
				1 to	1 to
Jhálávád	1,389	4,392·606	4,68,235	3·162	337
Sorath.....	1,605	5,217·16	7,85,032	3·25	489

Gohilvád	2,643	4,208·4	6,76,440	1·6	256
Reserve at Rájkot	277	...	.....	.....	.....
Total.....	8,248	20,879·906	27,52,404	2·532	333

Comparison with previous year.

119. These figures, when compared with those of the previous year, show a decrease in Jhálávád, and an increase in the other Pránts. The decrease in Jhálávád is attributed to the States of Dhrángadhra and Wadhwán. The Dhrángadhra Darbár explain that up to this year the strength shown in the return included the Ráj Fauz, but that on Mr. Souter's appointment this force was separated from the Police properly so called and only the men actually and continuously performing police duties who were made over to his charge have been shown in the return, hence the decrease. Wadhwán also states that a separation has been made in its police force, those performing revenue and other duties having been excluded from the return, which now shows only police pure and simple. Besides the Dhrángadhra State, the police of Vánkaner, Rájkot, Sáela, Lakhtar, Muli and Jetpur have been placed under European supervision, and re-organization is proceeding.

Working of the State Police during the year.

120. The following table shows the working of the State Police during the year 1892-93.

States and Tálukás.	No. of accused arrested.	No. of accused convicted.	Percentage of convicted to accused arrested.	Amount of property stolen.	Amount of property recovered.	Percentage recovered.
Jhálávád	1,188	595	50·08	29,042 4 1	7,626 12 4	26·26
Sorath	2,519	1,537	61·02	42,582 3 5½	21,577 6 10½	50·67

Total.....	8,521	4,650	54·57	1,56,418 15 7½	62,629 11 10½	40·04

Comparison with previous year.

121. There is again a decrease in the number of accused arrested. This is probably due to deficient police arrangements and the lower percentage of convicted to accused arrested, as compared with last year is not satisfactory. The percentage of recovery of stolen property is similary unfavourable. But the fact that the attention and energies of the police were more than fully occupied in the pursuit and capture of outlaws is possibly a reason for some slackness in their ordinary duties.

Working of the Agency Police.

122. Turning to the Agency Police, the results are as follows:—

Number of accused arrested	667
,, convicted	338
Percentage of convicted to accused arrested	50·67
Value of property stolen	10,580
,, ,, recovered	5,052
Percentage of recovery	47·75

The percentage of persons convicted to those arrested shows similarly a slight falling off, and the percentage of recovery is far below that of the previous year. As to this Mr. Mackay, the Superintendent of Agency Police, says — "It is a matter for regret that results compare so unfavourably with previous years, and it is hoped that with the closer supervision that can now be paid, the results for the ensuing year will compare favourably with the best of past years."

Cognizable crime.

123. The most noticeable feature is the large decrease of cognizable crime, the numbers having fallen from 610 to 414.—"As regards the reasons for the falling off, paradoxical as it may appear" Mr. Mackay observes—"I am inclined to believe that the presence of dacoits accounts in a very great measure for the decrease. During the greater part of the past year all those portions of the Thána Circles which were known or believed to be the resort or sheltering places of the dacoits were most vigilantly patrolled by bodies of Agency Police assisted by Ghists from neighbouring States."

Non-cognizable crime.

124. Non-cognizable cases have also decreased from 504 in the previous year to 396 in the last. As to this the Superintendent of Police explains that the large number of the previous year was abnormal, and that the present number about represents the normal state of crime.

Statistics of both classes of crime committed.

125. The following statement shows details of both classes of crime in each of the Prants:—

Of these 314 cases, 29 were declared to be false, leaving 285 as real cases reported to the police as having occurred.

Dacoity.

127. The dacoits gave a great deal of trouble during the year. It was mentioned in last year's report that at the close of the year they were in Cutch. In April they stole the horses laid for His Excellency the Governor's Dâk in Cutch just after His Excellency had crossed over to Morvi, and it was anticipated that thus mounted they would return to Káthiáwár. A detachment of Cavalry was stationed at Vánkáner and Infantry detachments at Thán and Dolia, and the Agency and States Police were constantly on the move to track them. The dacoits secretly came and went again to Cutch without doing any damage. On the 6th June the village of Prágpur in Cutch was struck, and after taking the spoils they again came back to Káthiáwár. On the 15th June they were seen and encountered near Mália but managed to escape at night. In August they appeared at Ribra, 12 miles from Rájkot, they took their way thence towards Virpur via Gondal and were next heard of in the Goria hills. The Thákor of Virpur personally went after them, but they escaped under cover of night. They then went to the Gir and the Girnár Hill, and afterwards turned to the north-west. Appearing in the limits of the village of Jhilána under Khirasra they looted the carts of Mr. O'Connor, Superintendent of Navánagar Police, and destroyed some of his office records. On the 20th September they were in the "Sim" of Tankára under Morvi, when an encounter took place between them and the Morvi Police but they disappeared during the night. An encounter again took place soon after in the mangrove bushes near Jhinjhuda and Bela with no appreciable result, the dacoits, as usual, escaping under cover of the night. They then took refuge in the northern part of Káthiáwár at various places, but one of them Habibmia having been surrounded by Mr. Souter, the Superintendent of Dhrángadhra Police, whose services had in the meantime been asked for and obtained from Government, surrendered to that Officer on the 20th November 1892 with his arms. The next that was heard of the gang was on the 1st December when they looted the village of Sípakda under Dhrángadhra. On the 15th December they made a raid on the Morvi village of Jhikiáli, and escaped northwards. Sir Charles Ollivant at once sent Lieutenant Gordon, Assistant Superintendent of Police, with a strong party of Sowárs to Khákhrechi with instructions to attack the gang, if found in that neighbourhood. On the 19th Lieut. Gordon heard news of the dacoits being in that vicinity and lost not a moment in pursuing and following them up. The gang was sighted and overtaken at Karádia near Mália, and a gallant fight ensued resulting in the total destruction of the gang but at the cost of the lives of Lieutenant Gordon and 2 of his men. Captain O'Donnell with his party also came up and witnessed and took part in the closing events of the encounter. The Morvi Police also rendered good assistance on this occasion. The three Gand brothers, outlaws of Cutch, who were not present in the encounter, are still at large but keep in hiding. One of the dacoits Mulia Karsan who had left the gang sometime ago surrendered on the 5th February 1893 to Mr. Mackay in Mália on a condition of pardon.

Remarks on the situation.

128. This outlawry thus lasted for nearly a year, i.e., from December 1891 to December 1892, during which time five villages were looted, two in December 1891, one in February and two in December 1892. The experience of the first 7 months led Sir Charles Ollivant to recommend to Government that the Police of the Native States, especially of the Northern portion of Káthiáwár States and of the disintegrated Táluka of Jetpur, needed European supervision. He added that the Agency Police also required to be strengthened by additional European hands to guide them, and that arms of precision should be supplied for operations against outlaws. He reported to Government that "the pursuing parties will never come to close quarters with the outlaws, if they can help it, they will not attack them in position unless they are led by a European Officer." "If Government will give me an Assistant to the Superintendent of Agency Police, a couple of good Inspectors and a few picked men, I think I may safely guarantee the capture or destruction of the gang within six months."

Mália was placed under European management in October. Mr. Souter joined the Police of Dhrángadhra State in the same month and the services of Lieutenant Gordon were transferred to the Police Department about the same time, and in the space of 2 months the prediction of Sir Charles Ollivant as to the destruction of the gang was fulfilled.

Railway Police.

Police on the B.G.J.P. and Morvi Railways.

129. The strength and cost of the police on the B.G.J.P. and Morvi Railways were as follows:—

Railway.	Strength.	Cost.	Number of miles.	Cost per mile.
B.G.J.P. Railway	89	21,107	334	63
Morvi Railway	14	1,796	94	19

Amalgamation of the Railway Police with the other Agency Police.

130. These forces are now under the supervision and control of the Superintendent of Agency Police, and proposals have been submitted to Government with the view of effecting a complete amalgamation with the Agency Police, but final orders of Government have not yet been received. It is to be remembered that the duties of the Railways Police are now only to keep Law and Order. "Watch and ward" are entrusted to the care of the Traffic Department.

Working of the Railway Police.

131. The following abstract shows the result of the working of the Railway Police:—

Railway.	Number of persons arrested.	Number of persons convicted.	Percentage.	Value of property stolen.	Value of property recovered.	Percentage.
B.G.J.P. Railway ...	122	87	71·31	1,807	1,142	63·21
Morvi Railway	12	9	75·00	63	25	39·50

Percentage of convictions and arrests.

132. The B.G.-J.P. Railway Police show a decline in the percentage of convictions to arrests, but a large increase in that of recovery of stolen property as compared with last year, while the Morvi Railway Police exhibits a decline in both.

Agency Courts.

Regular, Special and Temporary Courts of the Agency.

133. The Courts under the Agency may be classed under three groups, viz., regular, special and temporary.

Regular.

1. Political Agent's Court (including that of the Judicial Assistant).
4. Assistant Political Agent's Courts.
4. Deputy Assistants do.
1. Railway Magistrate.
15. Thánadárs.
1. Deputy Thánadár.

Special.

1. Bántva Nyáyádhish.
1. Jhinjhuváda Kámdár.
1. Dedán Thánadár.

Temporary.

Courts of States under management.

These last vary according as States come under or are released from management either on account of indebtedness, minority or any other political reason.

Decrease in the number of cases disposed of.

135. The total number of cases disposed of was 48,118 against 53,924: there was a decrease in almost all classes of cases, generally in the Courts of the Pránt Officers, the Deputy Assistants and some of the Thánadárs. The reason may be found in the unusual strain put on their time by the necessity of making arrangements in connection with operations against the dacoits.

Comparative return.

136. Subjoined is a return required by Government of civil, political and criminal cases disposed of by the Agency Courts during the past 10 years:—.

137. The number of civil suits filed during the year amounted to 3,452 of the estimated value of Rs. 7,00,845 against 3,767 of the estimated value of Rs. 7,03,993 last year.

Civil cases filed and the estimated value as compared with the previous year.

138. The number of Sessions cases tried during the year by the Chief Court of Criminal Justice was 33 against 34 in the previous year, showing a decrease of 1. Of these there were 12 of murder, 2 attempt to murder, 5 culpable homicide, 1 dacoity, 1 theft and 12 others.

140. Besides the 33 Sessions cases, the Judicial Assistant disposed of 40 criminal and 93 civil appeals, 7 miscellaneous civil and 11 political appeals.

Criminal, civil and miscellaneous civil and political appeals disposed of.

141. The result of the criminal revision work during the year shows that in 19 cases the proceedings of the Lower Courts were sent for. In 13 cases the convictions or orders were reversed and in 6 cases were confirmed.

Criminal revision work.

142. The number of applications filed for execution of decrees was 2,991 against 3,234 last year, of which 3,167 were disposed of. The number remaining undisposed of at the end of the year was 1,135 against 1,311 in the previous year.

Applications for the execution of decrees.

143. The following statement shows that 456 documents aggregating in value Rs. 5,02,568 were registered during the year as against 503 aggregating Rs. 6,70,355 last year. The total fees realized were Rs. 3,054 against Rs. 8,002 in the previous year. The decrease may be attributed to the promulgation of the Encumbered Estates Rules, which have a tendency to deter money-lenders from giving loans to Girásiás and to lessen the number of such transactions as a consequence.

The number of outstanding cases has however risen from 5,540 to 9,819.

The increase in arrears is traced to the States of Junágad, Dhrángadhra, Morvi, Pálitána, Limbdi, Wadhwán and Sáyla. But Porbandar is responsible for a large portion of the increase, 4,397 cases being left undisposed of at the end of the year against 300 the previous year. The Administrator gives the following explanation regarding the matter:—

(a) The number of institutions during the year was not only large (6,101 against 2,116 last year) but the greater portion of it was filed in November and December and on the 3rd of January 1893, because the British Indian Limitation Act which was introduced into the State came into force on the 1st January 1893; so that the newly instituted suits could not be finally dealt with in the year.

(b) The last rainy season was a season of good crops, and it worked as a stimulus to the money-lending classes to convert old bonds into decrees.

(c) The powers of a Small Cause Court, which were confined to the Sarnyáyádhish and to suits below Rupees 75 for the town of Porbandar only, were in the year under report conferred on the Munsiff for all suits in the State for Rupees 50, and the Small Cause Court jurisdiction of the Sarnyáyádhish was raised to Rupees 200 and extended over the whole State, so that there was an unusually large number of institutions in view of getting small causes speedily and summarily decided.

(d) The very large number of institutions materially affected the deciding capacity of the Courts, which were occupied in the latter part of the year chiefly in the preparation of the record and in arranging for the disposal of the new institutions.

145. The following is a return showing the statistics of criminal trials held by the State Courts of Class I to VII including those under management :—

RÁJASTHÁNIK COURT.

147. Colonel Hancock went on leave to England for 4½ months from May 1892, during which time Major Fenton officiated as President of the Court in addition to his own duties as Superintendent of Surveys.

Personnel.

148. 206 regular cases were disposed of and 8,066 miscellaneous orders passed against 160 cases and 7,966 miscellaneous orders last year. The increase is said to be due to the fact that the Court took no vacation and the President was not so much taken up with other duties during the year.

Work done by the Court.

The work of the Court during the year is thus summarized:—

Suits entertained.....	343
Cases heard and disposed of ...	206
Balance on file.....	594

149. It thus appears that in spite of the greater amount of work disposed of, the number of cases outstanding has increased. The present term of the Court expires in December next.

Increase in the number of cases outstanding.

150. Colonel Hancock suggests that the question of the Court's extension for a further period or of the institution of some other even more independent tribunal for the trial of Girás cases must now occupy the attention of Government. He says "there is a balance of Rupees 1,46,875 in the Court Fund. This together with its average income of Rupees 25,000 from fees, &c., will suffice to support it without further contribution from the Darbárs for a further period of 2 years, and the sanction of this expenditure is probably the best tentative measure which can be now adopted."

Extension of the term of the Court.

151. The Mhers boundary cases have been all settled. But the question of the right of the Mhers to redeem the Ráoli lands now held by the Darbár in mortgage and that of the commutation of the Chula-Vero remain to be dealt with. Government have already been addressed separately on this subject and orders are awaited.

The Mhers boundary cases.

152. There have been 83 appeals to Government against 64 last year. Of these 26 were from Darbárs and 57 from Girásiás. Only three of these were partially successful.

Appeal to Government.

153. Colonel Hancock concludes his report with the following observations reviewing the work of the Court—"Twenty years have now elapsed since the first institution of the Court and this appears to be an opportune time to make a brief review of its proceedings. These are recorded in 6 Volumes of decisions in land cases and no less than 1,809 Hak Patraks besides innumerable supplementary orders connected with their general application and execution. These form a mass of precedents which should make the future settlement of all Girás disputes comparatively easy, and although there has been occasional divergence of opinions these have lately become solidified so that most questions now arising can be decided by rule.

Colonel Hancock's review of the work of the Court.

"I have served with the Court ever since its commencement and my testimony may therefore be naturally thought to be somewhat biased in its favour;

but this cannot affect the obvious fact that the Court has fully answered the purpose for which it was intended and has effected the settlement of hundreds of disputes which might otherwise have led to serious disturbances throughout the country. Nor can it detract from the high character and good fame of the Native Members who have from time to time passed most independent decisions and have thus upheld the Court's reputation for fairness in a most remarkable manner."

Amalgamation of the Surveys under the Rájasthánik Courts with those under the Agency.

154. From the 19th January 1893 the Surveys under the Rájasthánik Court were amalgamated with those under the Agency with the approval of Government. To cope with the extra work an Assistant has been allowed to the Superintendent who will also undertake the Revenue Survey of certain States under management and others who desire it.

3	Civil Station lock-ups.
15	Thána lock-ups.
131	Jails and lock-ups in States and Tálukás.

Expenditure on account of Jails.

156. The total expenditure on account of Jails including maintenance of prisoners amounted to Rupees 1,25,275 as against Rupees 1,31,399. The daily average of prisoners was 1,529 374 and the average charge per prisoner Rupees 82 per annum.

New Jail building.

157. The plans and estimates for the new Agency Jail building at Rájkot referred to in last year's report have been sanctioned by Government and the work is in progress. The cost is estimated to be Rupees 93,336 and will be provided by the Káthiáwár Consolidated Funds in two years.

Supervision over the Wadhwán Civil Station Jail.

158. The Wadhwán Civil Station Jail is placed under the supervision of the Inspector General of prisons with the approval of Government.

CHAPTER IV.—Production and distribution.

Rainfall.

159. The rainfall was in excess of that of the preceding year and on the whole favourable. In some places the late and heavy fall in October did some damage to the early crops but in Jhálávád the cotton was benefited. In some Districts the cotton was damaged by excessive cold in February.

Staple crops.

160. The staple crops are Juvári, Bájri, wheat, gram, pulse, cotton, oil-seeds and sugar-cane. Junágad and Gondal continue to take interest in agricultural experiments. In Gondal the experiments with American cotton appear to show that without artificial watering the yield does not compare favourably with other kinds especially "Berár". "It is reported that a variety known as Cawnpuri cotton has been introduced into Káthiáwár and yields a heavy proportion of staple but the Superintendent of Bhagas Government farm deplores the introduction of this very inferior cotton".

161. In certain villages under Junágad exotic cotton called Kadáya no Kapás and Vadhyáro no Kapás was sown, and the result is said to have been most satisfactory.

Exotic cotton.

162. The out-turn of Bansi wheat in the Mahál of Navágad continues to be good. Captain Lyde reports that the cultivators of some places under Junágad failed to realize a good profit from planting sugar-cane, and the soil was supposed to be exhausted of the properties required for its growth. The following experiment was therefore tried with success. Cucumber and hemp were sown in the fields, and when the plants were beginning to flower, they were uprooted. The land was then cultivated afresh and sugar-cane raised successfully.

Agricultural experiments.

163. The Botanical Garden and other gardens at Gondal continue in a flourishing condition. Attached to the Garden is an agricultural class which contains 17 students. The other States which maintain gardens of any importance are Junágad, Bhávnagar and Morvi.

Gardens.

164. There is nothing new to record of the forests in the Province. Some of the more intelligent States have endeavoured to increase the number of trees by enclosing plantations.

Forests.

165. Káthiáwár cannot boast of any great factories. There is a spinning and weaving mill at Bhávnagar, worked by steam power, and another is about to be started at Morvi.

Manufactures.

166. No Horse Show was held last year. The States of Junágad, Bhávnagar, Morvi, Gondal, Vánkáner and Jasdan continue to maintain horse-breeding establishments, but not on any large scale nor on commercial principles. At Bhávnagar one troop of the Bhávnagar Imperial Lancers continues to be mounted from the State Paddock.

Horse-breeding.

167. The following tables contain statistics of the sea-borne trade of the Province excluding Baroda ports. They show an increase both in imports and exports. By the restoration of credit and confidence, which had been injured owing to the failure of several mercantile firms in the previous year, trade began to revive:—

Railways.

168. As mentioned in last year's report, four distinct Railway lines traverse different parts of the Province, having three different gauges.

Railway.

B.B. and C.I. (portion)	5′ 6″	32 miles.
B.G.J.P.	3′ 3⅜″	334.
Jetalsar-Rájkot.....	,, ,,	46.
Morvi Railway	2′ 6″	94.
Total length.....		506.

169. A fifth line from Rájkot to Navánagar and Jodiya, a length of about 70 miles, is in contemplation, and if the proposals submitted by His Highness the Jám Sáheb of Navánagar as to the borrowing of the requisite capital at 5 per cent. interest on the security of the Railway and the guarantee of the State to pay a yearly sum of Rupees 2¾ Lákhs in repayment, are approved by Government, there is reason to hope that this link may be joined to the other Railways at an early date. At the same time it is proposed to convert the Morvi 2′ 6″ gauge into the metre gauge of the B.G J.P. and J.R. system and also to add a third rail to the B.B. and C I. Railway between Wadhwán and Viramgám. There is no doubt that this unification of gauge would not only be beneficial to trade but would also conduce to the comfort and convenience of travellers and increase profits.

Jámnagar Railway.

170. The gross earnings of the B G.J.P. Railway amounted to Rupees 15,78,179 against Rupees 14,77,263 in the previous year, and the expenditure was Rupees 11,40,302 against Rupees 10,01,477. The mileage results of earnings come to Rupees 90·94 gross or Rupees 25·23 net per mile against 85·14 and 27·42 respectively in the previous year. The dividend to the Proprietary States was as follow :—

B. G. J. P. Railway.

Bhávnagar.....	Rs.	3,20,599	4·56.
Junágad.....	Rs.	58,705	1·62.
Gondal-Porbandar ...	Rs.	59,018	0·90.

Renewal of sleepers on the Bhávnagar section has heen well advanced, and the Jetalsar-Verával section has been renewed for 31 miles. Until the sleeper renewals all over the line are completed, the net earnings of the Railway must necessarily be small.

171. The enrolled strength of the Railway Volunteers company was 52, of whom 50 have qualified as efficients, only 2 being non-efficients. The average attendance at drills was good and the capitation grant earned averaged Rupees 25-56 per man against 21 last year. The company was represented at the annual camp of exercise held at Baroda on 22nd January 1892. Major General Budgen inspected the corps and expressed his great satisfaction at the manner in which the men did their work.

Railway Volunteers.

172. There were no serious accidents on the Railway. Out of 4 cases of train parting, 3 were due to defect in couplings. 21 cases of derailment are recorded against 15 in 1891, and two fatal accidents against one in 1891. The rainfall on the Jetalsar-Porbandar and Verával sections was heavier than usual and caused damages to the lines at several places.

Accidents.

173. The gross earnings of the Morvi Railway amounted to Rs. 3,09,171 against Rupees 3,09,418 and the expenditure to Rupees 1,78,801 against Rupees 2,00,801 in the previous year, giving Rupees 63·25 gross or 26·27 net earnings per mile per week. The dividend comes to Rupees 6·27 per cent. on capital cost against 5·28 in the previous year. There was a serious accident on this Railway but fortunately no one was hurt. A special train taking His Highness the Thákor Sáheb of Morvi to Wadhwán was derailed owing to a severe storm on 1st May 1892, and a portion of the train including His Highness' saloon was upset.

Morvi Railway.

174. The Jetalsar-Rájkot extension, was completed during the year and formally opened by His Excellency on the 13th April 1893. The syndicate owning the Railway, viz., Junágad Gondal, Rájkot, and Azam Surag Wála of Jetpur, have entered into an agreement with the B.G.J.P. Railway to work the line for them on a certain percentage of the gross earnings, the B.G.J.P. Railway supplying the Rolling Stock, staff, &c. The services of Mr. H. S. Davies were lent to the syndicate for the purpose of constructing this line and he has carried out the work well within the estimate of 16 Lákhs of Rupees. It is now proposed to bridge the Aji river at Rájkot with a view of enabling the Morvi line to be brought into the Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway Station yards and thus effect a Junction.

Opening of the Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway.

175. An extension or rather a Branch Railway from a point on the B.G.J.P. Railway to Dhári via Amreli is also in contemplation by the Baroda Darbár with the object of opening up His Highness the Gáekwár's Káthiáwár Maháls.

Amreli Railway.

Public Works.

176. The total amount spent by the Native States upon Public works during the last year amounted in round numbers to Rupees 22,76,999 against Rupees 22,24,454 in the previous year.

Public works undertaken by the States.

The figures of the 1st and 2nd Class States are given below:—

Works executed through the Agency Engineer.

177. The total amount spent during the year through the Agency Engineer on Public Works was Rupees 2,15,221 against Rupees 2,66,626 in the previous year.

Important buildings at Bhávnagar and Junágad opened by His Excellency the Governor.

178. The magnificient building called the Takhtsingji Hospital at Bhávnagar, was formally opened by His Excellency the Governor Lord Harris on the April 1892 and the Prince Albert Victor Leper Asylum at Junágad was completed during the year and opened by His Excellency after the close of it. The Victoria Jubilee Water-works at Rájkot completed last year, were also formally opened by the Political Agent in August 1892. Another large and commodious building is now being added to the adornment of the Rajkot Agency Station by the liberality of the Káthiáwár Chiefs. It is named the Memorial Institute and comprizes three divisions, the Watson Museum and the Lang Library on either side 80′ × 50′ each with the Connaught Darbár Hall in the centre also 80′ × 50′. In the latter will be placed life portraits of Her Imperial Majesty the Queen-Empress, His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, His Royal Highness the late Duke of Clarence, His Excellency Lord Harris, Sir Charles Ollivant and all the reigning Chiefs of 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th Class. The portraits of Royalties are being done in England and all the others by Frank Brooks Esquire, Artist, who has been specially invited from London for the purpose. The buildings are now nearly completed and will be opened by His Excellency the Governor in November next.

Memorial institute at Rájkot.

Telegraph Offices.

179. A new telegraph Office was opened at Pardhari under Navánagar. The subject of establishing telegraphic communication between several places on the sea-coast of Káthiáwár as well as in the interior is still under the consideration of the Telegraph Department.

Post Offices.

180. There has been an increase of one Post Office, 20 village postmen and 142 letter-boxes. Only one attack was made during the year by highway robbers on the mails despatched from Bagasra to Amreli on 2nd March 1893 in the territory of His Highness the Gáekwár but nothing was lost. The robbers ran away leaving the mail-wallet in tact. The postal runner who carried the mails was however killed by one of the robbers.

CHAPTER V.

Tribute collections.

181. The following statement shows the demands, collections and outstanding balances of the tribute due to the British and Gáekwár Governments and Junágad State for the year under report:—

From the above it will be seen that the total demand was Rupees 11,41,851-6-8 being Rupees 10,78,684-0-0 for the year of report, and Rupees 60,110-5-10 on account of former years. The realization amounted to Rupees 10,93,801-14-4, leaving Rupees 48,049-8-4 as outstanding balance at the close of the year. Of this Rupees 46,632-9-8 have since been recovered leaving a balance of Rupees 1,416-14-8 to be collected.

Local Funds.

Káthiáwár Consolidated Fund.

184. The account of the Consolidated Fund which forms an appendix to the report shows receipts of Rupees 99,022 and expenditure of Rupees 1,21,061 during the year as compared with Rupees 97,616 and Rupees 1,02,517 respectively for the previous year. The increase in the receipts is very slight.

The increase in the expenditure is due to re-appropriations for the construction of Police and Agency Buildings. The result of the comparison is that as in previous years, the current receipts are found only to provide for the current fixed and contingent charges.

Stamped labels.

185. Allusion has been made in para. 157 of the last year's report regarding the introduction of the Court-Fee Stamp labels, the receipts from their sale has amounted to Rupees 6,000 approximately.

Audit of Accounts.

186. As ordered in para. 5 of Government Resolution No. 4745, dated 15th June 1891, Political Department, the account of the Consolidated Fund for the year 1891-92 was examined and audited in November 1892 by the Superintendent of the Outside Audit Branch of the Accountant General's Office and was certified to be correct.

States General Contribution Fund.

187. Hitherto the account year for the Chiefs' Contribution Fund has begun on the 1st July and ended on 30th June following. The annual meeting of the States Representatives usually takes place in July or August. It had been the practice to make advances for current repairs especially for Trunk Road maintenance in anticipation of regular budget sanction. To obviate the necessity of this and to secure the advantage of having an account year conterminous with that of other Local Funds, a meeting of the States Representatives was called in July last and they were asked whether they had any objection to the budget being henceforth framed for 12 months from the 1st April to 31st March following. To this they assented and a budget for the nine months beginning on the 1st July 1892 and ending on 31st March 1893 was laid before them and was sanctioned. A copy of this budget was submitted to Government for information and an account for the official year is appended.

Among other grants, the Committee made the following from that Fund:—

	Rupees.
Establishment	16,249
Repairs to Roads	30,112
Vaccination	10,312
Dispensaries and Leper Asylum	7,905
Rájkumár College	1,649
Other Educational Institutions	28,478
Memorial Institute and Darbár Hall	21,672
Jubilee Water-works opening ceremonies	5,000
Grants to Pránt Funds	7,675
	1,29,052

CHAPTER VI.

Vital statistics and Medical Service.

Hospitals and Dispensaries.

188. The total number of Hospitals and Dispensaries in the Province is 95 against 93 in the previous year, showing an increase of 2. Of the total number 22 have been placed under the supervision of the Agency Surgeon, in accordance with the proposals of Sir Charles Ollivant, approved by Government. They are as follows:—

2 Civil Station Dispensaries.

8 Thánás ,,

12 Dispensaries in States under Management.

Patients treated.

189. Excluding the West Hospital at Rájkot to which special reference will be made hereafter, the total number of patients treated was 6,03,169 against 5,83,419; the total cost was Rupees 2,07,001 against Rupees 2,00,117.

General health.

190. There was a severe outbreak of cholera in Muli which rendered it necessary to prohibit the great fair there in August and there were a few sporadic cases at isolated places in the Province, but otherwise the year was generally healthy. In Jhálávád a severe type of fever prevailed from October to February, and carried off many persons.

West Hospital.

191. Surgeon Lieut.-Colonel F. C. Barker was in charge of the West Hospital throughout the year. 4,530 out-patients and 844 in-patients were treated against 5,199 out-patients and 693 in-patients in the previous year The decrease in the number of out-patients is attributable to the opening of the town Dispensary in Rájkot. Doctor Barker speaks highly of the work of Miss Goldney and of his Assistant Doctor Dávar. The latter fell ill and had to take leave for 6 months during which time Assistant Surgeon Ghásvála officiated for him in a very efficient manner.

West Hospital.

Vaccination.

192. As mentioned in the last year's report the States of Junágad, Navánagar and Bhávnagar have now separate organizations of their own in regard to Vaccination, and the rest of the province is under the supervision of the Agency Surgeon in this matter. The Vaccination circles were revised and better provided for under the new arrangements. The total number of Vaccinators in Káthiáwár is now 52 against a previous total of 36. Of these 24 are in the three States above mentioned and 28 are under the Agency Surgeon.

Vaccination.

193. The general result of vaccine operations shows that there were performed 86,024 primary vaccinations and 831 re-vaccinations during the year making a total of 86,855 against 83,442 in the previous year, giving an increase of 3,413. The total cost was Rupees 26,366 against Rupees 14,272 in the previous year.

Statistics.

194. Small-pox was reported in 46 villages and immediate arrangements were made for its suppression by special vaccination. No further reports of inoculation were received. The man reported last year of having committed this offence was sentenced by the Navánagar authorities to a fine of Koris 50 or rigorous imprisonment for 6 weeks.

CHAPTER VII.—Education.

195. The educational Institutions in the Agency number 998 with 60,957 scholars. They are as follows :—

Educational Institutions.

1	Rájkumár College at Rájkot.
1	Tálukdári Girásia School at Wadhwán,
1	Sámaldás College at Bhávnagar.
6	High Schools.
2	Training Colleges.
18	Anglo-Vernacular Schools for boys.
1	Do. for girls.
622	Primary Schools for boys.
52	Do. for girls.
279	Private Schools.
15	Aided Schools.
998

The total expenditure on public instruction was Rupees 5,56,729 against Rupees 5,35,647 in the previous year. This compares favorably with the Native States in the other parts of the Presidency.

Transfer of control of schools to States.

196. Reference was made in last year's report to the contemplated transfer of the control of schools to certain native States for reasons shown; the proposals were subsequently approved by the States collectively at a Meeting of their Kárbháris held under the presidency of Sir Charles Ollivant and sanctioned by Government. 8 States viz., Junágad, Bhávnagar, Porbandar, Morvi, Vánkáner, Pálitána, Rájkot and Wadhwán have thus taken over control of their schools on the following conditions:—

(a) The curriculum and standards observed in the Educational Department to be adhered to.

(b) Such masters only to be employed as would be deemed qualified for similar schools under the control of the Educational Department.

(c) Central Educational Institutions and Inspection organization to be maintained as at present and all schools to be subject to inspection.

(d) All patronage over new appointments or in case of vacancies, to be exercised by the State or authority concerned.

(e) Power of punishment short of dismissal to rest with the State or authority under whom the educational officer is employed and power of dismissal to be similarly exercised except where the educational officer has received his original appointment from some other State or authority than the one under which he is then employed, in which case the consent of such other State or authority to be obtained to the dismissal, and in case of disagreement between them reference to be made to the Political Agent whose decision shall be final.

(f) To guarantee the rights of present employes and to facilitate interchangeability when desirable in future, the present Pension Fund to be maintained for future as well as present employes, and all persons appointed on salaries over Rupees 10 to contribute at the rates now prescribed.

The financial arrangements of the Educational Department also were revised and the following alterations made with the approval of Government:—

(1) The States should henceforth retain the full amount of all school fees charged.

(2) To meet the cost of inspection an annual appropriation of Rupees 10,000 should be made from the General Fálo (Chiefs' General Contribution) and the balance should be met by a special contribution to be levied from all States and Tálukás on the basis of population as returned at the last published census.

(3) To maintain the Pension Fund all masters appointed after the 1st April 1893 shall be required, if on pensionable salary, to contribute $\frac{1}{8}$th of their salaries, and all masters appointed before that date to contribute $\frac{1}{16}$th, the remaining $\frac{1}{16}$th in such cases to be made up by the State or institution for the time being employing them.

(4) The State or authority under whom for the time being any master is employed should be responsible for recovering the full contribution calculated at $\frac{1}{8}$th of the salary and for paying it into the Agency Treasury to the credit of the Pension Fund.

(5) At the same meeting it was resolved that all the under masters at the Wadhwán Girásia School should be admitted to the pension privileges of the Fund on condition that they agreed to contribute henceforth on the scale now laid down and to make good arrears at the same rate. This concession had already been made to the Head Master Mr. Strip, by a Resolution passed at the Kárbháris meeting in August 1890.

Rájkumár College.

197. The College has been fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. C. W. Waddington as Vice Principal on the transfer of Mr. M. A. Tarkhad to the Inspection Department. Mr. Macnaghten went on leave to Europe in the beginning of May 1892 and Mr. Waddington was then appointed to act as Principal. The minor College Staff had to be reorganized and fresh blood infused to secure greater efficiency.

Rájkumár College.

198. The number of students on the rolls of the Rájkumár College at the end of the year 1891-92 was 41. Since that time 3 boys joined the College and 5 were withdrawn, thus leaving †39. Of the three new comers, one is Kumár Dolatsingji of Tharád under the Pálanpur Superintendency.

2 of Ahmedábád Districts.
3 of Pálanpur.
3 of Mahikántha.
2 of Revákántha.

Recruits for the College.

199. Mr. Waddington alludes to the recruitment of the College in these terms.

"The question of recruiting the College is always an important one and will this year require serious attention. The numbers at present are slightly higher than the average, but in the natural course of events a large number will leave at the end of the next term, and in Káthiáwár itself there are not many young Chiefs at the present time of an age and position suited for this College. From Gujarát outside Káthiáwár one or two recruits may be expected, but these fluctuations in numbers, which periodically occur, render it increasingly clear that the College can only be maintained in a thoroughly stable and efficient position, if it is regarded by Government as the educational centre not only for the young Chiefs of Káthiáwár and Gujarát, but for the whole of the Presidency."

200. The heir-apparent of Lakhtar has joined the College, the young Thákor of Rájkot will be admitted next term, and there is a probability of the heir to the Navánagar Gádi being sent next year, but with all these expected admissions, further recruitment from outside is essential.

New admissions.

Tálukdári Girásia School.

201. This school continues to maintain its high reputation under the supervision of Mr. Strip. The number of scholars was 56 as compared with 57 in the previous year :—

202. The School was examined by the Educational Inspector Northern Division, who expressed satisfaction at the results. Several suggestions for further improvement have been made by Mr. Giles and will be attended to by the Head Master. The formation of a cadet Corps had to be abandoned, but drill instruction has been kept up.

Examination.

203. The Thákor Sáheb of Wadhwán, with praiseworthy liberality, has signified his intention of making an annual grant of Rupees 1,000 for the maintenance of 4 scholarships of Rupees 250 each to be given to 4 Jhála Girásia boys who could not otherwise afford to join the school and two boys have already joined on these scholarships.

Scholarships presented by the Thákor Sáheb of Wadhwán.

Sámaldás College.

204. The Bhávnagar Darbár reports that at the end of March 1893, the number of students on the roll was 27, the same as in last year, that owing to a change in the arts' course of the university requiring 4 years study for B. A. Examination instead of 3, His Highness has ordered that the College should teach up to the intermediate examination, also that the Professors of the College should teach the VII standard of the Bhávnagar High School. The number of students sent up for the different university examinations and the results thereof are as follows;—

High Schools.

205. As regards the other Schools, Mr. Giles remarks :—

"The efficiency of schools was well maintained and the success of the High Schools in the Matriculation Examination was remarkable. In primary fund schools I would also note the large number of pupils who passed under the higher vernacular standards". "The two training colleges were successfully administered during the year, and I would especially note the good work of Miss Spencer in her College". "Mr. Tarkhad was in charge of the office of Assistant Educational Inspector during the year, travelled actively about his large charge and showed great interest in all points affecting the education of the Province".

CHAPTER VIII.

Archœological.

Archœological.

206. There is nothing new to report under this head.

CHAPTER IX.

Miscellaneous.

Printing Press.

207. The list of printing presses appended to the report shows a decrease of 1, owing to the disestablishment of the Bálsingji Ságar Press at Wadhwán.

Newspapers and Periodicals.

208. Another newspaper called "the Káthiáwár News" has been started with the permission of the Political Agent by Mr. Jamsetji Frámji formerly editor of the Káthiáwár Times. This periodical is published bi-weekly and is bilingual, English and Gujaráti. The monthly periodical, Káthiáwár Law Reports, mentioned in last year's report progresses satisfactorily.

Revision of Civil and Military boundaries at Rájkot.

209. A further revision of the Civil and Military limits in the Agency Station at Rájkot has been proposed by Sir Charles Ollivant. The detailed survey of the Civil Station has been nearly completed and an enquiry into titles will shortly follow.

Conclusion.

Acknowledgments to Officers.

210. The Political Agent has had every reason to be satisfied with the zeal and efficiency displayed by all his Assistants and by his native subordinates who have heartily worked together for the good of the Province. The Police staff has been strengthened and outlawry has been extinguished for the present by the gallantry of the late Lieutenant Gordon and his men. Valuable assistance in this direction was also given by the District Officers and the thanks of the Political Agent are due to all of them.

Acting Political Agent.

APPENDIX I.

No. 64 OF 1893-94.

From Colonel G. E. HANCOCK,
President, Rájasthánik Court,
Káthiáwár.

To Colonel W. SCOTT,
Acting Political Agent, Káthiáwár.

Camp Porbandar, 29th May 1893.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the 20th Report on the working of the Rájasthánik Court.

CHANGES IN THE PERSONNEL OF THE COURT.

President, Rájasthánik Court.

During my absence on 4½ months' special leave to England from May last Major Fenton officiated as President of the Court in addition to his own duties and disposed of several important cases.

No other changes took place during the year.

NEW PRINCIPLES OR PROCEDURE ADOPTED.

Rules for the better regulation of sales and mortgages of Girás-lands.

No new principles or procedure have been adopted during the year but it may be here noted that the revised rules for the better regulation of sales and mortgages of Girás-lands promulgated by Government in the Agency Gazette of the 12th November 1891 do not appear to have been properly observed as only one transaction in accordance with them has been yet brought to the notice of this Court.

NATURE AND PROGRESS OF WORK.

Work done.

206 regular cases were disposed of and 8,066 miscellaneous orders passed in Wanchán (of which 697 were disposed of in consultation with members) during the year against 160 cases and 7,966 orders last year. The increase is due to the fact that the Court took no vacation and the President was not so much taken up with other duties during the year.

Amicable settlements.

It is again satisfactory to note that no less than 23 cases have been settled amicably during the year.

Status Cases.

On the other hand more disputes regarding status have been disposed of and these do not generally reflect so creditably upon the Darbárs who thus seek to evade the jurisdiction of the Court with a view to future spoliation. It is true that in some instances the claims on the part of landholders to the status of Mulgirásiás have been ill founded but for the most part we find that they have had good cause for complaint.

In addition to its usual work the Court has this year, in consultation with a representative Committee from the States, prepared rules for the better and more economical regulation of Rajput marriages. These are now before the Agency and Government for circulation and approval and will, we trust, eventually put an end to the senseless extravagance in such matters which has hitherto led to female infanticide and other evils.

Rules for the better and more economical regulation of Rajput marriages.

WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR.

Work done.

During the year work has been disposed of as follows :—

Suits entertained	343
Cases heard and disposed of	206
Balance on file	594

This is an increase of 137 on the balance of last year and shows that the work of the Court is not yet diminishing.

The average number of cases filed for the last 20 years has been 220 and the average number disposed of 190 showing that the Court has never yet been able to get quite abreast of its work.

The question of the Courts' extension for a further period, or of the institution of some other even more independent tribunal for the trial of Girás cases, must therefore now occupy the attention of Government. There is a balance of Rs. 1,46,875 in the Court Fund. This together with its average income of Rs. 25,000 from fees etc. will suffice to support it without further contribution from the Darbárs for a further period of two years and the sanction of this expenditure is probably the best tentative measure which can be now adopted.

Question of the Courts extension for a further period, or of the institution of some other even more independent tribunal.

Of the 206 cases heard 69 were boundary cases of unusual importance and 121 Hak Patraks or registers of rights involving 458 items. Of these 144 or 31·4 per cent. were decided in favor of the Darbárs and 314 or 68·6 per cent. in favor of the Girásiás. The remainder were suits and status cases.

Analysis of cases.

The cases remaining on the Court Files for disposal are as follows :—

424 Hak Patraks or disputes regarding Haks.

79 Boundary disputes.

19 Suits.

57 Claims to the status of Mulgirásiás.

15 Miscellaneous complaints.

Besides these 137 cases are now pending before the Darbár Courts and 15 more cases are still expected from Thánás.

The last of the Mers boundary cases under Porbandar will be settled during the current month. This will leave only the question of the right of the Mers to redeem the Ráoli lands now held by the Darbár in mortgage only and the commutation of their Chula Vero to be dealt with to complete the settlement of their affairs. These are both delicate matters and will probably require the services of a special officer as they fall beyond the usual jurisdiction of this Court and would take up more time than could be spared for them.

Mers land disputes and commutation of their Chula Vero.

There have been 83 appeals to Government against 56 last year. Of these 26 are from Darbárs and 57 from Girásiás. Out of these only three appeals have been partially successful and these upon points affecting procedure only. Government have never yet found it necessary to interfere in any land case and it is to be hoped that the uselessness of these appeals may now soon be recognized. The increase this year is due to the increased number of cases disposed of and to the multiplication of pleaders in Rájkot.

Appeals.

Survey operations.

The following statement shows the comparative progress of the surveys:—

Year.	Number of villages completed.	Acreage.
1890-91	13	89,242
1891-92	16	45,080

Besides this a large number of decisions have also been demarcated and miscellaneous work completed by the Survey Department during the year.

From the 19th January last Major Fenton was Gazetted Superintendent of Surveys throughout Káthiáwár. This involves the supervision of all Agency Surveys as well as of the revenue surveys of several attached estates and forms a great addition to his work. The Thákor Sáheb of Wadhwán has also entrusted his revenue surveys to Major Fenton's supervision and it is to be hoped that this example may be followed by other States so as to ensure accuracy and gain the confidence of the people who have none whatever in the surveys now being carried on under the lax and unsatisfactory supervision of Darbár officials.

Agency Surveys.

General Remarks.

The Court went on circuit as usual and visited the undermentioned places during the year:—

Jetpur.	Upleta.	Rána-Kandorna.	Porbandar.	Háti-Mália.
Pardhari.	Dhrol.	Báláchadi.	Tankára.	Morvi.
Tháṇ.	Sardhár.	Átkot.	Bábra.	Láthi.
Bhávnagar.	Luni.	Tori.	Chodawdi.	Junágad.

Twenty years have now elapsed since the first institution of the Court and this appears to be an opportune time to make a brief review of its proceedings. These are recorded in 6 Volumes of decisions in land cases and no less than 1,809 Hak Patraks besides innumerable supplementary orders connected with their general application and execution. These form a mass of precedents which should make the future settlement of all Girás disputes comparatively easy and although there has been occasional divergence of opinions these have lately become solidified so that most questions now arising can be decided by rule.

Review of Courts' proceedings.

I have served with the Court ever since its commencement and my testimony may therefore be naturally thought to be somewhat biased in its favour but this cannot affect the obvious fact that the Court has fully answered the purpose for which it was intended and has effected the settlement of hundreds of disputes which might otherwise have led to serious disturbance throughout the country. Nor can it detract from the high character and good fame of the Native Members who have from time to time passed most independent decisions and have thus upheld the Court's reputation for fairness in a most remarkable manner.

Members.

One Member Ráo Bahádur Pránjivan Vishvanáth has already been especially rewarded by Government for his good services by the distinction of Ráo Bahádur and I now beg to suggest that the next senior Member Ázam Narbheshankar Harishankar may be recommended for a like distinction. He has served 17 years with the Court and bears an unimpeachable character.

All the rest of the Members and the subordinate Establishment have also served well and faithfully up to date.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

G. E. HANCOCK, Colonel,

President, Rájasthánik Court.

APPENDIX II.

No. 94 OF 1893-94.

From F. C. O. BEAMAN, Esquire, C. S.,
Judicial Assistant, Káthiáwár.

To Colonel W. SCOTT,
Political Agent, Káthiáwár.

JUDICIAL ASSISTANT'S OFFICE,
Camp Mángrol, 26th June 1893.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the Annual Report on the Judicial Work of the Province of Káthiáwár for the year 1892-93.

2. I was in charge of the Office of the Judicial Assistant, Káthiáwár, throughout the year under report.

3. No new Courts were created or placed in judicial subordination to the Court of the Political Agent and the number of subordinate Courts remains the same as the year preceding.

CRIMINAL WORK.

4. The following table will shew the result of the trials held by the various Magistrates in the different Pránts, the number of prisoners concerned and the percentage of convictions to the number of prisoners :—

Pránts.	No. of cases tried.	No. of persons tried.	No. of persons convicted.	Percentage of convictions.
Jhálávád Pránt	260	605	279	46·11
Sorath do.	193	383	140	36·55

Hálár do.	145	231	123	53·24
Magistrate, B.-G.-J.-P. Railway.	96	145	105	72·41
Total.....	898	1,888	784	46·85

5. The above table shews a great falling off in the numbers of cases and persons tried but an improvement in the percentage obtained of convictions.

6. There were 40 criminal appeals decided during the year under report by the Criminal Court of the Political Agent presided over by the Judicial Assistant as shewn in the following table, against 40 appeals decided in the year 1891-92 :—

Courts.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences were confirmed.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences were modified.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences were reversed.	Total.

Do. Gohilvád...	1	2	1	4
Do. Hálár	3	2	1	6
Total.....	8	16	20	44

8. The Chief Court of Criminal Justice in Káthiáwár presided over by the Judicial Assistant, has disposed of 33 Sessions cases in 1892-93 as compared with 34 in the previous year. The details have already been given in a separate return previously forwarded.

9. The result of the criminal revision work during the year under report shows that in 19 cases the proceedings of the Lower Courts were sent for. In 13 cases the convictions or orders were reversed and in 6 cases were confirmed.

10. The following table will show the Courts whose proceedings were sent for with the above result :—

Courts.	No. of proceedings in which convictions or orders confirmed.	No. of proceedings in which convictions or orders reversed.	Total.

Civil Work.

11. The Court of the Political Agent presided over by the Judicial Assistant has decided 93 appeals during the year under report as against 136 in the previous year.

12. The Judicial Assistant has also decided 7 miscellaneous Civil and 11 Political appeals during 1892-93. The Political appeals were transferred to him for disposal. The decrease in the number of appeals disposed of is mainly due to the time occupied in disposing of the Vejalpur case. The Court was engaged principally upon that one large case for more than two months. The actual pleadings lasted 1½ month. I also had to write my awards in the Nal-Báwli disputes between Limbdi and the Zillahs. And this too was a severe piece of work.

13. The appendix A will shew the number of suits and applications for execution of decrees and the manner in which they were disposed of by the various Courts in the different districts.

14. The result of the civil revision work shews that out of 21 cases in which the proceedings of the Lower Courts were sent for, in 8 cases the orders were reversed and in 13 confirmed.

15. The following table will show the Courts whose proceedings were sent for with the above result :—

Courts.	Orders confirmed.	Orders reversed.	Total.
Assistant Political Agent, Sorath	1	1	2
Do. Hálár	1	.....	1
Deputy Assistant Political Agent, Hálár	1	.....	1

16. The records of the following Subordinate Civil Courts were examined during the year under report:—

1.	Court of the	Mánávadar Manager.
2.	Do.	do. Nyáyádhish,
3.	Do.	Bagasra Thánadár.
4.	Do.	Bántva Nyáyádhish,
5.	Do.	Chotila Thánadár.
6.	Do.	Wadhwán District Thánadár,
7.	Do.	Bhoika Thánadár.
8.	Do.	Páliyád do.
9.	Do.	Bábra do.
10.	Do.	Songad do.
11.	Do.	Chok do.

17. I beg to call attention again to this subject mentioned in para. 17 of my last year's report and to request that some definite orders may be passed on the subject.

18. My Sarishtadár Ázam Santokrám Nánábhái was appointed Thánadâr of Bábra. In him I lost a valuable hardworking and experienced servant. His place has been filled by Ázam Kaliánrái Dámodarrái who joined me in April. He has so far shown great diligence and aptitude. The rest of the office establishment has worked as usual to my satisfaction.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

F. C. O. BEAMAN,

Judicial Assistant, Káthiáwár.

* Any difference in the figures shown here as compared with those given in the traffic return for 1891 and those rendered in the half-year Capital and Revenue Accounts for that year should be explained in a foot-note.

¶ If the figures in this column are less than those shown for the previous year, the reasons for the decrease should be explained in a foot-note.

$ Should exclude cost of machinery, but the distribution of the Capital outlay between Rolling-stock and Machinery should be given in a foot-note. If it is not possible to allocate the charges separately, the fact should be stated in a foot-note. On lines where there is more than one gauge, the value of engines and of carriage and wagon stock of each gauge should be given separately.

§ The figures for the purposes of Items 41 to 44 of the traffic return should be obtained by dividing the registered mileage of vehicles attached to passenger, goods and mixed trains, respectively, by the train-mileage of each description of train.

§ The equivalent to be used in converting maunds to tons should be 27·22 maunds=1 ton.

† Any small proportion of coal used on wood-burning lines or of wood on coal-burning lines should be converted at the rate of 1 of coal to 3 of wood unless a nearer equivalent is known.

‡ One ton of Kurhurbaree coal may, where other equivalents have not been ascertained by actual experiment, be considered as equal to 0·9 ton of English or Welsh coal, and to 0·8 ton of patent fuel—vide Government of India, Public Works Department, Circular No. 7 Ry., dated the 19th June 1891.

¶ This should be the equivalent in terms of Kurhurbaree coal of the total quantity entered against Item 73.

‖ Here state source and description of fuel used, distinguishing between English, Bengal, Warora or other coal, patent fuel, wood, &c., and giving quantity consumed and percentage on total consumption of each kind of fuel; also, if possible, the average lead of each kind of fuel from the source of supply.

No. 767 OF 1894.

FROM

COLONEL G. E. HANCOCK,
Acting Political Agent, Káthiáwár.

To

THE HONOURABLE MR. W. LEE-WARNER, C.S.I.,
Secretary to Government, Bombay.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

KÁTHIÁWÁR POLITICAL AGENCY,
Rájkot, 7th August 1894.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit the Annual Report on the Administration of Káthiáwár for the year 1893-94, to which are appended the reports of—

(1) The President, Rájasthánik Court,
(2) The Judicial Assistant,
(3) The Administrator, Porbandar,
(4) The Assistant Political Agent, Mália.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant.

G. E. HANCOCK, Colonel,
Acting Political Agent.

took the lead in opposing the continuance of the Rájasthánik Court, but when asked to show an alternative proposal, was not able to point to any satisfactory measure whereby justice could be done to the Girásiás or in which the Government could place any confidence.

Geological Survey.

7. The Geological Survey by Dr. Evans has elicited the fact that no valuable mineral products are available in the State.

Navánagar : Detailed surveys of a Railway from Jámnagar to Rájkot, &c., completed.

8. The administrations of the other First Class States have been free from troubles of any kind. Navánagar is gradually emerging from the burden of debt which was once a source of concern to His Highness the Jám and His Highness has now proposed the construction of a Railway to connect his capital with Rájkot, the Head-Quarters of the Province, where two lines, the Morvi and Jetalsar-Rájkot Railways, have already joined. This project has been sanctioned by the Government of India and detailed surveys are nearing completion.

Education of the heir-apparent.

9. The heir-apparent is progressing satisfactorily in his studies under the care of Miss Brooke.

Bhávnagar : Visit of the Mahárája to England.

10. The record of Bhávnagar is as usual highly satisfactory. His Highness the Mahárája accomplished his long cherished desire to visit England to pay personal homage to Her Imperial Majesty the Queen-Empress. His Highness left Bhávnagar on the 7th April 1893 in company with Lieutenant Merewether and returned on the 2nd September 1893. His Highness was present at the opening of the Imperial Institute in London by Her Most Gracious Majesty in person. The administration was smoothly conducted by the Council during His Highness' absence. On return from England His Highness made a short trip to Calcutta to visit His Excellency the Viceroy.

Dhrángadhra : Relations between the Ráj Sáheb and the heir-apparent.

11. It is to be regretted that the relations of His Highness the Ráj Sáheb of Dhrángadhra with the heir-apparent still continue to be far from cordial, and the new Diván has not been yet successful in entrusting the Kumár with some work. But His Highness is to be congratulated on the efficiency of his police through the untiring exertions of Mr. Souter and on the signal success which has attended their efforts in the capture and destruction of dacoits and other criminals.

Morvi : The Thákor Sáheb's visit to England.

12. His Highness the Thákor Sáheb Sir Wághji of Morvi proceeded to England for the benefit of his health in May and returned in December 1893 with his son Kumár Jiáji who had been prosecuting his studies there. The attention of His Highness and his officials was much occupied by the corruption cases during the past year.

Gondal : His Highness the Thákor Sáheb's visit with his Ráni to England.

13. The Thákor Sáheb of Gondal accompanied by the Ráni again proceeded to England in April 1893 to be present at the opening of the Imperial Institute in London and returned in January 1894.

14. The relations between the Thákor Sáheb of Pálitána and his brother Kumár Sámatsingji and sister Keshaba still continue to be strained. No adjustment has yet been made of the pecuniary claims of the State against the Bháyáts of Motisri and Sándhkhákhra. Under recent orders from Government an important case between the Dárbár and Bháyáts known by the name of Wálukad-Khijadia case is to be re-opened and tried by a special Officer as a deed on which the previous decision was passed has been found to be a forgery.

Pálitána: Relations between Thákor Sáheb and his brother and sister. Bháyáts of Motisri and Sándhkhákhra.

15. It is a matter for regret that the Thákor Sáhebs of Limbdi and Wadhwán have continual disputes with the Girásiás of Rojhásar and Wastadi respectively which compelled the Agency to appoint attachment Kárkuns to see that the Girásiás receive their dues regularly. These Chiefs as well as the Thákor of Lakhtar have seceded from the jurisdiction of the Rájasthánik Court.

Limbdi and Wadhwan; disputes with Girásiás.

16. In the managed States Porbandar and Mália engaged the chief attention of the Agency and Government. In the former the administration had been paralyzed by unnecessary litigation and its consequences owing to the public works cases instituted by Mr. Pandit and his manner of dealing with other matters of State. The conduct of Kumár Bhávsingji, the heir-apparent, was also another source of anxious consideration, but since the appointment of Mr. Morison as Administrator, matters have taken a favorable turn in all directions and the administrative machinery is working smoothly. Under the closer supervision of a new companion the Kumár has also shown signs of decided improvement. The work of commutation of the hearth and other cesses on the Mhers lands has been entrusted to a special Officer, who will also adjudicate on the disputes relating to mortgages by the Mhers to the Darbár.

Porbandar Administration, Conduct of Kumár Bhávsingji.

17. The Thákor of Mália has been on the one hand continually agitating against his deposition and on the other asking for supplemental money grants on various pretexts besides preferring ungrounded complaints against the actions of Captain O'Donnell and his subordinates. It is a matter for satisfaction, however, that in the midst of difficulties and with an impoverished treasury Captain O'Donnell has been able by his firmness and tact to keep the Miánás under control. Communication with Mália has been materially improved by the extension of the tramway, debts have been ascertained and a liquidation scheme submitted to Government.

Thákor of Mália: His agitations against his deposition.

18. The Second Class States of Vánkáner and Rájkot continue to be well administered. In the former State the Bái Sáheb, the mother of the minor Chief, is unfortunately surrounded by persons of bad repute, who to serve their own interests give her bad advice and induce her to make frivolous and unbecoming complaints against the administration.

Vánkáner and Rájkot administrations.

19. Rájkot is rapidly developing its resources under careful management, and besides contributing 2 Lákhs of Rúpees towards the construction of the Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway, has launched another project of public utility, viz., the Lálpuri Irrigation Scheme, combining two objects, i.e., water supply to the town of Rájkot and irrigation to neighbouring fields. It is estimated to cost more than three lákhs of Rupees.

The Lálpuri Irrigation project.

Smaller managed estates.

20. Among the smaller States under management, there is nothing special to record regarding Mánávadar. The Thákor of Láthi has been associated with the Manager in the conduct of business and will be invested with full powers on the 1st January next. The young Kumár Wájsur Wála of Bagasra having completed his majority has been entrusted with the control of his estate. The Kumárs of Kotdá-Sángáni and Wadia proceeded on a tour for six months through India under the guardianship of Ráo Bahádur Chamanrái Harrái, Deputy Assistant Political Agent, and returned to Káthiáwár since the close of the year.

Revision of new Rules.

21. During the year under report the rules regarding the levy of Court fees in the Agency and those prescribing the conditions for the grant of Sanads to Pleaders and Translators were revised with the approval of Government and brought into force. Attention was also paid to the revision of rules relating to possession of arms and ammunition, but progress in this direction has been delayed by the fact of the States asking more time for the consideration of the subject by their Select Committee.

Working of the Agency and States Police.

22. The results of the working of the State Police show improvement both in the percentage of convictions and recovery of stolen property. As regards the Agency Police the percentage of convictions has declined but that of recovery of stolen property has increased. The subjoined table gives an abstract of the working of the Police, both of the Agency and jurisdictional States :—

	Agency.	Jurisdictional States.
No. of offences reported	606	7,265
,, accused arrested	881	8,387
,, ,, convicted	404	4,779
Percentage of convictions to arrests	45·88	56·98
Value of property stolen	46,430	1,77,870
,, recovered.....	32,847	87,415
Percentage of recovery	70·74	49·15

Dacoities and robberies.

23. The total number of dacoities and robberies committed during the year under report was 8 and 46 against 18 and 38 in the previous year.

In the area under the direct supervision of the Agency, violent crime appears to have rather increased, 1 case of murder, 1 of attempt to murder, 6 of culpable homicide, 3 dacoities and 10 robberies are reported to have occurred against 8 cases of murder and 6 dacoities in the previous year.

Non-cognizable offences.

24. Non-cognizable cases have also increased from 396 in the previous year to 475 in the year under report.

25. The sanction of the Home Government has been received to the proposals for re-organizing the Agency Police and amalgamating it with the Railway Police and the changes were brought into force from the 1st October 1893. The results of the working of the Railway Police during the year are unsatisfactory under the head of recovery of stolen property which is 26·31 and 3·44 for the B.-G.-J.-P. and Morvi Railways respectively; the percentage of convictions to arrests is not objectionable, being 63 and 83·33 respectively.

Amalgamation of the Railway Police with the Agency Police.

26. The Agency Courts disposed of 1,093 original criminal cases and 75 appeals against 951 and 85 in the previous year. Of the 75 appeals 29 were Sessions cases as against 33 in the previous year.

Criminal cases disposed of by Agency Courts.

27. The number of original civil and political cases decided by the Agency Courts was 3,370 and 174 against 3,505 and 16, while that of appeals was 193 and 172 against 93 and 12. The total number of civil and political cases thus aggregates 3,909 of the value of Rupees 28,81,254 against 3,626 of the value of Rupees 8,07,961. There was also an increase of miscellaneous cases disposed of, the number of such cases having risen from 43,456 to 44,080, in addition to the regular cases.

Civil and political cases disposed of by Agency Courts.

28. The Court of the Political Agent exercised its powers of revision in 19 criminal and 22 civil cases, out of which orders of the lower Court were reversed in 23 cases.

Revision of civil and criminal cases.

Records of 24 Courts were also examined by the Judicial Assistant as against 11 in the previous year. The accounts and judicial records of the various Thánás were also inspected by the Political Agent's staff and the Pránt Officers in their annual tours.

Examination of Records.

29. The number of applications for execution of decrees was 4,291 against 2,991, of which 3,366 were disposed of. The number remaining undisposed of at the end of the year was 1,061 against 1,135 in the previous year.

Execution of decrees.

30. The number of documents registered by the Agency Courts during the year was 379 of the total value of Rupees 5,06,523 against 456 of the value of Rupees 5,02,568 in the previous year. The total fees realized amounted to Rupees 3,805 against 3,054. The decrease in the number of documents must, as remarked in last year's report, be attributed to the stringency of the rules relating to loans to Girásiás and the operation of the rules for the management of encumbered Estates.

Registration.

31. The jurisdictional States decided 31,369 civil cases of the aggregate value of Rupees 33,25,827 against 35,492 of the value of Rupees 34,45,627. The number of outstanding cases has fallen from 9,819 to 5,367, the main reason for the decrease being the unusually large number of cases filed in the Porbandar Courts in the previous year. In the States of Junágad, Dhrángadhra, Limbdi and Wadhwán the arrears of cases are found to have increased.

Civil cases disposed of by jurisdictional States.

32. 12,089 criminal cases were disposed of in the Courts of jurisdictional States as against 11,736 in the previous year.

Criminal cases disposed of by jurisdictional States.

237 cases came before the Agency Courts in the exercise of their residuary jurisdiction against 104 last year.

Cases decided by the Rájasthánik Court.

33. The Rájasthánik Court decided 112 regular cases and passed orders in 6,778 miscellaneous matters, making an aggregate of 6,890, against 206 regular cases and 8,066 miscellaneous. The decrease in the work is due principally to the President of the Court having been in charge of the Political Agency in addition to his own duties for some months and the withdrawal of the dissenting States.

The Rájasthánik Court.

34. As the period of the duration of the Court was to expire on the 31st December 1893, the States were asked to agree to its extension for a further period of 2 years, the expenses being met from the accumulated balance in hand without any fresh contributions. 24 of the States voted for its continuance, while six dissented. The latter were called upon to show alternative schemes for the disposal of outstanding Girás cases, but their proposals have not been considered satisfactory, and the matter has been referred to the Supreme Government. In the meantime the jurisdiction of the Agency has revived in these six States and complaints are disposed of by the Agency.

Surveys.

35. The surveys are also continued under the Superintendent of Agency Surveys, subject to the orders of the Political Agent.

Horse Show.

36. A Horse Show was held at Rájkot in November on the occasion of His Excellency the Governor's visit, but did not prove successful. Other Shows were held at Wadhwán and Bhavnagar with more satisfactory results.

Sea-borne trade.

37. The total exports by sea were valued at Rupees 3,22,42,031 and imports 2,34,96,362 against Rupees 2,77,64,994 and 1,80,94,678 respectively in the previous year.

Earnings of the B.-G.-J.-P Railway.

38. The gross earnings of the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway amounted to Rupees 20,29,929 against Rupees 15,78,179 in the previous year, and the expenditure was Rupees 11,41,221 against Rupees 11,40,302. The dividend to the proprietory States came to 8·17 to Bhávnagar, 1·07 to Junágad, 4·17 to Gondal-Porbandar, the mileage results being 117 gross or 26·64 net against 90·94 and 25·23 respectively in the previous year. This cannot but be considered satisfactory on the whole, though the Junágád and Porbandar Sections are not yet fulfilling expectations.

Opening of the Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway.

39. The Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway was opened for traffic on the 12th April 1893 and is slowly but steadily developing traffic. It is worked under contract by the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway, which receives 45 per cent. of the gross earnings with other sundry items.

Earnings of the Morvi Railway.

40. The Morvi Railway continues to yield a handsome return. The gross earnings amounted to Rupees 3,22,818 against Rupees 3,09,171 and the expenditure to Rupees 1,77,085 against Rupees 1,78,801 in the previous year, giving a mileage result of 66·04 gross or 29·8 net earnings per week. The yearly dividend came to 6·76 per cent. on capital cost against 6·27.

41. The project of the Jámnagar-Rájkot Railway received the approval of the Government of India during the year, and His Excellency the Governor on his visit to Jámnagar in November last performed the ceremony of cutting the first sod of the proposed Railway at the request of His Highness the Jám Sáheb and detailed surveys have since been made by Mr. Davies, under the supervision of the Manager and Engineer-in-Chief, B.-G.-J.-P. Railway.

Surveys of the Rájkot-Jámnagar Railway.

42. The Baroda Darbár proposes to make a branch line from Khijadia, a place on the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway through Amreli to Dhári, but questions of cession of land and jurisdiction through intervening portions of territory belonging to some Káthiáwár Chiefs besides the unwillingness of the Darbár to join the Káthiáwár system have hitherto impeded the progress of the project.

Extension of Railways.

43. The total expenditure on public works in the Native States is reported to be Rupees 24,32,968 against Rupees 22,76,999 in the previous year, of which by far the greater portion is spent by the 1st and 2nd Class States as shown below :—

Public Works.

Junágad	2,50,821
Navánagar	1,81,836
Bhávnagar (including Railway).	8,89,430
Porbandar	80,296
Dhrángadhra	1,06,544
Morvi	3,48,182
Gondal	73,733
Vánkáner	50,289
Pálitána	53,923
Dhrol	14,350
Limbdi	36,546
Rájkot	37,589
Wadhwán	87,700
Jáfarábád	2,832

44. The total amount spent by the Agency Engineer in public works was Rupees 1,85,285 against Rupees 2,15,221 in the previous year. The Memorial Institute buildings at Rájkot were formally opened by His Excellency the Governor in November. The occasion was availed of for inaugurating an exhibition of arts and industry, in connection with the Watson Museum, at which many exhibits were received not only from various places in Káthiáwár but from beyond the province, and His Excellency was much pleased with its success.

Works carried out by the Agency Engineer and opening of the Memorial Institute by His Excellency Lord Harris.

Extensions of telegraphic communications.

45. Telegraphic communication is rapidly increasing and most of the important ports on the sea coast and also several places in the interior, i. e., Mahuva, Jáfarábád, Una, Kutiána, Dhrángadhra, Dhári, Mália, &c. will, under the recent orders of Government, be shortly joined by telegraph.

Tribute of Káthiáwár.

46. The tribute demands of the year amounted to Rupees 11,26,733-8-4 as follows including arrears of former years:—

British.....	7,30,206	12	6
Gáekwár	2,99,204	12	3
Junágad Zortalbi	97,321	15	7

Of these Rupees 10,69,371-2-2 were recovered, leaving at the end of the year a balance of Rupees 57,362-6-2 to be recovered. Besides the tribute, the revenue from opium Pass Fee came to about Rupees 1,76,614-8-8.

Local Funds.

47. The reformed system of accounts introduced by Sir Charles Ollivant with the approval of Government is working well. The Consolidated Fund had an income of Rupees 1,02,464 and an expenditure of Rupees 1,36,500. The excess of expenditure over receipts is due to capital outlay on buildings. Court fee receipts are gradually increasing. The account of the Chiefs General Contribution Fund shows receipts amounting to Rupees 3,14,092 and charges aggregating Rupees 3,56,829.

Hospitals and Dispensaries.

48. The Hospitals and Dispensaries number 97 against 95 in the previous year, showing an increase of 2. The total number of patients treated (including the West Hospital at Rájkot) was 6,25,535 against 6,08,543. The total cost was Rs. 2,25,428, against Rs. 2,07,001. Of these 23 Dispensaries have been under the supervision of the Agency Surgeon.

Vaccination.

49. The control of Vaccination in the three principal States of Junágad Navánagar and Bhávnagar have been transferred to their respective Darbárs, and the rest of the Province is under the supervision of the Agency Surgeon. The total number of Vaccinators is now 53, and no difficulty or inconvenience has been felt in working the new arrangements. 86,444 persons received primary vaccinations, and 912 re-vaccinations, making a total of 87,356 against 86,024 in the previous year. The total cost was Rupees 27,760 against 26,366. Doctor Barker has instituted a complete renovation of lymph through a series of operations on calves from which good results are looked for.

Rájkumár College.

50. The number of students in the Rájkumár College again rose from 39 to 41. 8 new boys joined the College, while 6 left. Out of the 41 only 10 are from other districts. The College was again examined this year by the Director of Public Instruction, who, while expressing satisfaction with the progress made, has offered some very valuable suggestions for further improvement which are now under consideration. The first class is reading for the Matriculation Examination of the University. Two new medals have been awarded this year, viz., the Gordon Medal to commemorate the bravery and death of the late Lieutenant Gordon, and the other, A Good Conduct Medal, in honour of two former students of the College, Thákor Sáheb Dájiráj of Wadhwán and Kumár Amra Wála of Bilkha.

The Tálukdári Girásia School.

51. The Tálukdári Girásia School is also progressing satisfactorily and receiving more recruits from the neighbouring districts than the Rájkumár College. One of its students, Amir Mia of Dasáda, received a Commission in Her Majesty's Army as Jamádár at the end of the year.

General Education.

52. Turning to general education the States of Junágad, Bhávnagar Porbandar, Morvi, Vánkáner, Pálitána, Rájkot and Wadhwán were, as mentioned last year, entrusted with the control of their own schools under the revised arrangements approved and sanctioned by Government. This change was only introduced in April 1893, it is therefore too soon yet to pronounce any opinion as to the results. Several points have in the meantime arisen which will require to be settled to ensure better working, and these will be considered at the ensuing meeting of Kárbháris. The total number of educational institutions at the end of the year was 1,012 with 64,040 scholars against 993 with 60,957 scholars in the previous year. The total cost on education was Rupees 5,53,226 against 5,56,729. The Sámaldás College at Bhávnagar is reported to be doing fairly well.

PART II.

CHAPTER I—Political.

JHÁLÁVÁD PRÁNT.

Area 4,392·6 square miles; Population 4,69,199.

Personnel.

1. Mr. P. S. V. FitzGerald was in charge of the District from the beginning of the year to 24th August 1893. On his transfer to Sáwantvádi, Captain J. S. Ashby was transferred from the Gohilvád Pránt and held charge till the close of the year. There have been frequent changes in the office of the Deputy Assistant Political Agent in this Pránt during the year, Ráo Bahádur Saváilál Govindrám, Chamanrái Harrái, Náthábhái D. Patel and Vithalrái Himatrám having been successively in charge of the office.

DHRÁŃGADHRA—1ST CLASS.

Area 1,156·5 square miles; Population 1,03,754; Revenue Rs. 6,50,000; Tribute Rs. 44,677.

Dhrángadhra: Want of cordiality in the relations between the Ráj Sáheb and heir-apparent.

2. It is a matter for regret that though the relations between His Highness the Ráj Sáheb and the heir-apparent Kumár Shri Ajitsingji still appear to be harmonious, there is no real cordiality between them. The Kumár leads a very quiet, though active life and is especially addicted to out-door pursuits, but in spite of repeated advice from the Political Agent and the Pránt officer, no steps have yet been taken to associate the Kumár in any way in the administration of the State. The new Diván Ráo Bahádur Saváilál Govindrám assumed charge of his Office on the 14th August 1893 and was addressed by the Pránt Officer several times on this head but has not succeeded as yet in his endeavours to induce His Highness the Ráj Sáheb to entrust the Kumár with some work.

The two Kumárs sent to the Rájkumár College.

3. The services of Mr. C. E. O'Shea, tutor to the other two Kumárs of Dhrángadhra, were dispensed with in October last and the Kumárs sent to the Rájkumár College, where the progress of the elder is reported to be satisfactory, the other is somewhat backward.

Re-organization of Police by Mr. Souter and the destruction of the remnant of the dacoit gang.

4. Mr. Souter, the Superintendent of Police, has re-organized the State police with great pains and judgment. The police force, both mounted and foot, are now a fine body of men, well set up, well drilled and excellently turned out. Their appearance and smartness reflects the very highest credit on Mr. Souter and the destruction of the remnant of the dacoit gang headed by Juma Gand on the 10th April 1894 testifies to their real efficiency. New lines for the police have been built and provided with a gymnasium with suitable apparatus, and His Highness the Ráj Sáheb is to be congratulated on having carried out in so thorough and complete a manner the suggestions of Mr. Souter.

Limbdi—2nd Class.

Area 343·96 square miles; Population 48,116; Revenue Rs. 2,89,933; Tribute Rs. 45, 533.

Limbdi: One of the six States which withdrew from the jurisdiction of the Rájasthanik Court.

5. This State is one of the six which withdrew from the jurisdiction of the Rájasthanik Court, and pending the settlement of the question of their secession all petitions from the Girásiás which were hitherto dealt with by the Rájasthánik Court are now entertained by the Agency. In consequence of serious disputes between the Darbár and the Girásiás of Rojhásar it was found necessary to appoint an attachment Kárkun to look after the interests of the latter.

Desirability of having efficient Officials.

6. The Thákor Sáheb has not yet complied with the advice of the Agency expressed several times to change his Chief Kárbhári and Government have recently been compelled to animadvert in strong terms on the Limbdi administration in connection with an opium smuggling case. The judicial work of the State is reported to be in arrears and the attention of the Thákor Sáheb will now again be drawn to the subject.

Wadhwán—2nd Class.

Area 236·16 square miles; Population 42,280; Revenue Rs. 4,00,000; Tribute Rs. 28,691.

Wadhwán: Another of the six States which withdrew from the jurisdiction of the Rájasthánik Court.

7. Wadhwán is another State which has severed its connection with the Rájasthánik Court. Here also the disputes between the Darbár and the Mulgirásias of Vastadi, who are also the Tálukdárs of Chotila were very acute, and the Agency was obliged to impose an attachment Kárkun to look after the interests of the Girásiás. On closer enquiries into the matter, the bad faith of the Darbár was established and the whole village has consequently been placed under Agency management with the approval of Government pending a final settlement of the disputes.

Recovery of the Thákor Sáheb.

8. The Thákor Sáheb has considerably improved in health and has been able to resume riding and cricket and other out-door pursuits.

Water supply.

9. As to the project of the water supply referred to in last year's report, the advice of Mr. White, C.E., coincided with that of Mr. Booth, the Agency Engineer, that the bed of the Bhogáwa river is the only place that could be safely depended upon to give a sufficient supply of sweet water. The plans are ready and the project will, it is said, be taken in hand during the current year.

Revenue Survey.

10. The Revenue survey is proceeding under the supervision of Mr. Hatch, Assistant Survey Superintendent, as rapidly as is commensurate with reliable work.

Lakhtar—3rd Class.

Area 247·43 square miles; Population 25,093; Revenue Rs. 75,000;
Tribute Rs. 7,351;

Lakhtar: Has also withdrawn from the jurisdiction of the Rájasthánik Court.

11. This State is also one of the six dissenting States which seceded from the Rájasthánik Court. The Chief is a fast friend of the Thákor Sáheb of Limbdi and was thus led into this ill advised and precipitate action. The question of the Wáswa Jálampura Bandh is still under the consideration of Government pending further report from the Irrigation Department.

Reorganization of Thán Police under the supervision of Mr. Souter.

12. Under the advice of Sir Charles Ollivant, and with the approval of Government the police of the Thán Mahál of this State was placed under the supervision and control of Mr. Souter for a period of two years with effect from the 1st April 1893 and is being re-organized in common with those of the Sáela and Muli States with much success.

Sáela—3rd Class.

Area 222·1 square miles; Population 15,834; Revenue Rs. 65,000;
Tribute Rs. 15,511.

Sáela: Change of Kárbhári.

13. The affairs of this small Táluka engaged the special attention of the Agency during the past year, and it is reported that the Thákor Sáheb is making satisfactory arrangements with a view to removing the pressure of the debts now felt. He has expressed a desire to dispense with the services of Mr. Lálbhái Morárji, which were placed at his disposal by Government some years ago and has appointed another Kárbhári in his place.

Sons of the Chief.

14. The heir-apparent Kumár Shri Madársingji and his younger brothers Devisingji and Kaliánsingji hold different offices in the State,—an experiment in Native State administration which might be imitated largely in other States to the advantage both of the Kumárs and the States.

Re-organization of Police under the supervision of Mr. Souter.

15. The police of this State as mentioned above is now placed under Mr. Souter for a period of 2 years.

Chuda.—3rd Class.

Area 78·2 square miles; Population 12,995; Revenue Rs. 67,000;
Tribute Rs. 7,143.

Chuda: Kárbhári nominated by the Agency for the management of the State.

16. The special attention of Government was called to the affairs of this mismanaged Táluka, with the result that the Thákor was required to agree to the following conditions for the management of his State.

1. The Chief should accept a Kárbhári nominated by the Agency and removeable only with the consent of the Political Agent.

2. The Chief should not improperly interfere with the judicial and revenue affairs ; the propriety of his interference being a matter for the decision of the Political Agent.

3. The Chief should submit the budget of the State expenditure for the approval of the Pránt Officer, and after deducting the expenses, pay the surplus in satisfaction of the debts.

4. The Chief should incur no new debt.

5. The Chief should dismiss from his employment objectionable retainers.

17. Although he accepted these conditions and acceded to the nomination of the Kárbhári selected by the Political Agent, a decided reluctance has been evinced to act up to them and several memorials have been subsequently sent to Government complaining against the restrictions it became necessary to impose, but Government saw no reason to modify the orders passed.

The Thákor acceded to the nomination of Kárbhári with reluctance.

18. The Thákor and his heir-apparent are openly on bad terms, and though endeavours were made by the District Officer to bring about a better understanding, they have proved fruitless. The Kumár is reported to be quiet and intelligent but is not entrusted with any part in the management of State affairs, and it is at present futile to expect the Thákor to consent to any such arrangement.

Dissension between the Chief and his heir-apparent.

19. Mr. Ásháram Dalichand, late Manager of Láthi, has been appointed Kárbhári and is trying to work smoothly with the Thákor in consultation with the District Officer. A further report will be submitted to Government regarding the State after August next.

Mr. Ásháram Dalichand appointed as Kárbhári.

MULI.—4TH CLASS.

Area 133·2 square miles; Population 16,726; Revenue Rs. 1,00,000; Tribute Rs. 9,354.

20. This Táluka is ruled by a Parmár Rajput Chieftain. The Thákor had been in very indifferent health for some time past and died on the 2nd June 1894. The heir-apparent Kumár Himatsingji, about 12 years of age, attends the Rájkumár College. The Kárbhári Mr. Somchand Velji has been retained as Manager of the State.

Muli: Death of the Thákor.

21. A considerable sum aggregating Rupees 1,72,794 was found in the Treasury which will assist greatly in effecting necessary reforms and generally improving the estate.

Collection of treasure.

BAJÁNA.—4TH CLASS.

Area 183·12 square miles; Population 15,958; Revenue Rs. 1,00,000; Tribute Rs. 8,037.

22. The estrangement between the old Chief and his heir-apparent still continues, and there appears to be no likelihood of any better understanding being brought about until the final orders of Government are passed on the question of succession. The Kámdár Mr. Vandrávandás assisted by his Deputy Mr. Keshavji

Dissension between the Chief and his son.

has hitherto conducted the affairs of the State under the guidance of the Chief who is 74 years of age, but he has lately resigned and a new Kámdár Mr. Devkaran Mávji has been appointed in his place. There is nothing else special to record regarding this small Táluka.

Pátdi.—4th Class.

Area 39·4 square miles; Population 4,438; Revenue Rs. 13,000.

Pátri: The Chief and his son.

23. The peculiar feature of this small Táluka, which is owned by Desái Surajmulji, is that the capital town with other 18 villages is situated in the British District of Ahmedábád, while 7 villages only are under the supervision of the Political Agency of Káthiáwár. The Táluka is well administered and the heir-apparent attends the Rájkumár College.

Overflow of the Tank at Kharágoda.

24. The Government tank at Kharágoda which has been constructed for the Salt Department was again flooded this year and blocked the roads in the immediate vicinity of the village of Sávda. A causeway has therefore to be provided at the expense of Government for the comfort of the people and will be constructed as soon as funds permit.

SORATH PRÁNT.

Area 5,217·16 square miles; Polulation 7,85,032.

Personnel.

25. Captain M. T. Lyde was in charge of the Pránt up to the 26th December 1893, when he was relieved by Captain Hyde Cates.

Ráo Bahádur Ghelábhái Thákordás was Deputy Assistant till he went on leave on the 21st October 1893 and subsequently died. He has been succeeded by Ráo Bahádur Náthábhái Dájibhái Patel, who took charge on the 11th January 1894. During the interval the Pránt Sarishtadár Ázam Pánáchand Parshotam officiated as Deputy Assistant.

Junágad.—1st Class.

Area 3,283·7 square miles; Population 4,84,190; Revenue Rs. 24,50,000; Tribute Rs. 65,604.

Visit of His Excellency the Governor.

26. His Highness the Nawáb was honoured by a visit from His Excellency the Governor Lord Harris in the beginning of the year. After a week's shooting in the Gir, His Excellency arrived at Junágad on the 10th April and formally opened the new Leper Asylum presented by the Vazir Bá-ud-din, the foundation stone of which had been laid by the late Prince Albert Victor. His Highness the Nawáb then resumed his Indian tour in company with Captain Cates and visited thesouthern part of India. He returned from the tour in June.

Departure of Diván Mr. Haridás Viháridás on leave and appointment of Mr. Chunilál Sárábhái.

27. The Diván Mr. Haridás Viháridás went on leave in April and was succeeded by Mr. Chunilál Sárábhái, then Chief Kárbhári of the Pálitána State.

28. The affairs of this State have since been thrown into great confusion and the attitude taken up by the administration has been conspicuous for its opposition to the advice of the Agency and Government.

Affairs of the State.

29. Serious riots took place at Prabhás Pátan on the 25th July 1893 between the Mahomedans and Hindus on the day of the Mohorum, when the Táziás were going to be immersed. The steps taken by the Darbár to confine the procession to a convenient road proved futile, as the instructions to the police had been deferred too late and were imperfect and the Darbár had omitted to take care that its orders should be obeyed. The result was that the route laid down for the procession was not followed, the Hindu Dehotsurg enclosure was invaded by the Mahomedans, who were then stoned by the Hindus from some of the buildings, and a fight ensued resulting in the brutal murder of several Hindus and the desecration of their temples. No arrests were made until after stringent orders had been issued by the Political Agent on August 1st, and Government in reviewing the occurrences have recorded their conclusions that the Nawáb's Government failed to do its first duty to a law-abiding public, to protect it from further riot, by bringing the rioters to justice and directed that the Vahivatdár, Munsif and Chief Police Officer at Prabhás Pátan should be changed and be neither Hindus nor Mahomedans. The Nawáb was also advised to select a new Police Officer unconnected with the religions of either of the Prabhás Pátan factions.

The Pátan riots.

30. For the trial of the rioters Government advised that a European Officer with judicial experience should be associated with two Native Judges, whose services were applied for by the State, so as to command confidence from both communities, but the State preferred that the Judicial Councillor of the State the Honorable Mr. Phirozsha M. Mehta instead of a European Officer of Government should preside over the special Sessions Court and this was eventually sanctioned. The trials occupied many months and ended in the conviction of 18 persons as follows:—

Trial of the rioters.

	7	sentenced to 5 years.
	2	,,	to 4 ,,
	8	,,	to 3 ,,
and	1	,,	to 1 year.

The judgment was delivered after many protracted hearings on the 29th May 1894 and it is believed that the trial of these cases has cost the State several lacs of rupees.

31. Mr. Heaton finished his enquiries into the Hati Mália case during the year and has submitted a report to Government. He also retried the dispute between the Darbár and the Bháyáts of Ránpur regarding the lands of Sádiáváv under the instructions of Government, assisted by the Diváns of Navánagar and Bhávnagar and gave judgment on 1st February last, in favour of the Darbár.

Re-hearing of the Sádiávâv case by Mr. Heaton.

32. At the request of Government the States were asked in October last to consent to the continuance of the Rájasthánik Court for a further period of 2 years, the charges being met from the accumulated balance of the Court's Fund. The Junágad Darbár under the advice of its new Diván Mr. Chunilál took the lead in opposing the proposal and abruptly stopped its connection with the Court and the Girás Surveys. This matter is now under the consideration of the Supreme Government and need not here be further touched upon.

Proposal regarding the continuance of the Rájasthánik Court and the attitude of the administration.

33. For the disposal of other serious disputes with the Khán of Khadia, the Sayads of Sokhada and certain Desáis, Government suggested the appointment of a Special Officer, but this was objected to by the Darbár and the matter is still under deliberation.

Appointment of Special Officer for disposal of certain disputes.

34. The question of extradition and recovery of bathing fees at Práchi regarding which there are long pending disputes with Baroda are still under the consideration of Government, but it is hoped that a settlement will be arrived at before long.

Práchi Kund disputes with Baroda.

35. The Junágad Imperial Service Corps is reported to be in a serviceable condition and to be progressing satisfactorily. Sáhzáda EdalKhánji has been sent to the 2nd Lancers at Poona for a six months' course of tuition in drill prior to taking command of the corps.

Imperial Service Corps.

36. The Vazir Shaikh Bá-ud-din was granted the title of Companion of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire and was invested with the insignia by His Excellency the Governor personally on his late visit to Rájkot in November last. The Vazir showed his gratitude and liberality by granting a donation of Rs. 5,000 to the Memorial Institute to complete the garden and surrounding grounds.

Title of C. I. E. conferred on Vazir Shaikh Bá-ud-din.

37. Dr. Evans, the Geologist, is still in the service of the State but his work is completed and he is likely to be leaving soon. He has not been able to discover any mineral products of much value or that would repay working in the State.

Completion of Geological Survey.

JÁFARÁBÁD—2ND CLASS.

Area 42·329 squre miles; Population 12,389; Tribute nil, Revenue Rs. 58,632.

38. The District Officer visited this petty dependency of Janjira and opened a new Dharamshála there in December last. The Kárbhári and other Officials of Janjira, also paid visits and inspected the several Departments. There is nothing else to record regarding this State.

Jáfarábád: visit of the Pránt Officer.

JETPUR.

Area 733·8 square miles; Population 1,11,549 ; Revenue Rs. 8,78,915 ; Tribute Rs. 59,222.

Jetpur: Jurisdictional and non-jurisdictional Tâlukdârs.

39. This Káthi Táluka is owned by 17 shareholders, of whom 15 are jurisdictional Tálukdárs and 2 have no jnrisdiction. In the villages belonging to the latter and in the villages which are joint between several of them, the jurisdiction is exercised by a council called the Taluka Court consisting of 3 shareholders elected by the whole body of shareholders for life.

Promotion of Ázam Surag Wála and Ázam Lakhman Wála from 4th to 3rd Class.

40. Ázam Surag Wála was promoted during the year from the rank of 4th to 3rd Class and Wála Laxman Merám to a similar rank since the close of the year as a mark of the approval of Government of their improved administration.

Jurisdiction of Tálukdárs.

41. The Tálukdárs exercise jurisdiction as follows :—

2. Third Class.
1. Fourth do.
4. Fifth do.
8. Sixth do.
1. Táluka Court, Fifth Class.

Three of these estates are under agency management owing to the minority of the Tálukdárs, viz. ; Wadia, Bilkha and Chital.

The Táluka Court and the change of Nyáyádhish.

42. The Nyáyádhish Mr. Kaliánrái Dolatrái has reverted to Government service and has been succeeded by Mr. Manishankar Gavrishankar Bhat, B.A.,L, L.B., whose services the Táluka Court secured on an enhanced salary of Rupees 200 per mensem. Some re-organization was also effected in other offices under the Táluka Court to secure greater efficiency. Some of the shareholders still continue to agitate against the Táluka Court, and on my last visit to Jetpur, I took the opportunity to call them together and explain the position in order to prevent further useless quarrels and to induce them to co-operate with each other more cordially in the work of good administration.

Re-organization of Police under the supervision of Mr. Longley.

43. The appointment of Mr. Longley as Superintendent of the Jetpur Police was distasteful to all of them and endeavours were made by some of them to throw obstacles in the way of his carrying out his duties, whilst they petitioned Government for his removal. Government were pleased to order that the higher Tálukdárs, viz., the 3rd, 4th and 5th Class, might be allowed to control their own Police under the general supervision of Mr. Longley as regards drill, clothing, arms, &c., while the Police of the smaller estates should be under his direct control. These instructions were only received about the end of the year, up to which time Mr. Longley had no full scope for exercising his supervision except over the Majmu Police. When at Jetpur I inspected the small force and was satisfied with the progress made under the circumstances.

Bántva.

Area 221·8 square miles ; Population 42,105 ; Revenue Rs. 3,04,231 ; Tribute Rs. 29,642.

Bántva Consitution.

44. Bántva is another Táluka which presents features of subdivision amongst several proprietors, the custom of succession being not governed by primogeniture but by equal division. There are 4 principal divisions.—

1. Mánávadar branch, 3rd Class, under Agency management.
2. Gidad, ,, 4th Class (personal).
3. Bántva ,, (5th Class).
4. Bántva ,, Majmu.

The Gidad Estate.

45. The Gidad estate is separately owned by two brothers, the elder exercising the jurisdiction, but bad feeling still exists between them. The younger continues to give trouble and is considerably in debt.

Rustamkhánji and other shareholders.

46. In the Bántva branch there are 4 shareholders, of whom the senior Rustamkhánji exercises 5th Class jurisdiction. The relations between him and the other shareholders also are far from cordial and affairs in general suffer accordingly.

The joint property.

47. The joint or Majmu property is for the purposes of jurisdiction administered by a Nyáyádhish nominated by the Tálukdárs and approved by the Agency.

Petty States.

Petty States : Vasávad.

48. None of these require special notice except Vasávad, regarding which the District Officer reports as follows:—

"The Táluka belongs to Nágar Bráhmins of whom there are 8 and one of them Ázam Keshavlál Pránjivan performs the duties of Nyáyádhish with 5th Class powers. I am inclined to agree with what Captain Lyde said in his last report that the Nyáyádhish should not be a Tálukdár. The population consists of Mussalmáns and Hindus about equally divided and the two communities do not appear to be on the best of terms : it seems inadvisable therefore that one of the Tálukdárs should settle their disputes, the Tálukdárs themselves being on bad terms with the Mussulmáns.

"I have not made the acquaintance of the Nyáyádhish Tálukdár but he does not appear to be a very impartial man. His action in the dispute regarding the Bábul tree which lately took place shows this. I trust that this dispute will shortly be settled satisfactorily. Taking all these things into consideration I think it would be advisable to insist on the Tálukdárs appointing another Nyáyádhish unconnected with the place."

The matter has been referred to Government and is now under consideration.

HÁLÁR PRÁNT.

Area 7,062 square miles; Population 8,22,875.

Personnel.

49. The following Officers were in charge of the Pránt during the year :—

Lieut.-Colonel C. W. H. Sealy from 1st April to 6th August 1893.

Lieut. J. L. Harrington from 7th August to 31st August 1893.

Major L. L. Fenton from 1st September to 26th December 1893 in addition to his own duties.

Captain G. B. O'Donnell from 27th December 1893 to 28th January 1894 in addition to his own duties.

Captain S. M. C. Schneider from 29th January to 31st March 1894.

The Office of Deputy Assistant Political Agent was held by Ráo Bahádur Keshowráo Bháskerji throughout the year.

NAVÁNAGAR.—1ST CLASS.

Area 3,791·3 square miles; Population 3,79,611; Revenue Rs. 26,93,246; Tribute Rs. 1,20,093.

Navánagar: liquidation of debt.

50. While the financial condition of this State is not all that could be desired, its general administration and progress appears in a favourable light, His Highness the Jám Sáheb showing in his own way a constant consideration for the welfare of his subjects. Mr. Maganlál continues as Diván and has been able to reduce the debt by about 4 lákhs during the past year. On the 15th June 1893 the debt stood at Rupees 6,31,107 only. This year it is regretted that the State cannot afford to do much towards liquidation owing to decrease in revenue.

The heir-apparent's education.

51. His Highness' son, Kumár Shri Jaswatsingji now in his 12th year, is being educated at Navánagar by Miss Laura Brooke. Mr. Oliver, Educational Inspector, N.D., recently examined the Kumár and reported favourably on his studies and bringing up. It has been advised by Government that the Kumár should after June 1895 receive the benefit of education and association with other young boys of his age and position at the Rájkumár College.

Jámnagar-Rájkot Railway.

52. The construction of a metre gauge Railway between Navánagar and Rájkot having been definitely settled by His Highness the Jám, application was made to Government to sanction the scheme as well as the raising of a loan for the purpose. Provisional sanction of the Government of India was accordingly received in November 1893 and His Excellency Lord Harris, Governor of Bombay, kindly acceded to His Highness' request to cut the first sod of the Railway. His Excellency accordingly visited Jámnagar in the beginning of the cold season, in company with the Political Agent, and performed the ceremony on the 21st November

1893 amidst a large concourse of the Darbár-Officials and people, who all looked forward to the event with great interest. The detail surveys have since been taken in hand by Mr. Davies under the orders of the Manager and Engineer-in-Chief, B.-G.-J.-P. Railway, and endeavours are now being made to raise the necessary loan.

Imperial Service Corps.

53. The Imperial Service Troop was inspected by His Excellency the Governor and also by Colonel Melliss, Inspector General, who were both highly pleased with the Troop.

Disputes with Baroda regarding the village of Bhimkatta.

54. Negotiations are yet in progress for the settlement of the long pending disputes with Baroda regarding Bhimkatta, and it is hoped that some modus vivendi will be found to put an end to the disputes.

Morvi—1st Class.

Area 821·6 square miles; Population 1,05,335; Revenue Rs. 10,08,477; Tribute Rs. 61,559.

Morvi: Visit of His Highness the Thákor Sáheb to England, the heir-apparent, the administration of the State and Extension of Tramway to Mália.

55. His Highness the Thákor Sáheb Sir Wághji, K.C.I.E., went to England on the 6th May 1893 and returned on the 16th December, bringing with him the heir-apparent Kumár Shri Jiáji who had been studying in England. During His Highness' absence the administratiou of the State was carried on by the Huzur Personal Assistant Mr. Morárji Mangalji and the Acting Diván Mr. Amarchand Jhaverchand under the general supervision of the Assistant Political Agent, Hálár. His Highness is a ruler who personally conducts the administration of the State and apparently takes an active interest in all its affairs. During the last year he has shown his usual enterprize by the extension of the Tramway to Mália and has thus conferred a great benefit on that State which must tend to open up the country and to rapidly increase trade in a part of Káthiáwár that was hitherto shut off from the rest of the world. The condition of the Morvi State appears to be most flourishing and redounds greatly to the credit of His Highness' rule.

Corruption cases.

56. His Highness' attention and that of his Officials were however much distracted by the springing up of what are commonly called the "Corruption Cases." It was discovered that many of the State Officials were in the habit of receiving bribes, and His Highness devoted considerable personal attention to enquiring into them. Heavy fines were inflicted upon those who confessed or were convicted and it is to be hoped that the results will be as deterrent as they are meant to be.

Establishment of spinning and weaving mills.

57. The establishment of spinning and weaving Mills at Morvi will provide a means of livelihood for many of His Highness' subjects.

Management of the Adhoi Mahál and Wawánia Bandar.

58. The Ádhoi Mahál and the Wawánia Bandar continue under Government Management pending a settlement of the disputes between Cutch and Morvi. Mr. R. M. Kennedy, I.C.S., has been appointed Special Commissioner to take up the work of settlement from the point where it was left by Mr. Fulton, and it is hoped that before long a satisfactory solution will be arrived at of this long pending and intricate question.

Gondal—1st Class.

Area 1,024·65 square miles; Population 1,61,036; Revenue Rs. 12,00,000; Tribute Rs. 1,10,721.

Gondal: Visit of their Highnesses the Thákor Sáheb and his Ráni to England and their return. Education of the heir-apparent and elder Kunvari.

59. His Highness the Thákor Sáheb accompanied by Her Highness the Ráni again proceeded to England in April to be present at the ceremony of opening of the Imperial Institute in London and returned to Gondal in January last. Two of their children, the heir-apparent and the elder Kunvari, have been left in Scotland to be brought up.

Administration of the State during his absence.

60. During the absence of His Highness the administration of the State was conducted by the Diván Mr. Bezanji Merwánji.

The Thákor Sáheb's Administration.

61. The exertions of the Thákor Sáheb for the welfare of his State and the kind personal interest he takes in every branch of its administration are too well known to need any special mention. The fine public buildings, schools, hospitals, the asylum for the poor and the infirm, the botanical garden and the experimental farm afford visible signs of the spirit of the administration. His Highness has by a recent order put a stop to the practice of the impressment of cultivators' carts except when they are required for the Officers of the Agency when travelling on duty and for guests from neighbouring States.

Dhrol—2nd Class.

Area 282·7 square miles; Population 27,002; Revenue Rs. 1,65,184; Tribute Rs. 10,231.

Dhrol: The Chief and his sons.

62. The Chief and his sons continue to live in harmony which is extremely satisfactory. It is however a matter for regret that the relations of the State with its Bháyáts are somewhat strained, the chief cause of the estrangement being the opposition of the Bháyáts to State pressure for the education of their sons at the Girásia-School and village schools and also to the claim asserted by the Darbár to serve them with supplementary Hak Patraks.

Conflict in the village of Liála.

63. A very serious conflict took place at the village of Liála during the year between the Girásiás and the Sumrás resulting in the death of one person and the wounding of several others. The accused have since been arrested, convicted and sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.

VIRPUR—4TH CLASS.

Area 66·9 square miles ; Population 7,306 ; Revenue Rs. 42,050 ;
Tribute Rs. 4,114.

Virpur: Sons of the Chief.

64 The Chief's two sons Kumár Hamirsingji and Jethiji were withdrawn from the Rájkumár College last September, the elder now acts as Magistrate in Virpur and the younger supervises the Police Department. The elder has also undergone a course of three months' training with His Highness the Jám's troop of Imperial Lancers and is a promising youth.

Marriages of the Chief's sons.

65. The marriages of two of the Chief's Kumárs were celebrated after the close of the year and must have increased the debt on the State.

GOHILVÁD PRÁNT.

Area 4,208·4 square miles ; Population 6,75,375.

66. The following Officers were in charge of the Pránt during the year:—

Personnel.

Captain J. S. Ashby—from 1st April 1893 to 2nd September 1893.

Lieut. J. L. Harrington—from 3rd September to 31st December 1893.

Major M. T. Lyde—from 1st January to 31st March 1894.

Ráo Bahádur Harilál Lalubhái Thákur held the Office of Deputy Assistant Political Agent, with the exception of three months, when he went on privilege leave and Mr. Santokrám Nánábhái officiated as Deputy Assistant.

BHÁVNAGAR—1ST CLASS.

Area 2,860 square miles ; Population 4,67,282 ; Revenue Rs. 34,00,000 ;
Tribute Rs. 1,54,499.

Bhávnagar: Visit of His Highness the Mahárája to England.

67. His Highness the Mahárája accompanied by his Councillor Mr. M. M. Bhávnagari proceeded to England on the 8th April 1893 to be present at the opening of the Imperial Institute and returned to Bombay on the 2nd September 1893. He was accompanied by Captain Merewether who was subsequently relieved by Captain E. H. Cox, Royal Fusiliers, A. D. C., to His Excellency the Governor, who was in attendance on His Highness during his stay in England. On May 6th His Highness was received at Windsor Castle by Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen Empress and had the honour of dining with Her Majesty by whom he was very kindly treated. His Highness attended the brilliant ceremony of opening the Imperial Institute, where also he had the honour of conversing for a long time with Her Imperial Majesty. While in England the degree of L.L.D. was conferred upon His Highness by the University of Cambridge in recognition of his great aid to Educational institutions in India. His Highness also founded the Bhávnagar Medal in the University of Cambridge to be given to the selected candidate who stands highest on the combined results of the examination for selection for the Indian Civil Service. His Highness also gave liberal donations to several institutions in England. His Highness was presented by Her Imperial Majesty with a miniature of herself set in brilliant diamonds together with an autograph letter as a souvenir of his visit which His Excellency Lord Harris personally presented to His Highness at Bombay after his return from England.

Visit of His Highness the Máhárája to Calcutta.

68. His Highness also visited Calcutta to pay a visit to His Excellency the Viceroy in December. During his absence on both occasions the work was carried on by his Council. There have been no changes in the personnel of the Council during the year.

The hier-apparent Kumár Bhávsingji.

69. The heir-apparent Kumár Bhávsingji continued to prosecute his studies under the guardianship of Captain Merewether and made a tour in various places in the Bhávnagar State and Northern India. It is proposed to send the Kumár in June to Poona to acquire a Military training to fit him for the command of the Bhávnagar Imperial Lancers, of which H. H. the Máhárája is the Honorary Colonel. This connection of the Kumár will, it is hoped, tend to make the Corps more popular with the Rajputs of the Gohil Class whom it is designed chiefly to enrol.

Kumár Mangalsingji and Kunvari Shri Keshába.

70. The younger son of His Highness, Kumár Mangalsingji, is reported to have made pretty good progress in his studies in the Rájkumár College. Kunvari Shri Keshába continues her studies under Miss Brooke.

His Highness the Máhárájá's Birthday celebration.

71. His Highness' birthday was as usual the occasion of great festivities and alms were freely distributed. Prizes were also distributed to students of the schools, 15 scholarships were founded, and life pensions were granted to 36 helpless widows of different communities.

Imperial Service Corps.

72. H. E. the Governor during his visit to Rájkot in November last inspected the Bhávnagar Imperial Service Lancers and was much satisfied with them. They exercised in combined drill with the Junágad and Jámnagar lancers in the presence of the Inspector General Colonel Melliss and conducted themselves creditably, the Inspector General having expressed himself much pleased with them.

Pálitána—2nd Class.

Area 288·88 square miles; Population 60,848; Revenue Rs. 4,75,000; Tribute Rs. 10,364.

Pálitána: The Chief's interest in the administration.

73. The Thákor Sáheb continues to take an interest in each department in his State. The ginning factory built last year in Pálitána having turned out a success, another has been erected at Gáriádhár.

74. No improvement has yet taken place in the relations between the Thákor Sáheb and his brother Kumár Sámatsingji which are still strained. In the dispute regarding passes for arms it has been decided by the Agency that it will be sufficient for the Darbár to issue 25 free passes to Kumár Sámatsingji.

Dispute with Kumár Sámatsingji.

75. In consequence of the discovery of the fabrication of the mortgage deed of Samvat 1870 (A. D. 1814) by the Darbár the Válukad Khijadia case, (a dispute between the Darbár and the Bháyáts of Motisri and Sándh Khákhrá) has been re-opened under the orders of Government, the mortgage deed being left out of consideration at the rehearing.

Dispute with Bháyáts of Motisri and Sándh-Khákhra.

VALA—3RD Class.

Area 109·3 square miles; Population 17,842; Revenue Rs. 1,50,000; Tribute Rs. 9,202.

76. There is nothing special to record regarding this State. The son and daughter of the Thákor continue to live at the house of their maternal uncle, the Thákor of Kotdá-Sángáni in the Hálár Pránt. The Agricultural Bank started in the time of the Agency management during the minority of the Thákor has now fallen into disuse and the cultivators prefer to obtain loans from bankers and merchants. Some complaints have again been made regarding over-taxation but have not been pressed.

Vala Administration.

JASDAN—3RD CLASS.

Area 283 square miles; Population 35,057; Revenue Rs. 1,30,000; Tribute Rs. 10,993.

77. The relations between the old Chief, Kháchar Ala Chela and his eldest son Kháchar Odha continue in the same unsatisfactory State. The other sons of the Chief live with their father.

Jasdan: Disagreement between the Chief and his eldest son.

78. The son of Odha Kháchar continues to study in the Rájkumár College.

Son of Odha Kháchar.

CHAPTER II.

Wards and Managed Estates.

JHÁLÁVÁD PRÁNT.

RÁJPUR—6TH CLASS.

Area 22·8 square miles; Population 2,208; Revenue Rs. 37,801; Tribute Rs. 2,598.

79. This estate is under management on account of the minority of the Tálukdár, who is studying in the Tálukdári Girásia School at Wadhwán. The revenue during the year was Rupees 39,528 and expenditure Rupees 17,397. The balance amounts to Rupees 76,632, of which Rupees 43,000 are invested in Government paper.

Rájpur: Revenue and finance.

JHINJHUVÁDA.

Area 164·6 square miles; Population 15,662; Revenue Rs. 67,814; Tribute Rs. 11,873.

Jhinjhuváda: General.

80. Although the original Morvi debt has been paid off, it is reported that some of the solvent Tálukdárs are so little alive to their own interests that they have commenced to contract new debts. Several of the Rásáni shareholders who have become free from debt have asked that they may be released from the management or at least given their share of the produce when it is annually measured at the barnyard; the matter is still under the consideration of Government in connection with the question of execution of decrees passed by Civil Courts against them.

DASÁDA.

Dasáda General.

81. Another petty estate of some importance under management in the Jhálávád Prant is Dasáda, which is shared by several Tálukdárs. This circumstance gives rise to conflicting interests and consequent disputes, and the Táluka gives constant trouble to the District Officer. The most important estate is that of Jenkhán, which is in the charge of Ázam Kálidás Ravidat, a Thánadár, whose services have been lent to it. The District Officer reports that it has been managed with tact, there being many complications owing to the Girás being joint and owing to the Bái's obstructiveness at the commencement of the year which has now happily to a very great extent ceased.

Complaints against the late Kamdar.

82. Continual complaints having been made by one of the widows of a shareholder of theft and criminal misappropriation by the late Kámdár, the Zapti Auditor was ordered to make searching enquiries. This resulted in an application for criminal proceedings being instituted regarding a sum of Rupees 25,000 which was discovered in his house, and the case is under trial at present.

SORATH PRÁNT.

PORBANDAR—1ST CLASS.

Area 636·5 square miles; Population 85,785; Revenue Rs. 5,50,000; Tribute Rs. 48,504.

Personnel.

83. The late Mr. S. P. Pandit was in charge of the State from 1st April to 16th October. From 17th October to 2nd November Major M. T. Lyde was in temporary charge, and from 3rd November until the close of the year the office of Administrator was held by Mr. W. T. Morison.

84. Mr. Morison writes:—

General view of the year's work.

"The year has been on the whole an uneventful one, the time having been chiefly spent in pushing on reforms already initiated and in working for the general improvement of the administration. It is necessary to exercise a careful personal supervision over the subordinate executive establishment, whose members cannot be expected to have yet forgotten the traditions of service in Native States, and thus much work has to be done by the Administrator, which in a British District falls to the lot of an Assistant or Deputy Collector. The special features of the year may be said to have been the satisfactory condition of the general revenues of the State in spite of a poor season, the commencement of enquiries for the purpose of commuting the Chula Vero levied from the Mhers into an assessment on their lands, and the advance made towards completing the revenue survey and register of alienations.

Public Works cases.

85. Of the 4 suits brought by public works contractors against the State for a total sum of Rupees 83,556, one for Rupees 12,275 is reported to have been amicably arranged, the State paying the plaintiff Rupees 1,500 in full satisfaction of their claim. The hearing of the remaining 3 cases has been completed and judgment in 2 of them has, since the close of the year, been pronounced in favour of the State.

Revenue Survey completed.

86. The revenue survey is practically completed, and Mr. Morison is considering the question of the future revenue system of the State. The different cash Veros which used to be levied from cultivators throughout the State have now been commuted into a cash assessment, called acre Vero, on the land.

Land alienations.

87. Much attention was paid during the year to enquiries into land alienations in Darbári villages. The claims have been generally dealt with on the lines of the Summary Settlement Act. In the majority of cases no grant deed is produced, but enjoyment from time immemorial is proved. In other cases a deed is produced which covers only a portion of the land claimed, but enjoyment of the remainder is proved. The settlement has, as a rule, been effected by confirming all the land claimed, subject to the payment of a moderate Salámi Vero per acre to the State.

Appointment of a Special Officer to settle the Mhers' disputes.

88. The work of commuting the Chula Vero and other cesses collected by the Darbár from the Mhers into an assessment on their lands was commenced during the year, a Special Officer, Ráo Bahádur Pránjivan Vishwanáth, having been appointed with the approval of Government for the purpose of making the necessary enquiries. The work has been carried on vigorously since December, but difficulties which were not foreseen at the outset have appeared and the settlement will take longer than was at first expected. The attitude of the Mhers towards the Darbár has been satisfactory on the whole but a few of the leaders still refuse to acknowledge loyally their dependence to the Darbár and spend their time in making frivolous complaints to the Rájasthánik Court about alleged encroachments by the Darbár on their rights.

Settlement of old customs accounts.

89. The settlement of old customs accounts continues to receive attention, and it is proposed to bring the work to an absolute close during the current year, as the prolonged uncertainty as to what they shall ultimately have to pay to the State must have an unsettling effect on the traders and others concerned.

90. The projects for a jetty and breakwater at Porbandar and for a three mile siding from Áditydna quarries to the Railway Station at Ránáváo are still under the consideration of Government. Projects have also been prepared for irrigation works at Mádhávpur and Miáni.

Project for a jetty and breakwater and railway siding from Áditydna quarries.

91. Mr. Morison reports that His Highness the Rána has continued his friendly attitude towards the Administrator throughout the year. The conduct of Kumár Bhávsingji, the heir-apparent, has had to be brought to the notice of Government more than once during the year, but during the last 2 months since the appointment of Mr. Bhavánidás Govindji as his companion, there has been a marked improvement both in his behaviour and in his state of health. Kumár Vajesingji attended the Rajkumár College and is well reported on by the College authorities, but his health unfortunately continues poor.

Friendly attitude of the Rána.

MÁNÁVADAR—3RD CLASS.

Area 90 square miles; Population 16,006; Revenue Rs. 2,50,000; Tribute Rs. 14,821.

92. This State is owned by two Chiefs, both being minors; the elder about 9 years old is reported to be a good looking steady and intelligent boy and has now joined the Rájkumár College. The District Officer visited Mánávadar in the cold weather was much pleased with all he saw and reports that the Manager Mr. Prabháshankar takes interest in his work and is hard working.

Mánávadar: The young Chiefs.

93. The financial condition is satisfactory. The invested balance amounts to Rupees 3,50,200. The revenue for the year was Rupees 2,50,000 and the expenditure Rupees 1,45,185.

Revenue and finance.

VADIA—5TH CLASS.

Area 72 square miles; Population 10,353; Revenue Rs. 1,71,623; Tribute Rs. 3,898.

94. The young Chief Wála Báwa Jivna has now left the Rájkumár College and has made a tour through India under the care of Ráo Bahádur Chamanrái Harrái, Deputy Assistant Political Agent, in company with the young Chief of Kotdá-Sángáni. Since the close of the year he has returned from the travels and been associated with the Manager in the administration of the State preparatory to being invested with full powers.

Vadia: Tour of the young Chief and his return; association with the Manager in the management of the estate.

95. The services of Ráo Bahádur Pránjivan Vishwanáth have been lent to the Porbandar State for special duty in connection with the settlement of Mhers lands mortgaged to the Darbár and commutation of cesses levied from them. Mr. Máneklál Gokaldás, a Mámlatdár in British Districts and late Manager of Ádhoi, was appointed to succeed him and is reported to be doing well.

Change of Manager.

96. The revenue for the year is returned at Rupees 1,71,623 and expenditure Rupees 1,16,790. The closing balance was Rupees 1,71,949.

Revenue.

BILKHA—5TH CLASS.

Area 44·5 square miles; Population 4,886; Revenue Rs. 95,144.
Tribute Rs. 2,976-12-4.

97. This estate is owned by two Káthi shareholders, both being minors, aged 14 and 6 years. The elder Bhima Wála is studying in the Rájkumár College. On the transfer of Ráo Bahádur Pránjivan Vishwanáth to Porbandar, Mr. Dosábhái Nasarvánji, Chief Inspector of Railway Police, was appointed Manager and took charge on the 22nd December 1893.

Bilkha.: Minor Chiefs.

98. The total revenue for the year amounted to Rupees 95,114 and the expenditure Rupees 35,237. The new Manager discovered a sum of Rupees 3,415 secreted in one of the boxes of the late Chief, which was then brought to account and credited in the treasury.

Revenue.

HÁLÁR PRÁNT.

VÁNKÁNER—2ND CLASS.

Area 414·5 square miles; Population 39,329; Revenue Rs. 2,46,420;
Tribute Rs. 18,879.

99. This State was transferred from the Jhálávád to the Hálár Pránt at the commencement of the official year. Ráo Bahádur Ganpatráo Náráyan Láud continued as Manager of the State throughout the year and the improvements he is making are of a practical nature, and reflect credit on his management. Unfortunately the Bái Sáheb is surrounded by mean and interested persons, who do nothing but give her bad advice and strive to hamper and annoy the administration by scurrilous attacks on Mr. Láud and his subordinate officials from time to time.

Vánkáner: Transfer of the Political charge. The Manager and his administration.

100. The young Ráj Sáheb is now fifteen years old and continues his studies in the Rájkumár College where he is reported to make fair progress. His vacations are passed with the Bái Sáheb and there are grounds for fear that owing to his pliable disposition, the pernicious influences of the Bái Sáheb's establishment at Vánkáner may mar his future prospects. The ceremony of his betrothal with a daughter of the Chief of Sháhpura was satisfactorily performed during the year.

The young Ráj Sáheb, his studies and his betrothal.

101. The revenue for the year was Rupees 2,86,420 against Rupees 2,52,591 last year, showing an increase of Rupees 33,828. The total expenditure under all heads amounted to Rupees 2,79,297. The amount of balance invested in Government securities now comes to Rupees 3,09,800 and the financial condition of the State is sound and satisfactory, notwithstanding heavy expenditure on public works.

Revenue and expenditure.

Old outstandings.

102. The question of the large amount of the old outstandings and advances of the State is now under careful investigation and every endeavour is being made to effect recoveries, but some portion of them are unrecoverable and will have to be struck off.

Revenue survey.

103. It is a matter for regret that the revenue survey of the village lands which was brought to conclusion in December 1892 at a cost of Rupees 25,263 under the supervision of a pensioned Native Survey Officer has been found by Major Fenton to be incorrect and unreliable and thus useless for the introduction of any new form of assessment or the correction of the existing Vero assessment. It has therefore been necessary to order a revision survey under the supervision of Major Fenton. The estimated cost of this revision survey will be Rupees 15,021 and will be borne by the State alone.

Purchase of alienated land.

104. The Manager has continued the practice of profitably investing a certain sum every year in the purchase of Inámi or Bárkhali land. During the year under report 288$\frac{3}{4}$ Bighás of such land were bought at a cost of Rupees 5,659, thus bringing the total of such acquisition to 1,573 Bighás at a cost of Rupees 20,265. No pressure is put on the Inámdár to sell, while the measure is calculated to develope the resources of the State in a substantial manner.

Rájkot—2nd Class.

Area 282·14 square miles; Population 49,938; Revenue Rs. 3,10,017; Tribute Rs. 21,321.

Rájkot: Satisfactory administration of the Manager.

105. Mr. Motichand Tulsi continues as Manager and the administration seems appreciated by the people.

The young Chief Lákháji under the care of his maternal uncle at Dharampur.

106. The young Thákor Sáheb is in his ninth year. He was to have entered the Rájkumár College last November, but owing to his being somewhat delicate, Government have allowed him to stay one year longer with his uncle Rána Baldevji at Dharampur. Kumár Merubha of Sáela has been appointed his tutor. The Thákor's sister has also been residing at Dharampur but her return to Rájkot to live in her own home has been arranged.

His step-brother Kumár Karansingji.

107. Kumár Karansingji, the step-brother of the minor Chief and his sister are both being educated in Rájkot. They are 7 and 12 years of age respectively. The long standing question about Girás assignment to Kumár Ladhubha was finally decided by Government during the year, but the Kumár has not yet taken possession of the Girás.

Revenue and expenditure.

108. The revenue of the year was Rupees 3,10,017 as against Rupees 2,85,660 in the previous year. The increase was due partly to the reversion to the State of the village enjoyed by the deceased grandmother of the late Thákor Sáheb and partly to the good season. The expenditure was Rupees 2,10,062 + Rupees 1,08,950 on account of the share in the cost of the Rájkot-Jetalsar Railway. An irrigation scheme comprising water supply to the Rájkot city connected with the Lálpuri stream near Rájkot is at present under the consideration of Government.

109. An important change in the Judicial Department was the separation of the civil and criminal work hitherto performed by the Sar Nyáyádhish. A new appointment of Faujdári Nyáyádhish with powers of a First Class Magistrate has been created. This Officer has also been invested with the powers of a Small Cause Court Judge.

Change in the Judicial administration.

110. The police has been put under the supervision of Mr. G. N. R. Lambert with effect from the 1st April 1893, and the public works are under the superintendence of the Agency Engineer, Mr. Booth. Rupees 37,589 in all have been spent by the State in public works, apart from the contribution to the Railway.

Police and Public Works under European supervision.

111. The invested balance of the State remained at Rupees 1,50,000 in spite of the heavy capital expenditure on productive and unproductive public works. The condition of the State seems an entirely satisfactory one, free from trouble of any kind and reflects great credit on the Manager's performance of his duties.

Invested balance.

Kotdá-Sángáni.—4th Class.

Area 74·4 square miles; Population 10,221; Revenue Rs. 1,16,572; Tribute Rs. 11,616.

112. The minor Chief Kumár Mulwáji having completed his education at the Rájkumár College proceeded last December on a tour through India with Kumár Báwa Wála of Wadia under the care of Ráo Bahádur Chamanrái Harrái Deputy Assistant Political Agent. He returned in May and will be for a time associated with the Manager Ázam Umiáshankar Jivanrám to gain the necessary insight into the conduct of State affairs, before being entrusted with his full powers.

Kotdá-Sángáni: Young Chief's tour, his return and association with the Manager in the Administration of the State.

113. The revenue for the year amounted to Rupees 1,16,572 as against Rupees 1,12,712 in the previous year. The expenditure was Rupees 86,563 and Rupees 22,125 were paid towards the liquidation of the debt contracted with the Morvi State for the purpose of the redemption of Ardoi village from Gondal. The balance of the debt to Morvi now stands at Rupees 31,696, and it is calculated that this will be paid off by the 1st April 1896. The importance of economy in every branch of the administration has been impressed on the Kárbhári, as on recently visiting Kotdá-Sángáni it appeared to the Pránt Officer that certain items of expenditure were somewhat beyond the State's requirements. The police of this State has also been placed in charge of Mr. G. N. R. Lambert.

Revenue and expenditure and liquidation of the debt.

Mengni.—5th Class.

Area 34·5 square miles; Population 4,415; Revenue Rs. 33,000; Tribute Rs. 3,412.

114. This Táluka has now been under management since 1884 on account of indebtedness and mismanagement. The revenue amounted to Rupees 36,246 as against Rupees 33,838 the year before. The expenditure was Rupees 34,553, that of the previous year being Rupees 31,910. Rupees 10,000 were paid in liquidation of the debt.

Mengni: Revenue and expenditure; also liquidation of the debt.

115. The Tálukdár and his sons remain on bad terms with each other. The Tálukdár has objected to the assignment of Girás to his three sons during management and this view has been accepted by the Agency as being likely to impede progress and the general improvement of the State.

The Tálukdár and his sons at variance.

MÁLIA.

116. Captain O'Donnell was in charge of this Táluka throughout the year, and his management of it is marked with commendable tact and industry. He was successful in discovering and arresting the perpetrators of an attack on the Dhrángadhra village of Dhanála which occurred on the 30th April 1893. This has had a marked effect on the Miána inhabitants of the Táluka, and will, it is hoped, restrain their predatory proclivities. The accused were brought to trial in the Dhrangadhra Courts with the result that 2 of them were sentenced to death and the remainder to transportation for life. The Ráj Sáheb subsequently exercised his prerogatory of mercy and commuted the death sentences into those of transportation for life.

Personnel.

117. Captain O'Donnell was also able to capture Avalsha and Mod Gadvi during the year. These men had been Huzuris of the Thákor and being well acquainted with the secret history of the Táluka of late years were repositories of very valuable information.

Capture of Avalsha and Mod Gadhvi.

118. With the help of the Thákor Sáheb of Morvi the State has been given the benefit of a Tramway to Mália from Chánchávadar. This has proved to be a great convenience to the public and has assisted to develope the trade of the town. It has brought that obscure and troublesome part of the Province into touch with the Railway system and will, I trust, prove to be a potent factor in assuring the peace of the country.

Tramway to Mália.

119. Two new villages have been established and at the request of the traders of Mália, they have been given the privilege of purchasing the sites of their houses and shops, over which the occupiers had hitherto no real proprietory rights—a boon which is much appreciated by the people.

Two new villages established.

120. The Committee which was appointed to investigate the debts of the Mália State completed their work on the 5th August 1893. Cláims of the value of Rupees 3,52,693 were made, of which the Committee considered those of the aggregate value of Rupees 1,10,184 as admissible, but several appeals have been submitted against the Committee's awards and the result may affect the liquidation scheme which has been sent on to Government on the basis of the Committee's decisions.

Appointment of a Committee to investigate the debts.

121. Since the submission of the scheme Government have been pleased to direct that the loan made to Mália by the Cutch Darbár shall be considered a valid one, and this has increased the ascertained debts by that amount. Cutch claims Rupees 81,510

Cutch loan to Mália.

and Government have held that this debt should be considered as against the village of Katária and not on the Mália Táluka.

Particulars regarding Mália.

122. Further particulars regarding Mália are given in Captain O'Donnell's report which forms an appendix to this report.

GOHILVÁD PRÁNT.

LÁTHI 4TH CLASS.

Area 41·8 square miles; Population 8,282; Revenue Rs. 91,000; Tribute Rs. 2,007.

Láthi.
The Chief associated with the Manager.

123. The young Chief has now been associated with the Manager in the administration of the State, preparatory to his being invested with full powers on the 1st January 1895. The Chief's younger brother is still studying in the Rájkumár College.

Revenue and expenditure.

124. The season was a favourable one and the revenue in consequence increased. The gross receipts amounted to Rupees 1,56,783 as against Rupees 1,17,426 in the previous year, and the expenditure to Rupees 1,23,296 against Rupees 91,249 in the previous year. Rupees 5,167 were spent in public works and Rupees 4,000 in sinking and building wells.

CHAPTER III—Protection.

COURSE OF LEGISLATION.

New Regulations sanctioned and brought into force.

125. The following regulations were sanctioned by Government and brought into force during the year:—

1. Revised rules regarding the levy of Court fees in the Káthiáwár Political Agency.

2. Rules prescribing the conditions for the grant of Sanads to Vakils and Translators in the Agency.

Rules under consideration of Government.

126. Revision of rules relating to extradition of criminals and the possession, manufacture, &c., of arms and ammunition is still under the consideration of Government.

Police.

127. The strength and distribution of the Police of the various States and the Agency (including the reserve head-quarters but exclusive of the Railway and village police) is given below:—

Strength and distribution of Police.

Divisions.	Total strength of Police.	Area in square miles.	Population.	Proportion of force to
				Area	Population
				1 to	1 to
Jhálávád	1,214	4,392·606	4,68,235	3·618	386
Sorath	1,690	5,217·16	7,85,032	3·09	464
Hálár	2,368	7,061·74	8,22,697	2·89	347
Gohilvád	2,619	4,208·4	6,76,440	1·6	258
Reserve at Rájkot	261	...	.....	.....	.....
Total.....	8,152	20,879·906	27,52,404	2·561	338

128. These figures when compared with those of the previous year show a slight decrease in Jhálávád. This is partly due to the State of Vánkáner having been transferred from the Jhálávád to the Hálár Pránt and also to reduction in the number of Police in Lakhtar Táluka for which no reason is assigned.

Comparison with previous year.

129. The following table shows the working of the State Police during the year 1893-94:—

Working of the State Police.

States and Tálukás.	No. of accused arrested.	No. of accused convicted.	Percentage of convicted to accused arrested.	Amount of property stolen.	Amount of property recovered.	Percentage recovered.
Jhálávád	1,062	589	55·46	20,952 14 3	11,585 7 11	55·20
Sorath	2,727	1,573	57·68	55,060 11 ½	24,255 10 10½	44·05
Hálár	3,326	1,881	56·55	85,249 10 3	42,891 1 4	50·31
Gohilvád	1,272	736	57·86	16,606 13 11	8,683 6 7½	52·28
Total.....	8,387	4,779	56·98	1,77,870 1 5½	87,415 10 9	49·15

130. As compared with the previous year there is an increase both in the percentage of convictions and recovery of stolen property in Jhálávád, Sorath and Hálár, while there is a decrease of both in Gohilvád. Bhávnagar is responsible for a large proportion of this decrease, and the attention of the State will be drawn to it with a view to greater vigilance being enjoined on the police in future.

Comparison with previous year.

Working of the Agency Police.

131. Turning to the Agency Police the results are as follows :—

Number of accused arrested	881
,, convicted	404
Percentage of convicted to accused arrested	45·88
Value of property stolen	46,430
,, ,, recovered	32,847
Percentage of recovery	70·74

Last year the percentage of persons convicted to those arrested was 53·86 and that of recovery was 50·01 including the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway. As to the former there is a falling off whilst the latter has gone up which the Superintendent reports is due to the great success of the Police in the case of Umar Khánji of Dasádá's property. In this case 24,209 Rupees worth of property was recovered out of 30,000 Rupees worth which had been made away with.

Cognizable crime.

132. 606 offences were reported to the Police as compared with 523 of the previous year. As to this Mr. Mackay observes "Cognizable crime as far as the Thána Circles were concerned increased from 397 to 486, the decrease last year I attributed to the presence of dacoits. During the year under report the Thána Circles were practically free from dacoits and crimes appear to have returned to its normal condition." This explanation does not appear to be altogether explicit or satisfactory unless it means that less crime was discovered in the previous year.

Non-cognizable crime.

133. Non-cognizable cases have also increased from 396 in the previous year to 475 in the year under report.

Statistics of both classes of crime.

134. The following statement shows details of both classes of crime in each of the Pránts :—

Agency Courts.

Regular, special and temporary Courts of the Agency.

142. The Courts under the Agency may be classed under three groups, viz., regular, special and temporary.

Regular.

1. Political Agent's Court (including that of the Judicial Assistant).
4. Assistant Political Agents' Courts.
4. Deputy Assistants do.
1. Railway Magistrate.
15. Thánadárs.
1. Deputy Thánadár.

Special.

1. Bántwa Nyáyádhish.
1. Jhinjhuwáda Kámdár.
1. Dedán Thánadár.

Temporary.

Courts of States under management.

These last vary according as States come under or are released from management either on account of indebtedness, minority or any other political reason.

Work performed by the regular Agency Courts.

143. The following abridged return will show at a glance the work both original and appellate, performed by the regular Agency Courts :—

144. The total number of cases disposed of was 49,157 against 48,118 which cannot but be considered satisfactory. The unusually large number of political cases disposed of in the Sorath Pránt related to claims against encumbered estates.

Increase in the number of cases disposed of.

145. Subjoined is a return required by Government of civil, political and criminal cases disposed of by the Agency Courts during the past 10 years:—

Civil cases filed and the estimated value as compared with the previous year.

146. The number of civil suits filed during the year amounted to 3,224 of the estimated value of Rupees 9,48,323 against 3,452 of the estimated value of Rupees 7,00,845.

Number of Sessions cases.

147. The number of Sessions cases tried during the year by the Chief Court of criminal justice was 29 against 31 in the previous year. Of these there were 11 of murder, 6 culpable homicide, 1 dacoity, 3 theft, and 8 others.

148. The following statement shows the number of cases committed by the different Courts and States and disposed of in the year 1893-94 as compared with the year 1892-93 :—

Criminal, civil and miscellaneous civil and political appeals disposed of.

149. Besides the 29 Sessions cases, the Judicial Assistant disposed of 55 criminal and 193 civil appeals, 20 miscellaneous civil and 47 political appeals.

Criminal and civil revision work.

150. The result of the criminal revision work during the year shows that in 19 cases the proceedings of the Lower Courts were sent for, in 12 cases the convictions or orders were reversed. In civil revision, proceedings in 22 cases were sent for, out of which in 11 cases the orders were reversed and in 11 confirmed.

Inspection of records of subordinate Courts.

151. The Judicial Assistant this year inspected the records of 24 Courts, while the Political Agent himself in his tours had the accounts and judicial records of several Thánás and managed estates inspected by his personal staff.

Applications for the execution of decrees.

152. The number of applications filed for execution of decrees was 4,291 against 2,991, of which 3,366 were disposed of. The number remaining undisposed of at the end of the year was 1,061 against 1,135 in the previous year.

Registration of documents.

153. The following statement shows that 379 documents aggregating in value Rupees 5,06,523 were registered during the year as against 456 aggregating Rupees 5,02,568 last year. The total fees realized were Rupees 3,805 against Rupees 3,054 in the previous year :—

Courts of Jurisdictional States.

154. A comparative table giving the number and value of civil cases (original and appeal) decided in all the jurisdictional States of Káthiáwár in this and last year, is given below :—

Civil cases decided by the States.

Total.....	35,492	34,45,626	13	11	31,369	33,25,827	4	7½

The number of outstanding cases has fallen from 9,819 of last year to 5,367 of this year. The main reason for this is a considerable falling off of original civil suits in Porbandar, i.e., from 6,101 in 1892-93 to 908 this year. As to this the Administrator reports "the large increase in that year was fully explained in last year's Administration Report. The number for the year under report may be considered as normal". Though the number of outstanding cases has decreased on the whole, it is a matter for regret that while most of the States have endeavoured to reduce their arrears, Junágad, Dhrángadhra, Limbdi and Wadhwán have allowed them to increase.

155. The following is a return showing the statistics of criminal trials held by the State Courts of Class I to VII including those under management:—

Criminal trials held by the State Courts.

Class.	No. of offences.	No. of cases.	No. of persons convicted.	No. of persons discharged.	Total No. of persons tried.
1st Class	11,060	8,746	5,529	10,311	15,840

These show an increase over last year under all heads except a decrease in the number of persons convicted.

Rájasthánik Court.

Personnel.

157. Colonel Hancock was in charge of the Court up to the 5th January last when he was relieved by Colonel Hunter. From the 31st July last Colonel Hancock acted as Political Agent, Káthiáwár, in addition to his own duties as President of the Rájasthánik Court.

Work done by the Court.

158. 112 regular cases were disposed of and 6,778 miscellaneous orders were passed against 206 cases and 8,066 orders last year. The decrease in the work of the Court is due to the President of the Court having been in charge of the Political Agency in addition to his own duties and the withdrawal of the dissenting States.

The work of the Court during the year is thus summarized :—

Suits entertained	79
Cases heard and disposed of...	212
Balance on file.....	561

Appeals to Government.

159. 58 appeals against the decisions of the Court have been submitted to Government during the past year; of these 26 were from Darbárs and 32 from Girásiás. Government saw no ground to interfere except in five cases, in which a rehearing was ordered on several points.

Extension of the term of the Court.

160. As the period of the duration of the Court was to expire on the 31st December 1893 the States were as usual asked to extend its existence for a further period of 2 years. 24 of the States voted for the continuance of the Court for 2 years or for such shorter period as the accumulated funds of the Court should suffice to meet the expenses.

The six dissenting States :—
1 Junágad. 2 Morvi.
3 Gondal. 4 Limbdi.
5 Wadhwán. 6 Lakhtar.

161. The six States named in the margin voted against the proposal and claimed a portion of the accumulated fund. This claim was strongly opposed by the assenting States and Government have decided that the dissenting States have no claim to the money which under the rules of the Court should be applied to the maintenance of the Court.

Alternative proposals.

162. The dissenting States submitted almost identical alternative proposals for the disposal of the outstanding Girás cases in their territories but these have not been considered satisfactory and the matter is under reference to higher authority. In the meantime the jurisdiction of the Court in the dissenting States is held in abeyance but it has been held by Government that the jurisdiction of the Agency revives in these cases and complaints are therefore now entertained and enquired into by the Agency.

The completion of Surveys under the Superintendent of Agency Surveys.

163. The completion of the Girás Surveys in these States and the execution of the Court's awards have been ordered by Government to be continued by the Superintendent of the Agency Surveys subject to the orders of the Political Agent.

Prisons.

Prisons.

164. The total number of prisons in the Province is 149 against 150 last year.

1	Agency Jail, Rajkot.
3	Civil Station lock-ups.
17	Thána lock-ups.
128	Jails and lock-ups in States and Tálukás.
149

165. The total expenditure on account of prisoners amounted to Rupees 1,22,299 as against Rupees 1,25,275. The daily average of prisoners was 1,382·2,732 and the average charge per prisoner Rupees 88·4 per annum.

Expenditure on account of Jails.

166. The new Agency Jail building is approaching completion and the prisoners will be shortly transferred there from the old Jail buiding.

New Jail building.

CHAPTER IV.—Production and Distribution.

167. The rainfall was rather heavy at the commencement of the monsoon; there was then a long break but the quantity was indifferent and less than the average of the previous year. It was moreover unseasonable and irregular and in some districts cotton was much damaged along with the grain crops. The late rain in November damaged the Ágtar crops although it did some good to the wheat and gram crops. On the whole the out-turn was about 8 to 12 annas to the rupee.

Rainfall.

168. The staple crops are Juvári, Bájri, wheat, gram, pulse, cotton, oil-seeds and sugar-cane. Junágad and Gondal continue to take interest in agricultural experiments.

Staple crops.

169. In Junágad the experiments with the Egyptian and Ferozábád cotton proved a failure. Vadhiáro and Kadáya cotton was also sown but owing to the late rains the crop was not as satisfactory as it might have been. In Gondal the experiments on the brown cotton were also reported to have failed.

Exotic cotton.

Agricultural experiments.

170. Experiments with country wheat and "Bansi" wheat were successful.

The Egyptian date palms grown from seeds, received from the Director of Agriculture, Bombay in 1891 for experiment are doing well. Experiments were made in Morvi in sowing potatoes but the result is not yet reported.

171. The botanical and other gardens at Gondal continue in a flourishing condition. The other States which maintain gardens of any importance are Junágad, Bhávnagar, Porbandar, Dhrángadhra and Morvi. The Hálár Pránt Officer reports that Kotdá-Sángáni has a garden which it is hoped will in a few years' time develope into a small but attractive place of public resort. Horticulture in the Vánkáner State takes a practical form only in the shape of cocoa-nut and fruit tree plantations from which the State Kárbhári Ráo Bahádur Ganpatráo Náráyan Láud anticipates a considerable profit. The cocoa-nut trees certainly appear to be in a very flourishing condition. Junágad, Bhávnagar and Porbandar possess and maintain plantations of these on an extensive scale for productive purposes.

Gardens.

172. There is nothing new to record of the forests in the Province. Some of the more intelligent States have endeavoured to increase the number of trees by plantation. The forest-department in the Navánagar and Porbandar States are managed by trained officers and good results have been reported already in the extra size of the timber in the Barda Hills.

Forests.

173. Káthiáwár cannot boast of any great factories. There is a spinning and weaving mill at Bhavnagar worked by steam power. Another is recently established at Morvi. A ginning factory and country cotton press were opened at Jám Jodhpur under Jámnagar. Another cotton press was also set up at Lálpur. Four new ginning factories have been opened at Botád, Kundla, Jesar and Dhola. In Gondal a new ginning factory was opened and in Rájkot the first ginning factory was established last year.

Manufactures.

174. A Horse-Show was held at Rájkot in November on the occasion of the visit of H. E. the Governor but did not satisfy expectations. An agricultural and cattle show was held at Wadhwán in February and a third at Bhávnagar in March. These shows were numerously attended and the quality of animals shown was on the whole commendable, the brood mares being a good class, while some of the young stock was good. At Wadhwán, Captain Ashby reports that a number of horses found purchasers. The States of Junágad, Bhávnagar, Dhrángadhra, Gondal, Vánkáner, Pálitána, Limbdi and Jasdan continue to maintain horse-breeding establishments but not on any large scale nor on commercial principles.

Horse-breeding.

175. The following tables contain statistics of the sea-borne trade of the province excluding Baroda ports. They show an increase both in imports and exports :—

Railways.

176. Four distinct Railway lines belonging to several proprietors traverse different parts of the Province having 3 different gauges.

Railways.

Total length.....			506 miles.

Application was made to Government by His Highness the Jám Sáheb of Navánagar to sanction the project of a Railway from Rájkot to his capital town as well as the raising of the necessary loan for the purpose. Provisional sanction of the Government of India to this was received in November and His Excellency the Governor on his visit to Navánagar performed the ceremony of cutting the first sod in a public Darbár. Arrangements were then made for the requisite detailed surveys by Mr. Davies under the orders of the Manager and Engineer-in-Chief of the B.-G.-J.-P- Railway which have now been completed and the plans and estimates are in course of preparation and will be submitted to Government as soon as ready for approval and sanction. It has been recommended that a branch line from Jámnagar to the port of Saláya, 33 miles should be built instead of a branch to Jodia as originally intended. Government has therefore been addressed with a view to obtaining sanction of the Government of India to the change.

177. The gross earnings of the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway amounted to Rupees 20,29,929 against Rupees 15,78,179 in the previous year and the expenditure was Rupees 11,41,221 against Rupees 11,40,302. The mileage results of earnings come to Rupees 117 gross or Rupees 26·64 net per mile against 90·94 and 25·23 respectively in the previous year. The dividend to the proprietory States was as follows :—

B.-G.-J.-P. Railway.

Bhávnagar..... Rupees 5,76,215.....8·17.

Junágad..... Rupees 38,786.....1·07.

Gondal-Porbandar..... Rupees 2,74,185 .....4·17.

The Manager observes that the Railway as a joint system showed considerably better results than it ever before attained in its history, having in spite of a bad monsoon and serious breaks earned a net profit of 5·16 per cent. on capital cost.

178. The J.-R. Railway was opened for traffic on the 12th April 1893. The earnings from this date to 31st December 1893 amounted to Rupees 1,01,392. The working of this line has been entrusted to the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway under a contract, the terms of which are :—

That the B.-G.-J.-P. Railway Proprietors should receive 45 per cent. of the gross earnings of the Jetalsar-Rájkot Railway for working expenses including Telegraph charges and hire of rolling stock and further a monthly payment from the date of opening of Rupees 200 per mensem for the Engineering supervision of the line : all actual outlay incurred in maintaining the Railway (repairs, renewals &c.) to be charged to J.-R. and the syndicate to be exclusively and directly responsible for all jurisdictional charges.

This line is also developing traffic slowly but steadily and with the completion of the bridge across the Aji River at Rájkot and consequent junction with the Morvi Railway a further development is expected.

Morvi Railway.

179. The gross earnings of the Morvi Railway amounted to Rupees 3,22,818 against Rupees 3,09,171 and the expenditure to Rupees 1,77,085 against Rupees 1,78,801 in the previous year, giving Rupees 66·04 gross or 29·8 net earnings per mile per week. The dividend comes to Rupees 6·76 per cent. on capital cost against 6·27 in the previous year.

Railway Volunteers.

180. The enrolled strength of the Railway Volunteers company was 66 against 52 in the previous year, of whom 60 have qualified as efficients, only 6 being non-efficient. The average attendance at drill was fair and the capitation grant earned averaged Rupees 19·77 per man against 25·56 last year.

Accidents.

181. There were no serious accidents on the Railway. There was only one case of fatal accident and 4 of slight injury, 2 of partial collisions, 1 of train running through level crossing gate, 21 of derailment and 26 cases of cattle run over or knocked off the line. There were 5 cases of fire. The rainfall during the year on the whole of Jetalsar-Verával and Porbandar sections was extremely heavy as much as 27 inches having been registered at Junágad within 30 hours. Serious damage was done to the Railway by the overflooding of the Ojat. The Kálva bridge 4 spans of 40 feet was washed away. The Ojat north approach bridge, the Ojat Main Bridge and the Ojat south approach bridge, all seriously suffered and were for the most part washed away. On the Porbandar section the bridge over the Utávli river was carried away and a mile of road severely injured. All the rivers between Jetalsar and Kunkáváv were in full floods but no damage was done except slight scouring out of the bank behind both abutments of the Surva river.

The Morvi line was free from serious accidents with one exception in which the engine and tender and one wagon and 2 carriages were derailed between Sindhávadar and Vánkáner. The damage done to Rolling stock and permanent way was slight and there was no personal injury.

Amreli Railway.

182. An extension or rather a branch Railway from Khijadia, a place on the B.-G.-J.-P. line, to Chalála a distance of some 35 miles via Amreli and on to Dhári is also in contemplation by the Baroda Darbár with the object of opening up His Highness the Gáekwár's Káthiáwár Maháls.

Public Works.

183. The total amount spent by the Native States upon Public Works during the last year amounted in round numbers to Rs. 24,32,968 against Rs. 22,76,999 in the previous year.

Public Works undertaken by States.

The figures of the First and Second Class States are given below:—

Junágad	2,50,821
Navánagar	1,81,836
Bhávnagar	8,89,430
Porbandar	80,296
Dhrángadhra	1,06,544

Wadhwán.....	87,700
Jáfarábád.....	2,832
Total Rs.....	22,14,071

184. The total amount spent during the year through the Agency Engineer on Public Works was Rupees 1,85,285 against Rupees 2,15,221 in the previous year.

Works executed through the Agency Engineer.

185. The magnificent building at Rájkot called the Memorial Institute designed and completed by Mr. Booth was formally opened by His Excellency the Governor Lord Harris in November with great eclat in presence of all the Chiefs and Officers of the Province. A short description of the building was given in para 178 of the last year's report. The total cost of the building including the grounds &c., has amounted to Rupees 1,63,500.

The opening of the Memorial Institute.

Telegraph offices.

186. No new Telegraph office was opened during the year. The proposal of establishing telegraphic communication between several places on the sea coast of Káthiáwár as well as in the interior viz.—

(1) Mahuva to Una.

(2) Junágad to Kutiána.

(3) Wadhwán to Dhrángadhra.

(4) Chital to Dhári.

(5) Rájkot to Mália.

has been approved by Government and the work will be commenced as soon as the monsoon is over.

Post Offices.

187. There has been an increase of 3 Post Offices, 12 village postmen and 69 letter-boxes while 3 post offices were closed and 1 village postman and 22 letter-boxes were reduced. No mail robberies were reported.

CHAPTER V.

Tribute collections.

188. The following statement shows the demands, collections and outstanding balances of the tribute due to the British and Gáekwár Governments and Junágad State for the year under report :—

From the bove it will be seen that the total demand was Rupees 11,26,733-8-4 being Rupees 10,78,684-0-0 for the year of report, and Rupees 48,014-4-3 on account of former years. The realization amounted to Rupees 10,69,371-2-2 leaving Rupees 57,362-6-2 as outstanding balance at the close of the year. Of this Rupees 52,246-9-0 have since been recovered lea v- ing a balance of Rupees 5,115-13-2 to be collected.

Local Funds.

190. The account of the Consolidated Fund which forms an appendix to the report shows receipts of Rupees 1,02,464 and expenditure of Rupees 1,36,500 during the year as compared with Rupees 99,022 and Rupees 1,21,061 respectively for the previous year. The increase in the receipts is very slight.

Káthiáwár Consolidated Fund.

The increase in the expenditure is due to the construction of the Rájkot Jail and the payment to the Provincial Revenues for 13 months instead of 12 as usual on account of salary and allowances to the Local Fund Establishment.

191. The receipts from the Court Fee Stamp labels has amounted to Rupees 31,575 as compared with Rupees 26,000 (not Rupees 6,000 as erroneously stated) in the previous year.

Stamped labels.

192. The annual meeting of the Kárbháris was held at Rájkot on the 20th September 1892 when the budget for 1893-94 was discussed and passed. A copy of this budget was submitted to Government for information and an account of the receipts and charges for the official year 1893-94 is appended.

States General Contribution Fund.

Among other grants, the Committee made the following from that Fund:—

Establishment	14,100
Repairs to Roads	29,752
Vaccination	13,750
Dispensaries	1,000
Rájkumár College	3,416
Other Central Educational Institutions.	36,189
Memorial Institute Garden	7,000
Grants to Prant Funds	10,260
	1,15,467

CHAPTER VI.

Vital statistics and Medical Service.

193. The total number of Hospitals and Dispensaries in the province is 97 against 95 in the previous year, showing an increase of 2. Of the total number 23 have been placed under the supervision of the Agency Surgeon. They are as follows:—

Hospitals and Dispensaries.

2 Civil Station Dispensaries.
8 Thánás ,,
13 Dispensaries in States under management.

194. Excluding the West Hospital at Rajkot, to which special reference will be made below, the total number of patients treated was 6,21,743 against 6,03,169; the total cost was Rupees 2,25,478 against Rupees 2,07,001.

Patients treated.

195. There was no cholera or other epidemic, and the public health on the whole was good. The prevailing diseases were fever and skin diseases.

General health.

196. Surgeon Lieut.-Colonel F. C. Barker, M D., was in charge of the West Hospital throughout the year with the exception of a short period, from 14th to 31st December, when he was on leave. During his absence Surgeon Lieutenant W. Carr Sprague acted for him. 3,693 out-patients and 999 in-patients were treated during the year against 4,530 out-patients and 844 in-patients in the previous year. The decrease in the number of out-patients is attributable to the opening of the town Dispensary in Rájkot, while the number of in-patients is larger than that in any of the previous ten years at least. Assistant Surgeon F. S. Dávar, M.D., who had returned from sick leave in July 1893, was again obliged to take long sick leave in January 1894. His place was taken up by Assistant Surgeon Navroji Kávasji Kalliánwála. Doctor Barker continues to report highly of the work of Miss Goldney.

Vaccination.

197. As mentioned in the last year's report the States of Junágad, Návánagar and Bhávnagar have now separate organizations of their own in regard to vaccination, and the rest of the province is under the supervision of the Agency Surgeon in this matter. The total number of Vaccinators in Káthiáwár is now 53 against a previous total of 52. Out of these 25 are in the three States above mentioned and 28 are under the Agency Surgeon.

Vaccination.

198. The general result of vaccine operations shows that 86,444 primary vaccinations and 912 re-vaccinations were performed during the year, making a total of 87,356 against 86,024 in the previous year, giving an increase of 1,332. The total cost was Rupees 27,760 against Rupees 26,366 in the previous year.

Statistics.

199. Small-pox was reported in 34 villages against 46 villages in the previous year and immediate arrangements were made for its suppression by special vaccination.

Small-pox.

Lymph and inoculation.

200. Dr. Barker reports:—

"Having been apprehensive that lymph was degenerating in the province for some years back, I have instituted the complete renovation of it with new animal lymph through a series of operations on calves with tube lymph obtained from Bombay carried on in Rájkot and occupying a space of 13 weeks.

"In order to accomplish this some 4,000 tubes of calf lymph were furnished by me in Káthiáwár and Pálanpur. These were supplied from a succession of 54 heifers.

"One kid was successfully inoculated. From it some children were vaccinated, but the experiment was too limited for successful results though furnishing encouragement to further trials."

CHAPTER VII.—Education.

Educational Institutions.

201. The Educational Institutions in the Agency number 1,012 with 64,040 Scholars. They are as follows:—

1	Rájkumár College at Rájkot.
1	Tálukdári Girásia School at Wadhwán.
1	Sámaldás College at Bhávnagar.
6	High Schools.
2	Training Colleges.
26	Anglo-Vernacular Schools for boys.
1	Do. for girls.
878	Primary Schools for boys.
81	Do. for girls.
15	Aided Schools.
1,012

The total expenditure on public instruction was Rupees 5,53,226 against Rupees 5,56,729 in the previous year. This compares favourably with the Native States in the other parts of the Presidency.

Transfer of control of schools to States.

202. Reference was made in last year's report to the transfer of the control of schools to Native States. 8 States noted in the margin have taken over control of their schools on the conditions laid down but no other States have applied for similar control during the year. Objections were raised by some of these States to furnish annual statistics, but they were afterwards prevailed upon to supply the requisite information. Complaints were also received during the year from several school Masters of non-payment of salaries by the Darbár for some months. The new arrangements have however been in operation for only a year, and consequently no definite opinion can yet be formed as to the result of the change.

Rájkumár College.

Personnel.

203. Mr. C. W. Waddington was in charge of the College throughout the year. There were several changes in the subordinate staff of the College by which some of the subordinates obtained well deserved promotion.

Students.

204. The number of Kumárs on the rolls shows a slight increase, 6 having been withdrawn during the year while 8 have joined the College. The number at the end of the year was 41 as against 39 at the end of the previous year. Only one of the Kumárs who have joined this year comes from Dharampur, i.e., from beyond the Province of Káthiáwár.

New admissions.

205. The heir-apparent of Muli and the Kumárs of Dhrángadhra, Rájpara, Gidad, Bagasra, Dasáda and Dharampur have joined the College during the year; the young Thákor of Rájkot will be admitted next year or as soon as he recovers his health, and there is a probability of the heir-apparent of His Highness the Jám Sáheb of Navánagar being sent hereafter but with all these expected admissions further recruitment from outside is necessary, for in Káthiáwár itself there are not many young Chiefs at the present time of an age and position suited for the College.

Annual examination.

206. The annual examination was held in September last by Mr. R. G. Oxenham, Acting Director of Public Instruction who was favourably impressed with the progress of the College and has offered some very valuable suggestions for further improvement, which are under consideration. The first Class this year is reading the subjects prescribed for the Matriculation examination of the Bombay University.

Medals.

207. At the distribution of prizes a silver medal for athletics founded by the Chiefs and public of Káthiáwár in memory of Lieutenant H. L. Gordon who was killed in an encounter with dacoits in December 1892 was presented for the first time by General Nicolson who presided at the distribution of annual prizes. In memory of two former students Dájiráj the late Thákor Sáheb of Wadhwán and Amra Wála of Bilkha, both of whom died within a few years of leaving the College, a gold medal for Good Conduct has been founded by some of their relatives and friends among the Kumárs and this also was presented for the first time this year.

General health.

208. The general health of the Kumárs was excellent as usual which speaks well for the care and thought taken for the sanitary arrangements of the College.

Tálukdári Girásia School.

Tálukdári Girásia School.

209. The school continues to maintain its reputation under the supervision of Mr. Strip. The number of scholars was 57 as compared with 56 in the previous year:—

Sorath	2
Hálár	4
Gohilvád	5

Mr. Strip remarks that the number will soon run down considerably as several of the senior boys are about to leave.

Examination.

210. Mr. J. Oliver, Acting Educational Inspector, N.D., examined the school and expressed great satisfaction at the results.

Amir Mia joined the 3rd Cavalry.

211. Amir Mia of Dasáda, a student of the Girásia School, has been granted a commission in Her Majesty's Army and joined the 3rd Cavalry as Jemádár in June last. This is the first instance of such an honour being conferred on any of the boys and will, I hope, form an incentive to others to seek similar advancement.

Sámaldás College.

Sámaldás College at Bhávnagar.

212. The Bhávnagar Darbár reports that at the end of March 1894, the number of students on the roll was 27 the same as in last year. The number of students sent up for the different University examinations and the results thereof are as follows:—

213. There is nothing new to report under this head.

CHAPTER IX.

Miscellaneous.

Printing Presses.

214. The number of printing presses remains the same as in last year. Two new presses were established during the year, 1 in Navánagar and 1 in Rájkot; on the other hand 2 were closed, one at Wadhwán and the other at Vánkáner, hence the number on the list remains the same.

Newspapers and periodicals.

215. The two newspapers published at Rájkot, viz., the Káthiáwàr Times and the Káthiáwár News, appear to be doing fairly well. The monthly periodical "Káthiáwár Law Reports", mentioned in last year's report also progresses satisfactorily.

Revision of Civil and Military boundaries at Rájkot.

216. The further revision of the Civil and Military limits in the Agency Station of Rájkot referred to in last year's report has been sanctioned by Government since the close of the year. A detailed survey of the Station has been completed by Major Fenton and an enquiry into titles will be taken in hand as soon as all the preliminaries have been settled with the approval of Government.

Conclusion.

Acknowledgments to Officers.

217. The Political Agent is fully satisfied with the zeal and efficiency displayed by all his Assistants and by his Native subordinates who have heartily worked together for the good of the Province.

Colonel,

Acting Political Agent.

APPENDIX I.

No. 43 OF 1894-95.

From Lieut.-Colonel J. M. HUNTER,
President, Rájasthánik Court,
Káthiáwár.

To Colonel G. E. HANCOCK,
Political Agent, Káthiáwár.

Camp Bakula Dhanej, 29th May 1894.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the 21st Report on the working of the Rájasthánik Court during the past official year.

CHANGES IN THE PERSONNEL OF THE COURT.

President, Rájasthánik Court.

2. Colonel Hancock was in charge of the Court upto the 5th January last when he was relieved by Colonel Hunter. From the 31st July last Colonel Hancock acted as Political Agent, Káthiáwár, in addition to his own duties as President of the Court.

Superintendent of Girás Surveys.

Major Fenton held charge of the office of Superintendent of Surveys under the Court during the year with the exception of a period of one month and four days when he was on privilege leave and his duties were performed by Mr. Hatch.

Members.

3 The Member for the Dhrángadhra State Ázam Vithaldás having resigned on account of failing health His Highness the Ráj Sáheb nominated Ázam Khetsi Ánandji in his place with the approval of Government.

The States of Junágad and Morvi which, with 4 others voted against the continuance of the Court after the expiration of its last term on the 31st December last, withdrew their Members on the 1st January 1894 and the work of the Court has been carried on with the remaining 4 Members.

NEW PRINCIPLES AND PROCEDURE ADOPTED.

Registration of deeds of mortgage and sale of Girás.

4. During the past year 25 deeds of mortgage and one of sale of Girás to Darbárs have been tendered to the Court for registration under the Rules for the regulation of sales of Girás published with Government Resolution No. 7902 of the 29th October 1891. 25 of these came from Morvi and one from Sáela.

NATURE AND PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

5. There were 594 cases outstanding at the end of last year, 79 new cases were filed and 112 disposed of against 206 in the previous year leaving a balance of 561.

The following cases were filed during the year:—

Hak Patraks.....	37

The following is a detail of the 561 cases still pending in the Court :—

Hak Patraks..	411
Boundary cases.....	76
Suits.....	14
Status cases	44
Miscellaneous	16
	561

627 miscellaneous orders were passed sitting with the Members against 697 last year and 6,151 miscellaneous orders were passed by the President alone against 8,066 last year. The decrease in the work of the Court is due to the President of the Court having been in charge of the Political Agency in addition to his own duties and the withdrawal of the 6 dissenting States.

Amicable settlement.

6. Only 1 case was settled amicably and 10 cases out of Court during the year against 23 and 2 respectively during the previous year.

Appeals.

7. 58 Appeals against the decisions of the Court have been submitted to Government during the past year ; 26 by the Darbárs and 32 by the Girásiás. Government saw no ground to interfere except in the following cases.

In the Málsika case (Junágad) Government allowed the question of the liability of the Mul-Girásiás to a share in the Police Patels' expenses to be re-opened-Government Resolution No. 2579 of 20th April 1893.

In certain appeals by the Thákor of Mália against the decisions of the Miána Superintendent Government ordered the appeals, which had been rejected by this Court as time-barred, to be restored to the file-Government Resolution No. 2757 of the 28th April 1893.

Government has ordered the Court to hear the Sarvánis of Kutiána (Junágad) before deciding the question of Jurisdiction-Government Resolution No. 7175 of 1st December 1893.

In the Khewália case Government has ordered the Bháyáts claim to reversionary right to be heard which the Court threw out on the ground of estoppal-Government Resolution No. 7182 of 1st December 1893.

In the Morvi Bháyát of Moti Barál's case Government has ordered the Court to hear the Morvi Darbár on an exparte order regarding the appointment of Police Patel— Government Resolution No. 273 of 16th January 1894.

Survey Operations.

8. The usual statement showing the work effected by the Survey Department is appended. Besides this a number of decisions have been executed and other miscellaneous work done by the Survey Department.

General Remarks.

Court's extension for a further period.

9. In his despatch No. 62, dated 29th September 1892 Her Majesty's Secretary of State sanctioned the continuance of the Court for a period of one year from the 31st December 1892.

At the Meeting of the representatives of the States in October last, the work of the Court being still unfinished, the States were, as usual, asked to extend its existence for a further period after the 31st December last. 22 of the States voted for the continuance of the Court for two years more or for such shorter period as the accumulated funds of the Court should suffice to meet the expenses.

The 6 States named in the margin voted against the continuance of the Court and claimed a portion of the accumulated funds. This latter claim was strongly opposed by the assenting States and Government have decided in Resolution No. 2336 of the 23rd April 1894 that the dissenting States have no claim to the money which under the rules of the Court, should be applied to the maintenance of the Court.

Junágad.
Morvi.
Gondal.
Wadhwán.
Limbdi.
Lakhtar.

10. The dissenting States submitted alternative proposals for the disposal of the outstanding Girás cases in their territories. These were not satisfactory and the question is under consideration. In the meantime the jurisdiction of the Court in the dissenting States is in abeyance pending reference to higher authority.

Redemption of Porbandar Mhers lands and the commutation of their Chula Vero and other cesses.

11. The last of the land disputes between the Mhers of Porbandar and the Darbár having been settled the President suggested that the Chula Vero and other cesses due from the Mhers should be commuted into a moderate assessment on their lands and that an enquiry should be made into their claims to redeem lands mortgaged by them to the Darbár. This was approved by Government and a Special Officer was appointed for the above purposes under certain prescribed rules which provide an appeal to this Court from the decisions of the Special Officer in the claims to redemption.

12. Another volume of decisions other than Hak Patrak cases is in the press and will be issued shortly.

13. My thanks are due to the 4 Members now with the Court for the able and valuable assistance I have received from them in disposing of the various questions that have come before the Court. They have spared no pains to arrive at the truth of each matter and their decisions have been marked by strict impartiality.

The members of my establishment have worked with their usual zeal and intelligence.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. M. HUNTER, Lieut. Colonel,
President, Rájasthánik Court.

APPENDIX II.

No. 272 OF 1894-95.

From The JUDICIAL ASSISTANT,
Káthiáwár.

To The POLITICAL AGENT,
Káthiáwár.

Rájkot, 29th June 1894.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the Annual Report on the Judicial Work of the Province of Káthiáwár for the year 1893-94.

2. During the whole of the year under report I was in charge of the Office of the Judicial Assistant Káthiáwár.

3. No new Courts were created or placed in judicial subordination to the Court of the Political Agent, and the number of subordinate Courts remain the same as in the preceding year.

CRIMINAL WORK.

4. The following table will show the result of the trials held by the various Magistrates in the different Prânts, the number of persons concerned and the percentage of convictions to the number of prisoners :—

Prânts.	No. of cases tried.	No. of prisoners tried	No. of persons convicted.	Percentage of convictions.
Jhálávád Prânt	325	674	309	45·86
Sorath do.	177	378	94	24·86
Gohilvád do.	261	655	120	18·32
Hálár do.	165	302	149	49·33
Magistrate, B.-G.-J.P. Railway...	103	155	97	62·58
Total.....	1,031	2,164	769	35·53

5. As compared with the last return there has been an increase in the number of cases and persons tried, but the percentage of conviction is lower than in the previous year. There is a marked increase in the number of cases and persons tried in Jhálávád and Gohilvád.

6. 55 criminal appeals were decided during the year under report by the Criminal Court of the Political Agent presided over by the Judicial Assistant as shown in the following table against 40 in the previous year:—

Courts.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences were confirmed.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences were modified.	No. of appeals in which convictions and sentences were reversed.	Total.

17. The subject referred to in para No. 17 of my last year's report still remains unsettled.

18. My Sarishtadár Mr. Kaliánrái Dámodarrái was appointed Head Clerk Mahi-Kántha Agency in December. He was succeeded by Mr. Dayáshankar Balvantrái, who has worked hard and well since he joined me. My English Clerk Mr. Jagjivan Báwábhái was promoted in December and his place was filled by Mr. Pránjivan Nathubhái whose work in his own department has given me complete satisfaction. The remainder of the Office Establishment have as usual discharged their various duties satisfactorily.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

F. C. O. BEAMAN,
Judicial Assistant.

* Any difference in the figures shown here, as compared with those already given in the Traffic return and in the Capital and revenue accounts for the second-half of that year, should be explained in a foot-note.

† If the figures in this column are less than those shown for the previous year, the reasons for the decrease should be explained in a foot-note.

‡ Should exclude the cost of machinery, but the distribution of the capital outlay between rolling-stock and machinery should be given in a foot-note. If it is not possible to allocate the charges separately, the fact should be stated in a foot-note. On lines where there is more than one gauge, the value of engines and of carriage and wagon stock of each gauge should be given separately.

§ The figures for the purposes of items 59 to 62 of the Traffic returns should be obtained by dividing the registered mileage of vehicles attached to passenger, goods and mixed trains, respectively, by the train-mileage of each description of train.

‡ The equivalent to be used in converting maunds to tons should be 27·22 maunds = 1 ton. The figures in this column should be derived from the actual rates in force and not from their decimal equivalents in column "Per maund per mile."

§ Any small proportion of coal used on wood-burning lines or of wood on coal-burning lines should be converted at the rate of 1 of coal to 3 of wood, unless a nearer equivalent is known.

‖ One ton of Kurhurbarree coal may, where other equivalents have not been ascertained by actual experiment, be considered as equal to 0·9 ton of English or Welsh coal, and to 0·8 ton of patent fuel—vide Government of India, Public Works Department, Circular No. 7 Railway of 1891.

¶ This should be the equivalent in terms of Kurhurbarree coal of the total quantity entered against item 102.

* Here state source and description of fuel used, distinguishing between English, Bengal, Warora or other coal, patent fuel, wood, &c., and giving quantity consumed and percentage on total consumption of each kind of fuel; also, if possible, the average lead of each kind of fuel from the source of supply.
